Dr. B. S. Goodwin, Indian Physician,

Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him. ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

The following are some of the Diseases successfully treated by Dr. Goodwin. Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsey, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!

Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1859.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.

The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:

1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.

THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR
BICKFORD'S SPRING BALANCE,

MRS. WINSLOW,
An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her
SOOTHING SYRUP,
For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine; NEVER HAS IT FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when faithfully used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, "what we do know," after years of experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where a suffering child is administered, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after this syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used with never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not specifically remedied, end in death. We believe it the BEST and surest REMEDY EVER MADE USE OF IN ALL THE WORLD FOR DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—Do not let your prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE to follow the use of this medicine, if timely for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York

Price only 25 cents per bottle.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children.

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. More of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. Its composition from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the removal of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

AYER'S
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases, Ulcers, Pimples, Blotches, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Syphilis and Syphilitic Affections, Mercurial Disease, Dropsy, Neuralgia, or Tic Douloureux, Debility, Dyspepsia and Indigestion, Enlargements, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Impurity of the Blood. The foregoing list of "Ills that flesh is heir to" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search every vein, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its health and energy. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health and energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

FOR THE CURE OF
Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cure, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,
LOWELL, MASS.

Price, $1 per Bottle; Six Bottles for $5.

All our remedies are for sale by W. R. Preston, Portsmouth, and by all druggists and merchants in the civilized world. dec20 6m d&w

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JAN. 2, 1860.

Two Higher Laws.—In a debate in Congress, last Friday, Mr. Millson, a southern representative of the democratic party, was catechized by a republican member, as to the question whether he (Millson,) was in favor of re-opening the slave trade. He replied that

He was not prepared to say whether he was in favor of re-opening the slave trade at some future time, but as the laws of the land forbid engaging in the slave traffic, he believed it useless to discuss the question so long as the South remains in the Confederacy.

He heartily deprecated any evasion of the law. He recognized the higher law of sentiment and honor which compelled him to obey the Constitution.

Now the reader will do himself the favor to compare this sentiment with that of Senator Seward about the higher law, against which there has been such an outcry. Senator Seward in speaking against a proposed law, or its passage, said he thought the bill contrary to the Constitution, "but, (he added,) there is a higher law," viz. the law of God, the law of humanity.

So now, Mr. Millson, while he intimates that he would import slaves if the constitution and laws did not forbid,—also tells us that he would not, as others do, evade the law,—why?—Answer, because he has sentiment and honor, a higher law than the Constitution.

If by honor he means conscience, and by sentiment principle, as we suppose he does, then he is as bad as Seward in intimating that any thing can be higher than a written compact—but he falls somewhat below the true standard after all.

☞ Another week in Congress has closed without much progress. On Friday, Dec. 30, the Senate adjourned to Tuesday.

In the House, Mr. Perry offered a resolution that until the election of a Speaker, no member shall speak more than twenty minutes nor more than once till every member who desires to speak shall be heard, and that all motions to lay on the table shall be decided without debate. Objections were made to the introduction of the resolution.

Mr. Boyce said the South feels that on the slavery question hangs their very being, —and on this peg was hung a debate on slavery and parties.

The question was taken on the motion—That when the House adjourn it be till Tuesday,—and the motion was agreed to. Yeas 106: nays 104.

Mr. Holman said that Mr. Logan, on a former day, had read the proceedings of a meeting held in Aurora, Ind., by sympathizers with John Brown's movement. But no such meeting was held there.

Mr. Montgomery asked leave to introduce a resolution, declaring Mr. Corwin Speaker for 24 hours, at the expiration of which time his power was to cease, and the House should proceed to the election of a permanent Speaker, and that the rules of the late House should be adopted for the government of this House, except that no member shall speak for a longer time than five minutes, and that said temporary Speaker should not appoint the business Committees of the House.

Amid calls of order and objections on the Republican side, Mr. Montgomery stated that his object in offering this resolution was to procure the passage of a deficiency bill to pay the suffering mail contractors, and the other agents, officers and employees of the government to whom we were indebted and who should be paid, and that the bill could be passed in that length of time. Then if this contest for Speaker must proceed, they could carry it on without gross wrong to the public creditors.

The House, by one majority, adjourned.

The difficulty between Mr. Grow and Mr. Branch is still pending. There is good reason to believe that the latter has sent the former a direct challenge. Both were in the House, Friday.

The Republicans generally voted against the adjournment of the House until Tuesday.

A number of the members will avail themselves of the brief recess to visit their homes.

☞ At the Burnet House, in Cincinnati, that city of strange events, an eloping male and female were united in matrimony, and at a neighboring hotel another couple were similarly joined. The two bridegrooms were father and son, who had arrived unknown to each other from their homes. The four had a jolly "surprise" supper.

☞ Helper has sent a splendidly bound copy of the unabridged edition of his "Impending Crisis" to Missouri Clark, with a letter, returning that gentleman his sincere thanks for the magnificent advertisement he has bestowed, free of charge, upon his book.

The question "Why printers did not succeed as well as brewers?" was answered thus:—"Because printers work for the head, and brewers for the stomach: and where twenty men have stomachs, but one has brains."

LETTER FROM KEENE.

Keene, Dec. 29, 1859.

Friend Chronicle:—Keene has begun to burn gas. It was first lighted last week.—The Town Hall is lighted with it, and many houses and shops.

We had an eloquent temperance lecture on Sabbath evening last, from William Adams of Boston. He is now going through Cheshire county, and lecturing in the various towns. He was in the county about a year ago as a lecturer, and it is believed that good has resulted from his efforts. Adams is a reformed drunkard. He is employed by a new society, recently formed, called the "Cheshire County Temperance Alliance." This is on the plan of combinations of the same name in Massachusetts.—Quite a number of copies of the "State Temperance Alliance," published in Boston, are taken here. It is an able, spirited sheet.—May it do much good in the cause of temperance.

In my last I told you that the First Congregational Church and Society of Keene had extended a call to Rev. J. A. Hamilton to settle in the ministry as colleague with Rev. Dr. Barstow. He has accepted the call, and will commence his labors in that capacity with the new year.

The Methodist Society had a festival a few evenings ago. They realized over one hundred and forty dolllars.

If you haven't got any cold weather at Portsmouth, I suggest that you had better come to Keene, and we can accommodate you. Yesterday morning, at 6 o'clock, the mercury was about 20 deg. below zero, and at 7 o'clock about the same. At noon it was 4 deg. below, and at 3 P. M. it was 3 below. In some parts of the village this morning, it was 22 deg. below. One gentleman said to-day that "at this rate we should lose 'the zero' bye-and-by." But 22 deg. below isn't 80. We think such weather as we have is cold, but just think of the poor Greenlanders, with the mercury often, for a long time together, 80 deg. below zero. Besides, they have none of the conveniences for keeping warm that we do.

Last evening, between eight and nine o'clock, a cottage house on Court street, owned and occupied by Mr. B. F. Phelps, caught fire from a defect in the chimney, as is supposed. Had there been plenty of water in the neighborhood, the house might have been saved. As it was, the barn and the contiguous buildings were saved. The house was cleared of nearly all its contents. House insured for $600, and furniture for $100.

The Church of St. James, Episcopal, had a Christmas Sabbath School Festival last Monday evening. A Christmas Tree, hung with gifts and rewards, a supper, and singing, enlivened the scene.

We are having a course of Lyceum lectures this winter. The seventh lecture is to be on Friday evening, Jan. 6th, by Rev. T. Starr King. Subject, "The Laws of Disorder." On Friday evening, Jan. 13th, we are to have Dr. Holland, of the Springfield Republican. Subject, "Work and Play." It is spoken of as an excellent lecture.

We have had Beecher this winter. It was his first lecture in Keene. We had no place large enough to accommodate all who wanted to hear him. Knowing about how many could be crowded into our spacious Town Hall, the sale of tickets was limited to that number. Consequently hundreds could not get tickets.

We have also had a lecture from the "old war horse," Giddings, though not one of the regular course. His lecture was deeply interesting. He gave us some scenes from his Congressional life, which were very forcibly and graphically drawn. Qui.

"The Way of the Transgressor is Hard."—Poor old Rev. Dr. Pomeroy, who was victimized to the tune of $1500 and more, by artful women of the town, who picked him up in Boston, — publishes an address "to the Christian public," in which he states no new fact, and makes no new apology—only expressing his sorrow, and making what seems to us a long talk to little purpose. Among other things, he says:

No finite mind can comprehend the injury that has been done. It seems to me infinite. If an offended God and Saviour should see fit to exclude me from the sacred office and from the visible church; nay, more, if he should leave me to unutterable and eternal despair, I should have no ground of complaint. God is righteous in all his ways. He has done me no wrong. I would throw myself upon infinite and sovereign mercy, offering no apology, making no excuse, but pleading simply that atoning blood which has been shed for sinners.

☞ The necessary amount of capital having been subscribed to build a new Mechanical Bakery in Boston, a meeting is to be held on the 3d of January for the purpose of organization.

☞ Neal Dow narrowly escaped falling into a vat of boiling water in his tannery last Wednesday. He fell from a beam and injured himself severely—at Portland.

☞ The widow of John Brown is said to be very ill, in consequence of the exciting scenes through which she has lately passed.

☞ The losses by the fire in New York on Thursday morning, amount to $500,000.

INVENTIONS.

R. H. Eddy, Esq., Boston, Solicitor of Patents.—There are few instances of more distinguished success in this country, than has attended the efforts of Mr. Eddy in this very difficult and complex department of business; and we take great pleasure in recording the fact, that as a Patent attorney, he stands preeminent. The essential qualities required are strict integrity and honor, strong powers of analysis, and quick perception, familiar acquaintance with Patent Law and Patents. All these qualities we know Mr. Eddy to possess to a remarkable degree.—For more than twenty years he has devoted his entire time and energies to perfect himself in this department, and there is no man equally competent to give advice to inventors, touching the validity of claims and patentability of inventions.—In prosecuting claims denied upon imperfectly prepared specifications, he has been particularly successful, a large part of his practice being appeals in cases where patents have been refused two and three times in consequence of inexperience and incompetency in preparing papers.—We confidently recommend Mr Eddy to all who are in want of any information on the subject, and can assure them that implicit reliance may be placed in any statements he may make.

For several years we have regularly, at the beginning of January, received orders from S. R. Niles, Esq., Boston, proprietor of the pioneer (formerly V. B Palmer's) advertising agency, for the publication of Mr. Eddy's notice throughout the year. And this long-continued arrangement would seem to show three things—that Mr. Eddy has something worth advertising, that Boston business men appreciate the Chronicle as a circulating medium down this way, and that we and our agent above-named, are mutually satisfied with each other's arrangements.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

"Think of Living."—High rank among the useful publishers of books and papers, must be awarded to Fowlers & Wells, New York. Their motto, at the head of this paragraph, is peculiarly appropriate—and if attended to, will preclude the necessity of thinking of death particularly.

Life Illustrated is a first-class family paper, devoted to news, literature, science, the arts; to entertainment, improvement and progress. A large, handsome quarto for binding. Published weekly at $2 a year, $1 for half a year. One of the most entertaining and useful journals in the land.

The Water-Cure Journal is devoted to hydropathy its philosophy and practice;—physiology, anatomy, and the laws of life and health: monthly, $1 a year.

The Phrenological Journal; with practical instructions to learners, with directions for the cultivation and improvement of mankind. Illustrated. $1 a year.

For $3 all three journals will be sent a year. Address Fowler & Wells, New York.

Besides these periodicals,—the only publications of their kind in the country, if not in the world,—they publish a multitude of books, large and small, on physiology, philosophy, science, morals, politics and religion—all of which are calculated to diffuse sound knowledge among men, and elevate and improve the race.

The Little Pilgrim for January, 1860, is perhaps the best number ever issued, of what we and thousands of others consider the model publication for children;—but which, though especially designed for the young, is full of interest for anybody.—Among the attractions for the new volume, is the commencement of an original story by "that unrivalled writer for children," Mary Howitt; a tale by Gail Hamilton, and another by Grace Greenwood herself. The Little Pilgrim is edited, ably and wisely, by Grace Greenwood; is published monthly at Philadelphia, for only 50 cts. a year, by Leander K. Lippincott, to whom orders may be addressed; or subscriptions will be received at the store of John H. Locke, where specimen copies may be seen.

The White Mountains.—One of the most beautifully illustrated volumes ever published in New England, (says the Newburyport Herald,) is "The White Hills, their Legend, Landscape, and Poetry," by T. Starr King; published by Crosby, Nichols & Co., Boston: for sale by most booksellers. It is just what we have long desired some one to do, and what we are glad has been so well done. Costly illustrated volumes have been prepared on the Rhine, Scotland and other parts of Europe, which are seen on many an American table, yet those competent to judge pronounce many of these inferior in scenery to New Hampshire.—Mr. King is well known as a brilliant writer and speaker; and to frequenters of the White Mountains, it is known that since 1837 he has spent many summer vacations there and made himself familiar with them, as few others have. From his personal knowledge, then, high literary taste, and keen appreciation of natural beauty, we might expect just such a book as he has given us. The scenery of the region is beautifully described, its legends finely told, and many exquisite extracts of poetry introduced very appropriately. This book, from its subject, its author, and its whole execution, literary and mechanical, deserves, and we are sure will have wide favor with the public, especially as now at the holidays every one is looking for an acceptable gift to a friend.

Diseases of Old Age.

As man approaches his allotted three score and ten years the vital powers begin to fail; stimulants of various kinds are used to strengthen the naturally failing system, such as wines, bark, &c. Instead of these, the aged keep up the supply of the true strengthening element, iron, by the PERUVIAN SYRUP, which offers a protoxide of that metal ready for immediate absorption.

Dr. Hostetter's Bitters have received the warmest encomiums from the press and people throughout the Union. As a valuable tonic for the cure of Dyspepsia, Flatulence, Constipation and general nervous debility, it cannot be approached. Every day new cases of its great effect are chronicled through our public journals. There is nothing equal to the enjoyment, to that which the afflicted experience when using this valuable specific. Its mildness, its sure and vigorous action upon a disordered stomach, and the cleansing of the entire human body should recommend it to all classes of our community. All that will be necessary to convince the skeptical of its healthy effects, is to purchase a bottle and be convinced.

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

Among the restoratives which Nature has supplied to relieve the afflictions of humanity there is no more favorite one for a certain class of diseases than the "medicinal gum" of the Wild Cherry Tree; but however valuable it is, its power to heal, to soothe, to relieve, and to cure, is enhanced ten-fold by scientific and judicious combination with other ingredients, in themselves of equal worth. The happy mingling exists in that

HOME TESTIMONY.

Boston, April 18, 1852.
No. 48 Union St.

Mr. Seth W. Fowle,—Dear Sir:—Your invaluable medicine, I can say, has saved my life literally snatched me from the grave. Last July I was attacked by a sudden cold, which resulted in a very severe cough, with violent pains in the side and chest. I became so much reduced, that my friends frankly told me that I must die. At this crisis, I heard of Wistar's Balsam of Wild Cherry, and immediately sent for a bottle. The effect produced was indeed wonderful. My physician, one of the most respectable in Boston too, had previously told me that a cure was hopeless, came in, and I informed him what I had taken. He examined the Balsam, and advised me to continue the use of it, since which time I have continued to improve daily; and the same physician who had given me up, told me, a few days since, that I might yet live many years.

Respectfully, MARY ROWE.

We can cheerfully testify to the truth of the above statement, Mrs. Rowe having been an inmate of our family. WILLIAM DENNETT,

BIRTHS.—We are ready and willing to Chronicle the advent of all little strangers into this world of joy and woe—whenever we have undoubted evidence of such "happy" events, and are sure parents do not object. If any to whom such a thing "happens" is unnatural enough not to rejoice at it, or sufficiently prudish to be ashamed to have it known or published, we won't expose such, if we know it. We commence our record this morning, in the form which we propose to adopt and follow—so if you want your babies announced, "just fetch 'em on."

BORN, very early on Sunday morning, to Old Father Time, a New Year, to be called 1860.

We trust the "new comer" which now reposes in the "lapse of ages," may prove a "delight" to every reader—which of course, like all other children, will depend on the use it is put to.

☞ The Union Meeting of the Democratic party, at Jefferson Hall on Thursday evening, was not a very numerous assemblage, but was orderly and quiet.

Mayor Morrison presided, and the speeches were made by Hon. Abner Greenleaf and Albert R. Hatch, Esq. [The applause which Mr. George ought to have had, and would have had but for the accident of being too unwell to speak, was very properly bestowed on Mr. Greenleaf, who spoke in his stead.]

Mr. Greenleaf also reported the resolutions, which were unanimously adopted, and will be printed in due time. The N. H. Gazette says,—

The severity of the weather and the uncomfortable place in which the meeting was held, prevented the assemblage from being as large as it otherwise would have been, but it nevertheless was respectable in numbers and decided in action. The meeting was confined entirely to the Democratic party, none of the Brown Republicans of the city having taken part in the proceedings, although earnestly urged to do so, and almost none of them having been present.

The resolutions are able and patriotic.—They were unanimously adopted, and express clearly and forcibly the sentiments of the Democratic party of Portsmouth.

HAVE WE A STREET COMMISSIONER? If we have such an officer, would he please examine School street, which is nearly impassible for sleighs. Three narrow ditches made by a small snow-plow, and two snow hills, each three feet high, describes the present topography of that street. x.

☞ To accommodate those wishing to attend the Republican State Convention, to be held at Concord, Tuesday, Jan. 3, an extra train will leave Portsmouth at half past six on the morning of that day; returning, leave Concord at 3:30 P. M.

CITY ORGANIZATION.—The Mayor and other municipal officers elect will be installed at the Court House on Tuesday next, at 10 o'clock, A. M.

☞ Cards of all sorts furnished at the Chronicle Office—Printed or Engraved.

FROM PIKE'S PEAK.—Leavenworth, K. T., Dec. 30.—The Pike's Peak express has arrived here, bringing seven days later news from Jefferson City, and $10,000 in gold dust.

The miners at Russell & Gregory's diggings had resisted the collection of the taxes levied for the support of the provisional government, which created a temporary excitement.

The amount of gold dust exported from the gold region since May is estimated at from one and a half to two millions dollars worth.

WHAT IS NEEDED.—We need for our dwellings more ventilation and less heat;—we need more out-door exercise, more sunlight, more manly, athletic and rude sports; we need more amusements, more frolic, and noisy, boisterous mirth. Our infants need better nourishment than colorless mothers can ever furnish; purer milk than distilleries can manufacture; our children need more romping and less study. Our old men more quiet, and earlier relaxation from the labors of life. All men, both young and old, need less medicine and more good counsel.

☞ The extensive flouring establishment of the Bridgeport Mills in Connecticut, was totally destroyed by fire on Friday, together with a large stock of grain and flour, and the machinery and steam engines. The origin of the fire is unknown. Loss $40,000; insured for $25,000.

A correspondent of the Worcester Palladium (John Ketch, Esq.) offers to be one of one hundred gentlemen who shall pay three cents each for the head of Gov. Wise, to be delivered in Worcester, and executed on stone, a portrait being held more valuable than the original. Mr. Ketch is a man of discernment, and deserves success in his line.

☞ A Suncook correspondent of the Concord Statesman says:—

We learn that arrangements are being made for speedily rebuilding the Pembroke Mills; so that business will be brisk again.

☞ On Saturday, the Touro Cotton Mill, at Newport, R. I., was totally destroyed by fire. It worked about ten thousand spindles, and was in a first-rate condition. Loss not less than $60,000; insured in Providence.

DEATH OF A CENTENARIAN.—We learn from the Lebanon Free Press that Capt. Joseph Wood, of West Lebanon, died at the residence of his son, Samuel Wood, 2nd, on Saturday evening of last week. He was 100 years old the 8th of last November, we believe. The Free Press says:—"He has written his own eulogy, day by day, through the succeeding years of his long and useful life. An upright man, a useful citizen—faithful in the discharge of every duty of life, he quietly sinks to his last, peaceful rest in the grave, blessed and mourned by all who knew him. Peace to his ashes."

☞ At Washington, on Saturday, there was rumored a challenge from Branch to Grow, and a probability of settlement without a foolish fight. A special dispatch from Perley to the Boston Journal, says:—

It is generally believed that Mr. Grow has refused to accept Branch's challenge, but declared himself ready to defend himself, which by the code makes it obligatory on Branch to make a personal attack within twenty-four hours. Branch was put under bonds to keep the peace.

☞ A Lawrence, Kansas, correspondent of the Indianapolis Journal, gives some account of a meeting there, in which two persons, Capt. Walker and Dr. Adair, both said that Brown told them he was at the Pottawatomie massacre; and Gov. Robinson said he believed that Brown had acknowledged the same thing to him. Dr. Adair is said to be a nephew of Brown.

AYER'S AMERICAN ALMANAC for 1860 is now ready for delivery, gratis, at Preston's, who is happy to supply all that call for them. Every family should have and keep this book. It is worth having. Comprising much general information of great value, it gives the best instruction for the cure of prevalent complaints, that we can get anywhere. Its anecdotes alone are worth a bushel of wheat, and its medical advice is sometimes worth to the sick, the wheat's weight in gold. Many of the medical almanacs are trash, but this is solid metal. Its calculations are made purposely for this latitude, and are therefore correct. Call and get an Ayer's Almanac, and when got, keep it.

PROF. WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.—We have had occasion to use this famous preparation of Prof. Wood's, and after thoroughly testing its qualities, we find that where the hair is thin it will thicken it, if grey it will restore it to its original color;—likewise it gives a glossy appearance, as well as keeps the hair from falling off.—This invaluable ingredient is for sale at "Chinaman's Tea Store," south-east corner Frederick and Baltimore streets, by Mr. J. C. Given.—Baltimore Clipper. Sold by all good Druggists.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWEIN rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The ease with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them a partial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are now regularly used by many professional vocalists.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the wheezing cough of 18 years. I do not believe all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I feel bound in sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 4, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of impaired lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick, but every sufferer must try for himself. I speak and by it. Rev. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1840. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family than from all other medicines. THEOPHILUS CURRIER, SALLY CURRIER.

Hundreds of certificates of cures by these innocent, but effectual medicines are received, many of which are printed on his circular which accompanies the medicines. These, with others of DR. SIMEON SWETT'S MEDICINES constantly for sale at the Dr's Residence in Portsmouth --- No. 12 Cabot Street.

THE
ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few of the testimonials by can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 24th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to follow in my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,
SENJ. ALEXANDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Stamerton, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like. By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853. I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair has come thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty ounces, and is in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, at per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

STOVE STORE REMOVED.

URIAH BLAISDELL

Has removed his Stove and Furnishing Establishment one door north, to the spacious and convenient store

Nos. 43 & 45 Market Street,

where he is receiving and arranging a large and valuable Stock of

STOVES, TIN WARE, &c.,

Which he offers for sale at wholesale and retail, at very low prices. He has a great variety of the best and most popular Stoves, among which are:

1. The Stewart Cook Stove, with the latest improvements. This is an air-tight Cook Stove, for Wood or Coal; it has movable covering, which can be used in the stove, or let it out into the room; has a reservoir of hot water 10 or 20 gallons, and a tin closet beneath:—a top cover which can be used in the stove, or for baking, and will keep a coal fire all night; it has a Dutch Oven for roasting in front of the Stove:—and it is the very best, most convenient and durable Stove. There are 4 sizes.

The following recommendation of Stewart's Stove, is from an eminent engineer, and must be satisfactory to all who wish to understand the value of this excellent Stove:

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 5, 1859.

Mr. Blaisdell:—Seven years ago I moved to this city, and sold, before I came, a "Stewart's Air Tight Cooking Stove," which I had used about five years. During that time no repairs or expenses had been made upon it. Since then I have been here I have tried the various Cooking Stoves in use, and I think for economy and durability the "Stewart" excels them all. I wish you would take away the Stove I now have from my house, and set up one of Stewart's as soon as you can. Your ob't servant,
B. F. CHANDLER.

2. Boston & Maine Cook Stove;
3. White Mountain;
4. Empire State;
5. Enterprise;
6. Exchange;
7. Dining Room Cook Stoves, and others.

PARLOR STOVES.

SEAVEY'S COAL AND GAS BURNER, superseding everything else of the kind, as a parlor Cooking Stove.

THE MAGEE COAL STOVE, highly recommended and esteemed by many.

CAST IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens.

SHEET IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens, of a variety of patterns.

OFFICE AND COUNTING ROOM STOVES.

BOX STOVES, for Schools, Halls and Churches

FARMER'S BOILERS, from 15 to 46 gallons each.

Also, FUNNEL KITCHEN FURNITURE, TIN WARE AND FARMING TOOLS.

All these, and many other articles, too numerous to mention, will be sold at great bargains.

Funnel made, and Stoves and Funnel put up to order, in the best manner.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered by and all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort, conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of philology to the more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Debility, Fever, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are depressed or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, be it called by what name you please. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most miserable cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it in their practice.

Sold by CHURCH & DUPONT, Druggists, 36 Maiden Lane, New York.
Strictly regular. Price, $1 per bottle.
Directions wrapped around each bottle, which must be strictly followed, for the same reason it commends itself to the class of those whose experience is larger. Over one thousand other testimonials, some of them much more than other preparations of the kind have to do in producing health—reality—is the case so powerful an advertisement as the "BLOOD FOOD." It has proved anti-abundantly conclusive, if it can be tested on this perfect conclusive test, the most perfect of diseases. If you have any doubt, read the pamphlet, which may be had for the asking. For preventing the bowels is a wonderful cure. See testimony the same regarding the Piles. Dysentery, Diarrhoea, Nervous Debility, Cholera Morbus, and all other cases of Bowel Complaint, are cured by this remedy. Nervous Debility is a certain cure and relief in the following diseases, which it is a certain cure and relief in: Nervous Debility, Fevers, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Dyspepsia, Liver Complaint, Jaundice, Dysentery, Cholera Morbus, Cholera Infantum, Nervous Debility, Nervous Headache, Nervous Prostration, Nervous Fevers

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.

The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:
1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.

THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR

MRS. WINSLOW,
An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her
SOOTHING SYRUP,
For Children Teething.
Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is
SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.
Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and
RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say in confidence and truth, of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine;—NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter, "what we do know," after ten years experience, and pledge our reputation for the truthfulness of what we declare. In almost every instance where an infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England, and has been used with never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the BEST and surest REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints: Do not let your own prejudices, or the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York.
Price only 25 cents per bottle.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one with which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or morbid matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which renders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our age can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

ERUPTIONS AND EXPULSIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUMM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded in truth, for disease is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, from which human health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, you find that when bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body; but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a diuner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

FOR THE CURE OF
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, confirmed doubts on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

All our remedies are for sale by W. B. PRESTON, Portsmouth, and by all druggists and merchants in the civilized world. dec30 6m d&w

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JAN. 3, 1860.

☞ "Reason and Revelation is conflict!" are they? If so, there is another irrepressible conflict in the bosom of every Christian who possesses common sense. In the Christian Era, a very able and lively Baptist paper published in Boston, is published a letter from a Southern correspondent, setting forth in its strongest light the South side view of slavery. The editor of the Era gives it a thorough answer, and says:

Had we written a letter to a Southern paper, expressing our views on this subject in language as strong as is here used, it probably would not be published; but being beyond the domain of a system which only permits a man to present one side of the question, and having no fear that our office will be demolished and our property burned or thrown into the river, in consequence of our speaking, we cheerfully give place to our correspondent's letter.

We do not propose to examine the items of the letter in detail, but may sum them up in these terms, Unreasonable and Absurd, so much so, indeed, that the writer of the letter closes it with these remarkable words:

Reason and revelation are often in conflict, that is, our reason as a rule of action.

No, no, says Uncle Toby. Our Creator has not endowed us with reason and conscience telling us to go one way, and then endowed us with revelation telling us to go the other. What he has given us, and all he has given us, must be in harmony with itself, with Himself, and with our humanity, in its wants and sympathies, its fears of evil and its hopes of good.

If, therefore, any man puts such a strain on revelation as to make it uphold oppression or any other form of wickedness, it may be convenient for him to say, as this one does, in his desperation, "Reason and Revelation are often in conflict;" but then no other men are obliged to adopt either his theology or his logic, except such as have to hold up some system of wrong which the world condemns, but which finds apologists in some churches and among some ministers.

So true it is that no one falsehood, outrage or fraud can stand alone. It must either get more lies, more force, more cheat, to prop it up—or it must be confessed, be forsaken, and fall.

Dr. Baillie once said that "all his observations of death-beds inclined him to believe that nature intended that we should go out of the world as unconscious as we came into it. In all my experience," he added, "I have not seen one instance in fifty to the contrary." The moment in which the spirit meets death is perhaps like the moment in which it is embraced by sleep. It never, I suppose, happened to any one to be conscious of the immediate transition from the waking to the sleeping state."

OMISSION.—It is a singular fact, says the Boston Journal, that while one-fifth of the President's Message is devoted to the discussion of the affairs of Mexico, a neighboring republic, it contains not the least reference to the grave condition of Utah, one of our own Territories. The Secretary of War makes the most alarming statements with regard to this Territory. All this the President ignores, while he is eloquent upon abuses transpiring within the jurisdiction of another government, which he proposes to redress by a military invasion.

ANOTHER CONVERSION.—The following extraordinary paragraph, from the New York Herald of Friday, is worthy of the "Dark Lantern" era. Speaking of crime in high life in European countries, and their boast of morality, our converted cotemporary says:—

The model republic is as yet a new country. To it the European governments send rogues without number. We have to keep them in order as best we can. But, with all our faults, we are still behind the French and English in cool, calm, deliberate rascality. The greater part of the premeditated crime in this country is committed by foreigners, who have fled from the vigilance of the French and English police.

☞ The Thorndike will case (in which a father disinherited his daughter, and denounced all his 'heirs it they favored her) has been settled and taken from the courts of Boston.

It is understood that the contestants have withdrawn from further litigation, under an indirect arrangement by which the provisions of the will against them will be to some extent evaded, and that they will receive from the favored devisees $50,000.

☞ The Richmond Dispatch says that the Rev. E. H. Chapin was formerly a clergyman in that city and holds that he is more to be condemned than ordinary abolitionists, because he has had better opportunities of forming a correct opinion upon the subject of slavery as it exists at the South.

☞ Hon. Judge Mason of Iowa, who made himself so popular with the inventors of the country while he held the office of Commissioner of Patents, has, we learn, associated himself with Munn & Co., at the Scientific American office, New York.

CAPT. SAML. WOOD.

We have already mentioned the death of this gentleman at Lebanon, N. H., aged 100 years. By a letter to the Boston Journal, we learn that Mr. Wood came from Connecticut with his father ninety-two years ago, and resided in Lebanon until his death. He was for a short time a soldier in the war of the Revolution. He was also present at the first Commencement of Dartmouth College in 1771, and attended nearly every Commencement after till the last year of his life. He had been for eighty-five years a member of the Congregational church, and during all that period had been but very few Sabbaths absent from his place in the sanctuary.

He had enjoyed uninterrupted good health, having never been confined to his bed by sickness, or even to his room, it is believed, for a single day, in the period of a hundred years. His centennial birth-day was publicly celebrated on the 8th of November last, when he, in the crowded church, stood erect and offered an appropriate prayer.

He retained his powers of body and mind in a remarkable degree until within a few weeks of his death, when his brain was affected by the cancer which occasioned his death. He lived to see his descendants to the fifth generation. His funeral was numerously attended, and his pastor preached from the text:—"He died in a good old age, full of days, riches, and honors."

☞ An experienced raiser and trainer of colts, in Maine, says:—"an important point in rearing is the practice of speaking to them in a gentle tone of voice and frequently handling them while by the side of the dam and after going to grass, taking care not to throw anything at them, but allow them to feed from the hand. Never shout suddenly or loudly at them. They are very sensitive and remember an injury a long time.

"I have practiced, on going to the pasture to look after them, taking a few oats in my pocket and allowing them to eat them from my hand. If several are together they will very soon learn to crowd around to get their share, and become very docile. If care be taken to be always kind and gentle, little is to be done in breaking except to teach them to draw a carriage, they having learned to mind the bit when quite young."

FROZEN TO DEATH.—John Roberts of Hooksett, N. H., went to Manchester on Tuesday, with a load of wood, and on his way home he became chilled and froze to death. His horse was found frozen to death near his body. Both had been destitute of food during the day.

An intoxicated man was frozen to death in Jersey city on Wednesday night. He had taken shelter in a building exposed to the weather.

NAVAL.—U. S. sloop-of-war Vandalia arrived at New York, Sunday, 81 days from Valparaiso. The Vandalia experienced the shock of an earthquake on the night of Dec. 15.

The John Adams, at Rio, had been condemned, and was waiting orders from home.

☞ In relation to Union Meetings at the North, the Charleston, (S. C.) Mercury says:—

But, let the jugglery go—it will amuse somebody, we suppose. "Jack, stand one side and let the monkey sneeze. It is a funny beast."

☞ The skate factory of Williams, Morse & Co., at Skowhegan, Me., was entirely destroyed by fire on Wednesday night. This was the largest establishment of the kind in the country, having already manufactured this season about fifteen thousand pairs, and a large number of hands are thrown out of employment.

☞ The White Mountains are said first to have been visited by Darby Field in 1642. The first party which visited it for scientific purposes was in 1784. In 1840, Dr. Jackson reached the summit on horseback, and thus opened the way for what is now the common method of access to it.

RIGHT TO MARRY.—In the Supreme Court, Boston, the petition of Mr. Wm. O. Eaton, for liberty to marry again, his first wife having obtained a divorce, was finally heard by Judge Hoar, and granted, no opposition appearing.

☞ The New York papers estimate the number of persons at the Central Park, New York, on the day after Christmas, at one hundred thousand, including some very expert lady skaters.

☞ A religious paper, under the admonitory heading "Don't Procrastinate," mentions that a young man, who was recently killed by accident, was just about to join a Baptist church.

PHYSICAL PROWESS.—Very few free nations have gained their freedom save by arms. And most certainly the Anglo-Saxon does not count physical prowess among the least of his claims to superiority over the other races.

COMFORT FOR THE CALUMNIATED.—The fairest complexions get freckled the soonest.

"WHY DID SHE DIE?"—This was the pathetic query put by Mr. Wilde, Q. C., in the Court of Exchequer, on the 5th inst., in the case of Penhallow and others, owners of the American ship Sierra Nevada, against the Mersey Docks and Harbor Board, Liverpool. On the fifth day of the trial, the Lord Chief Baron, the arguments having been finished, charged the jury that if they thought the vessel was stopped by a bank of mud at the entrance of the Wellington half-tide dock, and the defendants, by their servants had the means of knowing the state of the dock, and were negligently ignorant of it, then their verdict ought to be for the plaintiffs. The jury found that the vessel was stopped by a mud bank, and that the defendants ought to have known of its existence. This verdict carries the costs of the suit and costs of repairing the ship. The counsel for the defendants tendered a bill of exceptions.—Boston Courier.

FABULOUS PRICES FOR CATTLE.—When Samuel Thorne paid $5000 for for the famous English bull Grand Duke, the "short horn world" were astonished at his temerity; but it seems that our English friends have profited by the lesson taught them by an American as to the value of their stock. The bull Butterfly was sold by Col. Towneley to an Austrahian breeder for £12,000, and he has proved such a favorite in that country, that since his recent death, other parties there have offered the enormous sum of £2000 ($10,000) for a full brother of his which was coolly refused by the agent of Col. Towneley.—Wilkes Spirit.

SCHOOLMASTER'S DIFFICULTY. — A teacher, illustrating the difficulties and discouragements thrown in the way of the schoolmaster, by parents who weaken his authority and hinder his success by their folly and neglect, related an anecdote of a dominee who had a hundred boys and no assistant. "I wonder how you manage them," said a friend, "without help." "Ah!" was his answer, "I could manage the hundred boys well enough: it's the two hundred parents that trouble me—there is no managing them."

Tiberius, the Roman Emperor, is said on one occasion to have asked the senate that sought information, not to press their inquiries; for, said he, "by all the gods at once, I know not what under heavens to say to you." If the present House of Representatives should have a Republican organization, and press their inquiries into the action of the national administration, Mr. Buchanan would be in as great straits as was the old Roman.—N. P. Herald.

Punch saucily marks "Point in Favor of America.," viz:—"In England there are certain periods of the year especially put aside for shooting; but in America, to judge from the numerous duels and savage assaults, that are almost daily taking place with pistols and revolvers, the shooting season seems to continue pretty nearly all the year round."

A little girl was told to spell ferment, and give its meaning, with a sentence in which it was used. The following was her answer: "F-e-r-m-e-n-t, a verb signifying to work—I love to ferment in the garden!"

Aristotle came to the conclusion that, on the whole, virtue cannot get along in the world without some material aids and appliances. Whatever virtue may be able to do, national liberty and independence certainly cannot.

YEARS are the sum of hours. Vain is it at wide intervals to say "I'll save this year," if at each narrow interval you do not say, "I'll save this hour."—Little Pilgrim.

☞ Barque Kingston, of St. John, N. B. for Liverpool, is reported to be lost in the Petite Passage, N. S., and 3 of the crew perished.

"I wonder, Lucy, how it feels to kiss one of these horrid creatures with a moustache." "Indeed I don't know, but I'm going to get the hearth-broom and try it."

For a lady to sweep her carpet with embroidered undersleeves, would be considered indecently dirty; but to drag the pavement with her skirts seems to be very genteel.

If a child has two heads, is it lawful to cut off one of them? If one so, which shall be cut off, and if the cutting kills the child, is it murder or humanity?

☞ The thermometer at Littleton, on Thursday morning (29th) was 36 degrees below zero, and at Franconia 37 degrees below.

☞ A. Williams & Co., Boston, and J. H. Foster, Portsmouth, have the Odd Fellows' Almanac and the Masonic Register & Almanac, for 1860.

THE LADIES' PLEAGUE.—"Burn the crinoline!" "Yes, my dear, tis all very well to say, burn the crinoline; but suppose you are in it?"

☞ The Rev. Mr. King's book about the "White Hills," is meeting with a very large sale. The press is loud in its praise.

A slice or two of dried apple or peach, placed in the frying-pan, will prevent cakes from soaking fat.

That which we call remorse is often little else than a fear of having our misdeeds exposed.

Gas bills are, in military phrase, "Heavy charges of the light brigade."

Diseases of Old Age.

As man approaches his allotted three score and ten years the vital powers begin to fail; stimulants of various kinds are used to strengthen the naturally failing system, such as wines, bark, &c. Instead of these, let the aged keep up the supply of the true strengthening element, iron, by the PERUVIAN SYRUP, which offers a protoxide of that metal ready for immediate absorption.

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "BITTERS," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

SAMUEL S. PHELPS, WILLIAM UPHAM, } U. S. Senators from Vt.
JAMES F. SIMMONS, U. S. Senator from R. I.
J. T. MOREHEAD, U. S. Senator, and formerly Governor of Kentucky
I. H. ARNOLD, formerly Governor of R. I.
WM. WOODBRIDGE, late Governor of Michigan.

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for those complaints, in all their various forms.

None genuine unless signed I. BUTTS on the wrapper.

Prepared by S. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston, and for sale by Wm. R. Foster, David Kimball, Nathan P. Thacher, J. H. Thacher, and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth; J. P. Packer, Greenland; and dealers everywhere. spnot 4wd&w in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

N. B.—The beautiful little "give away" (cheap) pictures, are taken at this establishment, with a double lens Camera, (100 per day) by the celebrated Parisian artist—Monsieur Heavtontitorumenos.

☞ Mrs. Winslow, an experienced nurse and female physician, has a Soothing Syrup for children teething, which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflamation—will allay all pain, and it is sure to regulate the bowels. Depend upon it mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and relief and health to your infants. Perfectly safe in all cases. See advertisement in another column.

Smith's Curative Cleansing Compound

Has readily cured or effectually relieved, in numerous cases in various parts of New England, the following complaints, viz: Neuralgia, Sore Throat, Croup, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Sprains, Burns, Scalds, Spider Bites, Sore Breasts, Erysipelas, Frost Bites, Dysentery, Colic, Cramp in the Stomach or Limbs, Rheumatism, Ague, Toothache, &c. The above complaints may either be relieved or cured in a few minutes.

STREETS AND PATHS.—Messrs. Editors: Though not a street commissioner, I took a walk through School street on Monday noon, and found an excellent foot-path on each side, running the whole length of the street, made, as your correspondent X. suggests, by a snow plough. If this be so, I would thank the plough and the ploughman to go through any street.

In the middle is a narrow sleigh path, very little travelled indeed, as very few carriages, except those of bakers, milkmen, &c., have any call to go through that pleasant and quiet street.

If the city had a proper plow, and used it with oxen, in the snow path, it would be better; but I remember at this moment, that our Street Commissioner has about half a salary, and that we appropriate for streets a sum quite too small to keep them in good order.

I hope the new city government will vote a decent salary, say $500, or $600, including the use of a horse, for the street and road commissioner, require him to spend his time for the city; and appropriate money enough not only to keep the streets in repair, but to improve them gradually, by paving a piece every year;—and especially to have a survey in the spring, by a competent engineer, so that the proper grade of every street may be established and understood. A FOOT PASSENGER.

☞ The Panorama of the Life of Christ, exhibited at the Temple last week, we regard as a creditable and worthy entertainment—full of instruction and entirely unobjectionable; and, with the interesting lecture which Mr. Burnham gives as it moves, will serve to impress forcibly on the minds of all, especially youth, the leading events in the life and ministry of our Saviour and his Disciples, much better than almost any other plan. We commend it, and the gentlemanly manager, to all.

The last exhibition was given on Sunday evening, for the benefit of the Christian Sabbath School. The choir performed appropriate music; the audience was large, and everything was conducted with the utmost propriety and fitting decorum. We can conceive of no better mode of passing a Sabbath evening.

☞ It will be seen by our advertising columns, that Messrs. Jones & Mendum are to remove into their spacious and elegant new Store, forthwith; and in order to have as few goods to remove as possible, offer great bargains to purchasers of dry goods, etc.

Also that Mr. Dearborn is to move back into Market Street again—we presume to the store now occupied by Jones & Mendum; and in order to close out his stock of hats, caps, furs. &c., advertises to sell at cost.

☞ We are indebted to Mr. Shores, of the "Congress Block Bookstore, established in 1793," for a neat Counting Room Almanac for 1860. We hope he may retain health and strength to make out the century of his store,—though so fair and efficient a trader ought to get rich enough to retire long before that, if he chooses. We have tacked his calendar-card up in our Counting-Room,—where it will continually remind us of the polite donor, and also—that it is not half so good as the rotating McAdams Calendar he sent us last year!

☞ The Concert, Wednesday evening, by the Hutchinsons, and Mr. Johnson pianist, promises to be one of the most attractive and successful entertainments, given before the Lyceum this season—and a fitting close to the Course. All the old friends of the Hutchinsons should go, if only to hear Asa again,—whose voice was never better or sweeter than now; and all the children ought to hear Little Freddy.

☞ The retiring board of Aldermen, at a late meeting, (the Mayor being absent,) voted to direct Dr. Baker not to use his snow-plough in the streets.

This vote put Uncle Toby in mind of a certain fabled dog in the manger, who would neither eat the hay himself, nor let the ox eat it.

It has been said that the Dr. gave one plough to the school boys—and we suppose this new prohibitory law doesn't touch that.

Messrs. Editors: — Who is that petty scribbler who seems to be continually finding fault about School street? Since the street has been graveled it has been in as good condition, if not better, than the streets will average, and no reasonable person has occasion to complain. Such is the opinion of more than one of the residents of SCHOOL STREET.

CITY ORGANIZATION.—The Mayor and other municipal officers elect will be installed at the Court House this (Tuesday) morning, at 10 o'clock.

THERMOMETER at the Chronicle Office door, at 7 o'clock last evening, 6 above zero; at 5 o'clock this morning, 2 degrees below zero.

☞ Cards of all sorts furnished at the Chronicle Office—Printed or Engraved.

☞ We have received a communication signed "Justice," defending Mr. Cluer's reply to Rev. Mr. Buckley—in answer to "Observer" of last Saturday. "It is too long and too personal for our columns; but we must in fairness say that "Observer" (if not Mr. Buckley) was also chargeable with personality and bitterness; as we intimated in the remarks we appended to his article. As we heard neither speaker, we cannot express any opinion of their lectures; but, as far as outside public notice goes, the Spiritualists certainly have the best case—for their faith, if not their character, was assailed at the outset. And while that eminent christian grace, charity, is worthy of all commendation everywhere—we can't see why one sect is to be blamed for calling hard names, more than another—and if one denounces a brother church, and cries 'humbug,' why so tender when the compliment is returned?

☞ The North American Review for January, 1860, is on our table, placed there by the editor on the first week-day of the New Year.

Among the valuable articles in this number, some of the most attractive are those on the Indian Tribes, George Canning, Wesleyan Methodism, and on The China Question. The latter derives increased interest and value from the fact that the writer has been upon the spot, with the best facilities for knowing that whereof he affirms.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT.—On Saturday, Dec. 24, Mr. Roby, of Clarksville, N. H., having been at Stratford, started for home after sundown. Arriving with his horse and sleigh at the place where the Grand Trunk Railroad crosses the county road, Mr. Roby, who had been drinking enough to bewilder him, kept on the railroad instead of taking the county road. He had proceeded about half a mile, when the train came along at the rate of 30 miles an hour. There being a curve in the track, the engineer did not discover the team until he was upon them, and saw the sleigh flying in the air. As soon as possible the train was stopped. The horse was killed, the sleigh shattered into fragments, and the driver was found lying across the bunter timbers of the engine, insensible, and it was at first supposed dead. Surgeons being called, it was found that his skull was cracked, one of his legs broken, and that he was injured in the spine; yet he was alive, and may possibly recover.

☞ The London builders' strike is not yet at an end. Five thousand yet hold out, but their resources have failed and they are reduced to the extreme of poverty and distress. For the week ending Dec. 7, eighty deaths had occurred in the families of the London masons, carpenters, bricklayers, plasterers and painters.

Soup is not a bad preparation for a stomach. Some one calls it the preface of a dinner, but many think that a good work needs no preface.

The patter of little feet and the patter of the summer rain are among the sweetest music in the world of nature.—N. Y. Ledger.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional service so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the England States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON, Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE, Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made OR TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.
NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.
HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.
OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE
GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY
Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.
Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.
If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability.—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!
Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!
The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, com, pass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

The Great English Remedy!
Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills
Prepared from a Prescription of
SIR JAMES CLARKE, M.D.,
Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the Constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on the Second page of Pamphlet are well observed.

To married Ladies it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the agent.

N. B.—$1 and six postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1,00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 38 cts; large, 50 cents.

LEWIS, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a cough from that disease, by all means, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife relfect to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, are a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. EZ. EVERETT.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. N. P. SANBORN.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1839. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

THEOPHILUS CURRIER,
SALLY CURRIER.

Hundreds of certificates of cures by these innocent, but effectual medicines are received, many of which are printed on his circular which accompanies the medicines. These, with others of DR. THE
ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN,—Your note of the 15th inst. has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For the benefit of the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if possible to avert or getting bald. Very Respectfully,

RENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Stamston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good during the time I have used it, that I feel it my duty to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood—Dear Sir—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1861, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now as thick, glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

HENRY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds a quart, and retails for $1.75 per bottle; the large holds a quart, bottle contains more in proportion, and retails for $2 a bottle.

STOVE STORE REMOVED.

URIAH BLAISDELL

Has removed his Store and Furnishing Establishment one door north, to the spacious and convenient store

Nos. 43 & 45 Market Street,

where he is receiving and arranging a large and valuable Stock of

STOVES, TIN WARE, &c.,

Which he offers for sale at wholesale and retail, at very low prices. He has a great variety of the best and most popular Stoves, among which are:

1. The Stewart Cook Stove, with the latest improvements. This is an air-tight Cook Stove, for Wood or Coal; it has moveable coverings, which can confine the heat in the stove, or let it out into the room; has a reservoir for hot water 10 or 20 gallons, and a tin closet beneath;—a top cover, which is a great institution for baking, and burns a coal fire all night; it has a Dutch Oven for roasting in front of the Stove;—and it is every way a most convenient and durable Stove. There are 4 sizes.

The following recommendation of Stewart's Stove, is from an eminent engineer, and must be satisfactory to all who wish to understand the value of this excellent Stove:

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 5, 1859.

Mr. Blaisdell:—Seven years ago I moved to this city, and sold, before I came, a "Stewart's Air Tight Cooking Stove," which has but seen about five years. During that time no repairs or expense had been made upon it. Since I have been here I have tried the various Cooking Stoves in use, and I think for economy and durability the "Stewart" excels them all. I wish you would take away the Stove I now have from my house, and set up one of Stewart's as soon as you can. Your ob't servant,

B. F. CHANDLER.

2. Boston & Maine Cook Stove;
3. White Mountain
4. Empire State;
5. Enterprise;
6. Exchange;
7. Dining Room Cook Stoves, and others.

PARLOR STOVES.

SEAVEY'S COAL AND GAS BURNER, superseding everything else of the kind, as a parlor Coal Stove.

THE MAGEE COAL STOVE, highly recommended and esteemed by many.

CAST IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens.

SHEET IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens, of a variety of patterns.

OFFICE AND COUNTING ROOM STOVES.

BOX STOVES, for Schools, Halls and Churches

FARMER'S BOILERS, from 15 to 45 gallons each.

Also, FUNNEL, KITCHEN FURNITURE, TIN WARE AND FARMING TOOLS.

All these, and many other articles, too numerous to mention, will be sold at great bargains.

Funnel made, and Stoves and Funnel put up to order, in the best manner.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort, conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of philology to the more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your spirits are depressed or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints of whatever nature, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of one or more bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated females are here informed that they can be fitted by its use. It gives strength to the body, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful effect.

For full directions, see circulars. Price $1 per bottle.

STOVES AND FURNACES

FRANK JONES,

61 MARKET ST., PORTSMOUTH,

Having received a part of his Winter Stock of

SUPERIOR COOKING STOVES,

would invite the attention of those about purchasing, to the largest and best selected stock of COOKING STOVES, of the most approved patterns and valuable kinds to be found in this market; among which may be found

THE CLIPPER, BOSTON & MAINE,
EMPIRE STATE, WHITE MOUNTAIN,
REPUBLIC, BANNER, &c.,

with many others, for wood or coal, which will be sold at such prices as shall defy competition.

The Combination Stove and Range.

One of the greatest inventions of the age, for Cooking purposes,—made expressly for large families, boarding houses, hotels, &c.; or wherever a great amount of Cooking is required in the shortest possible time, it having 3 large ovens, 6 boiler holes and separate apartments for baking, broiling, frying or roasting, requiring no more fuel than any ordinary Cooking Stove. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction in every particular in point of economy, convenience, or ease of management; as we believe it to be far ahead of anything of the kind yet introduced into this market. We therefore ask an examination of the "Combination Stove & Range," feeling confident that it supersedes all others for which it is intended, and will be sold at a very low price.

THE MAGEE.

The Calebrated Magee Patent

Ventilating Parlor Stove,

All sizes—acknowledged by every one to be the

BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.

The fire can be kept through the entire season without once going out, giving the greatest amount of heat from the least fuel of any other Stove known.

The heat can be regulated to the mildest as well as the coldest weather, and at the same time perfectly ventilating the apartment in which they are used. We have sold hundreds of them the past year, and have testimonials of the highest order, acknowledging their superiority over every other Stove yet invented. To every one in search of the best Stove that can be found, we would say,

"Try the Magee."

of the most approved kinds.

STORE, OFFICE & SHIP STOVES;

BOX AND CYLINDER do.

SHEET IRON STOVES, with and without ovens.

Parlor Cook Stoves.

New patterns this season—for wood or coal,—warranted to be the best in the market, and will be sold at such prices as will convince every one that this is the place to buy cheap.

THE MAGEE FURNACES,

7 Sizes—Brick and Portable.

These Furnaces work on the same principle as the Magee Stoves. They are simple and easily operated, requiring only about half the coal of any other Furnace—will keep fire the whole season, and are not liable to get out of order.

We would invite the attention of those interested to an examination of the MAGEE FURNACE, and at the same time refer them to a number of places in this city where we have erected them the past year; and in every instance have given perfect satisfaction.

REPAIRING PEICES,

For most kinds of Cooking Stoves used in this market. Also,

Coal Fixtures and Fire Brick.

HARD WARE AND CASTINGS generally

TIN, SHEET IRON & COPPER WARE, manufactured to order.

☞ Prices as low as at any other establishment in this vicinity, and satisfaction guaranted in all cases.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

Knowing that there are at this moment thousands of persons in this surrounding town, who are rendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies, who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 13 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicine.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—13 Howard street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. ja dly

MRS. WINSLOW,
An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her
SOOTHING SYRUP,
For Children Teething.
Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is
SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.
Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and
RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.
We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, never been able to say of any other medicine, NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, when timely used. Never instance of dissatisfaction by any one who has used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and concordation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, "what we do know," after ten years experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we utter. We believe every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion from relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.
This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used with THOUSANDS OF CASES.
It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve
GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC.
We believe this to be the best remedy in the world, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any other cause—Do not let your own prejudices, or the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions to each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is upon the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York.
Price only 25 cents per bottle.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the child becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or viscerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as
ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASES, INTERNAL GOLA OR THE DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OR THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the limits of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who has been down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what medicine to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior nostrums have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, confirmed benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 4, 1860.

☞ A bogus letter, purporting to be written by Publius Lentulus, used to be printed in a handbill, forty years ago, and sold to the ignorant and devout. This letter purported to be a description of the personal appearance of Jesus by an eye-witness. On the same sheet used to be a wretchedly soft and foolish letter, purporting to be written by Jesus himself.

We have not seen any of this trash for years; and supposed that every well read man was aware that the letters were pious forgeries of comparatively modern origin.

In this supposition it now appears that we were wrong; for, in the Christian Era of Dec. 30, now before us, we have a sermon on "The Incarnation," which was preached Christmas day, in the Central Square Baptist Church, Boston, by Rev. S. W. Foljambe, the pastor, in which he says:

"The Evangelists did not describe Jesus, but his contemporaries have done it. Publius Lentulus, governor of Judea, described him to Cæsar, Emperor at Rome, and Napoleon found the description in the public records of that city. "Jesus, a man of surpassing beauty, excelling the children of men; a man of sad, solemn presence; none had seen him smile, but many had seen him weep," &c., &c.

If the reader will please to look in the New American Cyclopædia, page 168, article "Christ," he may read the following statement:

A suppositious letter, purporting to have been written by Publius Lentulus, Pilate's predecessor, to the Roman Senate, represented him to have possessed great personal beauty; but this letter is now known to have been written in the fourteenth century, and to have been based on the portraits in the catacombs.

It may be well to remark here that the stupid and dismal forgery going by the name of the Lentulus Letter and Christ's Letter, is the only authority for the assertion that none saw Jesus smile. This aspersion on the Messiah is well worthy of a monk in the middle ages, or of a pharisee in the year one; but it is not easy to believe that he who wrought his first miracle at a wedding feast,—and who was branded as a gluttonous man and a wine-bibber, because he ate with publicans and sinners, was all frowns or tears, without smiles.

The friendliness of his nature must have marked itself on a genial face—in pleasant smiles, visible even through tears.

☞ The N. Y. Superior Court has fixed the amount of Mrs. Catherine Forrest's alimony at $3000 a year—$1000 less than the award of the referee.

No Duel.—Mr. Branch of N. C. sent a note, virtually a challenge to a duel, to Mr. Grow, at Washington. Grow's answer was:

I know of nothing that makes it necessary for me to name a time and place outside the District of Columbia, to receive from you a communication in writing.

In reply to your speech impugning my motives and the integrity of my acts as a legislator, I used no language in violation of parliamentary law, and not warranted by your remarks thus impugning my conduct. If your note is to be considered of a hostile character, then I have this to reply:—Regarding duelling as at variance with the precepts of the Christian religion and the sentiment of a Christian people, and it being prohibited and declared a crime by the laws enacted by the body of which we are members, I cannot recognize it as justifiable mode of settling difficulties among men, even in case of unwarranted provocation; but my personal rights and the freedom of debate guaranteed by the Constitution, I shall defend whenever they are assailed.

Branch publishes the following card:

By those who are acquainted with the penal code of this District, to which my attention is drawn by Mr. Grow in his letter, it will be readily understood that no other course is left me than to publish this narrative, and then leave the whole matter to the impartial judgment of honorable men of all sections of the country. L. C. B. Branch.

So be it.—The impartial judgment of honorable men in this section of the country is, that Grow did well, did right, to decline the honor of being shot at.

It is rather amusing to see a man, who scouts the idea that the Law of God is higher than United States law, turn round and hold the law of duelling to be a higher law than that of the Union.

The penal code of the District, to which Mr. Branch alludes, was enacted to prevent duels among members of congress.—And Mr. B. invites Mr. G. to step over the line, evade this law, and conform to the code of voluntary, mutual murder. Mr. G. declines—and Mr. B. publishes.

Mr. B.'s honor is safe—and so is the Union.

☞ The Hollis Street Society, Boston, have voted to give their pastor, Rev. Thos. Starr King, leave of absence for a year, to preach in California,—and to request him to withdraw his resignation. He has done so; his salary will cease on the first of April in Boston, when he will leave for California, to return in a year, Deo Volente.

☞ Last week a citizen of Haverhill, Mass., in good circumstances, was committed to jail for refusing to pay taxes.

Outrages.—A paragraph has recently been published in this and other papers, derived from South Carolina papers, stating that a workman engaged on the State House, in Columbia, S. C., was recently seized by a mob, on account, as was alleged, of holding anti-slavery opinions; and that he received thirty-nine lashes, and was tarred and feathered, and then conveyed to Charleston. No full account of the affair was given in the Charleston papers, but one of them, without giving particulars, protested against the outrage. From the detailed narrative of the injuries inflicted on the man, published in the New York Independent, it appears that there was abundant reason for protesting. A more inhuman deed is seldom perpetrated. The Independent says:

We have seen this unfortunate man, and heard his story, and looked at his wounds. His name is James Power. He is an intelligent young man, about twenty-three years of age, a native of Wexford, Ireland, and a stonecutter by trade. He went from Philadelphia to the South, and obtained employment in Columbia, where he had worked for nine months.

The only opinion he ever expressed against slavery was that it caused a white laborer in the South to be looked upon as an inferior and degraded man. But this was enough. The remark was reported to the Vigilance Committee, (composed of twelve members,) who immediately ordered the police to arrest him.

After the arrest he was subjected to whipping, tar and feathers, and every indignity and cruelty short of death. He was sent, among other things, almost naked, with tar and feathers on him, on a railroad train to Charleston. A citizen of Charleston on the train, who saw the poor fellow's unhappy condition, stepped into a neighboring hotel, before the starting of the cars, and brought a cup of coffee and some biscuits to relieve the sufferer's faintness. It was a timely gift, and was gratefully received. But the Southern chivalry gathered around the Southern gentleman, and threatened him with summary vengeance if he repeated his generosity.

In Charleston jail a physician called to see him to examine his wounds, who told him his case was a mild one, comparing it with that of a man then lying in the City Hospital from the effects of five hundred lashes, which had almost put an end to his life!

On Saturday morning last, at 7 o'clock, the poor workman was taken from the prison, and conducted quietly on board the steamer for New York. He arrived in New York on Monday, and is still staying there, recovering from the effects of his ill-treatment, and looking for work, which we hope he may find.

This man says that, in common with the great mass of Irishmen in this country, he had always voted with the Democratic party.

We have abridged the account, and left out the worst of it. As it now is, we commend it to the attention of every freeman, asking what the character of a system must be, which makes such things necessary? and also how ignorant that populace must be who could make such blunders in applying their rage!

A Defaulter.—In Maine, the Governor and Council have notified the Banks having State deposits, that B. D. Peck, State Treasurer, is a defaulter in his office, and directed them to pay no checks drawn by him.

The Portland Advertiser learns that the State is secured against loss by the Treasurer's Bondsmen, who are amply competent to make good all deficit on the Treasurer's accounts; and that he has made over his private property, as well as a large amount of property under his control in Canada, to secure his bondsmen from loss.

The Virginia merchants who have voted to establish a line of vessels to Great Britain and have nothing to do with the North, have purchased a new vessel lately launched at Black Rock, near New Haven, for their new enterprise. They begin their independent course in good style. We doubt not that they will now find themselves in possession of an unprofitable elephant.—Exchange.

Wonder why they didn't build the vessel! They have bought a yankee vessel from the land of wooden nutmegs, born gun flints, wooden clocks, Tom Thumb and Barnum.

A runaway slave arrrived in New York last Saturday on a brig from Maryland.—By swearing he was born in New Hampshire he escaped from the police and was started off on the underground railroad.—He was heard to regret his Southern home.—Boston Post.

Very important, if true. But if he regretted, why not go back into that blessed condition?

Fire in Candia.—The new dwelling house of Daniel B. Langley, in Candia, was entirely destroyed by fire between the hours of 9 and 10 o'clock on Christmas evening. It was fully insured in the Candia Mutual Insurance Co.—News Letter.

☞ In Hanover, N. Y., a widow woman murdered her brother while he was drunk. She gave as a reason that he was dependent upon her, and she was tired of supporting him.

Messrs. Editors:—The Universalist Sabbath School of this city presented to their faithful Superintendent, James M. Carr, Esq., (which office he has acceptably filled for five years,) a beautiful Bible, on last Sabbath, New Year's day. Miss M. Mendum presented the Bible, in behalf of the school, with appropriate remarks. Mr. Carr responded in a felicitous manner.—May the school, which is now prosperous, continue to be so; and may its attentive Superintendent long be at its head. Civis.

☞ The Boston Traveller of Monday evening gives the following piece of news from this city.

Union Meeting at Portsmouth.—A correspondent at Portsmouth, N. H., furnishes us with an account of a large Union meeting at Jefferson Hall, Portsmouth, on Thursday evening. The meeting was called to order by Ex-Mayor Greenleaf, and Mayor Morrison was appointed Chairman. Union resolutions were adopted, and letters read from Gov. Goodwin, Hon: Asa P. Cate, democratic candidate for Governor, Col. George, Ex-Gov. Judge Harvey, Hon. John H. Wells and others. A telegraphic dispatch from ex-President Pierce was read. A speech, of an hour in length, was made by Hon. Caleb Cushing, after which Nehemiah Moses, (a prominent member of the Democratic party) introduced a series of resolutions, declaring slavery to be a blessing not only to this country, but to the entire civilized world, and as indispensable to our agriculture, manufactures and commerce. The resolutions were opposed, and the meeting, without action thereon, dissolved.

McAdams' Panoramic Calendar is an indispensable ornament and fixture for the desk, after once introduced. Besides the days of the week and month, it gives tides, sun and moon for every working day in the year—all in the compass of a nutshell, and for 25 cts. May be had at Shores' bookstore.

☞ A young man at the Yorkshire, England, assizes, who refused to take the oath, because he believed it to be contrary to the Scriptures, was forbidden by the judge to leave the court during the assizes, and directed, amidst the laughter of the court, to sit up in a corner of a gallery, where every one could see him.

Washington, Jan., 2.—The President's house to-day was a scene of agreeable excitement. Foreign Ministers, Judges of the Supreme Court, and officers of the Army and Navy first paid their respects to the President, and the doors were thrown open to the public.

Hon. Judge Blackford, of the Court of Claims, died in this city last evening.

Saddle-Horse Club.—A number of gentlemen of New York have organized a saddle-horse club, for the encouragement of the practice of horsemanship and of the breeding and training of saddle-horses.—Charles A. Dana, Esq., of the Tribune, is President of the club.

The horse of one of our city physicians left his owner suddenly one evening last week, and was found in the morning at the door of a patient, a couple of miles out of town, with the sleigh, &c., all right. He probably thought the patient needed a visit.—Belfast Journal.

Ear-Rings.—The foreign journals report that ear-rings are now all the rage in the world of fashion, and that instead of the long pendants worn a few years ago, they are now distinguished by being as small as possible.

An affected man cannot be a moral man The whole object of his life is to cheat you

Diseases of Old Age.

As man approaches his allotted three score and ten years the vital powers begin to fail; stimulants of various kinds are used to strengthen the naturally failing system, such as wines, bark, &c. Instead of these, let the aged keep up the supply of the true strengthening element, iron, by the PERUVIAN SYRUP, which offers a protoxide of that metal ready for immediate absorption.

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

Washington, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

NEW CITY GOVERNMENT.

The new year ushers in a new Municipal Government for the ensuing twelve months, in this city, the law-making departments of which were organized at the Court House on Tuesday.

The following is a list of the two Boards of the City Council:

MAYOR.
John R. Reding.

ALDERMEN.

Israel Kimball,	C. C. Jackson.
Joseph B. Upham,	John Chase,
Marcellus Bufford,	James Moses 3d,
Daniel Marcy,	Stephen D. Scriggins.

COMMON COUNCIL.

Charles A. Wiggin,	Samuel G. Folsom,
Henry M. Grant,	John H. Broughton,
John H. Folsom,	William H. Sise,
Calvin S. Hodgdon,	James C. Brown,
John H. Downing,	Phinehas Nichols,
Henry F. Cate,	Samuel Reynolds,
Oliver Hanscom,	J. Wesley Moses,
Francis J. Wilson,	Frank W. Miller,
George Annable,	John E. Ham,
Benjamin Russell,	John E. Rider,
J. Sullivan Rand,	Gustavus G. Abbott,
Wm. H. Hayes,	Oliver Tucker.

At the Court House, the Common Council elect was called to order by Justin Hanscom, Clerk last year, and Phinehas Nichols elected President pro tem.

The two Boards then met in Convention, —the oath of office was administered to Mr. Reding, by Mayor Morrison; and then in turn, by Mayor Reding, to both boards of the Council.

The Common Council balloted for President. 22 votes thrown—of which John S. Rand had 6; Phinehas Nichols 16, and was elected; and with a brief but very neat and fitting speech, Mr. Nichols took the chair. For Clerk of Common Council, Justin Hanscom had 6; James W. Folsom 16, and was elected.

In Convention, both Boards balloted for City Clerk,—throwing 31 votes: of which Jacob Walden had 6, S. Gilman Folsom 5; John Bennett 20, and was re-elected.

Prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Hitchcock; and Mayor Reding addressed the Council as reported in another place, and the Council adjourned.

☞ Mayor Reding's Inaugural Address, which we give to-day, is a plain, business-like document, worthy the attention of every good citizen. We are pleased to see his exact concurrence with the views of Mayor Walker, in respect to the grade and repairs of streets; and with our own oft expressed views of the employment and pay of Police.

His views of the economy of early repairs on streets and roads, indicate that as far as his influence goes, we shall not see, this year, the appropriations for highways delayed till near the heat of summer.

Mr. Reding is the 7th Mayor of Portsmouth, and the second native citizen of the place who has held this office. He was by trade a printer, beginning his apprenticeship in the Oracle or Journal office here, and finishing it in that of the Patriot in Concord. He was several years an editor; afterwards a member of Congress; and lately Naval Store-keeper. Having been a working man, he is likely to be a working mayor;—and if he works as faithfully and neatly as he speaks in his address, will find a good city council to work with.

☞ The Programme for the Concert to-night, which is to close the Lyceum,—as will be seen by the bills circulated, embraces several new gems of the season, with some of the old favorite pieces of the Hutchinsons. In the list, we notice Albert Laighton's touching requiem, "Found Dead, dead and alone."

No mention is made of Mr. Johnson's selections for the Piano; but many of our citizens who have heard him perform, will need no other evidence that he will offer something generally acceptable.

With this double attraction, and the fact that this is the last night of the Course—it would seem that, the weather being favorable, the Temple can hardly fail of being filled, as of old when the Hutchinsons sang.

Messrs. Editors:—I have a most decided aversion to newspaper controversies, and have never allowed myself to be drawn into one. But on reading your comments in the Chronicle of Tuesday, upon the communications of Observer and Justice, and also upon the lectures of Messrs. Buckley and Cluer; I felt called upon, in Mr. Buckley's absence, to say that he made no personal attack upon any one. He quoted the writings of prominent Spiritualists, to show what sentiments were held by them. He also said that many of the mediums were immoral persons, which I presume no one will deny. From your comments, community would infer that the characters of individuals were assailed, which was not the fact. As to what Mr. Cluer said, I know nothing, neither do I care. All I have to say of him is this: he was bound by the notice of his lecture to answer Mr. Buckley's arguments. Whether he did or not, I leave those who heard him to judge.

J. HALL.

☞ Cards of all sorts furnished at the Chronicle Office—Printed or Engraved.

MAYOR REDING'S ADDRESS.

Gentlemen of the City Council:—

Having taken the required oath and entered upon the discharge of the duties of the office to which I have been elected, I should deviate from the custom that has obtained, and disregard the requirements of the city charter, were I to refrain from making such congratulations as occur to me in relation to the interests of our common constituents.

Our position here is somewhat anomalous one. It is known to you that I was nominated by one of the great political parties of the city, and that I stand here supported by a decided majority of its people, and yet three-fourths of the members of the two branches composing this body were nominated by the other political party, and elected by the people of their respective wards. It is not my purpose, neither would it be proper for me to allude, even, to the probable causes that produced this state of things. Sufficient is it to know that the people so willed it, and that in this country they are sovereign, that is, the founders of this Union, and the framers of the Constitution. May the Union and Constitution endure to the end of time.

Perhaps it is for the best of all concerned that the city government is thus composed. For one, I can see no good reason why, differing widely as we do, yet conscientiously, doubtless, upon National and State politics, we may not unite in our endeavors to promote the welfare of our whole people, irrespective of the party divisions alluded to. This will be my endeavor, as doubtless it will be yours, also.

The financial affairs of the city is a subject in which all take a greater or less interest. I find, by reference to the city records, that the tax has increased in ten years, from 1849, the last year of the town organization, to 1859, $21,313 58, while the debt in the same time has increased $6,079 61. Of this, $4,500 is on deposit for the erection of the Cabot St. school-house.

A debt, ordinarily, is no blessing to an individual or a community, and I hope that measures will be taken to reduce ours. This can only be done by taxation or the sale of city property. As long as our debt can remain at so favorable a rate of interest as most of it is at present, I should deem it inexpedient to attempt its reduction at a rate greater than from three to five thousand dollars annually, if we rely upon taxation alone for the purpose. Some are of the opinion that a portion of the city farm might be disposed of on most advantageous terms, and that the remainder, if more highly cultivated, would produce quite as much as the whole does at present, and at less expense of carrying on. Others equally capable of judging are of different opinion. This certainly is a matter worthy of deliberate consideration.

Although our people are not excelled in point of morals and correct deportment, probably, by those of any other city similarly situated and of equal population, yet here an active, vigilant, constabulary force is necessary. We are constantly being visited by rogues and questionable characters from other places, and these classes demand not a little of the attention of our police. Those composing this department, from the highest to the lowest, ought to be men of courage, determination, and to these qualities those also of mildness and gentlemanly bearing, should be added. Much duty is said to be performed by this department not known to, and consequently not appreciated by the community. I am of the opinion that the salary of the Marshal is inadequate for the services expected of him. Pay that officer an equivalent, and require that his whole time and energies be devoted to the business of his office.

Practical men are of the opinion that had there been, twenty years since, a scientific survey made of our streets, and regular grades established, the money expended upon them during this period, with a systematic result in view, would have put them in excellent condition, and that hereafter they could be thus kept with but very little expense compared with the sum that is now, and must continue annually, to be expended upon them. It remains to be seen whether you will now cause it to be done by an experienced engineer. An inquiry into the probable expense of such a survey, embracing drainage and sewerage, can be made with little or no expense.

It is also worthy of inquiry whether in some localities of the city there have not been too many crossings permitted. These are frequently injurious to the streets; generally inconvenient, and sometimes dangerous to passing vehicles, and unless the public demand them, they should be granted with great caution.

Our roads too, as well as some of our streets, have been very much out of repair, and yet it would seem as though they might be kept in thorough repair, were the amount laid out upon them, judiciously expended. A considerable percentage of the money expended is lost when repairs are delayed until late in the season. Repairs should be made as soon as possible after the frost is out of the ground in the spring; and hence, for this object alone, appropriations ought, in my judgment, to be made at an early day. Those in charge of the highways should see to it that the interests of the city instead of those of individuals are consulted, and not postpone work upon the roads until after planting or harvesting, to accommodate those who claim the privilege of "working out their taxes." Let the work of the public be done while hands and teams are strong and vigorous, and not after both are jaded out by a long and fatiguing season's work.

Our city farm and the extensive buildings connected with it is probably the best establishment of the kind in the state; and the provisions made upon it for the comfort and convenience of the poor are highly creditable to the officials under whose supervision they are made, and to the humanity of the tax-payers who cheerfully furnish the means. We have never yet heard ever within us, and it is well that this unfortunate class are treated with kindness and care, for therein lies one of our duties. In some communities impostors are frequently supported at the public charge, when they are far better able to take care of themselves than many who are compelled to aid in their support. It is to be hoped that we have few, if any, of this class among us; but too much care cannot be taken to prevent the occurrence of such cases.—The condition of every one applying for permanent or temporary support should be thoroughly investigated, when circumstances will permit, before aid is furnished. With many, to be aid is a much easier task than to labor; and in all cases where the applicant for help is physically able to labor, employment should be furnished; and if it was wisely ordained of old, that by the sweat of the face man should eat bread, and thus a recompense of his labor be rendered unto him—why is it not also just, that "if any would not work neither should he eat."

Scarcely any thing adds more to the feeling of safety and security entertained by the people than the knowledge of the existence of a well organized and efficient fire department. This I do believed, we have in our city. At all times the duties of its members are onerous, often times serious, and sometimes extremely hazardous.—So worthy a corps of men will ever receive the respect and sympathy of the community; and, also to every reasonable extent, the fostering care of the city government. The fire apparatus is good, I am informed, and preserved in a careful condition. A tenement for the first class is asked for in Court street, and it will be granted doubtless, if in your opinion the public exigencies require it.

Before the close of the year I hope to be better acquainted with our school system and its practical workings than I am at present. Relying upon the information derived from those somewhat familiar with our schools, and the knowledge of the liberal expenditures made for their support, I cannot doubt but that they compare most favorably with those of any other section of the state—the high schools especially. All needed and legitimate aid should be afforded them, for in them we see those who will in a few years have to occupy our places, and possibly, the most exhalted positions in this great republic. The teachers generally, are understood to be a corps of competent and laborious public servants well worthy of their hire.

We are our city finances in a more favorable condition, I should not hesitate to recommend an appropriation for the erection of a suitable building for a city hall and offices. Ours is the only city in the state destitute of such a building but perhaps with one exceptyin our need is as great as that of any other. A city hall on the site of Jefferson Hall market, would not only be a great accommodation, but an ornament to the city, and would doubtless be looked upon with pride and satisfaction by our people generally. It is to be hoped that the time is not distant when our citizens will feel able to favor the erection of such an office.

I would make the suggestion whether it would not be well to have our city charter, its amendments, the city ordinances, &c., printed in a neat and proper manner with marginal notes. Such a work is much needed for reference by all who take an interest in the affairs of the city. Similar works have been printed in the form indicated, by most of the cities in New England, and we are indebted to many of their copies. It is to be regretted, I think, that we have not, up to this time, been enabled to reciprocate such courtesies, in kind.

The reports of the finance committee, the several heads of departments, and others whose duty it is to make annual reports, will be laid before you, and I bespeak for them your deliberate consideration.

I am ready to co-operate with you, gentlemen, in placing in office such men, and such only, as are believed to be capable, honest, faithful; and in doing what is laudable to advance the best interests of our city, and to reduce as much as practicable the public expenditures. With such mutual intentions, on our part, may we not hope for the Divine blessing that our labors during the year will be, in some measure, at least successful.

In conclusion, permit me to thank the people for the honor they have conferred unsolicited upon me. My gratitude will be evinced in earnest endeavors to do my duty. Thus may I not expect that at the end of the year when I shall leave this post, the affairs of my native city have not suffered detriment at my hands.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE
GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY
Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.
Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.
If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or traveling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the demands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASES.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease, both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will destroy the germent of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country: the best, most and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens and friends in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration.

Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858, the editor says:

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice."

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Francis Xavier's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. LAPORME, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the Sisters of Charity."

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.

BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAPORME, Esq.:

Dear Sir—I had been suffering for a considerable length of time from a severe cough, and had in vain had recourse to nearly all the remedies in use. My cough began to give me much uneasiness from its serious effect on my system, when three days' use of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ restored me to complete health. The medicine being new in this market, I had recourse to it last; but I can now confidently recommend it as the best medicine I know of. Yours, truly,
CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a last hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1 00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAPORME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its shapes, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 38 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. REUBEN N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MIXER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZA HOPKINS.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher try it. Bibal and try it. EDS. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—I our note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting a certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the colour of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about too months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original colour except from dye. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the roots were filled with the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the retention of their wives, to repay by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,

BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Samaston, Ala., July 25th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair no less than good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever, at least this is my experience. Believe it all? Yours truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like. By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood.—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853. I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now in all its glory, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY ROBINSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

STOVE STORE REMOVED.

URIAH BLAISDELL

Has removed his Stove and Furnishing Establishment one door north, to the spacious and convenient store

Nos. 43 & 45 Market Street,

where he is receiving and arranging a large and valuable Stock of

STOVES, TIN WARE, &c.,

Which he offers for sale at wholesale and retail, at very low prices. He has a great variety of the best and most popular Stoves, among which are:

1. The Stewart Cook Stove, with the latest improvements. This is an air-tight Cook Stove, for Wood or Coal; it has moveable covers, which can easily be changed to the store, or let it out into the room; has a reservoir of hot water 10 or 20 gallons, and a tin closet beneath; the grate is of a great length and depth for coaling, and will keep a coal fire all night; it has a Dutch Oven for roasting in front of the Stove;—all it is every way a most convenient and durable Stove. There are 4 sizes.

The following recommendation of Stewart's Stove, is from an eminent engineer, and must be satisfactory to all who wish to understand the value of this excellent Stove:

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 5, 1859.

Mr. Blaisdell:—Seven years ago I moved to this city, and sold a Stove that I came, a "Stewart's Air Tight Cooking Stove," which I had used about five years. During that time no repairs or expense had been made upon it. Since I have been here I have tried the various Cooking Stoves in use, and I think for economy and durability the "Stewart" excels them all. I wish you would take away the Stove I now have from my house, and set up one of Stewart's as soon as you can. Your ob't servant,

B. F. CHANDLER.

2. Boston & Maine Cook Stove;
3. White Mountain;
4. Empire State;
5. Enterprise;
6. Exchange;
7. Dining Room Cook Stoves, and others.

ALSO, FUNNEL, KITCHEN FURNITURE, TIN WARE AND FARMING TOOLS.

All these, and many other articles, too numerous to mention, will be sold at great bargains.

Funnel made, and Stoves and Funnel put up to order, in the best manner.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort, conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of phiology to the more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of the "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within the last three years, hundreds, over the consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency. Cough, Cold, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are depressed or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the case of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pain and Soreness in the Stomach, symptomatic

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.
The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:
1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.

MRS. WINSLOW,
An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her
SOOTHING SYRUP,
For Children Teething.
Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is
SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.
Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and
RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.
We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what we have never been able to say of any other medicine, —NEVER HAS IT FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who tried it, but all are delighted to speak in terms of the highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, what we do know, after ten years experience, and believe our assertions for the future will be found to be as strictly correct as heretofore they have been. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and sickness, a dose of this article will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.
This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST SKILLFUL NURSES and PHYSICIANS in the United States, and has been used with EXPERIENCED and SUCCESSFUL EFFECT in New England and thousands of cases. never-failing success, in many hundreds of cases.
It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and surest REMEDY IN THE WORLD, IN ALL CASES OF DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA, IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—Do not let your own prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be ABSOLUTELY SURE to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York
Price only 25 cents per bottle.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. The blood corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by diseases which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this ever-prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for a cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERYTHEMA, OR ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from a vitiated CONDITION OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The paramount purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or resist them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased sections, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is assisted to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once simple and inviting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from a alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what solicitude to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JAN. 5, 1860.

Postmaster General Holt, in his annual report, argues that the Post Office Department should be self-sustaining. This is nonsense. The Secretary of the Navy might as well argue that the Navy Department should sustain itself by fishing and whaling and transporting coal, as Mr. Holt that the mail service should pay all its own cost. Will the Department be in better way to sustain itself by allowing Southern postmasters to decide what matter shall be delivered from their offices?—Traveller.

Something may be said on both sides of the self-sustaining Post Office question. If the General Post Office had remained in charge of John McLean, under whom it grew up from a very small affair, to a large institution, he might have kept it, as he made it, a paying institution.

But the broom of Jackson reform swept him out, and the two Bradleys, his assistants, after him; and put in Mr. Barry, with fresh assistants. John McLean went out, because he would not make a general turnout of the post-masters for political reasons. Mr. Barry was in this respect, a supple party tool, and turned out and put in, as he was bid.

The first result was, that the post-office throughout the country was thrown into confusion; the second was that it was insolvent, and had to be aided by large appropriations from Congress; and the third, that private mails sprung up all over the country.

We have had one or two good postmasters-general since, but not more than two; and the frequent changes in the post-office are bad, and are made in a bad way; they always make more or less confusion.

If postmasters were chosen by the people, they would as a whole, be better,—because people would keep in a good postmaster, as they do a good town clerk.

And if Congress would first appropriate money enough to pay off all the present debt of the office, and then abolish the franking privilege, the post office could carry letters cheaper than they are carried now, and yet pay for itself.

Raising the rates of postage, as the Lecompton man tried to do in the last Congress, would not make the department pay its way,—but it would help the Express men, the Telegraph men, and the "underground" or private mails that would spring up all round.

In McLean's time as Postmaster General, no new laws were passed about postage or the post-office; but as new wants grew up in the country, as to mails, they were supplied by new instructions from the Postmaster General.

When Mr. Barry came in, there was an attempt to return to the mere letter of the law. The attempt was a failure,—but the experiment ruined some newspaper establishments; and almost all McLean's Instructions have been incorporated into later laws and modern usage.

Whatever party will abolish franking, make postmasters elective by the people, and transmit money by Post office check, as is now done in England, will be great benefactors.—And the power that does any one of these three things, will be a benefactor.

☞ On Monday evening, the 5 o'clock train from Boston for Concord, N. H., was run into from behind by an engine, between Nashua and Manchester. The rear car, which was filled with passengers, was broken to pieces, and the passengers had a narrow escape from death. Several were scalded and otherwise injured, but not dangerously. Those most severely injured were Benjamin Wadleigh of Milford, N. H., and Walter Ladd of Concord. The name of the engineer of the locomotive which run into the train is James Ring. He says he was told at Nashua that the train was behind.

☞ John Frost, the author of several historical and other books, died in Philadelphia on Wednesday evening, in the 60th year of his age. He was a native of Maine, and a graduate of Harvard University, and from 1828 to 1838 conducted a young ladies school in Philadelphia. He was subsequently Professor of Belles Lettres in the Central High School, since which he has been engaged in the prepration of books.

THE FASHIONS.—The New York Independent in its dry goods report for the week says—the practice in the United States is, to follow French fashions, and those which are the ton in Paris one season, become the ton in New York in the season following. French fashions and French novels seem to be most attractive to our dressy and light-reading circles. The importations of silks daily arriving are astonishingly large, and are closely followed in amount by those of woollens, and next by those of cotton goods.

☞ Theodore Parker writes a letter from Rome in respect to John Brown. He says:

"Let the American State hang his body; the American Church damn his soul with its breath of cursing; still, the blessing of such as are ready to perish will fall on him, and the universal justice of the infinitely perfect God will take him welcome home."

MORALS—FOOD.

Messrs. Editors:—Sacred writ describes an imaginary deity as having great influence on the happiness and destiny of mankind; and a belief has been entertained that he aspired even to the seat of the most high, so that a contest was actually being waged by him to secure dominion, power, &c.

Taking up the figure, we could hardly suppose a more adroit operation on his part, for gaining sway over this portion of the universe, than the sending of one of his favorite "imps" to preside over the cooking department and at the kneading troughs and dairies of the race.

It would doubtless be highly subservient to the ends of moral inquiry and reform, if statistics could be obtained showing how many of these establishments, in whole or in part, were under the control of said "imp," and how many under that of the great sovereign provider.

The experience of almost all verifies the fact of great imperfection at least—and the writer assumes that, under existing circumstances, herein is the field for the first action in moral reform, and that if suitable inquiry cannot be instituted, and a standard maintained on this point, there is precious little encouragement to believe that any human power can be made effectual against general corruption.

We begin, then, with the first requisite of animal life, viz., bread, very properly called the "staff of life," and although not the chief and ultimate invigorator, as flesh is, yet it is of first consequence as that nutriment of which neither flesh nor alcohol can supply the want.

One fact should be noticed here, as bearing very favorably on this important article, viz., that general opinion is favorable to substituting in a large degree the meal of the different kinds of grain for the fine flour which has heretofore been so generally used; but the practice on this point gains slowly in this section at least, as is shown by reference to one of the largest baking establishments in this city, where the demand for wheat meal bread, made without admixture of sweetening, is so small, that only a very limited quantity is made to meet the orders of a few customers.

It is true that what is called "brown bread" has an extensive sale; but when we consider the quality and component parts of this article, we can hardly allow it a place with what constitutes the staff. If it can be shown, as it probably can, that this article is extensively depended upon as such, that fact should be considered as almost ensuring a demand for alcoholic liquors or any other invigorator, and as accounting to a great extent for the drunkenness of the times.—As far as my experience teaches me, I certainly would not hazard the profit of a hogpen by the feeding of it to my swine; and to ask a blessing of our Heavenly Father on a table where that article formed a part of the provisions, would evidence a great degree of thoughtless mockery.

To account, then, for the extensive use of this article. It cannot be because it is made with greater facility than real brown bread, which requires the simple admixture of two parts rye and one part Indian meal, with the necessary seasoning of salt, made with scalding water—avoid stiffness. Bake in loaves, one to two inches thick, and you ensure it light and well done.

The only substantial plea that I have ever been able to discover, is like that of certain farmers who lived in an inland section of the country, and who, because they had no accessible market for their corn, converted the same into whisky, which became a prolific source of drunkenness.

I have never found any bread superior to that made of scalded rye meal solely, seasoned with a little salt. It may be baked on the griddle or in small cakes in the oven.

The community had better pay the same price as now paid for the present article, for one half the quantity according to the above recipe; and it would seem that a profitable, extensive and highly useful business might be made out of it, unless it be that the community will not patronize and pay for a good article, but prefer to be fed more meanly than cattle, at the risk of depreciating their physical constitution below the brutes.

Much might be written on the subject of bread, but enough has been stated as a nucleus to such reform as may be necessary, and in order to bring this "talk" within the compass of "five or ten minutes," we glance to the important article of milk.

If this our modern Canaan be a land that "floweth with milk," the question occurs, why the bounty does not in its purity permeate all places of need?

Not to speak of what I believe to be a perversion of this rich article by the manufacture of butter and cheese, I would simply state that I do not believe the pure article can be furnished for the present prices without loss, and that it will bear, in comparison with other things, a price ranging at least 10 to 12 cts. per quart.

The cursory remarks on these heads indicate what the writer believes to be the true point for reformatory effort, and the long list that would have to be gone through with before that is reached on which the opprobium is made to rest, of all the evil, progressive and otherwise, and which is in a great measure but the finishing and completing of the destruction and misery which had been instituted and wrought out by other agencies. F. J. A.

☞ Congress carried on the irrepressible conflict on slavery, in both houses, Tuesday Jan. 3,—and did not do much else.

In the Senate Mr. Brown said the Senator from Wisconsin mistook the position of the South. They believed that slavery elevated the negro. Four millions of Southern slaves occupied a higher position, morally, socially and physically, than any laborers on the globe.

This is commended to the attention of every white laborer in New England, who is here invited to look up to the Southern slaves, who occupy a higher social position than any laborers on earth!

Next, Mr. Chesnut of S. C. said every white man in South Carolina stood on an equal footing; — expectable white men at the South are laborers; he considers himself a free laborer of the South.

If Mr. Brown speaks the truth, then the negro slaves of Mr. Chesnut occupy a higher social position than he does himself, tho' he is a Senator in Congress.

Such is the logic by which it is attempted to whitewash a black system.

In the House, Mr. Anderson (of Mo.) presented the memorial of the mail contractors, saying that the government owes them two millions for service, and urging the adoption of such measures as would enable them to meet their liabilities. Mr. A. understood there could be no relief till the organization of the House. He was willing to vote for any man outside the Republican party for Speaker, in relation to whom there was any probability of an election.—He proposed that a meeting be held here to-night of anti-Lecomptonites, Americans and Democrats, to agree on the support of nominees, from Speaker to Door-keeper.

Mr. Stevens expressed the hope that such a meeting might be held, and thought it would resemble the happy family—the owl, rattlesnake and prarie-wolf—all living in the same hole. (Laughter.) In order, he said, to show that we are in earnest, I move we proceed to ballot, viva voce, and the person having the largest number of votes be declared Speaker of this Congress.

There was then a colloquial debate about voting, and pairing off.

Several republicans expressed their willingness to take vote on all the questions before the House. Mr Washburn of Maine said this could be done at a single sitting.

The day was talked out, with no voting except on adjournment.

☞ Letters from Greensboro', N. C., to the N. Y. Herald, give reports of the trial of Rev. Daniel Worth, a Wesleyan Methodist preacher, for distributing Helper's book and uttering abolition sentiments in the pulpit. Worth is a native of North Carolina, but until the last two years, has been a resident of Indiana, and has served in the Legislature of that State. He is about 65 years old and belongs to a highly respectable North Carolina family. He defended himself, and the writer of the Herald says:—

"The Court ordered him to find bail in $5000 for his appearance at the next term of court, and in the same amount to keep the peace until that time. Bail for the first was offered, but up to the present time of writing the other bail has not been obtained.

"There is no doubt that the punishment prescribed for this offence by the laws of North Carolina will be fully meted out to him. The punishment for the first offence of this kind under the statute laws of North Carolina is thirty-nine lashes; for the second it is death."

☞ President Buchanan gives ex President Pierce a sly thrust right under the short ribs. It is to be found in that part of the message which relates to its finances, and is in these words:

"We have yet scarcely recovered from the habits of extravagant expenditure, produced by our overflowing treasury, during several years prior to the commencement of my administration."

The Pierceites might retort by saying, that Gen. Pierce filled the treasury to overflowing, and that Mr. Buchanan has caused everything in it to flow out.

From the fact that the Southern cotton traders put cannon balls into the bales of cotton they send North, we infer that the South don't mean to fight this season.—They would reserve them to be sent after another fashion, if they were in earnest about dissolution. It is hard that we should have to pay for their old iron, but we'd rather take it from cotton bales, than from cannon. Do they think that their's is guncotton?—Traveller.

☞ Late English papers report a further recovery of gold from the wreck of the Royal Charter, namely, 540 lbs. of gold coin, 40 ingots of gold, 286 sovereigns, 47 rupees, 38 lbs. gold dust, 5 bars of gold, and one cup ingot, and a piece of iron plate, with part of a bar of gold and some sovereigns driven into it, which latter, it is observed, "is a great curiosity."

An impudent "imp" at our elbow—a republican no doubt—suggests that having published a romance by Mr. Buchanan under the title of a message," we need not apologize for the Ledger story, the commencement of which has appeared in today's issue.—Bath Times.

☞ The South American congressmen and other prominent men in that party, acknowledge the call of the national republican committee for their Presidential convention at Chicago to be a wise stroke of policy, inviting, as it does, the entire opposition to the present administration.

☞ A brigand has been captured in Sardinia who is known to have perpetrated sixty murders.

☞ The Newburyport Herald is informed that one of the principal shoe manufacturers in West Newbury has suspended payment within a few days, for $40,000. The failure is attributed to a suspension of an Ohio firm largely indebted to him.

Prentice thinks the horse that is generally the most expensive to the owner and ambles with him into most difficulties, is his hobby horse.

Diseases of Old Age.

As man approaches his allotted three score and ten years the vital powers begin to fail; stimulants of various kinds are used to strengthen the naturally failing system, such as wines, bark, &c. Instead of these, let the aged keep up the supply of the true strengthening element, iron, by the PERUVIAN SYRUP, which offers a protoxide of that metal ready for immediate absorption.

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

L. H. ARNOLD, formerly Governor of R. I.
WM. WOODBRIDGE, late Governor of Michigan.

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

WATCHMAN, TELL US OF THE NIGHT. At a social gathering of Granite State Engine Co. No. 1, at their Hall, on the evening of the 2d inst, in commemoration of the new year, as they were about to partake of a clam chowder, with their invited guests, among whom were the Chief Engineer, most of the assistants, and several members of the City Government, their Hall was very suddenly taken possession of by about 20 as smiling ladies as ever danced on Bowling Green; and they came like one of old, "bringing their sheaves with them,"—among them were two splendid office chairs, a beautiful engraving of Washington, almost the size of life, another of Mt. Vernon, the home of Washington, another the Roll of the Co. for 1860, in gilt letters, all set in gilded frames, together with any quantity of "what ye call 'ems." Verily, you shall have your reward. Ladies, accept our gratitude for your generous and timely gifts, and be assured we shall prize them as misers do their gold.

After the presentation, the Company were seated and partook of a chowder, after which speeches, toasts, sentiments, &c., were given, until the sound of the bugle called the dancers to the Hall below, and they all "did dance till morning." Ladies, a happy new year to you all, and firemen for your beaux. The latch string of G. S. Engine Co. No. 1, is always out.

The Co. passed a vote of thanks to the surprising Ladies, and ordered its entry upon the records. SHAKESPEARE, JR.

☞ The People's Lyceum for 1859 was closed on Wednesday evening, by the Concert, as announced. The audience was one of the largest for the season, and the performances highly acceptable. Of the Hutchinsons' singing, and Mr. Johnson's playing, and the Course as a whole, we may have a word further to say to-morrow.

DELEGATES TO THE CONVENTION

At Exeter, on THURSDAY, Jan. 5th, will be accommodated with a Sleigh-Ride in the "IVANHOE," which will leave the Franklin House, Portsmouth, at 8 o'clock, A. M.,—at which time and place passengers will please assemble. Fare to Exeter and back, $1.

WM. O. SIDES.

☞ The second Lecture in the series at the Hanover Street Chapel, will be delivered on Friday evening, at 7 1-2 o'clock, by Rev. Dr. Peabody. Subject: Life of Antony, the founder of Monastic Institutions.

Tickets for the Course, 50 cents, to be had at the stores of S. F. Cobb and J. N. M. Hill. Tickets for Single Lectures, 15 cents, to be had at the Door. Doors open at 7; Lecture to commence at 7½.

☞ We have received a communication signed "Justice," in reply to that of Rev. J. Hall—but as we do not know any man named Justice, we decline to publish it.

☞ Mr. J. H. Foster advertises fine copies of Peale's "Court of Death." A rare chance to procure a work of merit. See his advertisement, and a specimen at his store.

☞ That famous McAdams Calendar is only 12 cents, after all. Too cheap, altogether; a man will have to buy two, to pay a fair equivalent for one.

☞ The Newburyport Herald says:

The snow ordinance, which has very generally been respected and given us clearer sidewalks than ever before, meets with some resistance, and several persons will be before the Police Court, we are told, to answer for its violation.

☞ The Republican State Convention met at Concord on Tuesday.

Hon. Larkin D. Mason of Tamworth was appointed temporary Chairman. Hon. Frederick Smyth was chosen President.

On motion of Mr. Mann of Bath, His Excellency Ichabod Goodwin was nominated for the office of Governor by acclamation.

Jeremiah B. Titon of Sanbornton was nominated for Railroad Commissioner.

The Atlas reports about 500 delegates present.

The delegates to the National Convention will probably be chosen during the month of June.

Speeches were made by Messrs. Mason, Smyth and Hale,—and a series of Union, Republican, and anti-slavery resolutions were unanimously adopted.

They re-affirm the Philadelphia platform of 1856; affirm that the Constitution of the United States cannot extend slavery; that Congress should protect the territories against it; that true popular sovereignty is within the limits of constitution, law and morality—but denounce the modern counterfeit.

They condemn the Taney dicta on Dred Scott, and denounce Mr. Buchanan's interpretation of it, as a departure from the policy of those who founded this republic.

They complain of the aggressions of the slave power, in the Kansas Lecompton business, in the effort to re-open the slave trade, and in threats to "rend the union," if a republican president be chosen.

They express their confidence in the Republican party, and their approval of Gov. Goodwin's administration; and resolve to elect him by an increased and triumphant majority.

☞ It appears from the Portland and Boston papers that the State Treasurer, B. D. Peck, was concerned in some great speculations in Canada lumber inland, and was connected in them, with the cashier of the Norombega Bank. Peck used the State's money, and has failed, his bondsmen taking the blow from the State. The cashier has failed the bank. Peck was formerly a Freewill Baptist minister, and was for several years editor of the Temperance Journal, published at Portland, and became Treasurer of the State in 1856. His fall is a bad one.

☞ The Century tells us that "Cow Bay" has departed; that Tophet of New York, the last station on the road to ruin, has been demolished, and the place that knows it now shall know it no more henceforth forever. This headquarters of vice and misery is to be converted into a play-ground for the children of the House of Industry. Benevolence, like Nature, thus produces out of loathsomeness and corruption new forms of beauty and worth.

SENTENCED TO BE HUNG.—Burlington, N. J., Jan. 3.—Phillips Lynch, the man who murdered Coulton at Bordentown, about three months ago, has been tried and found guilty, and was to-day sentedced to be hanged at Mount Holly on the 23d of March.

NEWBURYPORT.—The Herald says that a party of enterprising men have made arrangements to build a steam tow-boat to run between that place and Haverhill.

FIRE.—New York, Jan. 3.—A tenement house on Division street, was burnt early in this morning. It contained seven families. Six persons were burnt to death, all of whom were Jews.

ICE.—Baltimore, Jan. 3.—The harbor is almost entirely closed, and steamers arrived with great difficulty. The weather is cold, and snow is imminent.

A contemporary has had the unpatriotic temerity to say that the American Union will last longer than slavery. He is a dangerous fellow, and such "irrepressible conflict" ideas should not be tolerated.—Bath Times.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. THE EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASES.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease, both from its innocent nature and the astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country; while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration

Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858, the editor says:—

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. LAFORME, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.

BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAFORME, Esq.:

Dear Sir—I had been suffering for a considerable time from a severe cough, and had in vain had recourse to nearly all the remedies in use. My cough began to give me much uneasiness from its serious effects on my system, when three days' use of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ restored me to complete health. The medicine being new in this market, I had recourse to it last; but I can now confidently recommend it as the best medicine I know of. Yours, truly,

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1.00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAFORME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. BURR & CO., General Agents, No. 36 Tremont street, Museum Building, Boston, and for sale by all druggists. Circulars with testimonials of its efficacy can be had of the Agents novfly

This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for those complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Purge. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

"I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZA ANN CURRIER.

EXETER, March 8, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the Cough Drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every sufferer give them a fair trial and try it. Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of whooping cough, than from all other medicines put together

THE
ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gratefulness of the Trees are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefited by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years, and my hair was hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since it fouled the comb used to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to my gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend husbands who value the admiration of their wives to prove by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,

BENJ. F. TEFFT, Late Mayor N. Y.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Stamerton, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood, Sir: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair good. Since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A few months ago I was nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever, at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like. By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile' Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1861, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be a very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty-five cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 60 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

STOVE STORE REMOVED.

URIAH BLAISDELL

Has removed his Stove and Furnishing Establishment one door north, to the spacious and convenient store

Nos. 43 & 45 Market Street,

where he is receiving and arranging a large and valuable Stock of

STOVES, TIN WARE, &c.,

Which he offers for sale at wholesale and retail, at very low prices. He has a great variety of the best and most popular Stoves, among which are:

1. The Stewart Cook Stove, with the latest improvements. This is an air-tight Cook Stove, for Wood or Coal; it has moveable covers, which can confine the heat in the stove, or let it out into the room; has a receiver of hot water 10 or 20 gallons, and a tin closet beneath;—a top stove, which is a great institution for baking, and will keep a coal fire all night. Like a Dutch Oven for roasting in front of the Stove;—and it is every way a most convenient and durable Stove. There are 4 sizes.

The following recommendation of Stewart's Stove, is from an eminent engineer, and must be satisfactory to all who wish to understand the value of this excellent Stove:

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 5, 1859.

Mr. Blaisdell:—Seven years ago I moved to this city, and sold, on leaving, I came, a "Stewart's Air Tight Cooking Stove," which I have used about five years. During that time no repairs or expense has been made upon it. Since I have been here I have tried all the various Cooking Stoves in use, and I think for economy and durability the "Stewart" excels them all. I wish you would take away the Stove I now have from my house, and set up one of Stewart's as soon as you can. Your ob't servant,

B. F. CHANDLER.

2. Boston & Maine Cook Stove;
3. White Mountain;
4. Empire State;
5. Enterprise;
6. Exchange;
7. Dining Room Cook Stoves, and others.

PARLOR STOVES.

SEAVEY'S COAL AND GAS BURNER, superseding everything else of the kind, as a parlor Coal Stove.

THE MAGEE COAL STOVE, highly recommended and esteemed by many.

CAST IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens.

SHEET IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens, of a variety of patterns.

OFFICE AND COUNTING ROOM STOVES.

BOX STOVES, for Schools, Halls and Churches

FARMER'S BOILERS, from 15 to 46 gallons each.

Also, FUNNEL, KITCHEN FURNITURE, TIN WARE AND FARMING TOOLS.

All these, and many other articles, too numerous to mention, will be sold at great bargains.

Funnel made, and Stoves and Funnel put up to order, in the best manner.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical professions, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort, conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of phlebology to the more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are depressed or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated children are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with the decided success, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofula, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated children are immediately benefitted by its use. STOVES AND FURNACES

FRANK JONES,

61 MARKET ST., PORTSMOUTH,

Having received a part of his Winter Stock of

SUPERIOR COOKING STOVES,

would invite the attention of those about purchasing, to the largest and best selected stock of COOKING STOVES, of the most approved patterns and valuable kinds to be found in this market; among which may be found

THE CLIPPER, BOSTON & MAINE,
EMPIRE STATE, WHITE MOUNTAIN,
REPUBLIC, BANNER, &c.,

with many others, for wood or coal, which will be sold at such prices as shall defy competition.

The Combination Stove and Range.

One of the greatest inventions of the age, for Cooking purposes,—made expressly for large families, boarding houses, hotels, &c.; or wherever a great amount of Cooking is required in the shortest possible time, it having 3 large ovens, 6 boiler holes and separate apartments for baking, broiling, frying or roasting, requiring no more fuel than any ordinary Cooking Stove. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction in every particular in point of economy, convenience, or ease of management; as we believe it to be far ahead of anything of the kind yet introduced into this market. We therefore ask an examination of the "Combination Stove & Range," feeling confident that it supersedes all others for which it is intended, and will be sold at a very low price.

THE MAGEE.

The Calebrated Magee Patent

Ventilating Parlor Stove,

All sizes—acknowledged by every one to be the

BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.

The fire can be kept through the entire season without once going out, giving the greatest amount of heat from the least fuel of any other Stove known.

The heat can be regulated to the mildest as well as the coldest weather, and at the same time perfectly ventilating the apartment in which they are used. We have sold hundreds of them the past year, and have testimonials of the highest order, acknowledging their superiority over every other Stove yet invented. To every one in search of the best Stove that can be found, we would say,

"Try the Magee."

of the most approved kinds.

STORE, OFFICE & SHIP STOVES;

BOX AND CYLINDER do.

SHEET IRON STOVES, with and without ovens.

Parlor Cook Stoves.

New patterns this season—for wood or coal,—warranted to be the best in the market, and will be sold at such prices as will convince every one that this is the place to buy cheap.

THE MAGEE FURNACES,

7 Sizes—Brick and Portable.

These Furnaces work on the same principle as the Magee Stoves. They are simple and easily operated, requiring only about half the coal of any other Furnace—will keep fire the whole season, and are not liable to get out of order.

We would invite the attention of those interested to an examination of the MAGEE FURNACE, and at the same time refer them to a number of places in this city where we have erected them the past year; and in every instance have given perfect satisfaction.

REPAIRING PEICES,

For most kinds of Cooking Stoves used in this market. Also,

Coal Fixtures and Fire Brick.

HARD WARE AND CASTINGS generally

TIN, SHEET IRON & COPPER WARE, manufactured to order.

☞ Prices as low as at any other establishment in this vicinity, and satisfaction guaranted in all cases.

PORTSMOUTH, N. H.

DR. J. B. HUGHES,

Knowing that there are at this moment thousands of persons in the surrounding towns, surrendering their lives to the insidious inroads of certain dangerous maladies, who still suffer from the reluctance to make known their complaints, and consult a physician, he would state that any of his medicines will be sent by express or otherwise, to all who may order them, provided the true description of the disease be sent by letter and directed as above.

Full and explicit directions will accompany every package, and the most inviolable secrecy preserved.

DR. HUGHES can with safety say during the last year of his practice in Boston, more than three hundred cases of disease which have been improperly treated by empyrics have come under his care, and more than three-fourths of this number are inscribed upon his books as perfect cures.

Patients treated by letter by addressing Dr. Hughes, post paid, and medicines sent all over the country, carefully concealed from scrutinizing friends.

Be particular in finding Dr. Hughes. Do not be lured from the right path, or be persuaded to try experiments with false and fictitious remedies at the expense of destroying what is the great pillar of life, a healthy constitution.

This medicine can only be obtained at the Office of Dr. HUGHES, 19 Howard street, Boston.

DR. J. B. HUGHES UNIVERSAL FEMALE RENOVATING PILLS. These pills are unrivalled in efficacy and superior virtue in regulating all female irregularities. Their action is specific and certain, producing relief in a short space of time. They are acknowledged to be the best in use.

The Dr. cautions the public to beware of impositions that are being practiced by advertising a spurious article under some spurious or fictitious name. They are entirely useless, having been got up by miserable pretenders who are entirely ignorant of the efficacy of medicines.

All who are in pursuit of the genuine article, had better call on the Dr. at his office, where they will be sure of getting the genuine—the only place in Boston where the genuine is for sale.

These pills can be sent to any part of the country with directions. Remember the number—19 Howard street, Boston.

P. S.—The best of accommodations furnished, with kind and attentive nurses if they wish, at a reasonable rate. jl dly is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or viscous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and other internal organs, is termed tubercle; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. It is this corruption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, all of the organs, arise from, or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded, by this hereditary infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so common and so dangerous are the dangers of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from suffering and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of this kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the diseases of the dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

MRS. WINSLOW,
An experienced Nurse and Female Physician,
presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,
For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for seven years, and one say, we speak what we know and truth, of it, that we have never been able to say of any other medicine, — NEVER DID WE SEE A FAILED IN ONE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by those who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of the highest encomiums of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, what we do know, after ten years experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfillment of what we utter. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after this syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used with never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but it invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and surest REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We speak in this matter, and to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—we do not let your sympathies be awakened unnecessarily, but we tell you, if your child is suffering between yourself and your child and the relief that will be ABSOLUTELY SURE, if you follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by all Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York.

GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC,

Price only 25 cents per bottle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JAN. 6, 1860.

☞ There is some grumbling in the papers, as if some political party was to blame for not organizing the House of Representatives by choosing a Speaker: but Uncle Toby sees no call for a growl over that bone.

He has been disposed to laugh at the invitation in the House, by a man whose party cannot muster more than two dozen votes, for the republicans who have over a hundred, to come over on national grounds, and to vote for his candidate.

But when we consider that nearly but not quite one-half the members are republicans; that an American party (South) musters a score or so; the same party (North) a few more: and that there are at least three democratic parties besides; and that nearly all these latter parties fear one another, it is not a strange thing that no choice has yet been made. Every body would be glad of a choice, but every one wishes to make his own.

Meantime, the hammering of the slave power against Helper's book, and against Republicans for endorsing it, has doubtless kept the vote for Sherman more solid and compact than it would otherwise have been.

The New York Times tries to whip away the votes from Sherman, on the ground that in the present excited state of the South the Republicans should vote for somebody else—and sundry other whips are flourished in Congress. But it is rather best for all to keep cool—except perhaps the poor mail contractors who are likely to fail. And they may thank the slave power, which in the last Congress tacked on the high postage to the Post Office appropriation. This was properly resisted—and here we are.

ENGINES.—Every person who was present at the Beekman street fire, in New York, was convinced of the superiority of the steam fire engines to the hand machines. Even those firemen who have from a natural and pardonable prejudice, opposed the introduction of steam into the department, were on that occasion loud in their praises of the stout and steady working "Niagara," and the lively little "Manhattan." When every hand engine was clogged with ice, and the firemen were so stiff with cold that that they could hardly clasp their fingers on the brakes, the steam apparatus worked without cessation and with undiminished power. Although every engine on the 7th and 8th districts was on the ground, it is not too much to say that the "Niagara" and "Manhattan" did as much useful work as all of them put together.

☞ The Skaneateles Democrat gives the first chapter in "a story of real life," by saying that Miss Harriet E. Smith, daughter of Mr. Horace Smith, of Spafford, Onondaga Co., N. Y., will soon start for Washington Territory, away in the Northwest, beyond the Rocky Mountains, to marry a man she has never seen—Mr. D. Spalding, Jr., son of David Spalding, of Spafford. The friends of the parties are intimate, and a correspondence between them has continued for two years, and has resulted in a marriage contract. The young gentleman, being engaged in a profitable business, which he cannot conveniently leave, has remitted funds to the lady, with a request for her to join him there.

☞ The Illinois Democratic State Convention met at Springfield, Ill., on Wednesday. Delegations to the Charleston Convention were elected. Resolutions were adopted ratifying the Cincinnati platform; repudiating such new tests as the revival of the slave trade, or a Congressional slave code for the territories; denying that slavery derives its validity from the Constitution of the United States; declaring the position of the Democracy of Illinois to be that of Mr. Buchanan in his letter of acceptance; denying the interpretation to the Dred decision that it denies the right of the people to regulate the slavery question to suit themselves; and declaring their determination to abide by the decision of the Charleston Convention. The delegates were instructed to use all honorable means to secure the nomination of Hon. Stephen A. Douglas for the Presidency.

☞ The Washington correspondent of the N. Y. Evening Post misleratds that Mr. Corwin has fixed upon a time when he will desert Sherman. Meeting one of his friends the other day he said:—

"Well, ——, I have concluded upon a time when I shall stop voting for Sherman; in short, when I will abandon him and try somebody else." "Indeed!" replied his colleague, a little alarmed, "when is your time?" Corwin looked very grave and solemn as he replied, in a low tone of voice, "When old Gabriel blows his last trump!"

Polygamy has no place in the President's Message, Mr. Buchanan saying nothing of the land of many wives, for the reclamation of which he has expended so much money. Perhaps a reference to it is included in that part of the Message which says that the Territorial slave question has been definitely settled, polygamy being one of the many forms of slavery.—Traveller.

UTAH.—The President does not mention Utah nor Brigham Young in his message; but the Secretary of War, in his report, recommends the withdrawal of the troops from Utah, on the score that they are of no account in the suppression of the Mormon outrages. He says:

The army in Utah is inactive, and stands in the attitude of a menacing force towards a conquered and sullen people. That territory is governed practically by a system which is in total disregard of the laws or the Constitution of the land. The laws of the Mormon Church are alone potential; and the people, beyond a mere show of acquiescence in federal authority, are as irresponsible to it as any foreign nation. The preservation of right and justice, through the means of any jurisprudence known or recognized by the United States, is impossible there. Murders have been perpetrated in the territory upon emigrants journeying towards the Pacific, which it is the general impression are the work of the Mormon people themselves, sanctioned if not directed by the church.

There is, in the present attitude of affairs, scarcely any necessity for the presence of troops in Utah, and they will be otherwise disposed of in the coming season.

The recommendation of Secretary Floyd is equivalent to a total relinquishment of all control over the affairs of Utah. He says that anarchy and misrule abound, and that there is a total disregard of law, and that the Mormons make a mere show of acquiescence in federal authority, and immediately observes that "they [the troops] will be otherwise disposed of the coming season."—Is it not time that a more vigorous administration were at the head of our government to regulate affairs in Utah?

☞ The Cincinnati Commercial of the 31st ult. gives the names of thirty-six free-soilers who have been expelled from the State of Kentucky by a Vigilance Committee. More than half of them are natives of the South, and several of them were born on the soil of Kentucky. There is one clergyman with his family, who was the Principal of a flourishing school; another man was the owner of a saw-mill and five hundred acres of land; and all of them were industrious, respectable citizens, untainted with crime and unsuspected of any offense, more than believing that slavery is an evil that ought to be abolished. They appealed to the Governor of the State, but he advised them for the sake of peace to leave, and thought that upon second sober thought the people would allow them to return.

This is freedom of white men in a State where negro slavery makes the statutes, and either executes or breaks them at pleasure. So true it is, that the conflict between slavery and freedom is irrepressible.

WHAT A GREAT CITY EATS.—The Philadelphia Ledger says the beef cattle, sheep, hogs and cows sold in the droveyards of that city in 1859, were—beeves, 87,555; sheep, 272,168; hogs, 115,226;—cows, 11,153; making a total of 486,102.—This does not include those butchered and brought in by the farmers, which will swell the number to 600,000, which would be about one animal to each person in the city. "When," says the Ledger, "we add to this tons of poultry, fish, game, &c., annually disposed of to our citizens, some little idea may be formed of the immense amount of flesh required to satisfy the appetites of the inhabitants of a large city."

☞ Under the telegraphic head, Jan. 3, was reported the loss of six persons in New York. The building took fire from a fluid lamp, and the people residing in the chambers, having no means of escape, two men and four children perished. A man called Mark Matthewson, who resided in the building, lost his life, also two of his children. He had saved his wife and two of his children and was returning for the rest when he was overcome by the smoke. A child named Burns, about five years old, was burnt; also another, a man whose name could not be ascertained, and a little girl about two years of age.

STEAM FIRE ENGINES.—On Monday, twelve mayors in Massachusetts addressed messages to their several city governments, and nearly every one—every one that said anything about it—recommended the adoption of Steam Engines. Mayor Lincoln of Boston said, "But a short time will elapse, I trust, before we shall have an entire steam Fire Department, and dispense with hand engines altogether." Mayor Dana of Charlestown, recommended that city to purchase one at an early day. Like language was used by most of the other mayors.

☞ The Bath Times truly says that to a starving man there is a great deal of gospel in a plate of pork and cabbage: and a pot of baked beans will produce more conviction than forty sermons, upon the person suffering the pangs of hunger. To make a successful missionary among the poor, he should compound his christian messages with roast beef, baked puddings and boiled vegetables. There is very little religion in "cold victuals" to a person who sniffs the savory perfume of a well regulated kitchen while waiting and shivering at the back door.

The Miser's Sum of Happiness.—Addition.

☞ The N. Y. correspondent of the Washington States says:—

"Among the small gossips of the day is mentioned the return of a lady who recently eloped from her husband and children in Brooklyn. It is said the steamer which took Mrs. Adams and her paramour, Myers, to Europe, had not got far beyond Sandy Hook before the lady bitterly repented of her folly, and a terrible reaction commenced. A little cool reflection, a few qualms of conscience and sea-sickness operating together, and the rosy romance suddenly changed into the most intolerable reality of suffering and shame. But alas! they return no more to the domestic Eden they abandoned; and society will forever bar its gates, at least, to the erring woman.

☞ Wm. S. Demott, a merchant of Indiana, was traveling in Kentucky, last week. When he reached Harodsburg, he was suspected of being a negro stealer, and was told that he must leave at once or submit to a coat of tar and feathers. His reply was, that he was not a negro stealer, and that he would not leave until he got ready; and he gave the gentlemen notice that they would find it dangerous work to lay a violent hand upon him. Finding him a man not to be frightened, they got out a warrant for him, and put him in jail. He employed J. F. Bell, opposition candidate for governor last fall, as his counsel. Nothing being proved against him, he was released, and left when he got through with his business.

☞ It is a part of the gossip of New York letter-writers that Benjamin and Fernando Wood of New York, are partners of Col. Fremont in his gold mining operations in California, having advanced from $50,000 to $70,000 to Mr. Fremont in a moment of need to help him out of his troubles. The mines are now yielding a profit of about $1000 a day.

☞ A baronet of England, named Curtis, lately deceased, made a request in his will that his coffin should not be finally closed until the expiration of eight days after death, as he had a fear of being buried alive, which, in his opinion, had often occurred.

☞ Mrs. Alice Lyon, who was burned to death in Newark, on Monday last week, had got out of her room, with her children, but returned to get some gold, which she had saved up for the purpose of purchasing a sewing machine.

☞ The Governors of the several States of the Union, including the Governor elect of Kansas, are sixteen Democrats, sixteen Republicans, and two, in Texas and Maryland, Americans. The Democratic governors are in thirteen slaveholding States, and three free States. The sixteen Republicans are of course all in the free States.

MAINE LEGISLATURE.—In the Senate, Thos. H. Marshall was elected President, Jas. M. Lincoln, Secretary; and J. U. Hall, Assistant Clerk. In the House, Frederick A. Pike was chosen Speaker, Chas. A. Miller Clerk, and Franklin M. Drew Assistant Clerk.

☞ Hon. E. H. Gardiner, of Gardiner, Me., has kept an exact account of the amount of snow which fell in that city in the month of December, and found it to be four feet four inches on a level.

☞ Rev. Horace Eaton, Missionary Agent of the New Hampshire Baptist Convention, has removed from Dunbarton to New London, N. H.

CITY COUNCIL, JAN. 5.

Both Boards of the new City Council met on Thursday evening. The appointments of the usual committees in each body were announced.

In Convention, on ballot for City Messenger,—of 27 votes, Charles Walker had 1, Thomas Clapham 2, Joseph Walker 24 and was re-elected.

The following Resolution was first introduced in the Board of Aldermen; and referred to the Committee on Streets, in both Boards.

Resolved, that a systematic plan for the future repairs of the streets of Portsmouth, be immediately entered upon; and for this purpose, that there be employed, as soon as practicable, an experienced and scientific engineer, who shall make a thorough Survey of all the Streets. And further, that the said engineer be required to make a Map of all the Streets, with a separate profile of each, with the grades accurately marked at short intervals.

A resolution to inquire into the expediency of revising and printing the City Ordinances, was passed.

An amendment to the Snow Ordinance, ordering ashes, sand or salt to be spread on all ice on sidewalks—and to publish the same in one or more of the city journals,—was passed in the Common Council.

☞ The Hutchinsons' Concert, at the Lyceum, Wednesday evening, was more like the original concerts of the "Family" than anything we have had since. Asa is as good as ever—and that is pretty good—at any rate has delighted hundreds of thousands of hearers; Lizzie, his wife, has improved since last year, and is a very pleasant vocalist; and Freddy, their little boy, not yet eight years old, is a wonder. He sings with surprising power, and fills in the trio finely. One great charm, always, with the Hutchinsons,—perhaps their greatest—was the distinctness of rendering their words; and here this new club is fully up to the mark—which can be said of very few single performers even.

Their programme was varied, as usual; and, also as usual, contained considerable anti-slavery sentiment, in one form and another—or it would not have seemed to be a Hutchinson concert. The song reporting "John Brown of Ossawatomie," as "gone to the promised land," with good old Jacob, Elijah, and other characters of whom history makes honorable mention, but some of whom did not receive such universal veneration while they lived—this reference to John Brown, as also did Topsy's song previous, proved there were several geese in the audience; and one or two persons stalked out. Asa smilingly remarked that he had heard hisses before, and requested that "the friends wouldn't hiss,—unless they wanted to!" Nineteen-twentieths of the large audience, however, enthusiastically applauded the sentiment, that Old John Brown had "gone to the promised land," that it was sometime before the singers could proceed. Now we go in for free speech, always and everywhere; and claim and would give the right to hiss, as well as applaud—though we can't see why anybody should object to the old Virginia martyr or traitor being in a place where they don't hang or burn people.

Mr. Johnson played finely on the piano; and by their request, accompanied the singers in two or three of their pieces, with good effect. He has a remarkably fine touch, and executes with much skill and good taste. The whole concert was received with evident satisfaction, by an assemblage much larger than that at any ticket entertainment this winter.

The troupe will probably give another concert in Portsmouth during the winter, and will not fail to have a hearing,—to judge from the looks of things on this occasion.

☞ In our list of deaths, we chronicle the decease of Capt. George Melcher—the oldest man save one in Portsmouth: Mr. Daniel Fernald, who is 93, we believe.—Mr. Melcher was 90 years old, and his wife, who survives him, is 87; they were married Oct. 4th, 1791, and had thus lived together for more than sixty-eight years, and in the same house for sixty-three.

☞ The second Lecture in the series at the Hanover Street Chapel, will be delivered this (Friday) evening, at 7 1-2 o'clock, by Rev. Dr. Peabody. Subject: Life of Antony, the founder of Monastic Institutions.

Tickets for the Course, 50 cents, to be had at the stores of S. F. Cobb and J. N. M. Hill. Tickets for Single Lectures, 15 cents, to be had at the Door. Doors open at 7; Lecture to commence at 7½.

☞ Our list of the seven Mayors of Portsmouth, was all correct, saving that Mr. Greenleaf was the first, and Mr. Laighton second. Six were natives of New Hampshire, and three were born in Portsmouth.

☞ Our new Custom House and Post Office building is completed, but not supplied with furniture; and so we shall probably be obliged to get along with the old box on Daniel street till another spring at least.

GOVERNOR'S HORSE GUARDS.—The first annual meeting of this corporation is to be holden at the City Hall, in Concord, on Wednesday, Jan 11, at 11 o'clock A. M., at which time all the officers of the Corps, military and civil are to be chosen.

Special Notices.

Diseases of Old Age.

As man approaches his allotted three score and ten years the vital powers begin to fail; stimulants of various kinds are used to strengthen the naturally failing system, such as wines, bark, &c. Instead of these, let the aged keep up the supply of the true strengthening element, iron, by the PERUVIAN SYRUP, which offers a protoxide of that metal ready for immediate absorption.

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS." The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the pre-ordained student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "BITTERS," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

J. T. MOREHEAD, U. S. Senator, and formerly Governor of Kentucky
L. H. ARNOLD, formerly Governor of R. I.
WM. WOODBRIDGE, late Governor of Michigan

This success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possess extraordinary properties for the speedy permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASES.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease, both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country, while the best and surest proofs of its merit are furnished by the numerous testimonials of its efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we here insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, I have proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It gives not another any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of vegetable agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officially used in alleviating pulmonary disease, but the device by which they are combined is novel and original, and adapts the compound to its function, or other modes of administration.

Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 19, 1859.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, the editor says:—

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchitis, disease, and in every instance with great benefit. I do not know of any remedy equal to it for the purpose, a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to reject other medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 18

To Mr. F. LAPORME, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the SISTERS OF CHARITY."

BOSTON, March 10, 18

J. F. LAPORME, Esq.:

Dear SIR—I had been suffering for a considerable length of time from a severe cough, and, having well recovered, nearly all the remedies in use. My cough began to give me much uneasiness from its serious effects on my system, and three days' use of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ enabled me to complete health. The medicine being in this market, I had recourse to it last; but I now confidently recommend it as the best article I know of. CHAS. H. FOSTER.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the ed says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ. The evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 130 Albany, in this city. It seems that for eighteen months Mr. Brigham was exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had at last to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum and of several remarkable cures effected by it, he was so desperate as to try it, and he concluded that it as a forlorn hope. The result has been happy—he has now entirely recovered, and engaged in his usual pursuits. It is well such meritorious cases as this that we take pleasure in giving before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAPORME, sole Agent for Boston. M. S. The Great English Remedy!

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female P

Prepared from a Prescription of
SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,

Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever. As a powerful and powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the Constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Hysteria, Hysterics, Headache, Whites, Nervousness of Spirits, and all the painful diseases attendant on a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on the Second page of Pamphlet are well observed.

To married Ladies it is peculiarly suited. They will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of agents.

N. B.—$1 and six postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 60 pills, by return mail.

☞ The Republican Conventions held in Exeter on Thursday were well attended and harmonious in action.—They made the following nominations:

For Register of Deeds, Alonzo J. Fogg of Northwood.

County Treasurer, Samuel A. Haley, Newmarket.

County Commissioner, Franklin Crombie, Auburn.

Councillor, Reed P. Clark, Londonderry.

☞ In Congress, Wednesday, Jan. 4, both houses had a debate on slavery, and on parties and men as affected by slavery.

In the House, Mr. Scott declined the further use of his name for Speaker.

Mr. Craig of N. C. nominated Mr. Davis of Ind.

Mr. English nominated Mr. McClernand.

Mr. Etheridge made a few humorous remarks and voted for Horace F. Clark, whom he characterized as an anti-Lecompton, Buchanan and Ishmaelitish Democrat.

The House voted for Speaker, with the following result:

Whole number of votes, 207; necessary for a choice, 104; Sherman had 101, McClernand 34, Gilmer 14, Vallandigham 12. Remainder scattering.

The House then adjourned.

So Mr. Davis, one of the new nominees, gets counted in among the scattering—and Sherman holds his own.

Sickles and Reynolds were the only absent members of the House who had not paired off. In a spirit of accommodation, Taylor was paired off with Sickles. The absence of Reynolds without any pair accounts for the change in the relative vote for Sherman, who lacked three votes of an election.

☞ In the article of "D. J. A." yesterday, on Morals and Bread, the following parenthesis was inserted as a paragraph after speaking of "brown bread"—which thus was rather more severe on that article than was intended even. We reprint below correctly. Speaking of Milk, our correspondsays:

Not to speak of what I believe to be a perversion of this rich article by the manufacture of butter and cheese,—(the only substantial plea that I have ever been able to discover, is like that of certain farmers who lived in an inland section of the country, and who, because they had no accessible market for their corn, converted the same into whisky, which became a prolific source of drunkenness.)—I would simply state that I do not believe the pure article can be furnished for the present prices without loss, and that it will bear, in comparison with other things, a price ranging at least 10 to 12 cts. per quart.

BANGOR, Jan. 4.—It has been ascertained by the Receivers, on application to the engravers, that their is no fraudulent over issue of the bills of the Norombega Bank.—The circulation is about $75,000. Benjamin D. Peck, State Treasurer, was arrested yesterday apon a civil suit by the Receivers, and lodged in jail, on a charge of conspiring with the cashier to embezzle the funds of the bank. The amount taken from the bank was about $30,000, for part of which the cashier had security on the mill property in Canada. The amount of the State money used by Peck is not fully known. Supposed to be $60,000 or $70,000.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 4.—The delegate from Utah will, after the organization of the House, present the application of that Territory for admission into the Union.—They adopted a Constitution several years ago. He represents that Utah has a population of 100,000, and that if the Mormons were allowed to elect their own officers, they would be almost as well satisfied with a Territorial as a State organization, and probably be willing to pay the expense of their government besides.

☞ The London correspondent of the New York Herald writes that the government of Great Britain has appropriated £200,000, about a million of dollars, to keep up the slavery agitation in the United States. Fudge!

☞ Speaking of Treasurer Peck and his defalcation, the Bath, Me., Times says:—

We have always feared the "Elder" would come to a bad end after he endorsed Shanghae Burnham's "extended" liquors.

☞ Mrs. Lawson, of Buffalo, while returning from a visit to her husband at the Hospital, wrapped her child so closely in her shawl that it died.

Wendell Philips, in his speech the other night at the John Brown sympathy meeting in New York, said:—"My good friends, if you should ever see the town's poor separating from the town, the next act will be South Carolina going out of the Union."

☞ Rev. J. W. Searll has closed his labors with the Baptist church in Richmond, N. H., and has accepted a call from the Baptist church in West Swanzey, N. H.

☞ The first railway locomotive ever constructed in California has just been completed, at one of the San Francisco iron foundries.

☞ Mr. Cohen places the population of Philadelphia at 680,000, at this time, which Col. Forney's Press says, is probably greater than that of New York.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, 65 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE
GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY
Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.
Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.
If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The caring efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion. Spikenard and Bonset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a vitiated cough to procure the medicine, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 2, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. REV. EDWIN BURKHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most valuable remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted." CANAAN, Aug 29, 1842. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

THOMAS CURRIER,

THE
ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of THE O. J. WOOD'S Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circulars for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeables increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on me to any extent. To the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,
BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Saunders, Ky., April 28th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," have the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get some patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, while for two dollars per bottle, the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

STOVE STORE REMOVED.

URIAH BLAISDELL

Has removed his Stove and Furnishing Establishment one door north, to the spacious and convenient store

Nos. 43 & 45 Market Street,

where he is receiving and arranging a large and valuable Stock of

STOVES, TIN WARE, &c.,

Which he offers for sale at wholesale and retail, at very low prices. He has a great variety of the best and most popular Stoves, among which are:

1. The Stewart Cook Stove, with the latest improvements. This is an air-tight Cook Stove, for Wood or Coal; it has moveable coverings, which can confine the heat in the stove, or let it out into the kitchen, at will; it will boil water 10 or 20 gallons, and a tin closet beneath;—a top cover, which is a great institution for baking, and will keep a coal fire all night; it has a Dutch Oven for roasting in front of the Stove;—and it is every way a most convenient and durable Stove. There are 4 sizes.

The following recommendation of Stewart's Stove, is from an eminent engineer, and must be satisfactory to all who wish to understand the value of this excellent Stove:

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 5, 1859.

Mr. Blaisdell:—Seven years ago I moved to this city, and sold, before I came, a "Stewart's Air Tight Cooking Stove," to which I had used about five years. During that time no repairs or expense had been made upon it. Since I have been here I have tried the various Cooking Stoves in use, and I think for economy and durability the "Stewart" excels them all. I wish you would take away the Stove I now have from my house, and set up one of Stewart's as soon as you can. Your ob't servant,
B. F. CHANDLER.

2. Boston & Maine Cook Stove;
3. White Mountain;
4. Empire State;
5. Enterprise;
6. Exchange;
7. Dining Room Cook Stoves, and others.

PARLOR STOVES.

SEAVEY'S COAL AND GAS BURNER, supersedling everything else of the kind, as a parlor Coal Stove.

THE MAGEE COAL STOVE, highly recommended and esteemed by many.

CAST IRON PARLOR STOVES', with and without ovens.

SHEET IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens, of a variety of patterns.

OFFICE AND COUNTING ROOM STOVES.

BOX STOVES, for Schools, Halls and Churches

FARMER'S BOILERS, from 15 to 45 gallons each.

Also, FUNNEL, KITCHEN FURNITURE, TIN WARE AND FARMING TOOLS.

All those, and many other articles, too numerous to mention, will be sold at great bargains.

Funnel made, and Stoves and Funnel put up to order, in the best manner.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Brunson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort, conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of phlebology to the more advanced science, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Brunson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were cured by using it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are depressed or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weakness, the sufferer, after trying other remidies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefited by its use. It gives strength to the limbs, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

For full directions, see circulars. Price $1 per bottle.

STOVES AND FURNACES

FRANK JONES,

61 MARKET ST., PORTSMOUTH,

Having received a part of his Winter Stock of

SUPERIOR COOKING STOVES,

would invite the attention of those about purchasing, to the largest and best selected stock of COOKING STOVES, of the most approved patterns and valuable kinds to be found in this market; among which may be found

THE CLIPPER, BOSTON & MAINE,
EMPIRE STATE, WHITE MOUNTAIN,
REPUBLIC, BANNER, &c.,

with many others, for cash or wood, which will be sold at such prices as shall defy competition.

The Combination Stove and Range.

One of the greatest inventions of the age, for Cooking purposes,—made expressly for large families, boarding houses, hotels, &c.; or wherever a great amount of Cooking is required in the shortest possible time, it having 3 large ovens, 6 boiler holes and separate apartments for baking, broiling, frying or roasting, requiring no more fuel than any ordinary Cooking Stove. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction in every particular in point of economy, convenience, or ease of management; as we believe it to be far ahead of anything of the kind yet introduced into this market. We therefore ask an examination of the "Combination Stove & Range," feeling confident that it supersedes all others for which it is intended, and will be sold at a very low price.

THE MAGEE.

The Calebrated Magee Patent

Ventilating Parlor Stove,

All sizes—acknowledged by every one to be the

BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.

The fire can be kept through the entire season without once going out, giving the greatest amount of heat from the least fuel of any other Stove known.

The heat can be regulated to the mildest as well as the coldest weather, and at the same time perfectly ventilating the apartment in which they are used. We have sold hundreds of them the past year, and have testimonials of the highest order, acknowledging their superiority over every other Stove yet invented. To every one in search of the best Stove that can be found, we would say,

"Try the Magee."

of the most approved kinds.

STORE, OFFICE & SHIP STOVES;

BOX AND CYLINDER do.

SHEET IRON STOVES, with and without ovens.

Parlor Cook Stoves.

New patterns this season—for wood or coal,—

warranted to be the best in the market, and will be sold at such prices as will convince every one that this is the place to buy cheap.

THE MAGEE FURNACES,

7 Sizes—Brick and Portable.

These Furnaces work on the same principle as the Magee Stoves. They are simple and easily operated, requiring only about half the coal of any other Furnace—will keep fire the whole season, and are not liable to get out of order.

We would invite the attention of those interested to an examination of the MAGEE FURNACE, and at the same time refer them to a number of places in this city where we have erected them the past year; and in every instance have given perfect satisfaction.

REPAIRING PEICES,

For most kinds of Cooking Stoves used in this market. Also,

Coal Fixtures and Fire Brick.

HARD WARE AND CASTINGS generally

TIN, SHEET IRON & COPPER WARE, manufactured to order.

☞ Prices as low as at any other establishment in this vicinity, and satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

American and Foreign Patents,

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, DIRECT FROM OFFICE OF ISSUE.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the novelty or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but enjoys advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office can the fees be charged for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure to them all early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such uniformable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.
The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:
1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.

THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR
BICKFORD'S SPRING BALANCE,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.
It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.
It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.
It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.
It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.
It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children.
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or vicious matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by diseases which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same contamination.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our time can devise for the disease everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is compounded from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as
ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.
Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitality. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health and energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a diuretic Pill, and for Purifying the blood.
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even dispairing states of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many other remedies thru-t upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, confirmed by the benefits of its use, that never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

MRS. WINSLOW,
An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her
SOOTHING SYRUP,
For Children Teething.
Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is
SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.
Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and
RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.
We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what has never been said of any other medicine,—NEVER HAS IT FAILED IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who put it to trial. We speak advisedly and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak. in this matter, what we do know; after ten years experience, and staking our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and weakness, a single dose, in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.
This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used with never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.
It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve griping in the bowels, and wind colic, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and surest remedy in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—Do not let your sympathies, or the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—yes, ABSOLUTELY SURE to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the signature of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper to each bottle. Sold by all Druggists throughout the world.
Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York
Price only 25 cents per bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, JAN. 7, 1860.

☞ The pecuniary posture of the State of Maine is peculiar, now that Treasurer Peck is a peck of troubles. Pushing his projects beyond propriety, he plunged himself into peculation and poverty, and has become a public pauper and a private prisoner, having plundered the public purse to pay his personal pledges. It was a ponderous pocket when Brother Peck took charge of it—but he leaves it

"Light as a puff of empty air."

The Portland paper called the Argus, with unusual pungency and spiciness, peppers the subject profusely, pounces on poor Peck, pokes fun at the poor republicans for Peck's peccadilloes, and putting the thumb on the nose, points the fore finger perpendicularly in the air, signifying "I told you so; isn't this a pretty pickle?"

The bondsmen and the legislature, about this time, are probably committing to memory that ancient classic:

Peter Piper picked a peck of pickled peppers;
Where's the peck of pickled peppers Peter Piper picked?

And it is rather doubtful whether any of them can say it without stuttering.

☞ Rev. Wm. Clark is publishing a series of Letters on the Temperance Cause, in the Congregational Journal.

The letter in that paper of Jan. 5 contains some timely suggestions. From this letter we make the following extracts:

It is respectfully submitted to the friends of the cause, whether we must not again resort to the measures originally adopted; to "moral suasion;" to solicitation of pledges to entire abstinence from all intoxicating drinks? By this we do not intend to imply that the "Maine Law" is of no practical use. Not at all. It had at first, it has still, a silent moral influence, even where it is not judicially executed. It is known to be a law recorded on our statute books, and is, to some extent, "terror to evil doers."—All this is well, and we would have the prohibitory law remain in force, to be executed whenever it can be. In the present state of public sentiment, however, it cannot be relied upon, as a means sufficient in itself to render triumphant the Temperance cause. Past and present experience prove this. But let the law remain as it is, in readiness for effectual use when the sentiment of community can wield it advantageously for the suppression of the sale of poisonous drinks.

But how can public sentiment be may strong enough to give efficiency to the prohibitory law? Must not the original ground be gone over again? Must not the statistics of the manufacture and the sale of intoxicating liquors in our country be again collected and published by the press and pulpit, on the platform, in the school house, and the lecture room? Should not the number of known drunkards and "hard drinkers" in our cities and towns be ascertained and made known? Also the number of public houses, saloons, restaurants, and shops where inebriating drinks can be had. Must not the preacher and the laymen, the father, the mother, the guardian, the school teacher, the officer of college, the physician, the lawyer, the statesman, the judge, the magistrate, the editorial corps, all, in their respective positions, speak out on the momentous subject, and endeavor so to exhibit the evils of intemperance, as to stir the community to the lowest depth of feeling on the subject? Must not Temperance Societies again be organized in the family, the neighborhood, the town, the city, the county, the State, on the principle of entire abstinence from the use of all intoxicating drinks? Should not neighborhood, county and State Conventions be holden to confer on the subject and inquire what can be done? Must not our religious as well as secular newspapers, give larger place to it in their columns.—Should not more temperance sermons be preached? But the attempt must be made, and that soon, or intemperance will multiply its wretched victims by millions, open the flood-gates of immorality and crime, annihilate public conscience, and work out the moral, if not the political, ruin of our great nation.

LIABILITY OF HUSBANDS.—An interesting decision was made by Justice Sanford of Newark, N. J., last week in a civil suit. One man sued another for payment for the board of his wife for sixteen months at six dollars a month. The defendant set up that he had advertised his wife and given public notice that he would pay no debts of her contracting. The justice decided that while this might serve as a warning, it was no legal way of getting clear of the wife's liabilities—that the husband, in the eye of the law, was liable for the wife's debts so long as she continued such. Judgment was, accordingly given for the plaintiff to the full amount claimed.

☞ In Salem, during 1859, the deaths number 410; males 194, females 216.—That was 19 less than the year previous.—During the year 26 persons over 80 years old died, and six over 90. The oldest was John Collins, an Irishman, aged 96 years and 8 months.

☞ The Water Cure Journal for January, contains the first of a series of articles, on diseases of the throat and lungs, written by Dr. Trall,—to be continued through the year. It will interest a large class of readers. Published by Fowler & Wells.

"Never put off till to-morow what you can do to-day," said a mother to a child.—"Well, then, mamma, let us eat the cranberrry pie that is in the safe."

☞ In Congress, Thursday, Jan. 5, the Senate adjourned to Monday.

In the House, there was much debate, and two votings.

Mr. Wells wanted to know whether it was fair play for the Republicans to keep sealed lips while gentlemen on the other side seize the opportunity to discuss the principles of disunion, and enunciate doctrines which disturb the peace and prosperity of the common country. How was the House to be organized? Was any party here able to do so? Was any party in the majority. It was well known that no such party exists. In one of two ways only can an organization be effected. It was known that the Republicans had polled their vote, and the South Americans and Democrats cannot unite on any man.

They were as radically opposed to one another as they are jointly to the republicans. The House can be organized only by the withdrawal of gentlemen acting with Americans or Democrats, or by the adoption of the plurality rule.

John Cochrane said there was one gentleman on the Democratic side absent, owing to sickness, who had not paired off. He trusted gentlemen on the other side would see how proper it was to make a pair for that gentleman.

Cries from the Republican side—"No!"

Mr. Cochrane said the Republican side forced him to make a dilatory motion, and that was to adjourn.

The yeas and nays were demanded by the Democratic side and ordered.

The motion was disagreed to—76 yeas against 135 nays.

Mr. Barksdale nominated Mr. Vallandigham.

Whole no. votes 212; nec. to choice 107; Sherman 104; Vallandigham 69; Gilmer 7; H. F. Clark 4; Scat. 28.

The House again voted, Mr. Davis, of Miss., nominated Mr. Bocock.

Whole no. votes 211; nec. to choice 106; Sherman had 103; Bocock 56; Nelson 3; Davis of Ind. 6; scat 38.

Mr. Miles said it was perfectly obvious to every gentleman in the House that there is not the remotest probability of organizing for an indefinite time.

Voice from the Republican side—"We doubt that."

Debate sprung up between different sorts of democrats, and others. Particularly, Davis and Dunn of Indiana, passed some sharp words, coming very near giving the lie.

Finally, the extract from the synopsis of the speech of Mr. Davis was read, to the effect that it was given out in high quarters that the Constitution takes slavery into all the Territories, in violation of law, but that Presidential candidate who so maintains could not carry a single township in Indiana in 1860. If such doctrines are correct, the doctrine was advocated by Calhoun, and took him down the stream, etc.

In such debate, the day was spent.

☞ An impressions prevails, to some extent, that the present contest for Speaker of the House is longer and harder than any before. This is not so, however.

On the 2d day of February, 1856, the plurality rule was adopted in the House, to take effect on the third balloting, if no one got a majority before that. The plurality rule was adopted by a vote of 113 to 104—and on the final balloting Banks had 103, Aiken 100, Fuller 6, Campbell 4, Wells 1. and then, Mr. Aiken, of South Carolina, instead of dissolving the Union, asked the favor of conducting Mr. Banks to the chair. The election took place on the 132d voting—miscalled balloting, as they do not ballot at all, but vote viva voce.

Looking over the old debate, we see it is very like the new one, and much of it by the same men.

STATE OF UTAH.—The Washington letter writers say that the delegate from Utah will, after an organization of the House, present the application of that Territory for admission into the Union. They adopted a Constitution several years ago. The Newburyport Herald remarks:—

This application will not much profit the Mormons in the present state of parties. The Republicans will oppose their admission into the Union to a man, and so will many of the Democrats. Even the Douglas democrats do not carry their territorial independence far enough for the introduction of such a nest of enormities as a State. When we talk of the right of the people to form their own institutions, it is understood that we talk of civilized and christian people. There is a limitation to all principles and measurs.

FROM EUROPE.—By the steamship Bohemian, arrived at Portland, we have four days' later news from Europe. The Congress was to assemble on the 20th inst.—The cold in England and France was severe. The health of Jerome Bonaparte was improving. On the 15th ult. 15,000 Moors attacked the left redoubt of the Spaniards, but were driven back at the point of the bayonet with great loss. Several arrests of liberals have been made in Naples. The abdication of the Emperor of Austria is contradicted. The prospect of a conflict between the Hungarians and Austrians increases.

☞ A Washington dispatch announces that Senator Mason appeared in his seat on Wednesday, clad in Virginia homespun, while a Southern member of the other House sported a suit of "direct importation."

Mr Hoyt, the lawyer, was in New Bedford last Wednesday, at a John Brown meeting, just returned—according to his own account—from "the dregs of a Virginia despotism." He brought home "a renewed and utter abhorrence of slavery."

THE INDIANS.—The last relics of the Indian tribes of Massachusetts, few and feeble, still make their annual appearance before the people in the reports of their appointed guardians. The Natick tribe seems to have dwindled down to Patience Blodgett and Patty Jefferson and her family, living in East Douglas, for whom the guardian expended $77 last year, including $27 of the guardian's expenses. There are about 70 of the Troy Indians, of whom 50 live on their lands in Fall River. The amount expended for the support of their poor was $373. The Dudley tribe numbers 70, o whom only 13 live on their lands at Webster, for whose comfort the State expended $740 the last year, including the salary of their guardian. The expenditures for the Marshpee tribe of Indians were $2398, and for the Herring Pond tribe $1122.

PRO AND CON.—An old and valued subscriber, in a distant town in this State, writes as following,—while sending his annual subscription to the Weekly Chronicle.

"Our acquaintance with the Chronicle for a few years, has been very pleasant, and we trust profitable. We admire your independence of party power; your firmness against strong drink and also tobacco, and many other like evils. We think we will have it another year, though our expenses in other things may seem forbidding. We wish you success in well doing.

Yours ever, H. H."

And this demurrer also comes from the same pen:—

"In the Chronicle of December 3d, under head 'Amusements,' I find the following:

"'We have not even a respectable dancing hall, no respectable bowling alley; we have no theatrical amusements!'

"I wish to ask, what would render such places respectable? Yours for temperance in all things. See 1 Cor. 9:25. H. H."

The article referred to was written by a correspondent, and bore a signature; and part of our independence consists in letting writers express their own opinions in our columns. We certainly have neither time nor desire for a discussion of the subjects of dancing, billiards or the drama—but though we have no great love for either, we can conceive of all exerting a healthful influence only, physically and morally, if conducted as they should be and might be.

Another subscriber also sends us his regular annual subscription of $2—one dollar for his Weekly Chronicle for the year, and the other "for the cause."

A FATAL DOG FIGHT.—A butcher, named Charles Van den Winckel, residing at Ninove, in Belgium, went to Brussels, in consequence of a stupid bet, to fight with a large dog in that city. Winckel had before engaged in several combats of the kind, in which he had come off conqueror; but in this case a different fate awaited him. At the very commencement of the fight, the dog, rendered furious by the blows it received from its antagonist, made a spring, and seizing the man by the throat, laid him dead at his feet.

PEWS IN H. W. BEECHER'S CHURCH.—The regular annual sale of the pews in Rev. Henry Ward Beecher's church, in Brooklyn took place on Tuesday evening. The highest premium was $160, and the lowest 25 cents. The assessed value of the pews was set down at $12,050, being the same as last year. To this was added, for premiums upon pews, the sum of $16,690.25, the assessed value of the chairs $668, with premiums thereon $21.25, thus resulting in the net sum of $29,419.50, being about 40 per cent. increase on the amount realized last year.

OBEYING ORDERS.—The managers of the Grand Trunk Railway, desiring a large quantity of axes for use along the line of their road, and having no confidence in American mechanics, set one of their scientific men to make a pattern. The pattern was sent to England, with an order for 2500 axes. Upon receiving their axes, however, the scientific men found that not one ax out of the 2500 had a hole in it to receive the handle.

☞ The New Orleans Delta reports that Joseph Wheeler, who had been dead and dumb for about four years, recently ventured very near the mouth of a cannon, and when it was fired he was knocked down senseless by the concussion. On recovering, to the surprise of all, he spoke as fluently as anybody, and heard and answered all questions put to him, and is, up to this time, retailing language out in large doses.

☞ Daniel E. Sickles has published a letter, in which he announces that his seat is not contested, and cannot be; for the reason that the time has long since passed when by law he should have been notified of the design of Mr. Williamson to contest his seat. Mr. Williamson replies to the effect that as soon as the House is organized, the question will be brought before it.

☞ A Havana letter of Dec. 15 says that the slaver captain, Don Eugenio Vienas, had just completed his 84th successful voyage to Africa. He started with 1200 negroes, but 470 died on the passage. He paid the authorities over $100,000 in bribes, and then had $180,000 clear profits left, with which he intended to go on a pleasure trip to Spain.

That Kansas will not be admitted into the Union this session of Congress, is the opinion of many who thought differently two months ago. If the democrats had much hope of success, they would not be afraid of the three electoral votes that would be created by changing the Territory into a State. They are so perilously situated that they are afraid of even a child's shadow.—Traveller.

☞ In Canada on the first Sunday in January, many of the ministers in that Province preached a sermon upon temperance. We are glad to see that our Canadian brethren are coming up to their true position in this matter, and setting us in the States an example worthy of imitation.

☞ Parson Brownlow having visited New York and heard Ward Beecher preach, writes to his paper,

"I came to the conclusion that he was not a bad-hearted man: and crazy as he is on the subject of slavery, those of our friends in the South who are fortunate enough to get to heaven, need not be astonished to find Henry Ward Beecher there."

☞ The losses by fire in the United States last year amounted to $14,885,000, against $12,054,000 in 1858. This is exclusive of losses less than $10,000.

Diseases of Old Age.

As man approaches his allotted three score and ten years the vital powers begin to fail; stimulants of various kinds are used to strengthen the naturally failing system, such as wines, bark, &c. Instead of these, let the aged keep up the supply of the true strengthening element, iron, by the PERUVIAN SYRUP, which offers a protoxide of that metal ready for immediate absorption.

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted teller upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "BITTERS," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure the disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

Cosmopolitan Art Association.

From all sections of the country subscribers to this popular Art Institution, (now in its sixth year,) are being received in a ratio unparalleled with that of any previous year.

Any person can become a member by subscribing $3

WHICH WILL ENTITLE HIM TO

1st. The beautiful Steel Engraving, "Shakspeare and his Friends."

2d. A Copy of the elegantly Illustrated Art Journal, one year.

3d. A Free Season Admission to the Galleries, 548 Broadway, New York.

In addition to which, several hundred valuable works of Art are free to subscribers as Premiums, comprising choice Paintings, Sculptures, Outlines, &c., by the first American and Foreign Artists.

THE SUPERB ENGRAVING, which every subscriber will receive immediately on receipt of subscription, entitled

"Shakspeare and his Friends," is of a character to give unqualified pleasure and satisfaction. No work of equal value was ever placed within reach of the people at such a price. The Engraving is of very large size, being printed on heavy plate paper, 30 by 38 inches, making a most superb ornament suitable for the walls of either the library, parlor, or office.

It can be sent to any part of the country, by mail, with safety, being packed in a cylinder, postage pre-paid.

Think of it! Such a work, delivered free of charge, and the Art Journal, one year, for $3.

SUBSCRIPTIONS will be received until the Evening of Tuesday the 31st day of January, 1860, at which time the books will close and the Premiums be given to subscribers.

No person is restricted to a single subscription. Those remitting $15 are entitled to six membership.

☞ An agreeable sight for the pork-eaters, are the six handsome hogs from the Franklin House pens—which are to be cut up and packed at the store of Moulton & Blaisdell, for their retail trade. The weight of the lot is 2700 pounds—the largest 535; the lightest 360. The surplus pork from this hotel has been disposed of at this store for many years; but we doubt if from thence, or from any other one raiser about here, is so handsome a lot of hogs as this often slaughtered. If we are not mistaken respecting the steak off that big porker, we could safely stake a trifle that it can't be beat.

☞ A mammoth hog, raised by J. W. Moulton, Hampton, weighing 702 lbs. may be seen at G. V. Rowe's store.

☞ It will be seen by Mr. Lamprey's notice, that the dancers can have a good time in a nice clean hall over Jones & Mendum's new store on Market street, on Thursday evening next.

OFFICIAL RHETORIC.—Speaking of the fine writing contained in the various department reports, the New York Post remarks:—

Again there is Postmaster Holt's melodious peroration, which tells us how

"The Post Office Department, in its ceaseless labors, pervades every channel of commerce and every theatre of human enterprise; and while visiting, as it does, kindly, every fireside, mingles with the throbbings of almost every heart in the land. In the amplitude of its beneficence, it ministers to all climes, and creeds, and pursuits, with the same eager readiness and with equal fulness of fidelity. It is the delicate ear trump, through which alike nations, and families, and isolated individuals, whisper their joys and their sorrows, their convictions and their sympathies, to all who listen for their coming."

Very fine, indeed—we may say superfine; but it is scarcely as true as it is eloquent. While the Post Office Department puts it in the power of every ignorant, stupid or drunken Postmaster of Virginia to arrest the mails of the United States, 'the amplitude of its benificence' is not so clear. The delicate ear trumpet seems to be stopped at one end, and anybody who shouts freedom into it will be greatly mistaken if he supposes that the words will come out at the other end.

DIED OF JEALOUSY.—Elizabeth Douglas, wife of John Douglas, a tailor in Rochester, died on Thursday from a fit of jealousy. The testimony showed that the deceased was married to John Douglas in Ireland, nine years since, and that they had been living in this country several years.—That some months ago he became acquainted with Catharine Hart, a tailoress, and that he left his wife and went to live with her in Camden. Subsequently he returned to his wife, and they lived happily for a time. Five weeks ago he took rooms for himself and Catharine Hart in Quince st., where he visited, and where they were supposed to be man and wife. On Saturday night week, while at home with Miss Catharine Hart, Mrs. Douglas rushed in in a state of frenzy, and asked where her husband was, saying that she had seen him enter. In the confusion that ensued the light was extinguished, and some minutes elapsed before it could be relit. Mrs. Douglas then made towards her husband, and he was obliged to hold her to prevent her doing violence. In the meantime Catharine Hart left the room and did not return. While John Douglas was holding his wife she fell from his arms to the floor. Typhus fever followed, and she gradually sunk, dying on Thursday.—Rochester American.

SUDDEN DEATH.—An exchange states that on the 26th ult., Capt. William Thayer of Frankfort, was found dead in his berth on board the schooner Franklin Treat, of which he was master, and which was on her passage from Smyrna, Del., to Boston. On Sunday evening he was as well as usual; on retiring to his state room gave directions for running the vessel during the night.

HARBORS AND THE ICE.—The late cold term seems effectually to have barricaded most of the harbors along the coast. Beverly harbor was frozen as it never was before in December. The inner harbor of Salem was so solid that loaded teams passed from the wharves to Marblehead. Marblehead was frozen as low as the Fort. Boston was much obstructed, and so it was all along to Baltimore, where the ice extended to North Point an inch thick, and 46 vessels were frozen in.—N. P. Herald.

☞ The Bath Times says, it is becoming fashionable for ladies to practice horsemanship, but in winter time riding horseback is not a coveted exercise. It is a grand time, however, for them to practice on one very useful horse—the clothes-horse.

☞ The N. H. State Agricultural Society held its annual meeting last week at Manchester, and chose the following officers for the ensuing year:

President—Wm. F. Estes of Dover.
Secretary—Aaron Young of Dover.
Treasurer — Frederick Smyth of Manchester.
Directors — Dana Woodman of New Hampton, Joseph B. Walker of Concord, Alfred Hoitt of Durham, John Preston of New Ipswich, John S. Walker of Claremont.

☞ Bishop Newman, of the Catholic Church, fell dead in the street, in Philadelphia, on Thursday, of disease of the heart.

MYSTERIOUS DISAPPEARANCE. — The Portland Advertiser says:

We have to record the disappearance of a gentleman from Portland under circumstances of the most painful nature. It appears that Dr. Andrew J. Bailey, a practising physician of Naples, came to Portland on Thursday, the 22d of December, for the purpose of purchasing furniture for his house at Naples, and put up at the Caledonia House, on Green street. The next morning he completed his business and started his goods for home, and wrote to his brother that he was too unwell to return that day, having suffered that morning from an epleptic fit, to which he sometimes was subject. He was seen on Middle street about noon of that day; since which time no trace has been discovered of him. It is thought that he may have wandered off in a temporary aberration of mind, brought on by his illness, as he had, on previous occasions, exhibited mental wanderings after suffering from these attacks.

Some anxiety being felt for his welfare, his brother came to Portland in search of him on the Monday succeeding his disappearance, and found his horse, sleigh and overcoat at the Caledonia House, but was unable to trace him any farther. His aged father is now in Portland, hoping to obtain some light on the mystery, and offers $100 reward for any information that will lead to the discovery of his son.

Dr. Bailey has been practising in Naples for three or four years past; and has enjoyed the respect and confidence of the community to a great degree. He was engaged to an amiable young lady of that place, and had completed arrangements for his marriage, which was to have taken place on Christmas day.

THE SEWERAGE AND THE SOIL.—Mr. Mechi, of Tiptoe (England) writes to the Times, re-urging a very important subject of consideration: "I consider it a public duty," he remarks, "to direct attention to a danger of great magnitude which threatens British agriculture, and through it the nation at large. I mean the gradual, but sure exhaustion of the soil of Great Britain by our new sanitary arrangements, which permit the excrements (really the food) of 15,000,000 people, who inhabit our towns and cities, to flow wastefully into our rivers,—The continuance of this suicidal practice must ultimately result in great calamities to our nation." He quotes from Baron Liebig on the subject. Speaking of the Romans: who also had their sewers and wasted their human excreta, this celebrated chemist says; "All these rules had, as history tells us, only a temporary effect; they hastened the decay of Roman agriculture, and the small farmer ultimately found that he had exhausted all his expedients to keep his fields fruitful, etc.: and, as the history of three first centuries of our era informs us, there ensued a condition of the population the most calamitous and frightful into which a nation can fall. It is true that many causes co-operated in producing this result, but assuredly one of these was the exhaustion of the soil by the spoliation system of agriculture then pursued." Thus the question, how shall we manage matters to apply our sewerage to our soil?—a question to which we have long and often drawn our attention—is one of great political and national, as well as social importance.—Life Illustrated.

☞ Geo. Smith, cashier of the Norombega Bank, is in jail, as well as Treasurer Peck. An Augusta letter to the Boston Journal says of Peck's bondsmen:

I understand that some of the Treasurer's bondsmen have mortgaged their property, so that they are secure from attachment. But it is said that Neal Dow, with characteristic magnanimity, at once announced himself ready to "face the music" to the extent of his means. Peck's bondsmen are Messrs. Hersey, Schwartz and Brown of Bangor, and Dow and Cummings of Portland, and others. I have just learned that the bondsmen have seized Peck's lands, and that they are sufficient to protect his bondsmen, and that the latter are ready to secure the State from all harm.

☞ A first-class hotel in Newport, N. H., was burned on Thursday night. Loss $5000. Insurance on building and furniture $7500.

Sombre thoughts and fancies often require little real soil or substance to flourish in; they are the dark pine trees which take root in and frown over the rifts of the scathed and petrified heart, and are chiefly nourished by the rain of unavailing tears and vapors of fancy.—Boyes.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease, both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it is being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country; while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration.

Respectfully,
A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858, the editor says:—

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. LAPORME, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.

BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAPORME, Esq.:

Dear Sir—I had been suffering for a considerable length of time from a severe cough, and had in vain had recourse to nearly all the remedies in use. My cough began to give me much uneasiness from its serious effects on my system, when three days' use of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ restored me to complete health. The medicine being now in this market, I had recourse to it last; but I can now confidently recommend it as the best medicine I know of. Yours, truly,
CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1.00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAPORME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

THE
ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had learnt that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you from justice, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the filthy scurf of my head. To my surprise, my expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dye, I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if gray or bald.

Very Respectfully,
BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 308 Broadway, N. Y.

Steamboat, Ala., July 26th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851. I was induced to try your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

WISLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small. The small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $5 a bottle.

STOVE STORE REMOVED.

URIAH BLAISDELL

Has removed his Stove and Furnishing Establishment one door north, to the spacious and convenient store

Nos. 43 & 45 Market Street,

where he is receiving and arranging a large and valuable Stock of

STOVES, TIN WARE, &c.,

Which he offers for sale at wholesale and retail, at very low prices. He has a great variety of the best and most popular Stoves, among which are:

1. The Stewart Cook Stove, with the latest improvements. This is an air-tight Cook Stove, for Wood or Coal; it has moveable coverings, which can confine the heat in the stove, or let it out into the room; the oven will hold two water 10 or 20 gallons, and a tin closet beneath;—a top cover, which is a great institution for baking, and will keep a good fire all night; it has a Dutch Oven for roasting in front of the Stove, and it is every way a most convenient and durable Stove. There are 4 sizes.

The following recommendation of Stewart's Stove, is from an eminent engineer, and must be satisfactory to all who wish to understand the value of this excellent Stove:

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 5, 1859.

Mr. Blaisdell:—Seven years ago I moved to this city, and sold, before I came, a "Stewart's Air Tight Cooking Stove," which I had kept about five years. During that time no repairs or expense had been made upon it. Since I have been here I have sold all the various Cooking Stoves in use, and I think for economy and durability the "Stewart" excels them all. I wish you would take away the Stove I now have from my house, and set up one of Stewart's as soon as you can. Your ob't servant,
B. F. CHANDLER.

2. Boston & Maine Cook Stove;
3. White Mountain;
4. Empire State;
5. Enterprise;
6. Exchange;
7. Dining Room Cook Stoves, and others.

PARLOR STOVES.

SEAVEY'S COAL AND GAS BURNER, superseding everything else of the kind, as a parlor Coal Stove.

THE MAGEE COAL STOVE, highly recommended and esteemed by many.

CAST IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens.

SHEET IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens, of a variety of patterns.

OFFICE AND COUNTING ROOM STOVES.

BOX STOVES, for Schools, Halls and Churches.

FARMER'S BOILERS, from 15 to 46 gallons each.

ALSO, FUNNEL, KITCHEN FURNITURE, TIN WARE AND FARMING TOOLS.

All these, and many other articles, too numerous to mention, will be sold at great bargains.

Funnel made, and Stoves and Funnel put up to order, in the best manner.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last effort conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of philology to the more immediate consequence, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, let no time elapse before you commence using this invaluable remedy. If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are depressed or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with two drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia the patient can be led the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is efficacious in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

For full directions, see circulars. Price $1 per bottle.

Sold by CHURCH & DUPONT, Druggists.
No. 30 Maiden Lane, New York.

And by all respectable Druggists throughout the country. In Portsmouth by W. E. PRESTON.

STOVES AND FURNACES

FRANK JONES,

61 MARKET ST., PORTSMOUTH,

Having received a part of his Winter Stock of

SUPERIOR COOKING STOVES,

would invite the attention of those about purchasing, to the largest and best selected stock of COOKING STOVES, of the most approved patterns and valuable kinds to be found in this market; among which may be found

THE CLIPPER, BOSTON & MAINE,
EMPIRE STATE, WHITE MOUNTAIN,
REPUBLIC, BANNER, &c.,

with many others, for wood or coal, which will be sold at such prices as shall defy competition.

The Combination Stove and Range.

One of the greatest inventions of the age, for Cooking purposes,—made expressly for large families, boarding houses, hotels, &c.; or wherever a great amount of Cooking is required in the shortest possible time, it having 3 large ovens, 6 boiler holes and separate apartments for baking, broiling, frying or roasting, requiring no more fuel than any ordinary Cooking Stove. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction in every particular in point of economy, convenience, or ease of management; as we believe it to be far ahead of anything of the kind yet introduced into this market. We therefore ask an examination of the "Combination Stove & Range," feeling confident that it supersedes all others for which it is intended, and will be sold at a very low price.

THE MAGEE.

The Calebrated Magee Patent

Ventilating Parlor Stove,

All sizes—acknowledged by every one to be the

BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.

The fire can be kept through the entire season without once going out, giving the greatest amount of heat from the least fuel of any other Stove known.

The heat can be regulated to the mildest as well as the coldest weather, and at the same time perfectly ventilating the apartment in which they are used. We have sold hundreds of them the past year, and have testimonials of the highest order, acknowledging their superiority over every other Stove yet invented. To every one in search of the best Stove that can be found, we would say,

"Try the Magee."

of the most approved kinds.

STORE, OFFICE & SHIP STOVES;

BOX AND CYLINDER do.

SHEET IRON STOVES, with and without ovens.

Parlor Cook Stoves.

New patterns this season—for wood or coal,—warranted to be the best in the market, and will be sold at such prices as will convince every one that this is the place to buy cheap.

THE MAGEE FURNACES,

7 Sizes—Brick and Portable.

These Furnaces work on the same principle as the Magee Stoves. They are simple and easily operated, requiring only about half the coal of any other Furnace—will keep fire the whole season, and are not liable to get out of order.

We would invite the attention of those interested to an examination of the MAGEE FURNACE, and at the same time refer them to a number of places in this city where we have erected them the past year; and in every instance have given perfect satisfaction.

REPAIRING PEICES,

For most kinds of Cooking Stoves used in this market. Also,

Coal Fixtures and Fire Brick.

HARD WARE AND CASTINGS generally

TIN, SHEET IRON & COPPER WARE, manufactured to order.

☞ Prices as low as at any other establishment in this vicinity, and satisfaction guaranted in all cases.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, U. C. for U. S.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also Patents in Canada, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with dispatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superio to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him t. accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and European, render him able, in any question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.

The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages.

1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.

THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR
BICKFORD'S SPRING BALANCE,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.

It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.

It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.

It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.

It can be applied to old as well as new building, without any alteration of the frames.

It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,

is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, foul air, filth and dirty habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who visits "the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.

One quarter of all our population are scrofulous:—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must remove the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is compiled from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the restoration of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

Eruptions and Eruptive Diseases, Ulcers, Pimples, Blotches, Tumors, Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Syphilis and Syphilitic Affections, Mercurial Disease, Dropsy, Neuralgia or Tic Douloureux, Debility, Dyspepsia and Indigestion, Erysipelas, Rose or St. Anthony's Fire, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from Impurity of the Blood. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search out disease, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral

Coughs, Colds, Influenza, Hoarseness, Croup, Bronchitis, Incipient Consumption, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in personal proofs of its virtues, which have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate to what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. The many instances in which it has cleansed the system from the effects of the disease, and restored the sufferer to health, are too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,
For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what we have of any other medicine, NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, to effect a cure when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who tried it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operation, and speak in terms of the highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter, "what we know," and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, a single dose will be found to relieve it in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used with never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and surest REMEDY IN THE WORLD, IN ALL CASES OF DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA, IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—Do not hesitate, do not delay, do not let prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE—you will be sure to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world.

Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York.

Price only 25 cents per bottle.

MONDAY, JAN. 9, 1860.

☞ The Christian Era, published in Boston, says,—

"At no period has the use of liquor been so enormous as it is at the present time."

The editor of the Era doubtless means to state only what is strictly true: but he is in error here. As a whole, New England uses less liquor now, in proportion to her population, than she did 50 or 40 years ago.

As to Boston, the use of liquor there has been enormous for 50 years certainly, and how much longer we will not say. But having lived there in 1020, and again in 1850, we are very certain the American portion of Bostonians were much more enormous users of liquors in '20, than in '60

The coming in there of 40 or 50,000 foreigners, brought in an enormous flood of drunkenness: and the protection of the rum trade there, with the assaults against it elsewhere, have doubtless added to the enormity of the traffic there, and not a little to the use, also, of late years:—but Boston is only a part of New England, though a very important one.

We do not shut our eyes upon the facts that the evils of drunkenness are immense, and the foolish use of liquors enormous;—but we do not see the propriety or utility of statements so loose and sweeping as we often find on this subject.

Facts in relation to it are easily obtained:—and if obtained would soon correct such erroneous estimates.

KILL YOUR FISH.—A Frenchman, who, had recently visited Holland to inspect their fisheries, says, speaking of them, that, being surprised at the superiority of Dutch fish, both fresh and salted, sea and fresh-water fish, to French fish, the former being superior to the latter both in firmness and flavor, he was at the pains of inquiring into the causes which produced this difference. He discovered that it was no accident, but was the result of a simple operation. The Dutch kill their fish the moment they are taken out of the water, whereas most persons, the French among them, allow fish to expire after enduring the torments of a long agony which acts upon fish precisely as a disease would act; softening the flesh and infecting them with principles of dissolution. Nobody eats chickens or sheep which die by disease; why should we eat fish that die by languor? The Dutch kill their fish by making a slight longitudinal incision under the tail, and if the operation is performed with a very sharp instrument, it is made so rapidly the Dutch use it even in their herring fisheries. Some other fishermen kill their fish by thrusting a long sharp needle in the head.

Another writer expresses horror at the "stupid manner, as he calls it, in which our farmers' wives and market people kill their poultry by cutting their throat and losing all the blood, which gives flavor to the fowl.—In France, where they not only cook poultry better than they do at any place else, but where they have finer fowls than the traveller sees on any other tables, they never think of cutting the throats of their poultry and losing the delicious blood. The wise men of the Kitchen stick a sharp needle into the back of the victim's head, at the juncture of the spinal marrow and brain.—We commend these lessons of experience to all our readers who may love to rear and to eat poultry.

☞ The eight young females who lost their lives by the destruction of the fuse factory in Simsbury, Conn., were buried on the 22d ult. in the cemetery at Simsbury, four in one grave, side by side, and four in another grave, a space of four feet being left between the two for a monument. Two of the deceased were sisters, aged 21 and 18, and two cousins, each aged 14.—At the church a good share of the seats, at least one hundred, were occupied by the mourners, among them being two young men who were engaged to be married to two of the young ladies whose lives were lost.

☞ Cassius M. Clay announces through the Louisville Journal that he will, on the 16th inst., in the town of Frankfort, Ky., vindicate the principles and aims of the Republican party against the assaults of Vice President Breckinridge and Gov. Magoffin. The Washington correspondent of the Philadelphia Press says it is announced that Mr. Clay will be expelled from the State if he attempts to address the people.—This, Uncle Toby supposes, is to be taken for liberty of speech in that latitude.

HONORABLE.—Dr. Calvin Cutter, formerly of Nashua, has paid up the outlawed debts against the estate of his father, John Cutter of Jaffrey. The Doctor paid up his own outlawed debts, a number of years ago.

☞ The U. S. Senate was not in session Friday Jan. 6.

In the House, the usual debate went on, between various kinds of democrats, Americans, &c.

Mr. Clark of N. Y. denied that the Lecompton issue is dead, as he had heard it declared. The Lecompton Constitution was dead, and it deserved to die, and it had killed its authors. But the Kansas controversy is by no means ended. The English bill which passed both Houses, remains in full force, and the application for admission, by Kansas, which will be made as soon as the House organizes, will encounter that at threshold. He desired to be informed whether the Democratic party of the House intend to resist the application of Kansas for admission. This is a material point, which affects the action of all anti-Lecomptonites.

Mr. Dejarnet replied that the purpose of those with whom he acted would be made known when the question came before the Houte. He proceeded to allude to the resolutions unanimously passed by the Virginia Legislature, requesting the members of Congress from that State to unite with the conservative element in the House, and defeat the election of a republican Speaker.

He said that Mr. Seward stood before the country as a perjured traitor, and this man, his hands stained with the blood of our citizens, it was proposed to elect as our President. He might be President for the North, but never for the South.

Mr. John Cochrane said that the Democrats were not yet prepared to vote for a Speaker, as Mr. Curry was confined to his bed through sickness. As his friends were unable to adjourn.

After further debate of the same sort, Mr. Curry, having been brought to the House from his sick room, Mr. Cochrane withdrew his motion to adjourn, as the whole strength of the democratic party was present.

The House proceeded to a vote, which resulted as follows:

Whole no. votes 222; nec. to choice 112; Sherman 109; McClernand 37; Bocock 30; Quarles 13; Gilmer 9; Gilmer 5; Houston 3; scat. 16.

WASTE OF MANURE.—Every large town or city, by the foul matter in its cess-pools, sinks, vaults, drains and common sewers, could manure an extent of land sufficient to raise its own bread. A large portion of this valuable manure is now wasted and lost, being poured into rivers, or suffered to evaporate and decompose in the city itself, thus producing death, instead of sustaining life.

In London, the sewerage nuisance in the Thames has become intolerable; and attempts are now making to remove the worst of the nuisance, by having an immense reservoir, made something like a dry dock, into which the sewerage can run, and from which the manure can be safely carried away, for use on land, as it ought to be.

The question, how shall we manage to apply our sewerage to our soil?—a question to which we have long and often drawn our attention—is one of the great political and national, as well as social, importance. The Chinese, as Liebig remarks, have for 3000 years kept their soil in a remunerative state by close attention to this subject; while, by neglecting it, the Anglo-Saxon race, in 100 years, have literally exhausted the finest tracts in the old States of America.

☞ The following are the leading provisions of the new bill for abolishing the franking privilege, introduced by Senator Powell on Wednesday:

It allows to each Senator, member and delegate, at the commencement of every session, $175 for stamps. All letters, books or printed matter printed by either House of Congress, shall be payable before their delivery at any Post Office for transportation. All mailable matter directed to the President, Vice President, and members of Congress, to be prepaid at the mailing of office. All the departments and heads of departments, except the Post Office department, shall prepay all letters and other matter sent through the mail. His object is to make the Post Office self-sustaining, and to prevent frauds, which are now so frequently perpetrated.

☞ Mrs. H. B. Stowe writes to the Independent from Milan, and describes the Cathedral there as being the God of Northern Italy. The effect of the statues exultant on their spires she eloquently expresses, and is overcome by the Ambrosian chant of the organ—but concluded not to put anything in the poor-box.

☞ In New York, another writ of error has been granted in the case of James Stevens, who has been sentenced to death for the third time for poisoning his wife.—They manage this thing better in Maine: there they convict the murderers without making so many errors; then shut them up and convert them into workers.

☞ Gerrit Smith is at his home at Peterboro', N. Y., much improved in all respects, but not fully restored to health; and the doctor has prohibited him from receiving visitors, and from giving personal attention to his correspondence.

"Hundreds of people," observes Lola Montez, "are in their graves at present over whom a coroner's jury could find a verdict of 'died of petticoats.'" She means probably both men and women—and perhaps, more of the former.—Boston Post.

Lola Montez lectured on Fashion in New York, last Thursday night. She dislikes prescribed forms—and has occasionally departed from them.—Post.

GOVERNOR'S HORSE GUARDS.—The first annual meeting of this corporation is to be holden at the City Hall, in Concord, on Wednesday, Jan 11, at 11 o'clock A. M., at which time all the officers of the Corps, military and civil are to be chosen; and the Constitution and the By-Laws, and the question of the Uniform will be acted upon at this meeting. Specimen Uniforms and Horse Equipments will be exhibited, one of the members appearing equipped and mounted. The cost of outfit for man and horse is estimated not to exceed $70 or $75, including a saddle. The attendance of any gentleman interested in this enterprise is respectfully solicited, and a full attendance of the members, and of candidates who desire to be admitted, is urgently requested.

☞ In 1828, when John Quincy Adams was a candidate for re-election to the Presidency, against Gen. Jackson, Virginia uttered precisely the threat which she and the South are uttering to-day. Andrew Stevenson, then Speaker of the House, declared "if Mr. Adams should be elected, the Union would be dissolved;" and a distinguished Judge of Virginia declared that "if Mr. Adams was not put out by the people, they (the Jackson men) would be willing to put him out by force." Change the names, and nobody would doubt that the threat was uttered to-day. Men who are old enough to remember that day, will never forget the bitterness with which this contest was waged on the part of the South. And yet slavery had nothing to do with it. The principle of Protection was the great cause of that commotion.

☞ Died, in Boston, Jan. 5, the oldest person in that city, a negro woman named Catherine Boston, familiarly known for many years as "Old Mother Boston,"—at the age of one hundred and eleven years! For several years she has been feeble, though some of her faculties have been keen and responsive as ever. She was esteemed by the several generations who knew her, and now that she has gone to her final resting-place, there are many who will sigh a regret, and some let drop a tear. She died peacefully, and with a Christian's hope.

She died at the residence of her daughter-in-law, with whom she had lived for the past thirty years. She was born at Reading, Mass., and she was a slave in her younger days. Upon her emancipation she was married, and soon afterwards removed to Boston. She was married three times—to Cato Gray, to a man named Jackson, and subsequently to a man named Boston. The last of the three has been dead many years. She had several children, all but three of whom died in their infancy. One of her sons by her first husband had three wives, the last of whom, Mrs. Betsey Gray, resides in Southac street. Amos Jackson, a son of the deceased by her second husband, is still living, and has one child. Mrs. Gray has three children. These are all the grandchildren that survive. Up to Saturday the old lady was able to go up and down stairs. It was but a few weeks since she attended church. On Saturday she was taken ill, and as the family were helping her up stairs to the little bed-room she had occupied for many years she remarked that she was going up the last time.

This will do for Mr. Fogg, who, in his "Independent Democrat," has expressed his belief that the only way to get rid of slavery is "to foment rebellion among the slaves."—Boston Post.

Mr. Fogg has not expressed any such belief in the Independent Democrat. The Post got this idea at second-hand, from the worst authority in New Hampshire.

"INJURED INNOCENCE."—The Portsmo. Gazette says, "the people of the South "have never interfered in any manner with the rights and institutions of the North."—Oh, ho! Precious innocents, ain't they!—The South is always liberal, generous, national and loyal to the Union—the North always fanatical, overbearing, sectional, wrong every way—in the opinion of the very few specimens of "democracy" still extant in the free States, the principal part of whom are preserved in the Post Offices and Custom Houses.—Dover Enq.

ADVERTISING A BUSINESS PROPERLY. Some men live and act as if they had no wits about them. They jump on and then jump off from every plan they ride, till either the plan runs away from them into other advantages—or runs away with them and breaks their necks. "Steady" was the word when the old rafts man carried four children out of danger from Indian arrows, over the rapids. It is not the time to abandon a ship when she is in sight of the harbor because the wind rises,—or a reef peaks up in the lee. It is not the time to desert when the enemy leaves their own camp. Patrick Mulharrun who cut up his apple tree the third year from the seed, "because" said he, "it's for the whole of two long years that Catherleen and meself have got niver an apple from the mane bushes." And so the ten lines of advertising have just began to attract attention—when the bill is grudgingly paid and the ten lines stopped. "He has stopped advertising," said some reader. "That shows what the article is good for. If it is not worth being known, I do not need it."—Amesbury Vil.

☞ An introduction of the Spanish custom of silver anklets for those who choose to walk out in short petticoats, is thought of by the ladies in New York.

HOW VOTERS ARE MADE!—Governor Banks, in speaking of the two years amendment, says:—

I have obtained from the records the names of 2688 persons who were naturalized in 1858. Of this number 2143 were made citizens in the Courts of the United States, 545 in the State Courts. Of those naturalized in the Courts of the United States, 1745 were naturalized within sixty days; 1615 within thirty-five days of the election; 1424 were made voters in two Congressional Districts, and the far greater proportion, beyond any question, in one which was the only sharply contested district in the State.

Now there is no man living who will say, that a thousand new made voters—and it is believed that the number in the Fifth District exceeded this, who might as well have floated into any other—should be suddenly presented at the polls of a contested district, and thus, unknown to residents or voters, be invested with the power to decide an election that might control the organization of the House of Representatives of the United States. It is immaterial what parties may be benefited—it is a privilege which belongs to no other class, and ought not to be exercised by any class of men.

Between the creation of a cordon of voters like this and the day of election there ought to intervene such a period of time as would enable citizens to know their opponents and ascertain the number they were to encounter. It may be said that a term of two years is unnecessary. From the record of naturalization in 1858, it would appear that one year, six months, ninety days even, would be abundantly sufficient to allow the claims of men as residents, citizens and voters to be considered before they were announced as victors in any political contest; and this is all the protection that Massachusetts seeks. She cares little for the opinions of men, and less where they are born, for here at least origin is immaterial and opinion free.

There is, however, and should be, no fractional citizenship. When a man is once invested with the rights of citizenship, the country which creates him is bound to protect him in whatever position and in whatever realm he stands.

SHAKESPEARE AND INSANITY.—Dr. Brigham, the late eminent physician to the insane, said that Shakspeare was, in himself, as great a psychological curiosity as any case he ever met; and he declared that in the Asylum at Utica he had seen all of Shakspeare's insane characters. "We confess almost with shame," he says, "that although near two centuries and a half have passed since Shakspeare wrote King Lear, we have very little to add to the method of treating the insane as there pointed out."

☞ Stevens, the alleged wife murderer, it is said, will have another trial in New York. He has been three times sentenced to be hung, and appears to like it.

☞ The distinguished comedian, William E. Burton, is lying very ill at his house in New York. His disease is of the heart, and has reached a point where fears are entertained of the result.

MARRIED.

In Newburyport, Mr. Elbridge Pike to Miss Marin D. Musso, both of N.

DIED.

In this city, Jan 6, Miss ABBY BRYANT, aged 70 years.

Funeral will take place on Tuesday afternoon, at half past 2 o'clock, from the residence of Mr. James Dodge, No. 41 Daniel street. Friends and relatives are invited to attend.

In Derry, Mr. Enoch Pillsbury, aged 79 years, formerly of Newburyport.

Special Notices.

Diseases of Old Age.

As man approaches his allotted three score and ten years the vital powers begin to fail; stimulants of various kinds are used to strengthen the naturally failing system, such as wines, bark, &c. Instead of these, let the aged keep up the supply of the true strengthening element, iron, by the PERUVIAN SYRUP, which offers a protoxide of that metal ready for immediate absorption.

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the waste of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

The unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

J. T. MOREHEAD, U. S. Senator, and formerly Governor of Kentucky
J. B. ARNOLD, formerly Governor of R. I.
WM. WOODBRIDGE, late Governor of Michigan

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

Prepared by S. W. FOWLE & CO., BOSTON. and for sale by Wm. R. Preston, David Kimball, Nathan P. Thacher, J. H. Thacher, and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth; J. P. Baker, Greenland; and dealers every where. spnot 4wd&w

☞ Mrs. Winslow, an experienced nurse and female physician, has a Soothing Syrup for children teething, which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflamation—will allay all pain, and it is sure to regulate the bowels. Depend upon it mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and relief and health to your infants. Perfectly safe in all cases. See advertisement in another column.

Smith's Curative Cleansing Compound

Has readily cured or effectually relieved, in numerous cases in various parts of New England, the following complaints, viz: Neuralgia, Sore Throat, Croup, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Sprains, Burns, Scalds, Spider Bites, Sore Breasts, Erysipelas, Frost Bites, Dysentery, Colic, Cramp in the Stomach or Limbs, Rheumatism, Ague, Toothache, &c. The above complaints may either be relieved or cured in a few minutes.

☞ Hon. Mr. Greenleaf's address before the Union meeting, appears to be mostly a reply to Uncle Toby, and a review of the old Union meeting of 1835. He quotes Uncle Toby as saying:—

"A large meeting of the principal people came together at that time, filling Jefferson Hall, and passed a column of preamble and resolutions,—of which very many of them were afterwards ashamed."

Mr. Greenleaf then, after further remarks, says:—

Gentlemen, I repel the charge, as to those who have passed away; and those who are among the living can speak for themselves."

Though thus repelled, it is strictly true: and one of the prominent actors expressed himself in these words, speaking for himself and others, we are ashamed of it now,—we knew but little about it then. This was said years ago, while most of the actors were living, and said repeatedly.

Then, as the Journal in '35 bore the names of Miller & Brewster, and spoke favorably of the Union meeting, Mr. G. suggests that "Uncle Toby" may be perhaps the veritable writer of those articles, [and asks,] will he say whether he was or not, without dodging? Or is he too much ashamed of it?

Certainly—without dodging:—Uncle Toby is not in the least ashamed of any part he took in the Union meeting, for he was not there,—nor of what he wrote in their favor, for he never wrote one word of that sort.

Uncle T. saw no danger of dissolution then; he sees none now. If others did then or do now, and suppose they can hold the Union together by such meetings, he did never, and will never object to it in the least. They have the right to do so,—and so he has always said. But when his turn came to speak, not for slavery, but very mildly against it,—the Union savers filled the same Jefferson Hall again, on the 4th of July, to prevent him. He laughed at them then: he laughs at them now.

In 24 years, freedom of speech has made progress in Portsmouth——and subserviency here to the slave power elsewhere, has sensibly declined in the same period.

In another part of Mr. G.'s address, some distance from where he repels the charge of being ashamed, he intimates that he thought the great Union-savers of 1835 a pack of hypocrites. He says:—

Indeed I had very little faith in their pretensions at the time. My impression was that they were merely prompted to this act by fears that their commercial relations with the South might be affected by the agitation of the slave question; this led me to doubt whether they were acting in good faith, and whether, if they passed the resolutions they would stick to their text, and so it appears to have turned out.

To this, Uncle T. of course need make no reply. And better than any further remark he can make on the Union topic, he will copy an eloquent and encouraging paragraph from Mr. Hatch's speech at the late meeting. Mr. H. says:—

Fellow citizens, the Union cannot be lost nor seriously endangered while crowds such as this, and such as have gathered in our sister cities are ready to stand out for its support. But when the danger shall have been arrested, let it not be said that your muster here has been useless. It is by such exhibitions that the friends of the Union, everywhere, are to be encouraged and made strong, and its enemies dismayed by the demonstration of their own weakness.

No doubt about the Union now.

☞ On Saturday night, about 12 o'clock, an alarm of fire was given, but no cause for it could be found, and no one knew of its origin. But about an hour later another alarm was given by the watchmen, fire having been discovered in the stable on Warren street, in the rear of the Rockingham house. The building was occupied by Col. Wm. S. Hadley, and contained quite a large quantity of hay and combustibles. The fire having made considerable progress before the engines could reach the spot, the stable and contents were wholly consumed, together with an adjoining shed, belonging to the Cutter mansion. A valuable coach, belonging to Charles L. Frost, Esq., was also burned. The origin of the fire is unknown.

On Sunday evening, about 8 o'clock, "fire" was again sounded through our streets, which brought out the engines, broke up the meetings, &c., and after all proved to be a false alarm.

MALONE, N. Y., Jan. 7.—Last evening, a man in the town of Dickinson, Henry Meacham, shot his wife in presence of her father and mother, who fled from the house in terror, and gathering a number of neighbors, returned and found the woman dead. Her husband was lying dead beside her, shot through the head by his own hand. Cause, domestic trouble and infidelity of wife.

☞ The Cleveland (Ohio) Plaindealer (Douglas) says, in speaking of the Senate's Committees:—

"So far as the orgrnization of that body is concerned, there is no North, no East, no West. It is all South!"

Eight vessels are now in course of construction at Newburyport and Salisbury—two ships, three barques and a fishing vessel.

FROM CALIFORNIA—OVERLAND.—San Francisco dates to the 16th ult.

D. P. Belknap had been appointed administrator of the estate of the late Senator Broderick.

Four hundred and fifty Indians had been captured in the Pitt River region by Gen. Kibbe. They arrived in San Francisco on the 14th ult., and were to be put on board the brig Janette, for transportation to the Mendermo Reservation, where the U. S. Superintendent of Indian Affairs had made arrangements for their reception.

Gen. Totten arrived at San Francisco on the 12th, by the steamship Golden Age.—His mission was understood to be to report to Washington the condition of the fortifications and military requirements of the Pacific coast.

E. L. Horn, tobacco merchant in San Francisco, had failed for $150,000.

The Democratic press of the State were discussing with some warmth the appointment of delegates to the Charleston Convention. The administration Democrats, having control of the organization of the party, appeared disposed to have the State convention postponed till after the Legislature had elected a U. S. Senator in place of Mr. Broderick.

The new U. S. steamer Saginaw had just been completed at Mare Island. She made a successful experimental trip on the 15th ult.

An application had been made by Judge Terry for a mandamus to compel the County Clerk to transfer the indictment against him for killing Senator Broderick to the 4th District Court. The case was argued on the 12th, and the application was refused. The case was forthwith appealed to the Supreme Court.

Col. Fremont had obtained possession of all the mines adjudged to him by the decision of the Courts, without any collision with the adversive claimants.

Advices from Japan, by the Russian war vessel Novock, state that Mr. Hodson, British Consul, had arrived at Hakodadi, and in conjunction with the Russian authorities, had made a pressing demand on the Japanese government to remove the restrictions placed upon commerce, which, after the exchange of diplomatic notes, had resulted in the promise that all the troubles should be remedied.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 6.—The gentlemen who were taken prisoners at Harper's Ferry, by Brown, are in this city, and it is understood that they were examined to-day by the Senate Committee of Inquiry.

The health of Senator Douglas is improving.

The accounts and operations of our State Treasurer reveal a striking example of official Peck-ulation.—Bath, Me., Times.

This puts us in mind of Mr. Leggett, who was a fine writer in the New York Evening Post, and who was a candidate, several years ago, for an office in the Treasury Department,—but as a number of officers of that class had recently taken leg bail, it was thought best to reject him for his name.

BALTIMORE, Jan. 6.—In the House of Delegates to-day, Mr. Freaner introduced a resolution that John Sherman, or any other Black Republican should not be elected Speaker, and that if any member from Maryland voted for him, or any other such exceptional candidate, he would forfeit the respect and confidence of the State. An excited debate ensued, in which the views of Henry Winter Davis were discussed. He was defended by his friends, who declared him to be a true friend of the South.

☞ Robert Bonner, the proprietor of the New York Ledger, is said to be seriously ill.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES.—PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when uprovened with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, not provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

The Great English Remedy!

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a Prescription of

SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,

Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothign hurtful to the Constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on the Second page of Pamphlet are well observed.

To married Ladies it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the agent.

N. B.—$1 and six postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, in addition to the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who are troubled from that disease to procure and use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would strongly recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 2, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness or of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Eld. EDWIN BURKHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JOHNS.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

THE
ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF

Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world refer to the efficacy of Fred'k W. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see the circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I a ward it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 60 years; the color of my hair sallow, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair. I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head. I was not alone in the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and no it if growing gray of getting bald. Very Respectfully Your Ob't Servt.
BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

SIMPSONVILLE, Ala., July 20th, 1858.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir—Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC the effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," have their hair will come more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood: Dear Sir,—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and in words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, at least more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

STOVE STORE REMOVED.

URIAH BLAISDELL

Has removed his Stove and Furnishing Establishment one door north, to the spacious and convenient store

Nos. 43 & 45 Market Street,

where he is receiving and arranging a large and valuable Stock of

STOVES, TIN WARE, &c.,

Which he offers for sale at wholesale and retail, at very low prices. He has a great variety of the best and most popular Stoves, among which are:

1. The Stewart Cook Stove, with the latest improvements. This is an air-tight Cook Stove, for Wood or Coal; it has moveable coverings, which can confine the heat in the stove, or let it out into the room; it has a boiler of hot water 10 or 20 gallons, and a tin closet beneath;—a top cover, which is a great institution for baking, and will keep a coal fire all night; it has a Dutch Oven for roasting in front of the Stove;—and it is every way a most convenient and durable Stove. There are 4 sizes.

The following recommendation of Stewart's Stove, is from an eminent engineer, and must be satisfactory to all who wish to understand the value of this excellent Stove:

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 5, 1859.

Mr. Blaisdell:—Seven years ago I moved to this city, and sold, before I came, a "Stewart's Air Tight Cooking Stove," which I had used about five years. During that time no repairs or expense had been made upon it. Since I have been here I have tried the various Cooking Stoves in use, and I think for economy and durability the "Stewart" excels them all. I wish you would take away the Stove I now have from my house, and set up one of Stewart's as soon as you can. Your ob't servant,
B. F. CHANDLER.

2. Boston & Maine Cook Stove;
3. White Mountain;
4. Empire State;
5. Enterprise;
6. Exchange;
7. Dining Room Cook Stoves, and others.

PARLOR STOVES.

OFFICE AND COUNTING ROOM STOVES.

BOX STOVES, for Schools, Halls and Churches

FARMER'S BOILERS, from 15 to 46 gallons each.

Also, FUNNEL, KITCHEN FURNITURE, TIN WARE AND FARMING TOOLS.

All these, and many other articles, too numerous to mention, will be sold at great bargains.

Funnel made, and Stoves and Funnel put up to order, in the best manner.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort, conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of phisiology to the more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," by means of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. Never a case of any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with two drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, nothing equal to this, for the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weakness, the sufferer, after trying their numbless nostrums, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the flesh, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

For full directions, see circulars. Price $1 per bottle.

STOVES AND FURNACES

FRANK JONES,

61 MARKET ST., PORTSMOUTH,

Having received a part of his Winter Stock of

SUPERIOR COOKING STOVES,

would invite the attention of those about purchasing, to the largest and best selected stock of COOKING STOVES, of the most approved patterns and valuable kinds to be found in this market; among which may be found

THE CLIPPER, BOSTON & MAINE,
EMPIRE STATE, WHITE MOUNTAIN,
REPUBLIC, BANNER, &c.,

with many others, for wood or coal, which will be sold at such prices as shall defy competition.

The Combination Stove and Range.

One of the greatest inventions of the age, for Cooking purposes,—made expressly for large families, boarding houses, hotels, &c.; or wherever a great amount of Cooking is required in the shortest possible time, it having 3 large ovens, 6 boiler holes and separate apartments for baking, broiling, frying or roasting, requiring no more fuel than any ordinary Cooking Stove. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction in every particular in point of economy, convenience, or ease of management; as we believe it to be far ahead of anything of the kind yet introduced into this market. We therefore ask an examination of the "Combination Stove & Range," feeling confident that it supercedes all others for which it is intended, and will be sold at a very low price.

THE MAGEE.

The Calebrated Magee Patent

Ventilating Parlor Stove.

All sizes—acknowledged by every one to be the

BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.

The fire can be kept through the entire season without once going out, giving the greatest amount of heat from the least fuel of any other Stove known.

The heat can be regulated to the nildest as well as the coldest weather, and at the same time perfectly ventilating the apartment in which they are used. We have sold hundreds of them the past year, and have testimonials of the highest order, acknowledging their superiority over every other Stove yet invented. To every one in search of the best Stove that can be found, we would say,

"Try the Magee."

of the most approved kinds.

STORE, OFFICE & SHIP STOVES;

BOX AND CYLINDER do.

SHEET IRON STOVES, with and without ovens.

Parlor Cook Stoves.

New patterns this season—for wood or coal,—

warranted to be the best in the market, and will be sold at such prices as will convince every one that this is the place to buy cheap.

THE MAGEE FURNACES,

7 Sizes—Brick and Portable.

These Furnaces work on the same principle as the Magee Stoves. They are simple and easily operated, requiring only about half the coal of any other Furnace—will keep fire the whole season, and are not liable to get out of order.

We would invite the attention of those interested to an examination of the MAGEE FURNACE, and at the same time refer them to a number of places in this city where we have erected them the past year; and in every instance have given perfect satisfaction.

REPAIRING PEICES,

For most kinds of Cooking Stoves used in this market. Also,

Coal Fixtures and Fire Brick.

HARD WARE AND CASTINGS generally

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, D. C. Office, est. of 1846.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continued to assume Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings for Patents, prepared on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity of any Patent or Patent Invention,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages rarely possessed by those who transact the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered by any other agency. The testimonials, below, give proof that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full access of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay thereby, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of his great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.

The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:

1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make it perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.

THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR
BICKFORD'S SPRING BALANCE,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.

It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.

It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.

It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.

It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.

It does not injure the Sash, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, or corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children.

Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or viscerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions of every disease. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from more frivolous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, have still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by this same cause.

One quarter of all our people are scrofulous:—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection; and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this or everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the eradication of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as

Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,

ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, TUMPLES, BLOTCHES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.

FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or resist them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is satisfied to find the health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.

Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish, gratis, my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.

So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and when its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the throat and lungs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have fallen and been discarded, this has gained favor by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

MRS. WINSLOW,
An experienced Nurse and Female Physician presents to the attention of Mothers, her
SOOTHING SYRUP,
For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say in confidence and truth, never been able to say of it, what we have of any other medicine, — NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest praise of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak in this matter, what we do know, after ten years experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we advance. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, it will relief in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED NURSES in New England and a SKILLFUL PHYSICIAN, and has been used with never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC, and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the BEST AND SUREST REMEDY IN THE WORLD IN ALL CASES OF DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We have known many cases of suffering from any other cause. Do not let your own prejudices or prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that is ABSOLUTELY SURE; this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper.

Sold by Druggists throughout the world.
Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York.
Price only 25 cents per bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

TUESDAY, JAN. 10, 1860.

☞ The Legislature of Arkansas, having given the free negroes of that State the alternative of emigrating before Jan. 1, 1860, or of becoming slaves, hundreds of them are leaving for the free States. About forty arrived at Cincinnati on the 3d inst. These forty are mostly women and children, the husbands and fathers being held in servitude. They report concerning the emigration, that hundreds of the free colored men of Arkansas have left for Kansas, and hundreds more are about to follow.

At the April term, 1859, of the Circuit Court, Cecil county, Md., a free colored man twenty years of age, named John Scott, was tried for going out of the State and returning thereto contrary to law, and convicted of the offence. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $20 and costs,and in default sold as a slave. The fine was not paid, and on Monday Scott was sold at Elkton at public sale, for $975 as a slave.

Is there any depth of meanness to which the slave power does not descend?

THE IRREPRESSIBLE CONFLICT.—The Washington Constitution, Mr. Buchanan's own organ, in its issue of Thursday last uses the following language:—

"Whether the standard-bearer of sectionalism be named William H. Seward of New York, or Edward Bates of Missouri, —whether he be one who has conferred with Forbes and recommended the circulation of the Helper book, 'after careful examination, or one who has omitted to do so, —a black republican triumph in 1860 is equally impossible without the overthrow of the Union."

The Boston Advertiser remarks:—

We have seen no more convincing proof than is given by these words, of the utter absurdity of the fears which the democratic party now pretends to entertain as to the republican doctrines. It is no doctrine of irrepressible conflict, abstract or concrete, which is now feared,—it makes no difference whether Mr. Seward or Mr. Bates is the conqueror of the democratic party, a Northern or a Southern man, a republican or one who never pretended to to belong to that party,—defeat is the real danger which is feared most of all. Even the moderate views of an old Clay whig of Missouri are deemed "sectional," and the President's official journal says that an opposition triumph even under such a leader will destroy the Union,—a statement which is ridiculous if meant for a prophecy, and wicked if meant for a threat.

NARROW ESCAPE.—The Sandwich Island Advertiser of Nov. 3 reports that the bridge over the Wailuka river, at Hilo, gave way on the 21st of October, just as a party of seventeen Americans were crossing on horseback. Half the party were ladies. As a portion of the party were crossing the bridge, the report of the snapping of a chain was heard, then a crash and the bridge tipped, broke and fell. The bridge was from fourteen to eighteen feet above the water. There was immediately a scene in the water of struggling men, women and horses. One lady was pulled out of the water,but her horse was drowned.

Among the party was Richard H. Dana, jr., of Boston. Mr. Dana was in the middle of the bridge when it broke, and went into the river with his horse, keeping his seat in the saddle, but both becoming involved in the ruins of the bridge, Mr. Dana got a blow on the foot which fractured a bone and bruised him somewhat. Leaving his horse he swam to a part of the bridge, but that breaking down he swam to the upper rail and came to the shore, which he was the last to reach.

All the party was saved. Mr. Dana appears to be particularly unfortunate. The vessel in which he left San Francisco was burnt at sea, and now his life has again been put in peril.

☞ The Albany Evening Journal has the following:—

Brooks of New York, who makes Christ the apologist of Slavery, has an imitator in Massachusetts. But neither of these blasphemers has carried their arguments to its legitimate conclusion, viz.: That the Saviour's silence, if it means anything, means that it is right to enslave white men, not negroes. The Ethiopian of the New Testament, whose conduct is commended, is represented as a close student, riding in his chariot, and reading the Scriptures. The Ethiopians of our day, down South, are, to a most barbarous extent, precluded from reading the Scripture, or anything else."

People are very much in the habit of quoting the Bible without having read it.—You will hear them speak of the apple which Eve ate, and the whale which swallowed Jonah, while neither apple nor whale are mentioned at all. Clergymen fall into one or the other of these errors, at times.—Boston Transcript.

It must be confessed, though, that the fish which swallowed Jonah, must have been "very like a whale."—Nashua Tel.

Naval officers, with a few exceptions, are in favor of abolishing the grog-ration. It is a nuisance in a ship. It breeds nearly all the insubordination that makes a ship unhappy, and hence it gives officers a great deal of trouble. Besides this, it attracts into the service worthless characters.—The Sea.

☞ Burleigh, the New York correspondent of the Boston Journal, shows up the papers there which go South (Herald and Day Book we suppose) as publishing the most ultra sayings of the most ultra abolitionists, calling this Northern sentiment.—He says:

These are read and discussed by the excited men at their homes—with their servants behind their chairs, and by them repeated in all the cabins and at all the gatherings of servants, on all the plantations.—And these reports will do more towards spreading "abolition sentiments" at the South, than all the peddlers of clocks and books, and all the school teachers in the land. But the South loves to have it so, and will reap the harvest.

Burleigh gives the following gossip:

The report gained ground, on the return of Lola Montez to New York, that she had changed her mode of life and become religious, and would withdraw from the public; and the quiet manner that she passed a few weeks seemed to strengthen the rumor.—But of late she has again come before the people with her lectures. They are quite in the usual vein—as part, as smart, as masculine—indicating that if a subject of grace, she has lost none of her grit.

Rev. Dr. Cahill, the "Saul of Kish" among common men—the "Boanerges" among lecturers—continues his course on Astronomy at the Academy of Music. He can't fill the House, though the all-powerful name and presence of Archbishop Hughes accompanies him. As a popular lecturer, he falls infinitely below Prof. Mitchell. On the course with him, Cahill would be "no where."

Skating rules; and men, women and children all are engaged in it. Last Sabbath twenty thousand people were on and around the skating pond. Carriages innumerable were in the Park, and a large number of women were skating, and the leader of the company was a female, who hailed from Boston.

OUR NATIONAL QUICKNESS, or readiness for novelty, shows itself in nothing more markedly than in the immediate appreciation and adoption of any new descriptive name. How universally, for instance, the phrase "Morgan stock," (the most reliable and serviceable breed of horses,) would be understood by common people, if used to describe a practical, hard-working, honest, public man? How naturally and plainly the chooser of a new straw-cutter would seem to talk, if in rejecting the more complicated machine, and preferring something he could better understand and be sure of, he should say, "No, that's too Wheeler-and-Wilson for me—I want something a little more Grover-and-Baker. — N. P. Willis, in Home Journal.

Little Alice was very fond of green peas. At their first coming, she had eaten heartily and rapidly as large a quantity as she supposed would be allowed. She hesitated to request more, anticipating a refusal. Presently turning to her father, she said, 'Papa, talk to me.' 'How do you do to-day, Alice?' 'Not so, not so. Papa, talk to me.' 'Alice, how does your mother do?' 'Not so, not so, papa. Why don't you say, 'Alice, wouldn't you like a few more peas?'

☞ A church is about to be erected by th Russian Government near Inkerman, the funds for which are supplied by the sale of the cannon balls which have been picked up at Inkerman and Sebastopol.

SPAIN AND MOROCCO.—A Madrid telegram of Dec. 21st says:—"Yesterday 8000 Moors attacked the Spanish, but were repulsed energetically and compelled to retreat in great disorder, caused by grape shot and grenades. The Spanish had 51 wounded.

"Ten men-of-war, formerly stationed at Havana, have just arrived to reinforce the squadron at Algesiras.

"A great quantity of provisions had been dispatched to the army in Africa.

☞ Miss Harriet Prescott, of Newburyport, is said to be the author of "Sir Rohan's Ghost," and "In a Cellar."

THE "FUTURE" PASSED.—The Rev Dr. Thomas Whittemore, one of the most learned biblical critics in this country, says, in a notice of Dr. Cumming's "Great Tribulation; or the Things Coming on the Earth." "We are persuaded that Dr. Cumming has made great mistakes in his book. He applies parts of the Bible to future events, which had their fulfilment long ago."—Transcript.

It is not possible to conceive of any sound reason for continuing the spirit ration in the Navy. We believe if the friends of the sailor would call on Congress to abolish it, the opposition would be very feeble, even if any were made.—The Sea.

"Hell, my dear hearers," exclaimed an Irish clergyman, while addressing a barn full of barbarians, in the back part of Emerald Isle—"is a place of inexpressible torment, besides being altogether inconvenient."

COMFORT.—The chief secret of comfort lies in not suffering trifles to vex us, and in prudently cultivating an undergrowth of small pleasures, since very few great ones, alas! are let on long leases.

"The least said the soonest mended," does not refer to one's shirt, when it wants repairing; for if one says ever so little about it, you will not find it any the sooner mended for all that.

The grog-tub in the U. S. Navy is making drunkards, and should be abolished,since drunkard-making is a disreputable business for a christian or civilized nation to be engaged in.—The Sea.

In most quarrels, there is a fault on both side. Both flint and steel are necessary to the production of a spark; either of them may hammer on wood forever, and no fire will follow.

Right is not placed in might, but might in right.

It is poor work scolding a deaf man.

☞ The U. S. Senate was not in session Saturday, Jan. 7.—In the House, there was some discussion, as usual.

Mr. Davis of Miss. occupied some time to show why the Southern Opposition should co-operate with the Democrats in the election of a Speaker, against the common enemy, the Republicans. He proposed that the Anti-Lecomptonites help the Democrats elect a Speaker—let the Americans take the two next best offices, and the Anti-Lecomptonites the remainder, and divide the patronage between them.

Mr. Stokes, (South Am.) replied that the Democracy was split into fragments. The Southern Opposition could not come to the aid of the Democrats who were split into factions. There was a sentiment of secession in the Southern States. He had heard more of such doctrines since he came here than he ever heard before, and this came from the Democratic side. The Americans have twice placed Mr. Gilmer in a position to be elected, but the Democrats refused to support him.

Mr. Keitt, Mr. Wright of Tenn., Mr. Rust and several others gave reasons for not voting for Mr. Gilmer.

Mr. Winslow moved to proceed to an election, and demanded the previous question.

Mr. Hickman hoped the demand would be voted down, as he wished to move an amendment providing for the adoption of plurality rule. He wanted to know how long this question was to be presented to the country.

Mr. Farnett replied that the Democratic side would remain here till the 4th March, 1861, before they would consent to the plurality rule. They would hold the Republicans up to the indignant gaze of the country, for attempting to place the endorser of Helper's book in the chair.

Mr. Hickman was ready for the issue. Let the responsibility rest on the heads of those who seek to prevent an organization.

Mr. Clark of Missouri—Should insist on a vote on his resolution, declaring any endorser of Helper's book, unfit for Speaker.

Mr. Stanton said the Republicans had no objection to voting on all the pending propositions in order.

Mr. Bingham asked if the Republicans consented to vote for Mr. Clark's resolution, would Mr. Clark afterwards consent to a vote being taken on the adoption of the plurality rule.

Mr. Clark would make no such arrangement.

Mr. Winslow's motion was agreed to.

Mr. Davis of Ind. said the time had arrived when there ought to be an organization. The country had become weary of this protracted struggle. No party in opposition to the Republicans could elect its particular favorite. He now nominated Mr. Hamilton as a conservative man.

Whole no. votes 211; nec. to choice 106; Sherman 103; Hamilton 89; Gilmer 14; Scat. 3.

Mr. Reynolds was voted for by Mr. Adrain and Horace F. Clark.

The House adjourned at quarter to six o'clock.

Of this new candidate for speaker, the Boston Atlas says:—

Gen. Hamilton of Texas, a most worthy and amiable gentleman, is as much opposed to Southern Americanism as he is to Northern Republicanism. He has made no speech, and has never been in Congress before, but as Jo. Lane says, "he has no rec-cord, and nothing can be said agin him no whar."

☞ Mr. Wm. Sawyer and wife were suffocated on Saturday night, in their own chamber, in Haverhill, Mass., by coal gas from their furnace. Other persons in the house affected with headache.

☞ Mary Devereux, a drunken woman, was frozen to death at Chicago, last Saturday night, in the room of some poor Irish people, who had no wood, only one bed, and that had five persons in it.

There is much truth in these words of Bulwer's; "With too many marriage it looked upon as a relation imposed by fate not as a companionship and a certain source of happiness."

THAT was a triumphant appeal of the lover of antiquity, who, in arguing the superiority of old architecture over the new, said, "Where will you find any modern building that has lasted so long as the ancient?"

"You had better ask for manners than money," said a finely-dressed gentleman to a beggar boy, who had asked him for alms. "I asked for what I thought you had the most of," was the boy's reply.

A CARD.

The Officers and members of Atlantic Engine Co. No. 5 would return their sincere thanks to Capt. Robert Lefavour, for the beautiful supply of refreshments furnished to them at the Warren street fire on Sunday morning. Also to James W. Lefavour, for that excellent cider, which was furnished at a time when such refreshments are so beneficial. Rest assured, Gentlemen, should you ever have occasion for our services, you will find us ready and willing to do all in our power.

Per Order. J. L. RICE, Clerk.

Portsmouth, Jan. 9, 1860.

A CARD.

Gentlemen of Atlantic No. 5, accept the gratitude of the Granite State No. 1, for that princely collation given us on our return from the fire on the morning of of the 5th inst. May our joint motto be, "United we stand!" We are not unmindful of that volunteer who so kindly smiled upon us while at the fire, and did such good service at the breaks. Jas. W. Lefavour deserves to be a fireman. Per order.

MRS. I. P. LIBBEY will give instruction on the PIANO-FORTE, at No. 11 Hanover Street, or at the residence of the pupil. j7

Special Notices.

Diseases of Old Age.

As man approaches his allotted three score and ten years the vital powers begin to fail; stimulants of various kinds are used to strengthen the naturally failing system, such as wines, bark, &c. Instead of these, let the aged keep up the supply of the true strengthening element, iron, by the PERUVIAN SYRUP, which offers a protoxide of that metal ready for immediate absorption.

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the ship-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "BITTERS," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

☞ Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

J. T. MOREHEAD, U. S. Senator, and formerly Governor of Kentucky
L. H. ARNOLD, formerly Governor of R. I.
WM. WOODBRIDGE, late Governor of Michigan

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

Prepared by O. W. FOWLE & CO., Boston, and for sale by Wm. R. Preston, David Kimball, Nathan P. Thacher, J. H. Thacher, and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth; J. P. Tucker, Greenland; and dealers everywhere. spnot 4wd&w in Congress Block, where the most superior likenesses are taken, and in all cases perfect satisfaction given.

☞ Why will people go and have a poor miserable picture taken of themselves? Because, all those do not know that they can procure for the same money, a fine finished picture, faithful and true as life itself, at

N. B.—The beautiful little "give away" (cheap) pictures, are taken at this establishment, with a double lens Camera, (100 per day) by the celebrated Parisian artist—Monsieur Heavtontutorumenos.

☞ Mrs. Winslow, an experienced nurse and female physician, has a Soothing Syrup for children teething,which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflamation—will allay all pain, and it is sure to regulate the bowels. Depend upon it mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and relief and health to your infants. Perfectly safe in all cases. See advertisement in another column.

Smith's Curative Cleansing Compound

Has really cured or effectually relieved, in numerous cases in various parts of New England, the following complaints, viz: Nervous Debility, Sore Throat, Croup, Chapped Hands, Chilblains, Cuts, Bruises, Sprains, Burns, Scalds, Spider Bites, Sore Breast, Erysipelas, Frost Bites, Dysentery, Colic, Cramp in the Stomach or Limbs, Rheumatism, Ague, Toothache, &c. The above complaints may either be relieved or cured in a few minutes.

☞ Mr. Drown, who was Town Clerk of Portsmouth for some years, informs us that when Mr. J. G. Hales made his Plan or Map of Portsmouth, he also made a plan of the Streets, graded as to their elevations and depressions; and that this plan, remaining in the Selectmen's office a few years, was probably borrowed, not returned, and so lost. He suggests that it may be still extant, in the hands of some family who may not be aware of its value.

It would be a pleasant thing to recover it, but as some new streets have been made, and many of the old ones changed more or less, it would be needful to have a new survey and grading of streets, even if we had the former plan.

The want of it, in past years, has cost a large sum of money, in doing and undoing work on the streets.

☞ The false alarm of fire on Sunday evening. was raised in this manner. At the Hanover street Chapel there was the usual evening meeting of the Brodhead Methodist Society; and for some time all was quiet as need be; but by and by the loud tones of a speaker in the Advent Chapel were heard by the minister and people of the Brodhead Society,—and presently a word or two very loud but not very distinct, reached the ears of twenty or thirty boys who were near the door, who mistook it for a cry of fire, made a simultaneous rush for the doors, and a simultaneous cry of fire! fire! as they went over the steps. This cry very naturally spread over the town with lightning rapidity, at that time in the evening; about 8 o'clock, and brought out the fire department, breaking up nearly all the evening meetings.

The meeting where the alarm began, however, did not break up, as the minister in the Hanover chapel assured his congregation that the cry began there, in the manner above stated, and that, though the bells would ring, they would soon stop, as they did.

We pen this paragraph chiefly that the rowdies, (who are bad enough,) may not be blamed for was purely accidental.

STEPHEN H. SIMES, ESQ., one of the oldest established and most successful dry goods dealers on Market street, has associated with himself in business Mr. John S. Rand, who has thus received a substantial acknowledgement of trust-worthiness and business capacity, evinced in a clerkship of a dozen years with Mr. Simes.—Journal.

The advertisements of the new firm of Stephen H. Simes & Co., which by an oversight have been delayed a few days, we publish this morning. If uniform courtesy and prompt attention to customers, good taste and experienced judgment in buying goods, and fair dealing and reliability in selling them, will insure patronage—this stock of Simes & Co. will need replenishing often.

THE LYCEUM. — "Grace Greenwood" writes to the managers of the late Course that it will not be possible for her to visit Portsmouth again this winter, so numerous are her engagements.

It having been announced that the Portsmouth Cornet Band would probably give a concert in the Lyceum just closed, it may be well to explain why they did not—that their terms were higher than the Course funds would warrant, and the Band rather preferred to give an entertainment on their own account some time during the winter, than to appear before the Lyceum on any terms practicable for the managers.

☞ It gives us a pleasure to copy the following from the "Lynn Bay State" newspaper, at the request of a gentleman in the city, who was a warm friend of Mr. Senter while here; and as a member of the School Committee, had good opportunity to appreciate his worth as a man and his ability as a teacher.

A Compliment to Master Senter.—The first and second divisions of the Grammar School, in Ward Four, recently paid a very handsome compliment to their Master, Mr. T. G. Senter. They surprised him with a call on Saturday night last, and presented Mrs. Senter an elegant silver card basket, and to Mr. Senter a Parian bust of Clyte, a beautiful speciment of art.

There were a goodly number of masters and misses present, and the evening was spent in the most agreeable manner. As a teacher and citizen, Mr. Senter has won his way to the hearts of the pupils of his charge, and has the warmest regards of the parents and citizens generally. His kind, but firm, discipline in school, and his courteous manners outside of the school-room, have secured for him the best wishes of all with whom he is associated.

FUNERAL OF CAPT. GEORGE MELCHER —OLD MEN.—At the funeral of Captain Melcher, on Saturday last, it was remarked that there were present fifteen persons whose aggregate years amounted to 1087—averaging 73 years each; one at 87, one at 80, two at 75, and eleven past 70. All were in good health, not one of them using any support in walking. We should think any of them could walk round the pound ahead of any number of fast young men of this age and generation.

☞ The firemen of Portsmouth choose their officers this evening at Jefferson Hall.

☞ Persons intending to subscribe to the Cosmopolitan Art Association for this season, should do so at once. The books close and the award of premiums is made Jan. 30th; and the Secretary will visit New York several days previous, to be present at the declaration. See advertisement of "Sixth Annual Announcement" in another column; and the beautiful engraving of "Shakespeare and his Friends," at Mr. Cobb's store.

☞ The alarm of fire on Monday evening, proved to be a false one.

FROM CALIFORNIA.—New York, Jan. 9. Steamship Baltic, from Aspinwall 2d inst., has arrived, bringing 250 passengers and nearly $1,800,000 in specie.

The first Legislature of Nevada Territory met on the 15th, at Genoa, and took measures for procuring the immediate recognition of the Territory by Congress.

Three schooners had arrived at San Francisco from Japan, with full cargoes of Japanese wares. They bring advices to Nov. 15. The difficulty respecting American currency continued. Government was throwing obstacles in the way of trade.

The Powhattan was to sail from Hanagawa on the 22d, taking the Japanese Embassy. The Embassy would proceed to Panama, and thence in a frigate direct to Washington.

FROM TEXAS.—Cortinas, with 500 men, took the city of Rio Grande on the 24th ult., killing a number of citizens. Subsequently a body of troops and rangers, from Brownsville, attacked Cortinas and re-took the city, after a hard fight, capturing the guns of Cortinas and sixty Mexicans. Nine Americans were killed and sixteen wounded. Among the latter was Capt. Ford, who led the attack. Cortinas fled across the river.

It is better to be born with a disposition to see things on the favorable side, than to an estate of ten thousand a year.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The ease with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease, both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country: while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officially used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration.

Respectfully,

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.

16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858, the editor says:—

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I think of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. LAFORME, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.

BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAFORME, Esq.:

Dear Sir—I had been suffering for a considerable length of time from a severe cough, and had in vain had recourse to nearly all the remedies in use. My cough began to give me much uneasiness from its serious effects on my system, when three days' use of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ restored me to complete health. The medicine being new in this market, I had recourse to it last; but I can now confidently recommend it as the best medicine I know of. Yours, truly,

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 139 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1.00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAFORME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. BURR & CO., General Agents, No. 26 Tremont street, Museum Building, Boston, and for sale by all druggists. Circulars with testimonials of its efficacy can be had of the Agents novfly

ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few extracts only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec 20, 1858.

Gentlemen:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 45 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling on the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, more to stop the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color. Accordingly, I was, I confess, never, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp of the head ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the adornation of their wives, to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,

REV. A. L. SLEVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Stanaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair no much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a course of your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of a fever, in the New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair came thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in three bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small bottle holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least a pint, and retails for twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Has removed his Stove and Furnishing Establishment one door north, to the spacious and convenient store

Nos. 43 & 45 Market Street,

where he is receiving and arranging a large and valuable Stock of

STOVES, TIN WARE, &c.,

Which he offers for sale at wholesale and retail, at very low prices. He has a great variety of the best and most popular Stoves, among which are:

1. The Stewart Cook Stove, with the latest improvements. This is an air-tight Cook Stove, for Wood or Coal; it has moveable coverings, which can confine the heat in the stove, or let it out into the room; has a reservoir of hot water 10 or 20 gallons, and a tin closet beneath;—a top cover, which is a great institution for baking, and will keep a coal fire all night; it has a Dutch Oven for roasting in front of the Stove;—and it is every way a most convenient and durable Stove. There are 4 sizes.

The following recommendation of Stewart's Stove, is from an eminent engineer, and must be satisfactory to all who wish to understand the value of this excellent Stove:

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 5, 1859.

Mr. Blaisdell:—Seven years ago I moved to this city, and sold, before I came, a "Stewart's Air Tight Cooking Stove," which I had used about five years. During that time no repairs or expense had been made upon it. Since I have been here I have tried the various Cooking Stoves in use, and I think for economy and durability the "Stewart" excels them all. I wish you would take away the Stove I now have from my house, and set up one of Stewart's as soon as you can. Your ob't servant,

B. F. CHANDLER.

2. Boston & Maine Cook Stove;

BOX STOVES, for Schools, Halls and Churches

FARMER'S BOILERS, from 15 to 46 gallons each.

Also, Funnel, Kitchen Furniture, Tin Ware and Farming Tools.

All these, and many other articles, too numerous to mention, will be sold at great bargains.

Funnel made, and Stoves and Funnel put up to order, in the best manner.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort; conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of physiology to the more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. This result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were cured by the use of it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, Pain in the Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are depressed or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, patients can rely on it as the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weakness, the sufferer, after trying other remidies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

For full direction, descriptive pamphlet, &c., see Dr. Bronson's circular. Price $1 per bottle.

PARLOR STOVES.

SEAVEY'S COAL AND GAS BURNER, superseding everything else of the kind, as a parlor Coal Stove.

THE MAGEE COAL STOVE, highly recommended and esteemed by many.

CAST IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens.

SHEET IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens, of a variety of patterns.

OFFICE AND COUNTING ROOM STOVES.

BOX STOVES, for Schools, Halls and Churches

FARMER'S BOILERS, from 15 to 46 gallons each.

Also, Funnel, Kitchen Furniture, Tin Ware and Farming Tools.

All these, and many other articles, too numerous to mention, will be sold at great bargains.

Funnel made, and Stoves and Funnel put up to order, in the best manner.

FRANK JONES,

61 MARKET ST., PORTSMOUTH,

Having received a part of his Winter Stock of

SUPERIOR COOKING STOVES,

would invite the attention of those about purchasing, to the largest and best selected stock of COOKING STOVES, of the most approved patterns and valuable kinds to be found in this market; among which may be found

THE CLIPPER, BOSTON & MAINE,
EMPIRE STATE, WHITE MOUNTAIN,
REPUBLIC, BANNER, &c.,

with many others, for wood or coal, which will be sold at such prices as shall defy competition.

The Combination Stove and Range.

One of the greatest inventions of the age, for Cooking purposes,—made expressly for large families, boarding houses, hotels, &c.; or wherever a great amount of Cooking is required in the shortest possible time, it having 3 large ovens, 6 boiler holes and separate apartments for baking, broiling, frying or roasting, requiring no more fuel than any ordinary Cooking Stove. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction in every particular in point of economy, convenience, or ease of management; as we believe it to be far ahead of anything of the kind yet introduced into this market. We therefore ask an examination of the "Combination Stove & Range," feeling confident that it supersedes all others for which it is intended, and will be sold at a very low price.

THE MAGEE.

The Calebrated Magee Patent

Ventilating Parlor Stove.

All sizes—acknowledged by every one to be the

BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.

The fire can be kept through the entire season without once going out, giving the greatest amount of heat from the least fuel of any other Stove known.

The heat can be regulated to the mildest as well as the coldest weather, and at the same time perfectly ventilating the apartment in which they are used. We have sold hundreds of them the past year, and have testimonials of the highest order, acknowledging their superiority over every other Stove yet invented. To every one in search of the best Stove that can be found, we would say,

"Try the Magee."

of the most approved kinds.

STORE, OFFICE & SHIP STOVES;

BOX AND CYLINDER do.

SHEET IRON STOVES, with and without ovens.

Parlor Cook Stoves.

New patterns this season—for wood or coal,—

warranted to be the best in the market, and will be sold at such prices as will convince every one that this is the place to buy cheap.

THE MAGEE FURNACES,

7 Sizes—Brick and Portable.

These Furnaces work on the same principle as the Magee Stoves. They are simple and easily operated, requiring only about half the coal of any other Furnace—will keep fire the whole season, and are not liable to get out of order.

We would invite the attention of those interested to an examination of the MAGEE FURNACE, and at the same time refer them to a number of places in this city where we have erected them the past year, and in every instance have given perfect satisfaction.

REPAIRING PEICES,

For most kinds of Cooking Stoves used in this market. Also,

Coal Fixtures and Fire Brick.

HARD WARE AND CASTINGS generally

TIN, SHEET IRON & COPTER WARE, manufactured to order.

☞ Prices as low as at any other establishment in this vicinity, and satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

LOTTERIES.

THE LOTTERIES OF

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

Are chartered by the States of Delaware and Georgia, and have seven commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interest of parties at a distance being as well protected as though they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Delaware or to Georgia, as the Lotteries of

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

are authorized by the Legislature of either State.

A Lottery will be drawn every day at Wilmington, Delaware, and also at Augusta, Ga. All orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after same comes to hand.

Whole tickets are $10; halves, $5; and quarters, $2.50.

No ticket sent unless the money accompanies the order. Prizes vary from $20 to $50,000.

Every prize is drawn, and the result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A circular showing the plan of receiving it. All communications strictly confidential.

Write your address plainly, and direct to

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Wilmington, Delaware.
Or to WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Augusta, Georgia.

☞ All letters to our address will be promptly acknowledged—and prizes cashed without delay.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Those who prefer not sending money by mail, can use the "ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY," whereby money for tickets in sums of ten dollars, and upwards, can be sent us from any city or town where they have an office. The money and order must be enclosed in a "GOVERNMENT POST OFFICE STAMPED ENVELOPE," or the Express Company cannot receive them.

AT OUR RISK AND EXPENSE,

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under the act of 1837.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANCED ARTS AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part, leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Dr. B. S. Goodwin, Indian Physician,
Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.
ADVICE FREE.
Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.
THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN. Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsey, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.
No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!
Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children.
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or morbid matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, yet are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination, and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we recommend purify the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, BLAINS, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, LIVER COMPLAINT, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitality. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases by the healing art of its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and "where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the throat and lungs which are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained ground by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

MRS. WINSLOW,
An experienced Nurse and Female Physician,
presents to the attention of Mothers, her
SOOTHING SYRUP,
For Children Teething.
Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is
SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.
Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and
RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.
We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, that we never held to say of any other medicine, NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who used it. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its magical effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, what we do know, after ten years' experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.
This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used with THOUSANDS OF CASES.
It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC. This, which, if not speedily remedied, leads to death. We believe it the BEST and SUREST remedy in the world in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA, IN CHILDREN, whether arising from teething, or from any other cause. We speak advisedly of this article, and feel confident that no mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints, hesitates, or the prejudices, of any prejudice, between your suffering child and the relief that will be SURE — yes, sure — to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. We believe it to be the best medicine for children that is offered to the public. We believe it to be the best medicine in the world. Sold by druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 18 Cedar st. New York.
Price only 25 cents per bottle.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

WEDNESDAY, JAN. 11, 1860.

DENUNCIATION.

It is well for us to know, sometimes, what enemies, or opponents, think of us; and it is always desirable for us to know whether those we call our friends and allies are really friends or foes.

In the United States Senate, last Monday, Messrs. Johnson of Tennessee and Iverson of Georgia denounced the Northern Democracy in plain set terms.

Mr. Johnson said the Senator from Ohio charged him with having advocated, in 1848, while a member of the lower House, the doctrine of popular sovereignty. He admitted it, but he had repented and recanted the error. He now regarded it the duty of Congress to protect by enactment slavery in the Territories, and denied the right of Congress to prohibit slavery there. He denounced Douglas and the Northern Democracy generally, as occupying a position as objectionable as that of the Wilmot Proviso Republicans. He wished the Charleston Convention to adopt an unmistakeable platform asserting and carrying out to its fullest extent the Dred Scott decision.

He did not want one like the Cincinnati platform, which could be interpreted differently to suit the views of different sections of the country. He could support Mr. Breckinridge, or Mr. Stephens of Georgia, even with a defective platform; but under no cicumstances vote for Douglas. His rejection by the Charleston Convention was a foregone conclusion. His doctrines were as disastrous as those of the Republicans, and he had therefore forfeited all claims to the support of the South. He had deserted at a critical juncture, and done more than any other man to defeat the party policy on the Lecompton issue. If he wished to get back into the party, he must atone by years of service for his error, before he could regain their confidence.

He thought the Northern Democracy generally unsound, having in their State Conventions, California not excepted, sustained popular sovereignty. The old Whig party, which twenty years ago was as sound as the present Democracy, has been swept away, and nothing was left of it except Everett, Winthrop and a few others, whose declarations were mere sound and fury, signifying nothing, and who could not control a single vote. With a single exception, the Senators on the other side had denied the right of property in slaves.

Mr. Doolittle had he supposed he was the exception referred to. He desired to say that in his opinion property in man rested only upon the laws of sovereign States, and not by virtue of the Constitution.

Mr. Iverson said he was sorry to find not one honorable man on that side who would recognize property in slaves.

By that side, Mr. Iverson means the Northern Democracy, we suppose. From the rest of the debate, the reader will see that he was firing at the heresy of believing that anything is property, except property in slaves. He deems the Douglas men as great heretics as the Republicans, and says, if a Black Republican was elected President, he would advocate a dissolution of the Union. Such a choice would be conclusive evidence of the settled hostility of the Northern mind.

☞ Extra Billy Smith, who made a foolish exhibition of himself in drinking egg-nog in the midst of his Christmas speech in the House, has just made another exhibition, as foolish, in the offer of a humorous apology for it.

He said although he was not strictly a temperance man, he had not taken a glass of spirits and water for forty-five years, although he acknowledged he liked a little egg-nog at Christmas. (Laughter.)

Well they might laugh.

He complained of the remarks of correspondents, who by courtesy occupy the Reporter's Gallery in the House, deliberately intending to bring members into contempt and ridicule, instead of representing them in the best possible position before the country.

The position of a representative, speaking half tipsy, so that his own friends snubbed him, is not the best possible. But we don't see how the correspondents could help him. The regular report condemns him.

It is reported that Senator Seward advises the withdrawal of Sherman as candidate for Speaker, and the substitution of some other man who is not committed to the doctrines of Helper's book.—Exchange.

Many false reports are in circulation.—This, probably, is one of them.

When Alexander the Great saw Diogenes in a cemetery, he asked him what he was doing there. "I am seeking," said the philosopher, "for the bones of your ancestors among those of beggars; but everything here appears to me so confused and mingled together, that I cannot distinguish them."

Those who believe all the good spoken of themselves, and all the evil spoken of others, are unhappily mistaken on both sides.

Pitch upon that course of life which is the most excellent; and custom will render it the most delightful.

NEW PUBLICATIONS.

The Still Hour; or Communion with God. By Austin Phelps, Professor in Andover Theological Seminary. Boston: published by Gould & Lincoln.

This is an 18mo. volume of 136 pages;—and was originally, as the author informs us, a sermon delivered in the chapel of the Seminary, and repeated several times elsewhere. And as the sermon was favorably received and supposed to be useful, the author has published it by request; enlarging it into a little treatise on prayer.

He has treated the subject under fourteen capita, or heads, which form a good index to its contents. It has the merit of plainness and simplicity: and while it is unmistakably stamped with the author's peculiar theology, as a treatise on prayer by an honest man must be, it is a book that can be read with pleasure and profit by every christian who loves to pray, and who knows how to make due allowance for differences of opinion, education and position.

We make a few extracts—of some sentences that struck us favorably:

What is left of prayer, if these two things are abstracted from it—a sense of the personal presence and of the personal friendship of God? He that cometh unto God, must believe that He is, and that He is a rewarder. Subtract these from our ideal in prayer, and all that remains the Polish peasant possessed, when he strung his prayers upon a windmill, and counted so many to the credit side of his conscience with every turn of the wheel.

A plain man once said: "Before my conversion, when I prayed in the presence of others, I prayed to them; when I prayed in secret, I prayed to myself: but now I pray to God."

Prayer, as we have observed, is an act of friendship also. It is intercourse; an act of trust, of hope, of love, all prompting to interchange between the soul and an Infinite, Spiritual, Invisible Friend. We all need prayer, if for no other purpose, for this which we so aptly call communion with God.

Prayer, as we have seen, is, in the highest conception of it, a state rather than an act. A full fruition of its benefits depends on a continuity of its influences. Reduce it to two isolated experiments daily, and separate these by long blank hours in which the soul has no glimpse of God for its refreshment, and how can prayer be other than a toil, and often a drudgery?

To a right-minded man, some of the most astonishing passages in the Bible are the mysterious declarations and hints of the residence of a Holy Spirit in a human soul.—We must stand in awe before any just conception of the meaning of such voices as these: "The Spirit of God dwelleth in you;" "God dwelleth in us;" "Ye are the temple of God;" "Your body is the temple of the Holy Ghost;" "Full of the Holy Ghost;" "Filled with all the fulness of God;" Praying in the Holy Ghost;" "With all prayer in the Spirit;" "The Spirit itself maketh intercession for us."

But the mysteriousness of such language should not surprise us. Its mystery is only the measure of its depth. It is the reality which it expresses that is amazing. Let us not fritter it away by shallow interpretations.

☞ A post-master, ignorant of his duties, and persisting in his ignorant impositions, is a nuisance to his district, and to all who have business with him.

It is well known that postage, on common weekly newspapers within a State, is 13 cents per year,—and this rate of postage is printed on many papers, including our own.

Yet the post-master at East Concord, N. H., J. M. Dearborn, Esq., last year demanded double that sum from a subscriber of ours, in the beginning of the year, and would not take less. The subscriber wrote to us; we paid the postage here, and wrote on every paper for this subscriber the word paid. As this paper went in a bundle with more, (for which also we suppose our customers paid double price,) we could not get the post office mark on it.

We supposed the ignorant post-master would learn something before the year was out; but not so: our subscriber now informs us that P. M. Dearborn presents a bill against him, for a year's postage, at 7 cents a quarter.—and demands a certificate from the P. M. here that it is paid. Such an ignoramus is not fit for a postmaster.

☞ The American Bible Union, (Baptist) has issued a new Translation of the Acts of the Apostles. "The rule of the Baptist Bible Union," says the Boston Recorder, "is that every word must be translated by such English word as conveys the true meaning of the text"—and hence turning to this new translation, we read, i. 5—"for John indeed immersed in water, but you shall be immersed in the Holy Spirit not many days hence."

☞ The Rev. Mr. Dill, from Ireland, preached in the Essex St. Church, Boston, on the 18th. He said "he saw nothing incongruous in the maxim, that the worst sinners made the best saints," and instanced that "in his town and neighborhood, and throughout Ulster County, his church had been reinforced by conversions from the Roman Catholics and the Unitarians."

Following a Bad Example.—The treasurer of one of our fire companies has this week left his family, his friends and his house for parts unknown, with a deficiency in his accounts of eighty or ninety dollars. Newburyport Herald.

If you wish the year to pass away happily, adopt the Cash System. Small bills are the plague of existence.—Sat. Eve. Gaz.

☞ Both houses of Congress were in session Monday, Jan. 9, and the Senate indulged in a debate on slavery, in which no republican took part. It was quite warm between other parties.

Messrs. Seward and Douglas appeared in their seats. The attendance was slim.

In the House there were three votings for Speaker.

Mr. Garthrell, who was entitled to the floor said, that although he wished to trespass on the time of the House but a short time, if his friends desired it and there was a prospect of organization, he would cheerfully yield the floor for the purpose of voting.

It appeared on a call of the House that the only members absent without a pair were Messrs. Florence, Hindman and Taylor.

Mr. Winslow moved that the House proceed to elect a Speaker.

Agreed to, there being only five dissenting votes.

Whole no. votes 219; nec. to choice 110; Sherman 105; Hamilton 88: Gilmer 22.

Messrs. Adrain and Horace F. Clark voted for Mr. Reynolds, and Mr. Gilmer for Mr. Stokes. Mr. Hamilton voted for Mr. Winslow. Messrs. Florence, Miles and Hindman, who were absent at the call of the House, subsequently appeared and voted.

Mr. Leach of N. C. voted for Mr. Gilmer, but said when his vote was necessary to elect a good conservative Democrat, it should not be wanting. If his friends of the Southern opposition had on Saturday voted for Mr. Hamilton, that gentleman could have been elected.

Mr. Scott said he got out of a sick bed to vote for Mr. Hamilton, not knowing that he had been paired off with Mr. Pottle.

On the other two votings, the whole number was 219; Sherman 104, Hamilton 88, Gilmer 19 and 18; the rest scattered. A letter says:—

A republican caucus was spoken of tonight, but, on reflection, none was thought necessary. It is ascertained that there can be no further concentration of the Southern opposition on Hamilton, whose vote to-morrow will, according to present indications, be diminished. Some of the Republicans have been canvassing to ascertain whether more votes than Sherman has received can be secured for Hickman, but of this they cannot be satisfied.

Johnson and Iverson, in the Senate, today, denounced the Northern Democracy, including Douglas, in a way to damage the chance of getting Independent Democrats to vote for an administration Speaker.

The Amistad Claim.—The President, in his message, recommended to pay money to the pirates who owned the slaver Amistad, which was condemned in the U. S. Courts. On Monday, Mr. Dixon addressed the Senate in opposition to the President's recommendation in regard to the Amistad claim, going into a lengthy history of the case. He contended that there was no legal claim upon this government. Slaves have never been recognized as property nationally, but only locally. He quoted the letter of President Monroe in support of his position, and read from Spanish and other laws to show that slaves could not be considered as property. He also quoted the opinion of Justice Story.

☞ The Kansas Territorial Legislature after organizing, passed a joint resolution adjourning from Lecompton to Lawrence, which Gov. Medary vetoed. The Legislature then passed the resolution over the Governor's veto by a two-thirds vote of a quorum. A question having arisen as to the constitutionality of the vote, a majority removed to Lawrence, the minority remaining at Lecompton. Each of the factions claims to be the only legal body.

Samuel A. Medary has been appointed Public Printer.

☞ At Leavenworth, Kansas, last Sunday, Jan. 8, two extensive fires occurred, destroying the Metropolitan Flouring Mill, a warehouse occupied by wholesale grocers, a banking house and several law offices.—The total loss by both is $55,000, on which there is an insurance of $40,000. The buildings destroyed were among the most substantial in the city.

☞ The Franklin Typographical Society of Boston is to have the receipts of Mr. Everett's lecture on Franklin, to be delivered on his birth-day, the 17th inst. We are glad of this. The Society is a very beneficial one, and was incorporated in 1825.

☞ Geo. R. Smith, the defaulting cashier of the Norombega Bank Bangor, Me., has been liberated from jail, having procured satisfactory bonds for his appearance at the Court.

A man is the healthiest and happiest when he thinks the least either of health or happiness. To forget an ill is half the battle; it leaves easy work for the doctors.

The world itself is a volume larger than all the libraries in it. Learning is a sacred deposit from the experience of ages; but it has not all future experience on the shelf.

☞ A Printing Press for the Unitarian Missionary, Mr. Dall, is immediately to be sent out.

If people "knew themselves," some folks would make very bad acquaintances.

A man never suspects, who has confidence in himself.

Special Notices.

Diseases of Old Age.

As man approaches his allotted three score and ten years the vital powers begin to fail; stimulants of various kinds are used to strengthen the naturally failing system, such as wines, bark, &c. Instead of these, let the aged keep up the supply of the true strengthening element, iron, by the PERUVIAN SYRUP, which offers a protoxide of that metal ready for immediate absorption.

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS." The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted teller upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

☞ The Annual Meeting of the Firemen of Portsmouth, held at Jefferson Hall, Tuesday evening, for the choice of officers, was well attended. The meeting was organized by the choice of Josiah G. Hadley, Esq., for Moderator; and Jos. H. Gardiner Clerk. The voting for Chief Engineer and Assistant Engineers then commenced. At the first ballot no choice was made for Chief Engineer. The vote was as follows:

Whole number of votes 217; necessary to a choice 109; Charles E. Main had 89, A. K. P. Doering 87, Solomon Seymour 47.

Six more ballots were afterwards taken, but no choice was effected, and at 12 o'clock the meeting adjourned. The seventh and last vote was as follows:

Whole no. votes 163; nec. to choice 82; Doering 75; Main 74; Seymour 14.

The following is the list of Assistant Engineers elected for the year:

Assistant Engineers—John H. Moran, Joseph Holmes, Samuel Rowe, Thomas P. Dennett, William B. Grogan, William H. Cornelius, Samuel G. Folsom, Moses Yeaton, Benjamin M. Parker, John E. Rider.

☞ If people desire to feel comparatively safe when "Fire" is cried, let them look at the insurance advertisements of Jacob Wendell, John S. Harvey, and John Sise, on the fourth page of the Daily Chronicle.—With your books locked up in a good fire-proof safe, and a fair policy covering your property, it is reasonable to trust in Providence.

☞ Mr. J. H. Head's work on Tableaux, &c., which has been delayed by the failure of Shepard, Clark & Brown, is to be published in a few days, in a more attractive form, by J. E. Tilton & Co., Boston.

Messrs. Editors:—Your correspondent P. J. A. has made several rare contributions to your daily,—and it is to be hoped that his prolific pen will not rest until he has clearly defined his position with regard to bread, butter, cheese, milk, and their effect on the morals of the community. On the first thought there seems little connexion between these articles of daily consumption and morality, but a moment's reflection, and a glance at the clear statements of your correspondent, lead to a different conclusion. It does not require that one should be a chemist or a doctor to know that heavy bread or bad food of any kind is promotive of the worst results upon the morals of the community. How much of the melancholy and morbid,—how many of the sour and sanctimonious faces we see around us daily, are the result of ill-digested food? How many sermons, books, and newspaper articles are written under such depressing influences, the wide-spread moral evil of which no man can compute?

Imagine the deranged stomachs from such causes. To assume the healthy action which exercise and wholesome food promotes, and by the adoption of a pure bread and milk diet, this state of things continued for a year, —what a change would come over the spirit of some who are ever looking on the dark side of things, in such a condition of things, of course. The whole brotherhood of liquors,—rum, gin, brandy, wine and co.—all drinks true to their ancestral similitude, father alcohol,—tobacco, brown bread, butter, cheese, saleratus, and all other stomach distracting articles of consumption would be abolished, muddy brains would clear up like a frosty morning after a January thaw; fetid breaths would become sweet; the dental profession would forthwith decay, whilst the teeth of their patients would recover their soundness; faces that now reflect the image of desolation and despair would become radiant with hope; steps that are now uncertain and weak would soon derive a firmer, if not a buoyant movement.

How would the poor rejoice at the change, for if all partook of such simple and inexpensive articles of food, there would be enough for all; charity would walk abroad and find a genial atmosphere among men.

Let us hear further from "P. J. A," and let the subjects which he passes by with only a hint, be set forth for an example to the world. No ideas, however far removed from the opinions of men in general, are on that account to be suppressed, if they are worthy of a thought. Y.

EASTERN RAILROAD.—The annual report of the Directors of this road states that its paid up capital is $2,853,400, and its funded debt $2,030,500, a reduction of $75,000 during the year. The income of the road the past year has been $693,409, and its expenses $367,603,79. Net earnings, $325,805,28; interest, $118,899,80; surplus for the year, $206,905,43. The total cost of the road and equipment is $4,590,999,88. The corporation holds property in addition to the cost of the road amounting to $353,410,82.

The number of passengers conveyed over the road during the year is 1,415,594. There has been an aggregate reduction in the debt of the company of $186,705, and the surplus has been increased $43,028.

An evidence of true love is a willingness to sacrifice for the benefit of the loved one.

☞ At Baltimore, Monday, Jan. 9, the splendid and imposing funeral ceremony of Bishop Newman took place at St. John's Church. High Mass was celebrated, and the body laid in state on a funeral car and conveyed to the church by a procession of Catholic societies, accompanied by a large concourse of citizens. The church was draped in mourning. Seventy-three of the clergy were present, including four bishops.

☞ The Boston Sat. Eve. Gazette states that the vestry of King's Chapel have come to the conclusion of hearing the Rev. Mr. Stebbins of Portland, with the view of inviting him to become the pastor of that church. Mr. Stebbins is one of the ablest men in the Unitarian denomination.

In his lecture on "Success," Ralph Waldo Emerson says: "Respect the excellency of your work, not its availableness. There is too much "job work" in some lives. Do your work; it is clownish to insist on doing everything; do what you can do best.—It may be accepted as a maxim that society can never prosper, and must become bankrupt unless each does what he was made to do, and says what he was created to say."

Good counsel is cast away upon the arrogant, the self-conceited, and the stupid; who are either too proud to take it, or too heavy to understand it.

THE GREATEST ADVERTISER IN THE WORLD.—We doubt if there is a man in the world who pays so much money for advertising, as Mr. Bonner of the New York Ledger. His advertisements are measured by columns, and appear in most of the papers throughout the country. The result is that the circulation of the Ledger now reaches four hundred thousand copies.—And yet a great many people say it does no good to advertise.—Nashua Tel.

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The ease with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation. CHARLES W BREWSTER.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

The Great English Remedy!

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a Prescription of SIR J. CLARKE, M. D., Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known medicine is no imposition, but a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; and although a powerful remedy, it contains nothing hurtful to the Constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Heaviness, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases occasioned by a disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on the Second page of Pamphlet are well observed.

☞ To married Ladies it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the agent.

N. B.—$1 and six postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. THE
ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—I our note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully; because I think it due. My age is about 40 years, the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the only on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this displeasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and actually to the roots of the hair, and ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the affection of their wives be proof with my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,

BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Sizmastan, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a season of your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing one in the Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz, large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

STOVE STORE REMOVED.

URIAH BLAISDELL

Has removed his Stove and Furnishing Establishment one door north, to the spacious and convenient store

Nos. 43 & 45 Market Street,

where he is receiving and arranging a large and valuable Stock of

STOVES, TIN WARE, &c.,

Which he offers for sale at wholesale and retail, at very low prices. He has a great variety of the best and most popular Stoves, among which are:

1. The Stewart Cook Stove, with the latest improvements. This is an air-tight Cook Stove, for Wood or Coal; it has movable coverings, which can confine the heat in the Stove, or let it out into the room; has a reservoir of hot water 10 or 20 gallons, and a tin closet beneath;—a top cover, which is a great institution for baking, and will keep a coal fire all night; it has a Dutch Oven for roasting in front of the Stove;—and it is every way a most convenient and durable Stove. There are 4 sizes.

The following recommendation of Stewart's Stove, is from an eminent engineer, and must be satisfactory to all who wish to understand the value of this excellent Stove:

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 5, 1859.

Mr. Blaisdell:—Seven years ago I moved to this city, and sold, before I came, a "Stewart's Air Tight Cooking Stove," which I had used about five years. During that time no repairs or expense had been made upon it. Since I have been here I have tried the various Cooking Stoves in use, and I think for economy and durability the Stewart's stands them all. I wish you would take away the Stove I now have from my house, and set up one of Stewart's as soon as you can. Your obl'd servant,

B. F. CHANDLER.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself,—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort, conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of philology to the more immediate condition, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after his intention, over 200 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Headache, Palpitations of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in Side, lose no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are depressed, or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an unfailing remedy, by commencing with one teaspoon, if your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weakness, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of this medicine. "The BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other like complaints. Pale and sickly children, will be benefited immediately by being fitted by its use. It gives strength to the body, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

For full directions, see circulars. Price $1 per bottle.

STOVES AND FURNACES

FRANK JONES,

61 MARKET ST., PORTSMOUTH,

Having received a part of his Winter Stock of

SUPERIOR COOKING STOVES,

THE CLIPPER, BOSTON & MAINE,
EMPIRE STATE, WHITE MOUNTAIN,
REPUBLIC, BANNER, &c.,

with many others, for wood or coal, which will be sold at such prices as shall defy competition.

The Combination Stove and Range.

One of the greatest inventions of the age, for Cooking purposes,—made expressly for large families, boarding houses, hotels, &c.; or whenever a great amount of Cooking is required in the shortest possible time, it having 3 large ovens, 6 boiler holes and separate apartments for baking, boiling, frying or roasting, requiring no more fuel than any ordinary Cooking Stove. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction in every particular in point of economy, convenience, or ease of management; as we believe it to be far ahead of anything of the kind yet introduced into this market. We therefore ask an examination of the "Combination Stove & Range," feeling confident that it supersedes all others for which it is intended, and will be sold at a very low price.

THE MAGEE.

The Calebrated Magee Patent

Ventilating Parlor Stove,

All sizes—acknowledged by every one to be the

BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.

The fire can be kept through the entire season without once going out, giving the greatest amount of heat from the least fuel of any other Stove known.

The heat can be regulated to the mildest as well as the coldest weather, and at the same time perfectly ventilating the apartment in which they are used. We have sold hundreds of them the past year, and have testimonials of the highest order, acknowledging their superiority over every other Stove yet invented. To every one in search of the best Stove that can be found, we would say,

"Try the Magee."

of the most approved kinds.

STORE, OFFICE & SHIP STOVES;

BOX AND CYLINDER do.

SHEET IRON STOVES, with and without ovens.

Parlor Cook Stoves.

New patterns this season—for wood or coal,—

warranted to be the best in the market, and will be sold at such prices as will convince every one that this is the place to buy cheap.

THE MAGEE FURNACES,

7 Sizes—Brick and Portable.

These Furnaces work on the same principle as the Magee Stoves. They are simple and easily operated, requiring only about half the coal of any other Furnace—will keep fire the whole season, and are not liable to get out of order.

We would invite the attention of those interested to an examination of the MAGEE FURNACE, and at the same time refer them to a number of places in this city where we have erected them the past year; and in every instance have given perfect satisfaction.

REPAIRING PEICES,

For most kinds of Cooking Stoves used in this market. Also,

Coal Fixtures and Fire Brick.

HARD WARE AND CASTINGS generally

TIN, SHEET IRON & COPPER WARE, manufactured to order.

☞ Prices as low as at any other establishment in this vicinity, and satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

LOTTERIES.

THE LOTTERIES OF

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

Are chartered by the States of Delaware and Georgia, and have always been found, and are appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as though they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Delaware or to Georgia, as the Lotteries of

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

are authorized by the Legislature of either State.

A Lottery will be drawn every day at Wilmington, Delaware, and also at Augusta, Ga. All orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after same comes to hand.

Whole tickets are $10; halves, $5; and quarters, $2.50.

No ticket sent unless the money accompanies the order. Prizes vary from $20 to $50,000.

Every prize is drawn, and the result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A circular showing the plan of receiving it. All communications strictly confidential.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, RESIGNED MARCH 4, 1857.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continue to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers for Patents, Reissues of Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal opinions rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent,—and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MAGOON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 4, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, July 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

WE PASS FOR WHAT WE ARE.—A man passes for what he is worth. Very idle is all curiosity concerning other people's estimate of us, and all fear of remaining unknown is not less so. If a man knows that he can do anything—that he can do it better than any one else—he has a pledge of acknowledgement of that fact by all persons. The world is full of judgment days, and into every assemblage that a man enters, in every action he attempts, he is gauged and stamped. In every troop of boys that whoop and run in each yard and square, a new comer is well and accurately weighed in the course of a few days, and stamped with his right number, as if he had undergone a formal trial of his strength, speed and temper. A stranger comes from a distant school with a better dress, trinkets in his pockets, with airs and pretension. An older boy says to himself, "It's no use, we shall find him out to-morrow."—Ralph W. Emerson.

RECREATIONS AND HOLIDAYS.—Every day brings us evidence that the people are waking up to the importance of holidays and recreations. But one of the most pleasing things in the movement is the fact that it is extending into our manufacturing establishments. "All work and no play," &c. is to be discredited at this day, and the owners and agents of the mills that take an interest in their 'hands' and their families, and who contrive to make the holidays real days of recreations and amusements, are doing a good work, and will find their employees more faithful and earnest in duty for it, besides being better fitted both in health and spirits to do a whole day's work for a whole day's pay.—Boston Transcript.

THE STATE REFORM SCHOOL SHIP.—The Commissioners in Massachusetts, for the Naval School have purchased the schooner Wave, of 100 tons, under the order of the State for a "small vessel" in addition to the ship (which was secured some days since). Price $2000.

The Wave was built in New York, by Col. Stevens, for a yacht; and two years ago was put in fine order and coppered, at an expense of about $3000.

By reference to the list of marriages in this paper, it will be seen that the mother "of the officiating clergyman" has recently been caught in the silken bond of wedlock. Many daughters of "the officiating clergyman" have been married, saith the papers, but we do not recollect ever reading that the mother of the "officiating clergyman" was married till now.—Hingham Journal.

"In Boston, by Rev. D. C. Eddy, former Speaker of the House of Representatives, Mr. Jacob Bacon to Mrs. Martha W. Eddy, mother of the officiating clergyman."

CONSOLING INTELLIGENCE.—After all, the Union is not to be immediately destroyed. The Washington correspondent of the Charleston, S. C. Courier, says Mr. Sherman's election will not be deemed a cause for the Southern members leaving the House! nor will disunion follow the election of Mr. Seward or Gov. Chase to the Presidency!! (Good.) But resistance will follow, if the Black Republican party practice further oppressions.

The News Letter says:—

Boys, you may go to bed—I'll call you if the wind rises and rekindles the fire.

The shipping interest is not prosperous. Shipbuilding is very dull, though the cost of a thousand-ton ship is little more than two-thirds it was five years ago: but we then built more than the commerce of the world demanded; and though the ships are wearing out, and more than four hundred sea-going vessels, costing five million dollars, were lost in 1859, still there are more ships than we need, and so long as this remains true, as a whole they must be unprofitable.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ Rev. Adams Ayers has asked a dismission as colleague with Rev. Dr. Crosby of Charlestown, N. H. Family concerns require his exclusive attention, for a period at least.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.
The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:
1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the constitution becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The so fulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy foodes pure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing influences, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary tion. constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation of those that hate me, & shewing the rod of him whom;" indeed visit the iniquities of the father s to says, "I whildren.
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or mucous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all the vital organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are tainted by this lurking infection; and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as
ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate the blood, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,

PRICE, $1 PER BOTTLE; SIX BOTTLES FOR $5.
All our remedies are for sale by W. R. PRESTON, Portsmouth, and by all druggists and merchants in the civilized world. dec30 6m d&w

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JAN. 12, 1860.

☞ The Manchester Union Democrat of June 10 has its only account of Congress for a week, in these words:

"No Speaker yet, and no prospect of any."

The Concord Patriot of the 11th has only two or three squares for the doings of Congress for a week. Yet the same papers contain several columns each of political matter. The length of the debates makes them burdensome for a weekly paper; but the Patriot, in former years, used to give such a journal of Congress as conveyed information to the reader of the state of parties and policy in Congress.

The reader of either paper this year, thus far, can get nothing of the kind.

OLD JOHN BROWN IN THE SPIRIT LAND GIVES SOME GOOD ADVICE.—Old Ossawotamie has been heard from through a spiritual communication in New York.—Whether it is really from John Brown or not, it is good advice. He says: "In the light of the spirit world, I also discern that most of those whom I associated with were hypocrites, and I cannot have hope; yet some are but infatuated, and I wish to warn all such that if they would have the slightest chance of heaven, they must turn from their Abolitionism and Republicanism, and become Democrats at once.—Boston Cour.

Coming through such respectable media as the Spirit-of-nobody-knows-who, and the Boston Courier, it is certainly entitled to attention. And now that these organs of Old Brown have got their telegraph fairly in operation, they would do well to catechize him on the Pottowattomie massacre, and on Helper's book;—if he will give us his views, it may save time in Congress.

THE MURDER TRIAL IN PORTLAND, where Catherine Wilson, a colored woman, was sentenced for manslaughter to six years in the State Prison, for killing her adopted son, Frank, 15 years old, has brought forward the history of the parties. Catherine Wilson was born a slave on the Custis estate in Virginia, whence she escaped some thirty years ago. The lad was also born a slave in Cuba, where, being offered for sale when four or five years old, he attracted the attention of some American ship captains, who were struck with hisfine appearance, vivacity and intelligence, and purchasing his freedom sent him to Portland, where he was adopted into the family of Wilson, whose husband is a seafaring man. The woman is said to be of ungovernable temper, and the boy viciously inclined. According to her account they quarelled: she struck him with a cane, causing death in a short time, when to escape detection she attempted to burn the body in the oven, and doing so set the house on fire and burned that also.

☞ Last Sunday evening, in the factory tory town of Newton, Mass. which contains several villages, a little before six o'clock, by the bright light of the full moon, what was supposed to be a dense cloumn of smoke was seen to ascend from the vicinity of Newton Lower Falls. The conclusion was that a large fire was raging there, and the fire bells began to ring, firemen turned out with their engines, while citizens hurried off to witness the conflagration.

From all the numerous villages of that town, men and boys, and fire companies, were seen hurrying forward. But suddenly, the cloud seemed to move, and then quickly vanished. The whole cause of the fire alarm was a dense cloud of fog which had suddenly rolled up from Charles river.

A person at the Lower Falls, who witnessed the sudden rise of the fog, says that for a moment the weather became intensely cold, but it soon became mild again.

FAILURES.—The aggregate bankrupt debt of the United States and the British Provinces in the last three years, is reported at $468,355,572;—four hundred and sixty-eight million dollars, a sum of which we get no conception, except of mere numbers. The school children (says the Newburyport Herald,) can amuse themselves by calculating how far that sum would reach in silver dollars, if stretched in a straight line, or how far the horses and drays, capable of hauling it, at one ton each, would extend. Two hundred and sixty-three millions of it proved an absolute loss to the creditors. Last year the liabilities of bankrupts were sixty-five millions; in 1858, they were ninety-five; and in 1857, the crash that carried down so many houses swelled them to more than two hundred and ninety million dollars. Somebody must have had a large amount of property to have entrusted the five thousand bankrupts of 1857, to that amount; and these men certainly could not complain that their credit was not ample enough for any business transactions.

☞ The Hartford Press says that Brackett, the sculptor, has had letters from Virginia, intimating that he will have commissions from the State for the bust of John Brown.

The Seat of Disease—An invalid's chair.

TERRIBLE DESTRUCTION.

No loss of life has occurred in New England for a long time, if ever, to be compared with that caused by the fall of the Pemberton Mills, at Lawrence, Mass., on Tuesday afternoon, Jan. 10, about ten minutes before 5 o'clock.

It is dreadful, not merely because many lives were lost, but because it is not pure accident, but the natural result of sham building.

The telegraphic account says "the building had never been considered as staunch as it ought to have been. It was built about seven years ago, and was then thought a sham; indeed, before the machinery was put in, the walls spread to such a degree that some 22 tons of iron stays were put in to save the building from falling by its own weight. The building appeared, from the best information that can now be gathered, to crumble and fall from the eastern corner or end, towards the Duck Mill. It fell inwards, as if powerfully drawn that way."

At the great crash, the citizens were alarmed by the cry of fire, which proceeded from the Mills, about four-fifths of which had fallen, a shapeless mass, without the slightest warning to the near 800 human beings who were then at work.

The fire companies at once repaired to the spot, but there being no fire, they at once set to work with a will to remove the rubbish. They very soon reached some of the rooms, so that the dead and wounded were taken out as fast as they could be reached.

Mr. Chase, the agent, and Mr. Howe, the Treasurer, were both saved. They were in the spinning room, conversing, when, being warned by some unusual noise, both started, for a door which was, by orders, strictly prohibited from being unlocked, but it being the only possible exit, they tried that, and found it unaccountably open.—They had no more than made their escape, when the part they had just left fell to the ground.

One woman in the part of the mill left standing became frightened, threw her bonnet and shawl out of a fifth story door, and then jumped out herself, breaking an arm and otherwise injuring herself so that she cannot recover.

The laboring force of the mill was about 960, and it is supposed that about 700 persons were buried in the ruins.

About half-past nine o'clock the fire was discovered. This additional horror, altho' somewhat apprehended, struck terror to the hearts that had been hopeful of saving more lives. Still the work of removal went on, with 2000 men at work, and the engines pouring on water; but at midnight the whole mass of ruins became one sheet of flame; the screams and moans of the poor buried, burning and suffocating creatures were distinctly heard, but no power on earth could save them.

At half-past one o'clock, the Pemberton Mills were a flat, smoking mass. Brick, mortar and human bones were promiscuously mingled.

Probably not less than two hundred human beings perished in the flames!

The fire made quick work, burning not only the main buildings, as they lay flat, but spreading to the material that had in kindness been removed.

Fire companies were present from Methuen, Andover, Bradford, Haverhill and Lowell.

Between 40 and 50 physicians were in attendance at the City Hall and other places wherever their services were needed.

The ruins, having burned up, it will be many days before a true knowledge of the number of killed and wounded can be arrived at.

The fire, which finally sacrificed the buried human beings, caught, without doubt, from a lantern containing burning fluid, which was accidentally dropped.

One fireman dropped down dead in the street, probably from over-heating and over-exertion. His name is unknown.

The amount of suffering cannot be imagined.

The Boston Journal says the ruins were set on fire from the furnace.

The Mayor of Lawrence says, on Wednesday:

Terrible as our calamity is, I think it is much over-estimated in the number of killed. As near as I have been able to ascertain this morning, I find dead and missing (what is equivalent to dead) 115, and 165 wounded. Some of the wounded will die, but very much the largest number will survive.

The building destroyed was 280 ft. long and 70 ft. wide, with a wing 45 by 50; five stories high, and contained 2700 spindles. The machinery was carried by water, and the building was heated by steam. All the goods, stock and machinery were destroyed; even the books were not saved.

One man, who was saved, saw the ceiling fall, felt the floor sinking, went towards a window, and it fell out. He gave up all hopes of life, but pressed towards that part of the building where his wife worked.—Something struck his head and stunned him. When he came to his senses, he found himself in the ruins, under an immense grindstone, which shielded him from the falling ruins. He found his wife alive at the City Hall.

Miss Olive Bridges of Calais, Me., who worked in the fifth story, seized the hoisting chain of the elevator, and went safely down five stories to the ground, and escaped from the building without injury. Through the whole night she was at the City Hall, passing like an angel of mercy among the couches of the sufferers, anticipating every want, relieving pain, and breathing words of comfort and consolation to the wounded and dying.

AN ERROR.—The Manchester Union Democrat, after stating truly that it has "denounced the Maine law for years," goes on to say:

The Congregational Journal * * * * and other papers, in no way allied with the Democratic party, have seen the wretched fruits of a wretched law, and now demand its repeal.

We read the Congregational Journal constantly and thoroughly; and we are sure that it has never demanded that repeal, either by its editor, or by a correspondent.

To be sure, the Rev. Mr. Clark, who writes temperance letters for the Congregational Journal, says of the four agencies for promoting temperance, viz., Maine Law, Sons, Washingtonianism, and Moral Suasion, he decides in favor of the latter. So do we; and what of it?

We think that of four agencies to promote honesty, viz., the State Prison, the Common Jail, the Sunday School, and the teachings of an honest Christian mother, we decide in favor of the latter—but it does not follow from this that we demand the pulling down of the State Prison.

Neither does it follow that because Mr. Clark prefers Moral Suasion, that he therefore demands or wishes the repeal of the law. So far from this, he says, expressly:

* * * * We do not intend to imply that the "Maine Law" is of no practical use. Not at all. It had at first, it has still, a silent moral influence, even where it is not judicially executed. It is known to be a law recorded on our statute books, and is, to some extent, "terror to evil doers."—All this is well, and we would have the prohibitory law remain in force, to be executed whenever it can be. In the present state of public sentiment, however, it cannot be relied upon, as a means sufficient in itself to render triumphant the Temperance cause. Past and present experience prove this. But let the law remain as it is, in readiness for effectual use when the sentiment of community can wield it advantageously for the suppression of the sale of poisonous drinks.

☞ In both the former great contests for the Speakership in Congress, the plurality rule was moved by Southern Democrats, Messrs. Stanton and Smith of Tennessee.

Now Southern Democrats talk about the illiberality of their opponents, while they themselves declare they will resist the plurality rule till March, 1861.

In connection with this declaration, Forney's Press makes the following suggestive inquiries.

"By the way, are not Mr. Garnett and gentlemen of his class, somewhat afraid lest Mr. Sherman, should be be elected Speaker of the House, may mount the chair and deliver a strong Union speech, and appoint strong Union committees? And in such an event, may not the stock of red hot coals which certain gentlemen from the South have been substating upon, be exhausted?"

☞ A medicine for small pox, scarlatina, and measles, brought to view twenty years ago, by an English physician, is recommended by a correspondent of the Boston Journal, who gives the recipe and directions, thus:

On the first appearance of fever or irritation ushering in attacks, whether occurring in families or large communities, the subjoined mode of treatment should at once be entered on: Take one grain each of powdered foxglove or digitalis, (valuable in the ratio of its greenness—the dark should be rejected,) and one of sulphate of zinc.—(This article is commonly known as white vitriol.) These should be rubbed thoroughly in a mortar, or other convenient vessel, with four or five drops of water; this done, a noggin (or about four ounces) more, with some syrup or sugar, should be added. Of this mixture, a table-spoonful should be given to an adult, and two tea-spoonsful to a child, every second hour, until symptoms of disease vanish.

Should the bowels become obstructed in the progress of the disease, an evil by no means common, then a drachm of the compound powder of jalap (formed of two parts cream of tartar with one of jalap) and one grain of digitalis, treated as above, formed into a pastil with syrup or sugar, should be given to an adult, and half the quantity to a child. This simple medicine shuts out every other form or article whatever, as totally unnecessary, if not pernicious.

☞ The official canvass in Maine, gives the following summary of the votes for Governor:—

Whole number of votes,	102,261
Necessary to a choice,	51,131
Lot M. Morrill has	56,824
Manasseh H. Smith,	45,318
Scattering,	120

The return from Lee, which gave Morrill 91, and Smith 120, was rejected for informality.

☞ The report of the Auditor of Virginia gives the increase of the white population since 1850, at 22 per cent. or 193,118; and of the slaves and free blacks at 8 per cent. or 43,511. Any one can see that though the slaves and colored people may increase, yet they will shortly come to be an insignificant portion of the people, when the whites increase nearly three times as fast, and are so much ahead of them to begin with. What is true of Virginia, is of all the slave States in that latitude.

☞ Mr. E. Andrews, of Albany, offers "two thousand loaves of fresh wheat bread, of thirty-two ounces each," to the poor of that city, without reference to "creed, color or country," and has arranged with several benevolent persons to take charge of the distribution to worthy applicants.

☞ The N. Y. Saturday Press well says that a Union or a nationality that cannot stand the wildest and most excited discussion of any question that affects its interests, is not worth possessing.

It seems to be a settled fact that the vocabulary of politics must of necessity be a vulgarity. The names given to local divisions of parties in this country are coarse, uncouth and inexpressive.

☞ An anti-slavery convention is being held in Buffalo. Parker Pillsbury and other leading abolitionists are in attendance.

☞ Mayor Wood has forbidden the further pickling of the streets of New York.—Salting the sidewalks he considers a poor way of preserving good walking.

☞ Mr. Shaw, foreman of a steam boiler manufactory in Worcester and given to strong drink, committed suicide on Sunday by hanging himself from his bed-post.

Diseases of Old Age.

As man approaches his allotted three score and ten years the vital powers begin to fail; stimulants of various kinds are used to strengthen the naturally failing system, such as wines, bark, &c. Instead of these, let the aged keep up the supply of the true strengthening element, iron, by the PERUVIAN SYRUP, which offers a protoxide of that metal ready for immediate absorption.

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS." The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "BITTERS," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will accertainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

☞ More alarms, and this time real fires too. Soon after midnight of Wednesday, fire broke out in the old stable of Charles W. Walker, on the opposite side of Green street from his hotel. It was thought to have been set in the hay, of which there were four or five tons, but was soon extinguished by the firemen, without great damage. The Hook & Ladder Company keep their "machine" in the great old stage stable on Hanover street, corner of Fleet—the doors of which were left open during their absence. On their return from this first fire, about half past two o'clock, they found this stable in flames, or rather flames in the stable, which apparently filled the entire lower story of the huge building, and were pushing up smartly into the second. Another alarm soon brought the engines to the spot, and this fire also was extinguished without great loss. The flames appeared to have commenced in a stall near the open door, and though it may have been the work of an incendiary, yet could easily have been set in the lighting of a pipe or cigar.

But for the favorable circumstances—the firemen and their tubs being all "up and dressed," the mild weather, and the good supply of water, so promptly and judiciously applied, the chance for a much larger conflagration seems imminent. Even then, it appears surprising that the firemen did extinguish the flames in such an immense cob-house of wood, so well under weigh.

"FIRE."—Messrs. Editors:—Why cannot we have some system in regard to our alarms of fires? I have often noticed that on a false alarm the bells do not ring till after the alarm is about over, and then they are rung with a will that shows that the man at the rope is determined to earn his stipend. Why could not an arrangement be made to have a fire alarm that would indicate in what portion of the city the fire may be found? and will not our City Fathers place an alarm bell on the Cabot st. schoolhouse, so that a part of the west end may hear the next alarm of fire? And why are our engines not provided with shoes or runners fastened to the wheels, so that they can be taken to fires when there is much snow in the streets, with far less labor than is the case now?

And again, why cannot Portsmouth as well as Manchester have a steam fire engine—a machine that would be rapidly set at work at a fire, and keep at work without the wear and tear of human strength now wasted from one hundred of firemen? Let us have a steam fire-engine and feel more security from fire, with less premium of insurance, have fewer false alarms of fire, pay for the Chronicle in advance, live contented and die peacefully. CHRISTIAN SHORE.

THE FIREMEN'S ELECTION, Tuesday evening, as we have already reported, resulted in no choice of Chief Engineer—which officer must now be appointed by the Board of Aldermen. Mr. Main had most votes on first ballot, and Mr. Deering most at the last; and between these two probably will the choice be made. The Firemen of the city number about three hundred votes, and it is right that they, as well as all other bodies, should elect their own officers or servants—but this time, owing to local or personal attachments, they used up all their time, till midnight, and failed to elect a Chief Engineer. The vote for each Assistant was as follows—the whole number ber thrown being 217.

Joseph Holmes 216; Wm. H. Cornelius 216; John H. Moran 215; William B. Grogan 215; Samuel G. Folsom 215; Thomas P. Dennet 214; Samuel Rowe 212; John E. Rider 199; Benj. M. Parker 197; Moses Yeaton 98.*

* Mr. Yeaton was chosen on a second ballot, when Mr. Wiggin had 8, and 14 scattering.

☞ A citizen who heard a young rowdy say to several companions, Sunday evening that "We will have as good a time tonight as we had last (Saturday) night"—thinks the alarm of fire on Sunday may not have been wholly accidental.

☞ Mr. Lamprey's Social Assembly takes place this (Thursday) evening, on which occasion the new Hall over Jones & Mendum's store will be opened for the first time. This affords the lovers of dancing, a good opportunity to enjoy a social evening, with a respectable company, and agreeable arrangements generally, and at a reasonable rate.

☞ W. H. Senter, the husband of Anne Senter, the actress, died in New Orleans on the same day that the lady's mother died in Buffalo.

☞ "In the midst of life we are in death." We are forcibly reminded of this truth, as we record to-day the terrible disaster of Tuesday at Lawrence. Death comes often at the most unexpected moment, and in the most unexpected manner; but often the saddest reflection in such cases is of the widow and orphans left unprovided for. Life Insurance is a great alleviation of the bitter cup, and a policy under such circumstances comes like a friendly visitor to comfort and relieve.

A Brown Study—Wendell Phillips' Library

CONGRESS, Jan. 10.—Senate.—The entire session was consumed by a speech by Mr. Green, on Pugh's resolution—assailing the doctrine of Squatter Sovereignty and recommending a cessation of agitation and obedience by all parties to the Dred Scott decision. Adjourned.

House.—Mr. Gartrell, of Georgia, addressed the House. Referring to abolition aggressions upon the rights of the South, he announced as the solemn truth, that, if these aggressions continued the South would dissolve the Union, peaceably if she can, forcibly if she must.

After the remarks by Mr. Gartrell, a debate ensued on the slavery question, and without taking a ballot for Speaker, the House adjourned.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The Times' Washington correspondent says Senator Seward yesterday urged upon the Republicans the policy of uniting upon Mr. Gilmer or Mr. Corwin for Speaker. [Very doubtful.]

The suspension of Rufus K. Story, wholesale grocer, was announced yesterday. His liabilities are said to be near half a million.

FRANKFORT, KY., Jan. 10.—At the Democratic State Convention, yesterday, the Committee on Resolutions returned majority and minority reports, the first in favor of the Guthrie and Dred Scott decision, and the latter declaring for Douglas and popular sovereignty.

☞ The Boston Transcript recently alluded to a case where the dividend of a firm was but a few dollars, and said it was next to nothing. But the Boston Sat. Eve. Gazette tells us of a case which recently occurred, where a gentleman consented to act as assignee to a friend to whom he had loaned a couple of hundred dollars.—Thinking he might recover the sum, he consented, but the bankrupt left for parts unknown, and recently the assignee, there being no effects, was obliged to pay the costs of court. This is worse than nothing.

☞ The citizens of Charleston, S. C., have been a good deal exercised in these troublous times by the appearance of a black star posted all about the city. It turns out to be the ingenious device of an editor, to attract attention to a new story which will soon appear in his paper.

☞ On the 19th ult., while on the route to Austin, Texas, Gen. Houston met with a severe accident near Walnut Creek. His carriage was overturned, and the fingers of both hands of his wife were broken or dislocated.

☞ The suspension of Mr. John N. Genin, the well-known hatter in Broadway, New York, is announced. The extent of his liabilities is not yet ascertained, but it is probably large.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease, both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country; while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all cases of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certainty of relief, and herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds, nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officially used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration.

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858, the editor says:—

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential, or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. LAFORME, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in several instances, for bad coughs and colds." Signed by the SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.

BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAFORME, Esq.:

Dear Sir—I had been suffering for a considerable length of time from a severe cough, and had in vain had recourse to nearly all the remedies in use. My cough began to give me much uneasiness from its serious effects on my system, when three days' use of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ restored me to complete health. The medicine being new in this market, I had recourse to it last; but I can now confidently recommend it as the best medicine I know of. Yours, truly

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1.00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAFORME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. BURR & CO., General Agents, No. 20 Tremont street, Museum Building, Boston, and for sale by all druggists. Circulars with testimonials of its efficacy can be had of the Agents nearly

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in one DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

THE
PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to fall very fast, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling of the hair arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head. I was very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very respectfully yours,

BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

SIMMESPORT, LA., July 20th, 1860.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir—Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC the effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like—by publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to do its work very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and in no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds at least 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

STOVE STORE REMOVED.

URIAH BLAISDELL

Has removed his Stove and Furnishing Establishment one door north, to the spacious and convenient store

Nos. 43 & 45 Market Street,

where he is receiving and arranging a large and valuable Stock of

STOVES, TIN WARE, &c.,

Which he offers for sale at wholesale and retail, at very low prices. He has a great variety of the best and most popular Stoves, among which are:

1. The Stewart Cook Stove, with the latest improvements. This is an air-tight Cook Stove, for Wood or Coal; it has moveable coverings, which can confine the heat in the stove, or let it out into the room; has a reservoir of hot water 10 or 20 gallons, and a tin closet beneath—a top cover, which is a great institution for baking, and will keep a coal fire all night; it has a Dutch Oven for roasting in front of the Stove;—and it is every way a most convenient and durable Stove. There are 4 sizes.

The following recommendation of Stewart's Stove, is from an eminent engineer, and must be satisfactory to all who wish to understand the value of this excellent Stove:

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 5, 1859.

Mr. Blaisdell:—Seven years ago I moved to this city, and sold, before I came, a "Stewart's Air Tight Cooking Stove," which I had used about five years. During that time no repairs or expense had been made upon it. Since I have been here I have tried the various Cooking Stoves in use, and find this to be economy and durability the "Stewart" excels them all. I wish you would take away the Stove I now have from my house, and set up one of Stewart's as soon as you can. Your ob't servant,

B. F. CHANDLER.

2. Boston & Maine Cook Stove;
3. White Mountain;
4. Empire State;
5. Enterprise;
6. Exchange;
7. Dining Room Cook Stoves, and others.

PARLOR STOVES.

SEAVEY'S COAL AND GAS BURNER, surpassing everything else of the kind, as a parlor Coal Stove.

THE MAGEE COAL STOVE, highly recommended and esteemed by many.

CAST IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens.

SHEET IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens, of a variety of patterns.

OFFICE AND COUNTING ROOM STOVES.

BOX STOVES, for Schools, Halls and Churches

FARMER'S BOILERS, from 15 to 46 gallons each.

ALSO, FUNNEL, KITCHEN FURNITURE, TIN WARE AND FARMING TOOLS.

All these, and many other articles, too numerous to mention, will be sold at great bargains.

Funnel made, and Stoves and Funnel put up to order, in the best manner.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond all hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a regular physician of twenty years' practice—as a last resort, conceived the idea of ANALYZING THE BLOOD, and applying the subject of physiology to the more immediate connection, and effect of the state of the blood upon the health and system. The result has been the production of this "BLOOD FOOD," from the use of which, Dr. Bronson was restored to perfect health. Within six months after its introduction, over 2000 consumptives were effectually cured by it. If you have any complaints of a consumptive tendency, Cough, Cold, Hoarseness, Palpitation of the Heart, Loss of Appetite, or Pain in the Side, look no time in procuring a bottle of the "BLOOD FOOD." If you are suffering from Nervous Debility, or your sleep is broken and disturbed, if your Spirits are depressed or your organs relaxed, you will find in this an enlivening tonic, by commencing with ten drops. If your Liver is torpid or diseased in any manner whatever, one or two bottles will be sure to invigorate, and bring it into lively and healthful action. In the most inveterate cases of Dyspepsia, the patient can here find the most efficient and grateful relief. A benefit is always experienced after taking only one bottle. In Male or Female Complaints or Weaknesses, the sufferer, after trying other remedies in vain, may rest assured, that a certain cure will result from the use of two or three bottles. The "BLOOD FOOD" is effectual in all cases of Eruptions, Salt Rheum, Scrofulas, and other diseases of the skin, and emaciated children and adults are immediately benefitted by its use. It gives strength to the body, and color and beauty to the skin. Physicians of all schools are using it with wonderful success.

For full directions, see circulars. Price $1 per bottle.

Sold by CHURCH & DUPONT, Druggists, No. 36 Maiden Lane, New York.

And by all respectable Druggists throughout the country. In Portsmouth by W. R. PRESTON. o15

STOVES AND FURNACES

FRANK JONES,

61 MARKET ST., PORTSMOUTH,

Having received a part of his Winter Stock of

SUPERIOR COOKING STOVES,

would invite the attention of those about purchasing, to the largest and best selected stock of COOKING STOVES, of the most approved patterns and valuable kinds to be found in this market; among which may be found

THE CLIPPER, BOSTON & MAINE,
EMPIRE STATE, WHITE MOUNTAIN,
REPUBLIC, BANNER, &c.,

with many others, for wood or coal, which will be sold at such prices as shall defy competition.

The Combination Stove and Range.

One of the greatest inventions of the age, for Cooking purposes,—made expressly for large families, boarding houses, hotels, &c.; or wherever a great amount of Cooking is required in the shortest possible time, it having 3 large ovens, 6 boiler holes and separate apartments for baking, broiling, frying or roasting, requiring no more fuel than any ordinary Cooking Stove. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction in every particular in point of economy, convenience, or ease of management; as we believe it to be far ahead of anything of the kind yet introduced into this market. We therefore ask an examination of the "Combination Stove & Range," feeling confident that it supersedes all others for which it is intended, and will be sold at a very low price.

THE MAGEE.

The Calebrated Magee Patent

Ventilating Parlor Stove.

All sizes—acknowledged by every one to be the

BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.

The fire can be kept through the entire season without once going out, giving the greatest amount of heat from the least fuel of any other Stove known.

The heat can be regulated to the mildest as well as the coldest weather, and at the same time perfectly ventilating the apartment in which they are used. We have sold hundreds of them the past year, and have testimonials of the highest order, acknowledging their superiority over every other Stove yet invented. To every one in search of the best Stove that can be found, we would say,

"Try the Magee."

of the most approved kinds.

STORE, OFFICE & SHIP STOVES;

BOX AND CYLINDER do.

SHEET IRON STOVES, with and without ovens.

Parlor Cook Stoves.

New patterns this season—for wood or coal,—warranted to be the best in the market, and will be sold at such prices as will convince every one that this is the place to buy cheap.

THE MAGEE FURNACES,

7 Sizes—Brick and Portable.

These Furnaces work on the same principle as the Magee Stoves. They are simple and easily operated, requiring only about half the coal of any other Furnace—will keep fire the whole season, and are not liable to get out of order.

We would invite the attention of those interested to an examination of the MAGEE FURNACE, and at the same time refer them to a number of places in this city where we have erected them the past year; and in every instance have given perfect satisfaction.

REPAIRING PEICES,

For most kinds of Cooking Stoves used in this market. Also,

Coal Fixtures and Fire Brick.

HARD WARE AND CASTINGS generally

TIN, SHEET IRON & COPPER WARE, manufactured to order.

☞ Prices as low as at any other establishment in this vicinity, and satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

LOTTERIES.

THE LOTTERIES OF

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

Are chartered by the States of Delaware and Georgia, and have two commissioners appointed to superintend their drawings, and certify that everything connected with the same is done in a strictly honorable manner. They offer to the public a fair opportunity for investment, the interests of parties at a distance being as well protected as though they were present. The Managers would respectfully call attention to the fact, that all persons have a legal right to send orders for tickets to Delaware or to Georgia, as the Lotteries of

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,

are authorized by the Legislature of either State.

A Lottery will be drawn every day at Wilmington, Delaware, and also at Augusta, Ga. All orders received being filled in the drawing next to take place after same comes to hand.

Whole tickets are $10; halves, $5; and quarters, $2.50.

No ticket sent unless the money accompanies the order. Prizes vary from $20 to $50,000.

Every prize is drawn, and the result of drawing forwarded to all purchasers.

☞ A circular showing the plan of receiving it. All communications strictly confidential.

Write your address plainly, and direct to

WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Wilmington, Delaware.

Or to WOOD, EDDY & CO.,
Augusta, Georgia.

☞ All letters to our address will be promptly acknowledged—and prizes cashed without delay.

NOTICE TO CORRESPONDENTS.

Those who prefer not sending money by mail, can use the "ADAMS EXPRESS COMPANY," whereby money for tickets, in sums of ten dollars, and upwards, can be sent us

AT OUR RISK AND EXPENSE,

from any city or town where they have an office. The money and order must be put into a "GOVERNMENT POST OFFICE STAMPED ENVELOPE," or the Express Company cannot receive them.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, under date of 1857.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States, as well as in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages secured to them, not to be obtained elsewhere, in probability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

THE GURNEY ELOPEMENT IN ENGLAND.—[London, (Dec. 32) Correspondent of Manchester Guardian.]—"I see the scandal which has been floating about London clubs and drawing rooms for the last few days—of Mrs. J H. Gurney's elopement with her footman—has now found its way into the Times. There can, therefore, be no further motive for keeping back a few facts in connection with the case. The lady in question was the daughter of the late Richard Gurney, by whom she had a fortune of nearly £25,000 a year, absolute, secured to herself. She was considered the richest married woman in England. All this she is free to dispose of as she likes—in enriching the fortunate flunkey whom she has chosen for partner. Her injured husband has taken the first steps for obtaining divorce, but such is the pressure of divorce business before the Court, fourteen months are likely to elapse before the case will be brought to issue."

A movement has been started in England to encourage young women to learn the trade of watch-making, with a view to qualify them to clean and repair watches—a branch of the business in which there is constant employment in large towns and cities. The widow of a watchmaker in Boston some time ago, maintained herself for years in working for the trade. She was very successful in repairing watches, having been instructed by her husband, when his own power began to fail. The American Watch Company at Waltham give constant employment to a large number of women.—Boston Transcript.

☞ An Alabama Senator, in a recent debate on a bill to prevent the adulteration of liquors, said:

Mr. President, this is the most important measure that has been before this body at this session. Spirituous liquors, sir, is a beverage in which we all indulge, more or less. It is well known, sir, that there are persons so lost to every sense of humanity, as to put strychnine and other poisonous substances in this popular beverage. Sir, in my opinion, the villain who perpetrates so great an outrage ought to suffer death.

☞ A poor man from Stratford, says the Bridgeport (Conn.) Farmer, a few days since on returning from his work, found the doors of his house all open and three little children almost frozen. It seems that his wife had taken three dollars which he had saved to buy a pig with, and been to Bridgeport to buy a pair of ladies' skates, and was skating on a pond near by.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.
The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:
1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make it perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.

THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR
BICKFORDS' SPRING BALANCE,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.
It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.
It balances the sash perfectly at any point.
It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.
It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.
It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights. Also, CARPENTER WORK faithfully executed. CHARLES PRINDALL,

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor tissue can escape its ravages. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by scrofula which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as
ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so compounded that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is soothed and relieved to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.
Not only do these pills cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis, my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been saved from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lung by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thru t upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

FRIDAY, JAN. 13, 1860.

☞ The Democratic convention which was held at Concord on Tuesday, for Senatorial District No. 4, passed a series of resolutions unanimously.

They assert clearly and unequivocally the duty of Congress to pass a slave code for the territories, whenever such code shall be required to protect slavery. They also indorse the Dred Scott decision, and assert that slavery exists in all the Territories, under the Constitution.

They approve of Mr. Buchanan's administration throughout, and say "we will give the President our cordial and unqualified support."

Mr. Butterfield, editor of tae Patriot, was secretary of the meeting.

SHAM POVERTY.—The sympathies of good people in Chicago were last summer taxed to the uttermost to sustain an Irish family, whose squalid and sickly condition was eloquence itself in appealing for charity. The city physician cured them all up, however, and to celebrate their renewed health they sent out for a jug of whisky, tendering a bright guinea in payment.—Search being made, it was found that they had been starving to death all summer, with $1500 in gold under the straw upon which they lay, and furthermore that they had just bought a good farm in the suburbs, paying $590 for it in cash.

NEW HAMPSHIRE HORSE GUARDS.—The Governor's horse guards held their first annual meeting at Concord, Wednesday, Jan. 11th, Col. John H. George presiding. The following officers were elected: George Stark of Nashua, Colonel; A. H. Bellows of Concord, Lieut. Col.; Henry O. Kent of Lancaster, Major; S. P. Pierce of Manchester, Adjt.; the other offices were all filled. The Hussar uniform was adopted. Ex-President Pierce was chosen honorary member and honorary Colonel of the Corps. The Concord cornet band serenaded the officers at their hotels, where speeches were made by several gentlemen. The utmost good feeling and enthusiasm prevails among the corps.

HONESTY.—The Livermore Falls Gazette (Maine) says that a lady, while waiting in that town for a train of cars, lost her portmonnaie, containing $78.83. A little boy found it, and started for the depot to find the owner. Seeing the lady searching along the track, he asked if she had lost anything, and ascertaining that he had her property, he restored it to her. She took it and hurried toward the depot, when turning she generously rewarded the youth with, "I am much obliged to you." What a noble woman!

For the Chronicle.

UNION MEETINGS.—These political meetings got up now are of no use, because the Union is in no serious danger of being dissolved. And then the only party that threatens its dissolution is a portion of the Democrats, who threaten that if a majority prevail in electing a Republican President, they will dissolve it. And these are not rebuked at the Union meetings. And then again, these Union meetings do not satisfy the South, because Northern anti-slavery is not condemned, nor any effort made to prevent the slavery agitation. So the meetings are all for nothing. J. F.

☞ There is a family in Townsend, Mass., consisting of six persons, hale and hearty, all living under the same roof, and eating at the same table, whose united ages amount to 445 years. Daniel Dix, 85 years last April; his wife, 84 years last October; Peter Gilson, 83 years last March; his wife, 82 years last April. These are the parents of Daniel Dix, Jr., and his wife, whose respective ages are 57 and 52 years.

☞ A citizen of Harper's Ferry has sent to Richmond, to be presented to Gov. Wise, John Brown's knife. On one side of the large blade are now inscribed the words "Pirate Chief of Kansas. Attack on Harper's Ferry Armory, 17th October, 1859." On the other side, "Presented to Gov. Henry A. Wise by Archibald M. Kitzmiller."

☞ The late Judge Blackford of the Court of Claims, according to the Indiana Sentinel, leaves no family, and was encumbered with property to the value of a quarter of a million of dollars. He is said to have often remarked that he did not know how to spend money.

SLAVE HIRING IN VIRGINIA.—The Fredericksburgery Herald says:—

"The attendance in town on Monday at the hiring was less than we have ever before noted. Hands for railroad construction hired at $150, and for railroad repairs at $175. Cooks from $35 to $40. Nurses from $20 to $40. Chambermaids from $30 to $50. Farm hands, men, at $75 to $110."

☞ The Lewiston Democrat says the bottom has dropped out of the Peek measure in which the State finances have been deposited.

☞ Father Streeter of Boston married 177 couples in 1859.

DEMOCRATIC STATE CONVENTIONS.—That of Kentucky met at Frankfort, and adopted the majority report, amended by additional and more ultra demands for a slave code. An ineffectual effort was made to endorse the Cincinnati platform; and the politics of Douglas and Minor were denounced.

The Alabama convention met at Montgomery, and opened stormily. Mr. Hunkers moved that Gen. Bunge, of Tallapossa, act as temporary chairman. Mr. Yancy opposed this, and moved that Mr. Sack of Sanderdale act as chairman. Both gentlemen took their seats in the Speaker's stand, in the hall of Representatives, both putting motions amid great noise and confusion. Finally the parties compromised by the selection of a temporary chairman.

In Indiana, the convention met at Indianapolis Jan. 11. Several counties have double delegations, and a fierce struggle is feared on the organization, as the result of that contest will, perhaps, determine the character of the convention. Robert Lowry, a Douglasite, was elected chairman by a small majority.

In Illinois, at Springfield, the National Democratic State Convention met, and elected delegates to the Charleston Convention. The resolutions adopted declare as Democratic doctrine that neither Congress nor territorial legislatures have the power to exclude slavery from the territories, but that the people, when forming State governments, have the power to permit or exclude it; that the principle of squatter sovereignty is calculated to promote discord, disunion, treason and murder, as politically illustrated at Harper's Ferry; and express full confidence in the national administration, including its policy on the slavery question.

WHO WHISPER.—Pupils in school are liable to whisper very improperly, if teachers do not labor to suppress it. Many who instruct have adopted different expedients to break it up, knowing that a school can hardly be called a good, well-regulated one, if this evil exists.

Some time back I attended religious service in E. E., and observed a person directly before the pulpit, who whispered to one near repeatedly during the sermon. It was annoying to those who witnessed it. I thought strange of it, for that person was engaged as teacher of a school in D. It was complained that one whispered during the service, and that person was also a school-teacher.

And not long ago, a minister in the large village of A. rebuked the practice of whispering which he witnessed in the time of worship, and it was declared by some present that two who were in fault were or had been teachers.

Having specified so many cases of teachers, I should say that they, as a class, are not thus at fault at church. Very far from it. But I wish to say that when any of them, or when parents do as above, they are poor persons to suppress it in children, at school or in meetings. If they were members of schools, they would whisper if possible. Reversing a proverb the Saviour once used, if they do these things in the dry tree, what would they do in the green? J. F.

☞ Just hear how Mrs. Croly, the lady local of the Rockford Daily News, counsels her sex in view of the fact that 1860 is leap year:

Are the girls aware that this is leap year—a grand chance for those who feel that they are verging toward uncertainties, to make a desperate plunge. We know one or two gentlemen who certainly ought to be brought into the marriage state, and probably the right kind of tactics would induce them to come to the same conclusion. A little care, a little caution, so as not to scare the poor victims, and the game may be your own, girls.

☞ The Bath Times speaks of a passage in a steamboat, wherein the passengers gave up the saloon for the Hutchinsons to have a concert, paid 25 cts. a ticket, and then were insulted with a piece called "Nebrascality," and other abolition doggerel.—The Hutchinsons have always been abolitionists; and we suppose never gave a concert without singing one or more songs of freedom—and sometimes with great displeasure and blame from some of the audience. But they have never changed their course on that account.

☞ In the Legislature of Massachusetts, on Wednesday, the House adopted an order directing the Judiciary Committee to consider the expediency of providing by law for the inspection of mills and other buildings occupied for manufacturing purposes, with a view to greater security against fire and other casualties.

☞ In Baltimore, on Thursday evening, Mary Schwartz, sixteen years of age, was sitting in company with a young man named John Jeffrey, when her clothes caught fire from the stove, and despite the active exertions of the young man, she was so terribly burned that she died in a few hours. Jeffrey was badly burned in his efforts to save her.

If every mind were delicate and refined, could the passion of love know any satiety?

☞ A regular meeting of the Board of Engineers was held on Wednesday evening, at the Court House, Chief Engineer Josiah G. Hadley in the chair. Minutes of last meeting were read and approved; the roll was called by the clerk. Sundry bills were approved.

The following resolutions were unanimously adopted:—

Resolved, That the thanks of the Board of Engineers be tendered to Chief Engineer Gen. Josiah G. Hadley for the able and impartial manner in which he has presided over our deliberations during the past year, and for the uniform courtesy with which we have been treated on all occasions when on duty.

Resolved, That our thanks be returned to Samuel G. Folsom, Esq., for the prompt and faithful manner in which he has performed the duties of Secretary of the Board; also to Robert Shillaber, Esq., for his valuable services as Messenger.

Resolved, That a copy of these resolutions be published in all the city papers.

☞ Mr. Phillip J. Cootey, from Lowell, who has been holding a Dancing School here this season, closes his first term this (Friday) evening, with a "Grand Opening Ball," at the new Hall in Market street.—Elliott's Band of five pieces furnishes the music; besides which it is announced that Ned Kendall, the inimitable bugler, is to perform on his favorite instrument, his celebrated Wood Up solo among other pieces,—which attraction alone is richly worth the price of admission. See the advertisement.

POLICE COURT.—Before Justice Odell. Stephen Goodwin was found guilty of stealing two blankets, and sentenced to jail 30 days, topay $12 damages; costs 5.63.—Committed. The same Stephen Goodwin was fined $10 for stealing clothing from a cloth store; to pay $2.50 damages; costs $8.12.

☞ The Annual Report of the City Mission in Portsmouth, presented Nov. 26, 1859, has been printed in a neat pamphlet, by C. W. Brewster & Son. It is worthy of careful perusal by economists, as well as by philanthropists and christians.

☞ The Piscataqua Association of ministers, will meet at New Market, Tuesday, Jan. 17th, at 10 A. M., in the Congregational Church.

WASHINGTON ITEMS.—The mail contractors continue to throw up the contracts, finding it impossible to continue the service, through the failure of Congress to make appropriations. The Department daily receives numerous notices of abandonment of service, from various sections, and all bids for unfilled contracts demand double and treble the recent compensation. Arrangements have been made for continuing the service in some cases.

Letters from some of the leading bankers in New York state that, owing to the non-organization of the House, Post Office scrip will not be purchased at higher rates than were paid six months ago.

☞ At Lawrence, Mass., the opinion is expressed that the dead will reach 125—the wounded 162.

$5000 was subscribed for the sufferers, by gentlemen in Boston, who postponed indefinitely a great dinner they were going to have, at the Parker House.

A Sunday School Convention, at Lawrence, was postponed one fortnight.

Most of the Mills did not run on Wednesday.

Messrs. Editors:—Next to the great pleasure one experiences in the elucidation and practical application of truth, in his own mind, is that of having a comprehensive view taken by others, and in this view the most cordial fraternal sympathy is due from "P. J. A." to "Y".

The main object of the articles alluded to was to indicate what the writer fully believes would prove an entirely successful mode of proceeding for disentangling the moral complications of the age and the world. He does not intend the theoretical complications in distinctly spiritual matters; for this there are already set teachers, and this is their appropriate work.

He, however, speaks experimentally when he advocates the use of bread of a wholesome quality in opposition to that which is bad and unwholesome; also when he refers to what he believes to be a perversion of one of the richest bounties of our Heavenly Father, by the converting of milk into butter and cheese. On both these points much could be written and said, which the writer is somewhat precluded from doing by other necessary engagements. He must therefore stop with stating in as brief a manner as possible the results of what knowledge and experience he has already attained, and can but hope that "Y." and other candid minds will bring like contributions, and thus "keep the ball rolling."

Diseases of Old Age.

As man approaches his allotted three score and ten years the vital powers begin to fail; stimulants of various kinds are used to strengthen the naturally failing system, such as wines, bark, &c. Instead of these, let the aged keep up the supply of the true strengthening element, iron, by the PERUVIAN SYRUP, which offers a protoxide of that metal ready for immediate absorption.

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

Sold by druggists, by W. W. LOVELL, BOSTON, and for sale by Wm. R. Preston, David Kimball, Nathan P. Thacher, J. H. Thacher, and B. Hutchins (Portsmouth), A. P. Packer, Greenland; and dealers everywhere. spnot swd&w

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASES.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease, both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the destructive progress of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country; while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial, or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease, but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in this city. It seems that his friends and relatives had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of some remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1 00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAPORTE, sole Agent, Boston.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with, even if lug to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have resisted all, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS.—These Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in one day remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

The Great English Remedy!

Sir Jas Clarke's celebrated Female Pills

Prepared from a Prescription of

SIR J. CLARKE, M. D.,

Physician Extraordinary to the Queen.

This well known and celebrated female medicine, is not a sure and safe remedy for Female Difficulties and Obstructions, from any cause whatever; it contains no Iron, Steel, Antimony, or any other hurtful to the Constitution.

In all cases of Nervous and Spinal Affections, Pain in the Back and Limbs, Hurried Breath, Fatigue on slight exertion, Palpitation of the Heart, Lowness of Spirits, Hysterics, Headache, Whites, and all the painful diseases accompanying the disordered system, these Pills will effect a cure when all other means have failed.

These Pills have never been known to fail where the directions on the Second page of Pamphlet are well observed.

☞ To married Ladies it is peculiarly suited. It will, in a short time, bring on the monthly period with regularity.

For full particulars, get a pamphlet, free, of the agent.

N. B.—$1 and six postage stamps enclosed to any authorized agent, will insure a bottle, containing over 50 pills, by return mail.

CITY COUNCIL.—JAN. 12.

BOARD OF ALDERMEN.—Chas. E. Main was appointed Chief Engineer, and the Assistant Engineers elected at the Firemen's meeting, were confirmed.

The Common Council resolution, concerning Pipesmen's suits and putting water fixtures into the Engine Houses, was concurred in.

COMMON COUNCIL.—A joint resolution was introduced by Mr. Rider, and discussed at length and passed,—to introduce water-fixtures into the several Engine Houses; also to furnish each Pipesman with a duck suit for protection from water at fires.

A joint resolution, introduced by Mr. Rider, to appoint a committee to inquire into the expediency of increasing the salary of the City Marshal, to demand the devotion of his whole time to his official duties, and furnish him an office, was passed unanimously.

Considerable discussion was had concerning fires and alarms, and ringing bells; but no action taken.

☞ The third fire alarm on Thursday morning, about 7 o'clock, after the Chronicle was printed—was caused by the burning of a heap of spruce boughs, which had been used for Christmas decorations of the Catholic Church, and were lying piled up against the back end of the building, outside. Fire was set to this and covered with an umbrella—but was extinguished without other damage than burning the umbrella and again disturbing the people.

We also hear rumors that attempts were made to set on fire the Old South Church, and a barn at the South End,—making five incendiary efforts in all; but there is no truth in them, nor in the report that an incendiary was arrested. But the men who discovered the fire in the Hook & Ladder stable, feel sure this was set intentionally.

Mr. Walker is confident his stable was not intentionally fired, but thinks it might have caught by sparks from the freight engine, which passed an hour or so before;—and that the closeness of the building prevented the fire from burning freely, till discovered by a passer, who saw the smoke and gave the alarm in time to save the horses and all other contents except the hay.

☞ We are glad to learn that Messrs. Tobey & Littlefield, at their yard on Noble's Island, have the frame nearly gotten out, for a ship which they are to build forthwith.

☞ The fire insurance in the Pemberton Mills is said to be $415,000, in thirty companies. The general impression is that the insurance companies will not be obliged to pay any more than will cover the value of the ruins, as they lay before the fire commenced.

It is stated that since the building has been in the possession of its present owners, it has been doing a very prosperous business, and rumor says has cleared for its owners $150,000.

CONGRESS, Jan. 11.—In the Senate Mr. Green continued his remarks on Mr. Pugh's resolution, contending the territories have no power to prohibit slavery, urging a union of the Democratic party, and expressing confidence in the perpetuity of the Union.

Mr. Pugh followed, in reply to Messrs. Iverson and Green.

In the House Mr. Scranton called attention to the proceedings of the recent Union meeting in Luzerne county, Pa. and spoke in favor of Mr. Sherman.

Mr. Campbell endorsed the patriotic sentiments of the resolutions, and in reply to Mr. Gartrell's remarks yesterday,—showed that the productions of Pennsylvania, mineral and agricultural, for one year, were $200,000,000, while the entire cotton crop of the South was not more than $2,850,000.

The House was called to vote for Speaker.

Whole number of votes	221
Necessary to a choice	111
Sherman	108
Hamilton	81
Gilmer	19
Davis (of Ind.)	4
Florence	3
Scattering	6

After considerable discussion of a rambling character, a second ballot was taken.

Whole number of votes 221. Necessary to a choice 111. Sherman 109; Hamilton 75; Gilmer 26; Davis (of Ind.) 8; Scattering 6. Adjourned.

In the last two votes on Monday, Sherman had 105 votes.

☞ As in Job's time, so now; sometimes when decent people come, in comes one whose room is better than his company.—Many people go to Lawrence to assist and comfort; but then some rowdies go also.—Among them intemperance prevails to a disgusting degree, and after bad rum began its work, their performances inspired contempt for them.

At the Franklin House there was a crowd, and a party of roughs created a row which ended in broken chairs, bloody noses and torn clothing.

At the depot a small party of young inebriates who loudly boasted that they were "Manchester boys," and could "lick all Lawrence," were very anxious for "a fight." The crowd suddenly surged, and the vaunted prowess of the Manchester party was inadequate to the pressure. They rolled from the platform into the dirt. They showed no more fight.

THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE,

A CARD.

Engine Co. No. 4, wish to tender their sincere thanks for refreshments received from Mr. Chas. W. Walker, at the burning of his stable. Also to Messrs. Folsom and Gerrish at the fire on Hanover street. Per Order.
T. J. TRAFTON, Clerk.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT.

The Leading Hosemen of PISCATAQUA Engine Company No. 4, hereby tender their sincere thanks to Assistant Engineer JOHN E. RIDDLE, for the bountiful supply of refreshments furnished them, after the fires on Thursday morning.—The material aid thus supplied to the inner man, exhausted by double duty, was rendered all the more palatable and acceptable, as a compliment from the South End to Christian Shore. We give—A united Fire Department, with prompt members and efficient officers. Per Order.

A CARD.

The Officers and members of Atlantic Engine Co. No. 6, would return their sincere thanks to Gustavus V. Rowe, Geo. W. Jenness, John Ferguson, and Mrs. James Pindar, for their many acts of kindness shown us at the fires on Thursday morning. Also for their liberal supply of refreshments, furnished us at our Engine House, after our return. Per order of the Foreman.

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $3 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE
GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

SATURDAY, JAN. 14, 1860.

SINGULAR MONOMANIA.—A well educated German youth, seventeen years of age, recently had the thumb and fore-finger of the right hand cut off in the machinery of a steam cracker bakery in McKeesport, Pa. He shortly after disappeared, and was, after the lapse of several days, found dead in a cove a mile distant. He shot himself through the head. He was, probably, the victim of monomania, for he had been frequently heard quoting passages from the Bible relative to maimed persons being excluded from the presence of God.

The poor fellow probably repeated such passages as are found in Leviticus, chap. 21, and Deut. chap. 23,—and thus became the victim of an ignorant monomania, which makes thousands of people miserable in life, and drives numbers to despair and suicide, by the misapprehension and perversion of a book of glad tidings, into a dreadful code of pains and penalties.

IS THE WORLD A MISTAKE?—One of the saddest mistakes which good people have made, is in supposing the world to be a mistake. To these people—and their number is not small—the earth is but a theatre of pain and sickness, sorrow and death. Joy is illusive, pleasure a cheat, and happiness a thing impossible, and not even to be looked for on this side of the grave. The performance of all duty is the "taking up" of what they call a "cross." They are actually afraid to be happy, under an overshadowing impression that they have no right to be happy in this life. They believe there is something intrinsically bad in the world that they inhabit, and the joy that proceeds from it. They have an idea that the moral evil which afflicts the human race, has struck in. To them life is a trial—severe, unrelenting, perpetual. All that seems good and graceful and glorious in the world is a hollow sham, for the deception of the unwary and the ruin of the unwise.

DOGS.—A freeze is always dangerous on account of dogs. They can get no drink, and become mad. Every person owning a dog should be careful to supply the animal with water, daily, as the best preventive against hydrophobia. Frequent cases of this terrible disease occur in severe weather, simply because the poor dogs can get no water. Ice and snow only aggravate thirst,—they must have water.

It is true of all animals, even sheep—they should have water. We know, by actual experiment, that a flock of sheep will be healthier, increase more rapidly, and pay better every way, for a daily watering, winter and summer.

FRUIT GROWING. — Noticing the increased interest manifested in the proceedings of the Fruit Growers' Association of Western New York, the Rochester Union says:

"Fruit-growing in this section of the State is hardly less important to our farmers than wheat-growing, and may be prosecuted with less outlay of capital and labor, and quite as much certainty of success.

Choice fruit brings fabulous prices, and yet finds ready consumption. Agriculturists have every inducement to give fruit culture earnest attention.

☞ We learn from Paris that the Marquis de Gallifet, who fought a duel with Count Lauriston, thinking that the blow in the face which the Count gave him had not been sufficiently atoned for by the sword-thrust which he received through his own shoulder, had another fight with his adversary. The weather being too cold to permit the gentlemen to remain in the open air with their breasts uncovered, the duel took place in a carpenter's shop, hired and cleaned out for the occasion. M. de Lauriston was slightly wounded in the hand, and Marquis Gallifet more severely in the hip. The seconds declared that "honor was satisfied," and the principals thereupon shook hands, and mutually expressed regret at the causes which led to the difficulty, Lauriston leading in the acknowledgments.

GEN. SCOTT NOMINATED.—New York, Jan. 12.—An address to the Union-loving people of the United States appears in the morning papers, announcing the formation of a new party, with Gen. Scott as their candidate for the Presidency, and Gen. Houston for the Vice Presidency. The address is signed by G. W. Savage, chairman of the Scott Committee.

[A dead-set, heavy load, small team, and hard road to travel.]

☞ Dr. Palmer, the man who was arrested at Memphis several weeks ago, on suspicion of being a confederate of Old Brown in the attempt to excite a servile insurrection in the Southern States, died at the Planter's House, in Memphis, on Saturday of Consumption.

SUDDEN DEATH.—The Manchester American informs us that Mr. George W. Hackett of that city, died Wednesday evening at Morey's saloon. He was eating with others, when it was noticed that he had become speechless. He died in a few minutes.

This is the foundation of contentment in all conditions and of patience under sufferings, that death, which is not far off, when it removes us out of this world, will take us from all the sufferings of it.

GOVERNOR'S HORSE GUARDS.

The regular annual meeting of this regiment was held on Wednesday last, at the City Hall, Concord, and was largely attended. Col. Bellows, chairman of the Committee on Uniform, had procured specimen suits, one of which he donned for the inspection of the corps; and just before the hour of meeting, passed in front of the City Hall, mounted upon his well trained steed, prancing and curveting most Horse Guardedly. The effect of the crimson dolman upon the blue ground-work of the suit, proved very striking, while the black and shaggy lambskin cap gives a decidedly warlike look to the face. On the whole we are satisfied that for service, neatness and striking effect, the Huzzar uniform cannot be surpassed, and we are not surprised that it was adopted as the uniform of the corps with entire unanimity.

Dr. Fuller asked leave to make a few trifling amendments in the constitution and by-laws reported by him at the last meeting, which amendments were accepted; the by-laws were then adopted without a dissenting voice.

A committee of ten were appointed to nominate officers for the corps, and the appended list gives the selections of the committee, all of whom were unanimously elected. There was no log-rolling, wire-pulling, or scrambling for office; but it seemed the desire of all to put the right man in the right place. As an indication of the unanimity of the committee, we may state that when the chairman, Gen. Abbott, requested gentlemen to deposit their ballots for the choice of a candidate for the office of Colonel, no word was uttered; but an examination of the slips of paper discovered the name of Gen. George Stark of Nashua written upon each and all. A more affable and excellent man, a better military officer, a more devoted and influential member of the corps, could not have been selected.—His selection as commanding officer of so respectable a body of cavalry, is an honor to the man, even as the name of STARK is an honor to the corps.

The recommendation of the committee to divide the regiment into four companies, was adopted, and the officers of the companies, as well as those of the staff, were scattered about the State. Of the staff officers, it will be observed that the Paymaster, (who by the way takes the rank of Captain,) the Assistant Surgeon, the Quartermaster Sergeant and Drum Major, are residents of the eastern section of the State; while among the company officers will be found located in this vicinity one Captain, one 1st Lieut., one 2d Lieut., two Sergeants and three Corporals.

Ex-President Pierce was unanimously elected an honorary member of the corps, and the rank of Colonel was conferred upon him.

Provision was made for the procurement of the uniform and equipments, by the committe, for such as desire, and an adjournment was had, the corps to meet again at the call of the commander.

The "Governor's Horse Guards" is now now a fixed fact. Its success is certain, as it numbers to-day one hundred and ninety-one members, representing the business, professional and literary talent as well as the wealth of the Granite State. It is in the hands of men of energy, ability and military skill; and with such soldiers and such officers, to falter or to fall would be impossible.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Thursday, Jan. 12, Mr. Pugh explained the meaning of the Kansas-Nebraska bill, which he regarded as a surrender of the power of Congress over the Territories. He denied that the Dred Scott decision was susceptible of the President's interpretation. The President seemed to think that the frequent assertion of the same thing would cause it to be finally accepted as a fact. It might be accepted by placemen and admirers, but the claim that there was any vested right to hold slaves in the Territories by virtue of that decision, was not sustained by the facts.

An exciting debate followed. Pugh, Davis, Douglas, Green and Clay participated. Mr. Douglas defended the consistency of his course. He charged that others had changed their views, and said he would not accept the nomination of the Charleston Convention, unless the platform agreed with him. He would reply fully hereafter to the attacks made upon him.

In the House, Mr. Sherman called attention to Mr. Houston's remarks on him, and wished to know whether they were personal or political.

Mr. Houston answered that he did not intend them as personal—and Sherman was satisfied with the disclaimer.

A personal debate sprung up between Haskin and McRae, and a general fuss ensued, in the course of which Haskin asked a question of McRae, to which he gave a sharp, harsh reply.

Mr. Haskin made some remarks amid cries of "order."

Soon the members of all sides were on their feet.

Clemens said he saw Haskin take a pistol from his breast.

Davidson gave notice that when he again came to the House, he would bring his shotgun with him.

Harris said that was making game of the House.

Haskin subsequently explained how the pistol happened to fall from his breast.

After some further remarks, the House adjourned in good order. No vote for Speaker was taken.

VICE AND LUXURY.—The following passage on the relation of luxury and ostentation in Rome, and the vices of the empire, is taken from a work "On the Strength of Nations," by Andrew Bissett, just published in London:—

There seems to be an association between certain vices and a profuse and ostentatious extravagance in dress, both in men and women; but particularly in the latter. The Countess of Somerset, — the murderess of Sir Thomas Overbury, (and, as was suspected, Prince Henry,) wore on the occasion of her marriage with the Earl of Somerset, a coronet which was valued at £400,000; and the clothes of the Earl of Somerset also were covered with precious stones. Aggrippina, the wife of the Emperor Claudius, who like the English Countess above mentioned was an adulteress and murderess, appeared in public, on one occasion, in a magnificent robe, which, as some read the passage, was a tissue of pure gold, without any other intermixture of other materials. Caligula was lostly and effeminate in his dress, to such a degree as to appear in shoes composed of pearls. The effect of this on the dress of the Roman women, of that time may be judged of by what appears at the present day, when we see many women without regard to the means of their fathers and husbands, striving to ape queens and empresses in the extravagance and costliness of their dress. It is not such foolish luxury that enables the women to produce the men who constitute the real strength of a nation—men "such as the Doric mothers bore."

NO DIFFERENCE.—A certain deacon, called Higley, used to trade horses at the Berkshire cattle market. Stired up by the preaching of his minister, he, one Sunday afternoon, "after meetin," thus communicates to one Brown, a brother of the church and the craft:—"You don't s'pose, brother Brown," he argued, "you don't s'pose them little stories—sort o' lies like—that you and I tell in the way of trade, will be reckoned agin' us in the day of judgment? Sarcumstanced as we are, we can't help it, you know." "I don't s'spose it makes no difference in the sight o' the Lord, long's the heart's all right, brother Brown." And the brother went home comforted.

☞ William Morrow & Co., miners at Poverty Bar, California, cleaned up, some two weeks since ninety pounds of gold.—This was the product of eight weeks washing in sluices, eight men employed, or nearly $47 per day to the hand.

RELEASED.—Benj. D. Peek, the defaulting State Treasurer, was released from jail last evening. The amount of bail required was $60,000, which was furnished from Portland.—Bangor Whig, 12th.

There are many doublings in the human heart: do not think you can find out the whole of a man's character at once, unless he is a fool.

Wise men are instructed by reason, men of less understanding by experience, the most ignorant by necessity, and brutes by nature.

If you have not the indulgence to pardon your friends, nor they the same to pardon you, your friendship will last no longer than it can serve both your interests.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 12.—The Pennsylvania Republican delegation, under the lead of Senator Cameron, waited upon Senator Seward to-day, and severally paid their respects to him.

When you find you don't care to look into your affairs, you may assure yourself that they will soon not be fit to look into.

☞ In two days $10,000 were raised in Boston, for the poor suffers at Lawrence.

Diseases of Old Age.

As man approaches his allotted three score and ten years the vital powers begin to fail; stimulants of various kinds are used to strengthen the naturally failing system, such as wines, bark, &c. Instead of these, let the aged keep up the supply of the true strengthening element, iron, by the PERUVIAN SYRUP, which offers a protoxide of that metal ready for immediate absorption.

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is wanted, is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS." The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any other known for those complaints, in all their various forms.

CAUSES OF POVERTY.

In the Annual Report of the Portsmouth City Mission, Mr. Medbery, city missionary, speaks as follows:

The question very naturally arises—How comes there to be so much poverty among us?

To this we would reply, that in many cases the persons or families are such as have seen better days, but from misfortune or sickness are now obliged to struggle hard and endure many privations. Such persons, but for the aid of a delicate, yet ever-watchful charity, would really be greater sufferers than many who present themselves before us in circumstances of the most abject poverty.

Then, too, our Alms House contains so many foreign paupers as to make it unpleasant to our own population except in extreme cases, to go there. The house itself appears well conducted. Calling there, as your missionary often does, and frequently at times when the keepers do not expect him, he is happy in being able to say that he always finds the inmates clean, comfortable, and well cared for.

But they are for the most part foreigners. No one who is in the habit of visiting them can wonder that our own respectable poor will prefer to suffer much, rather than be associated with such people. And, until some more effective means are devised for separating between our own and foreign paupers, we shall have to witness much destitution, or make liberal contributions to meet it. Many of this class have received aid from the overseers of the poor, who, with the city government, have always cheerfully co-operated with the Mission.

Want of employment is one great cause of poverty among us.

But the greatest discouragement we meet with, one that does more than any and all other causes combined towards making and keeping a large class of our population poor and miserable, is intemperance. We ought not to shut our eyes against the fact that this evil is rapidly increasing among us; and that it is numbering among its victims many of our youth, as well as those who have long since been given up as confirmed inebriates.

Your hearts would sicken, as his often has, could you follow your missionary to many places in our city which are the only homes of dependent, and in some cases, hard working children. At one time we are summoned to a place where the father, in a fit of intoxication, has done more mischief in a single hour than he could repair by months of labor. Again, we are called where the mother has given herself up to intemperance, and her helpless children, worse than motherless, look like the true picture of destitution. Some of the older ones are perhaps in the mill. It may be they went in without their breakfast; at any rate, the prospect is that no warm and comfortable meal awaits their return. Or need we expect to find them decently clad; for no small share of their hard earned wages goes for that which is making their homes so wretched.

Still worse than this, your missionary has stood in a dwelling where both parents were under the influence of rum. Their garments were torn, their faces and arms bruised, and their furniture broken to pieces. Beds had been torn up and their contents scattered around; children were neglected, or had even been injured in the affray; and every thing was looking as filthy as possible. In one case, where, through the aid of benevolence, a family were beginning to live comfortably, he was suddenly summoned to witness the wreck of all things. The mother was dreadfully bruised. The stove and other furniture had been broken to pieces. Clothing, and bedding of all kinds, had been torn to strings. All was the work of rum, or of passion made ungovernable by its influence.

Then comes another tale of woe. A father has been imprisoned for crimes committed during a fit of intoxication. His family, thus deprived of his earnings, and having nothing to fall back on, stretch out their hands to us for aid, and tell how kind and provident a husband and father he was, when rum was let alone.

Were a foreign foe to enter our port and do one-half the damage which rum is doing among us, our whole population would be ready to arm themselves against him. And shall nothing be done to arrest the progress of this more secret, yet more cruel and dangerous enemy?

FIRE AT THE SHOALS.—On Thursday afternoon, about 4 o'clock, a bright fire was seen from Newburyport, in the range of the Isles of Shoals, a little to the north of the meeting-house in Gosport.

There are in Pennsylvania 11,485 public schools, 14,021 teachers and 634,651 pupils. Including Philadelphia, the cost of tuition was $2,047,661 92; of building expenses $531,413 81; and the whole expense of the system for the year $2,559,075 77.

FIRE—TWO CHILDREN BURNED.—Concord, N. H., Jan. 12.—An alarm of fire was given this morning about half-past nine. The fire was found to be at the dwelling of John Kimball, on Franklin street. The mother had just stepped across the street to a near neighbor's, leaving two little girls, one about six and the other four years old, when a bed in the room where they were left, by some means took fire, burning the little ones sadly. One of them cannot live but a very short time. Hopes are entertained of the recovery of the other. The fire was promptly extinguished without doing much damage to the house.—Mr. Kimball is a harness maker by trade, in the employ of J. R. Hill.

POST OFFICE MATTERS.—New York, Jan. 13.—The Tribune correspondent at Washington says no Post Office script, for the quarter ending 31st of December, has yet been issued, though many accounts are adjusted. Bankers refuse any further purchases, owing to the uncertainty of the House organization. In cases where contractors have thrown up mails, Mr. Holt has directed new arrangements to be made at the same prices, with generally a substitution of weekly for a tri weekly service.

NEW YORK, Jan. 13.—The Secretary of the Navy has directed the commander of the Iroquois to procure a New Jersey pilot to take that vessel to sea, but application in that quarter has met with a prompt refusal. Two other government vessels are now detained at the Navy Yard in consequence of the refusal of Mr. Toucey to pay the pilotage fee.

Propeller Ellen E. Terry, of Hartford, was cut through by the ice in the East river, yesterday, and sunk. She had a cargo of 12,000 bushels of corn. Loss $12,000.

Caleb Cushing addressed the recent Union meeting at Boston. An incident near the close drowned the whole affair in ridicule. Cushing was in the midst of his peroration. He was reigning down his bitterest philippics upon Republican Massachusetts. He compared the old Commonwealth to a ship in a storm, whose crew, drunk with fanaticism, had mutinied, and, in their Bachanalian orgies, were letting the gallant vessel "drift, drift, drift onward to perdition." The audience were breathless, at the vivid picture. Wishing to give a thrust at her Republican Governor, he raised his voice to its highest compass, and screamed, "where is the helmsman? Who is he?" An irreverent Abolitionist in the gallery, with his eye on the State Liquor Agent, shouted in response, "Burnham!" This was too much. The entire audience exploded with laughter. The platform roared, the floor shouted, the galleries screamed for the space of ninety seconds. And during every one of these ninety seconds, the Union drifted rapidly toward a lee shore! Cushing shook with laughter, but with an effort equalled only by that of Pickwick when Blotton, the envious haberdasher, broke the thread of his discourse, recovered his gravity and his voice, and, by superhuman exertion, was able to bring the Union back to its moorings, and his speech to an end, in the space of about one minute.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show: the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the earth under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—it is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful antispasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—it costs so much more than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expence is their advertising; for the same reason, it cannot be sold as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

BLOOD FOOD.

Dr. Bronson, having been so far reduced by consumption, as to be considered beyond hope of recovery by the most eminent of the medical profession, and also by himself—a sojourn for more than twenty years, practice—as a regular physician, and perfectly healthy, now offers to the afflicted and consumptive, the result of his labors and experience, which he has found to be the most wonderful and invigorating restorative ever known to the human family. It is called BLOOD FOOD, and is intended to be a complete renovator of the human constitution, and effect a cure in every case where it is used—a sojourn for life of twenty years practice—a regular diploma, and also a diploma from the Medical College of Paris, France, conferred upon him for the discovery of the medical science of Electro Magnetism, which he has found to be the most powerful agent in the cure of disease in the human system. It purifies and invigorates the blood, and imparts a healthy tone to the whole system. It gives strength to the body, with perfect ease and quietude of mind. STOVE STORE REMOVED.

URIAH BLAISDELL

Has removed his Stove and Furnishing Establishment one door north, to the spacious and convenient store

Nos. 43 & 45 Market Street,

where he is receiving and arranging a large and valuable Stock of

STOVES, TIN WARE, &c.,

Which he offers for sale at wholesale and retail, at very low prices. He has a great variety of the best and most popular Stoves, among which are:

1. The Stewart Cook Stove, with the latest improvements. This is an air-tight Cook Stove, for Wood or Coal; it has moveable coverings, which can confine the heat in the stove, or let it out into the room; has a reservoir of hot water 10 or 20 gallons, and a tin closet beneath;—a top cover, which is a great institution for baking, and will keep a coal fire all night; it has a Dutch Oven for roasting in front of the Stove;—and it is every way a most convenient and durable Stove. There are 4 sizes.

The following recommendation of Stewart's Stove, is from an eminent engineer, and must be satisfactory to all who wish to understand the value of this excellent Stove:

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 5, 1859.

Mr. Blaisdell:—Seven years ago I moved to this city, second, before I came, a "Stewart's Air Tight Cooking Stove," which I had used about five years. During that time no repairs or expense had been made upon it. Since I have been here I have tried the various Cooking Stoves in use, and I think for economy and durability the "Stewart" excels them all. I wish you would take away the Stove I now have from my house, and set up one of Stewart's as soon as you can. Your ob't servant,

B. F. CHANDLER.

2. Boston & Maine Cook Stove;
3. White Mountain;
4. Empire State;
5. Enterprise;
6. Exchange;
7. Dining Room Cook Stoves, and others.

OFFICE AND COUNTING ROOM STOVES.

BOX STOVES, for Schools, Halls and Churches

FARMER'S BOILERS, from 15 to 46 gallons each.

Also, FUNNEL, KITCHEN FURNITURE, TIN WARE AND FARMING TOOLS.

All these, and many other articles, too numerous to mention, will be sold at great bargains.

Funnel made, and Stoves and Funnel put up to order, in the best manner.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Pancea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1,00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 30 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1,00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to all in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 38 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. REV. EDWIN BURSTAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

THEOPHILUS CURRIER,
SALLY CURRIER.

Hundreds of certificates of cures by these innocent, but effectual medicines are received, many of which are printed on his circular which accompanies the medicines. These, with others of DR. SIMEON SWETT'S MEDICINES constantly for sale at his residence in

STOVES AND FURNACES

FRANK JONES,

61 MARKET ST., PORTSMOUTH,

Having received a part of his Winter Stock of

SUPERIOR COOKING STOVES,

would invite the attention of those about purchasing, to the largest and best selected stock of COOKING STOVES, of the most approved patterns and valuable kinds to be found in this market; among which may be found

THE CLIPPER, BOSTON & MAINE,
EMPIRE STATE, WHITE MOUNTAIN,
REPUBLIC, BANNER, &c.,

with many others, for wood or coal, which will be sold at such prices as shall defy competition.

The Combination Stove and Range.

One of the greatest inventions of the age, for Cooking purposes,—made expressly for large families, boarding houses, hotels, &c.; or wherever a great amount of Cooking is required in the shortest possible time, it having 3 large ovens, 6 boiler holes and separate apartments for baking, broiling, frying or roasting, requiring no more fuel than any ordinary Cooking Stove. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction in every particular in point of economy, convenience, or ease of management; as we believe it to be far ahead of anything of the kind yet introduced into this market. We therefore ask an examination of the "Combination Stove & Range," feeling confident that it supersedes all others for which it is intended, and will be sold at a very low price.

THE MAGEE.

The Calebrated Magee Patent

Ventilating Parlor Stove.

All sizes—acknowledged by every one to be the

BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.

The fire can be kept through the entire season without once going out, giving the greatest amount of heat from the least fuel of any other Stove known.

The heat can be regulated to the mildest as well as the coldest weather, and at the same time perfectly ventilating the apartment in which they are used. We have sold hundreds of them the past year, and have testimonials of the highest order, acknowledging their superiority over every other Stove yet invented. To every one in search of the best Stove that can be found, we would say,

"Try the Magee."

of the most approved kinds.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, UNDER THREE ACTS OF CONGRESS.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The subscriber has practiced during the ensuing twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

A LAZY NIGGER.—A correspondent of the Brooklyn Evening Eagle, writing upon the "absorbing topic of the day," thus describes a lazy nigger:—

In all my experience I have never once seen an unhappy slave—except a lazy one; and they are not always unhappy. Did you ever see a lazy negro? No, you have not; an ordinary negro at the South is considered smart if he does as much work in a day as an ordinary white laborer would do in four hours. The laziest white man you ever saw could not begin to be as indolent as a lazy nigger, unless he had three or four men to help him.

But even the laziest nigger has his happy moments, which he would enjoy hugely were it not from the fact that laughing required some effort. And how do you think he gets over that part of his troubles?—When his cachinatory muscles are unable longer to resist the pressure which a joke has for some seconds made upon them, he wilts down, and rolling as easily as possible upon his back, opens his capacious mouth, and "yah-yahs!" having accomplished which, he rises slowly and resumes his arduous duties.

BATHING IN THE DEAD SEA.—A pleasant correspondent of the Boston Post writing from Jerusalem, thus humorously describes his Dead Sea bath:—

The Dead Sea has nothing of the desolation which it has been the pleasure of travelers to describe, and it seems to smile at the secret dread with which it inspires the pilgrim. I, of course took a bath here; and for a swimmer who has a fancy to keep his legs as well as his head out of the water, I can imagine that it would be quite pleasant. My French friend, who is not a little inclined to corpulency, complained that he could not get down into the water, and floated about, now one side up and now another, for all the world like an inflated bladder. On emerging from the water it was rapidly evaporated by the sun; and the salt crystalizing on our bodies, gave us the appearance of animated sticks of rock candy, or a family resemblance of Lot's wife. With a sensation upon our skin as if we had been pickled for family use, and with a taste in our mouth compounded of glauber salts and asafœtida, we concluded that one bath in the Dead Sea was enough for a lifetime.

Ireland was an inhabited country at the earliest period of recorded history. It was well known to the Greeks of the time of Aristotle, and is correctly described in the Roman geographies. The tradition is, that it was conquered by Spanish adventurers about 1000 B. C. and that a line of one hundred and seventy-one kings descended from the invading prince. The Greek name of Ireland was Ierne.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.
The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:
1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor believe one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who visits "the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of some foul or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which gendders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR THE DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND DISGORGEMENT, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who has been bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health and energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints; Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner pill, and for purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of the country abounds in instances publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. We feel authorized to confer upon every other medicine of its kind a too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate that antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. Why suffer inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

MONDAY, JAN. 16, 1860.

☞ A wicked and contemptible editorial appears in the New York Herald, in which the following language occurs:

Treatment of the Operatives at the North and South—A Contrast.—The shocking catastrophe which occurred at the manufacturing town of Lawrence, Mass., by the falling of the Pemberton Mills on Tuesday, will strike every humane mind with horror. There is a circumstance in connection with calamities of this kind which at once suggests itself as illustrative of the difference between the labor systems at the North and South. No such accident as this, with its appalling and reckless sacrifice of human life, ever occurs at the South.

To be sure not, says Uncle Toby; because it is impossible, inasmuch as they have no such buildings, and no such collection of workmen in them.

The erection of the wretched shanty was a great fault, for it was the occasion of a great loss of human life. But there has been some loss of life at the South from a bad building; we mean the Richmond Theatre, which burnt about 47 years ago, and killed about 70 people of the first families in Virginia, including the governor of the State.

These people lost their lives chiefly because the one great outer door opened inwards, and the frightened crowd crushed it so close it could not be opened at all!

The Herald goes on to say:

There [at the South] the lives and comforts of the colored operatives are sacredly cared for, while in the manufacturing towns of the North, the poor white operatives are ruthlessly exposed to dangers and misfortunes of all kinds. The stockholders of our Northern manufacturing companies have no consideration for their operatives, except to get the most work they can out of them;—and they care not whether they are hurried to a frightful death by the falling of an insecure building, or whether they perish miserably and forlorn in a poor-house when they can no longer be rendered valuable in the factory.

The best answer to this trash is the fact that in Boston, in two days, $10,000 were raised for the relief of those sufferers at Lawrence.

Uncle Toby very well remembers Mr. James Gordon Bennett, the editor of the Herald, and knows how to appreciate all the kind and sympathetic feelings for operatives, he can possibly express. When Bennett was a book-keeper in Boston, an apprentice or common workman in the establishment could not get the slightest kindness from the big B. in word or action.—And now as he prates of kindness at the North or South, he talks of what he knows nothing about. He has no true idea of it.

☞ The U. S. Senate was not in session Friday, Jan. 13.

In the House, Extra Billy Smith made another exhibition of his folly, and Mr. Bingham answered him accordingly.

Further debate followed on the Speakership. Mr. Pennington offered a plurality resolution—that the House proceed to vote, and if there be no election, then on Monday an election shall be made from the two candidates highest on the list.

Messrs. Barksdale, Clark of Mo., Leake and others objected.

Mr. Washburn of Maine suggested that Mr. Pennington should move the previous question.

Objections and points of order by dozens were raised by national democrats, and discussed amid great confusion.

Mr. Hickman said the discussion could do no good, and that it was evident there could be no vote on Mr. Pennington's resolution; for gentlemen could raise points of order and discuss them indefinitely. Regarding the subject in this light, and having the declaration of the Democratic side that no vote shall be taken on the plurality rule, he moved to adjourn.

Mr. Somes wanted to read a resolution to which there could be no objection. It was that the Clerk be requested to cause the several motions pending to be printed and distributed amongst the members. No question.

The House then adjourned till Monday.

INDIANA DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION.—The majority of the candidates on the State ticket are administration men. The resolutions adopted are very long, and oppose the efforts of the Republican party to kindle anew the fires of fanaticism and to establish laws calculated to infringe upon the rights of the people, [to hold slaves.]

The resolutions wish success to Mr. Buchanan's administration, endorse Gov. Willard's administration, and instruct the delegates to the Charleston Convention to cast their votes as a unit for Mr. Douglas.

☞ The New Orleans Picayune says that Assistant Postmaster King has written a letter to the Postmaster of New Orleans, instructing him as the distance from New Orleans to San Francisco overland, via San Antonio, is less than 3000 miles, to charge only single postage (three cents) on letters by that route.

Charleston, S. C., papers notice the appearance of fresh shad at that port.

☞ A student of Harvard College, named Wm. H. Forbes, is under $5000 bonds to be tried for assaulting police officer Hilton, of Cambridge, with a slung shot. Hilton was a watchman in the college chapel, to preserve it from the depredations of a contemptible club, of which Forbes seems to have been a leader. Forbes broke in, and made some trespass, when Hilton arrested him. Forbes struck and partly stunned Hilton with a "Baltimore billy," a murderous instrument, having a whalebone handle, covered with leather, and a leaden knob on one end as large as an egg. Hilton held on, however, and ironed the gentleman, and so he didn't go home till morning.

The Boston Journal, from which we condense this account says:

The facts above stated are derived from authentic sources, but it is proper to remark that many harsher features of the statement are denied by the friends of Forbes, and that considerable indignation exists among some of the friends of the college that a government which should be paternal should station a man armed with a revolver to enforce the college discipline.

Uncle Toby remarked, when he read this last item, that officers should have revolvers when they watch young gentlemen who carry billies to commit burglaries—and he added that the sooner this young gentleman is set to work hammering stone, sawing wood, or shoveling gravel, the better. Young gentlemen who assault the police ought to be put in the chain gang.

College is no place for them; and they are a nuisance to the college.

IS TOBACCO POISONOUS?—The New York Observer says: Some five years since a gentleman in Philadelphia, at the head of one of the most extensive and wealthy banking houses in this country, literally died of starvation! He was an inveterate smoker, and seldom was without a cigar in his mouth, even during business hours. The habit, contracted in early life, led to the use of a cigar, whether lighted or not, permitting its moistened and chewed surface to remain under his tongue. This was pursued for years, and it resulted in impregnating the glands beneath the tongue, which terminated in cancerous ulcerations. At first it was not regarded with any anxiety, but inflamation was an attendant evil and the immediate cause of death. The roots of the tongue ulcerated, and the throat sympathized with them, until it was almost impossible to swallow or breathe. The only nourishment taken for some months previous to his death was of a liquid character; even that at last could not be received, so swollen and inflamed was the seat of the disorder. Death from starvation and suffocation finally closed the scene, the victim being otherwise in perfect health, though greatly emaciated.

☞ Some time since an old lady and her two daughters entered a daguerrian establishment in Brookville, Pa., and in looking over the portraits, the mother discovered one which she at once recognized as that of her son Robert, who had left home at the commencement of the Mexican war as a volunteer, and had never been heard of since that time. The daguerreotypist gave the address of the original of the portrait, and in a short time the mother found her son residing in Pittsburg.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.—Resolutions approving the firm and dignified course pursued by the Pennsylvania Representatives in Congress, who have opposed a faithless and corrupt Administration in the contest for Speaker, and declaring that Pennsylvania remains true to the Constitution and the Union, treating the threats of disunion with contempt and scorn, passed the Senate finally by a vote of 19 to 11.—They also passed a second reading in the House by 65 to 31, and were read a third time. Pending a discussion on third reading the House adjourned.

FREE NEGROES IN WASHINGTON.—The City Council, apprehending that legislation in the slave States against free negroes would have the effect of increasing the number of that class in Washington, took measures to prevent such immigration; but recent authoritative expositions of the City Charter show that it gives no power of prohibition, and legislation on that subject must be confined to prescribing in advance such reasonable terms and conditions of residence as may tend to repel the idle and disorderly.

If they have not this power now, they will probably not get it very soon, if ever.

☞ The late slave insurrection, reported by telegraph, at Bolivar, Mo., was only a Christmas frolic. The negroes were a little elevated, and the whites the same, and so they exchanged a few shots; but nobody was hurt, and none of the negroes tried to escape.

☞ At Hartford, on Sunday afternoon, Mrs. Michael Daley and her brother became engaged in a quarrel, during which they overturned a kettle of hot water upon two of the children, the youngest of whom is likely to die of its injuries.

☞ The investigation by the Coroner's Inquest at Lawrence, reveals the manner in which the building was erected: showing it to be unsafe. It was 84 feet wide, 5 stories high, and one witness, the mason who built the walls, says they were the thinnest and lightest he ever put into a building so high;—that ordiliary factory walls were 28 inches for the first story; 24 for the next two; and 16 for the remaind er, and all solid.—These walls were double, and weaker on that account—each eight inches, with four inches between; where the shafting was hung the walls were two feet thick, and and gradually lessened to 16 inches; about twenty feet of one end of the building was only 12; pilasters projecting eight inches, were built to the second floor; and projecting four inches to the third floor; and above they were dispensed with, and in their stead little brick projections were laid out from the wall, and the timbers were laid on them.

☞ The Relief Committee for the Lawrence sufferers intend to provide for the poor families who have lost their working members, till spring opens. This will cost $15,000 at least. They had raised $11,000 up to Friday evening, chiefly in Boston;—and $5000 had gone to Lawrence.

The testimony of the engineers and builders is very strong against the walls and pillars, which were not strong enough. Funerals are the order of the day in Lawrence now.

☞ One recapitulation of the dead, missing and wounded at Lawrence is as follows: dead, 60; missing, 48; wounded, 206—total, 323.

The investigation of the coroner's jury in regard to the fall of the Pemberton Mills, develops the opinion of the engineer that the iron pillars inside were of defective material, and more likely to have been the immediate cause of the fall of the mills than the weakness of the walls.—Traveller.

ASSISTANCE FOR LAWRENCE.—Philadelphia, Jan. 13.—Geo. G. Evans, a book publisher of this city, has contributed one thousand dollars to the Lawrence Relief Fund. Mr. Evans began life as a Lawrence factory boy. More aid is coming in.

EXECUTION OF A MURDERER.—Patrick Maude was executed at Newark, N. J., on Thursday, for the murder of his sister, in May last. The culprit made a speech and prayer on the gallows, which were évidently the product of a disordered mind. He attributed his death to Popery and witchcraft, and in his prayer called on God for vengeance upon his tormenters, and prayed that the curse of the Almighty might rest on his sister's soul.

The State of New Jersey, it would seem from this, has hung a crazy man.

The last man who was hung in New Hampshire, was but little better than a non compos.

They manage this thing better in Maine.

SENATOR WIGFALL.—Some events in the life of Mr. Wigfall, the new Senator from Texas, strikingly illustrate the state of Southern society, and the barbarous practices of men educated under the dueling system. Several years ago, Wigfall was a resident of South Carolina, and a member of the Legislature of that State. A difficulty arose between him and Mr. Brooks—the father of the late Preston S. Brooks—and Wigfall posted Brooks as a rascal and coward after the Southern fashion. Mr. Bird, a son of the then wife of Brooks, came to town about the time; but in ignorance of the difficulty called on Wigfall, with whom he was on friendly terms, and invited him to his then approaching wedding.

The two gentlemen were proceeding through the street together, when the placard in question attracted Bird's attention. Turning at once to Wigfall, he asked if he (WY) was its author. Wigfall responded that he was. Mr. Bird then said that he would tear it down. Wigfall forbade him at his peril. Bird, however, did. A shooting affray immdiately followed, in which Bird was killed by Wigfall. A son of Brooks, Sen., took up the quarrel and challenged Wigfall. They met, Wigfall received Brook's fire unharmed, then discharged his pistol in the air. The duel at this point was arrested.

Immediately afterward Wigfall received a second challenge from Preston S. Brooks. known subsequently for his assault on Senator Sumner. This challenge Wigfall declined to accept. The quarrel, however, was not allowed to subside, and to avoid further bloodshed, Wigfall soon after withdrew from the State and removed to Texas, where he has since resided. From his seclusion he has now emerged into the Senate of the United States.

RIPENESS.

The full-juiced apple, waxing over mellow,
Drops in a silent autumn night.
All its allotted length of days,
The flower ripens in its place,
Ripens and fades and falls.
All things have rest and ripen towards the grave.—Tennyson.

Diseases of Old Age.

As man approaches his allotted three score and ten years the vital powers begin to fail; stimulants of various kinds are used to strengthen the naturally failing system, such as wines, bark, &c. Instead of these, let the aged keep up the supply of the true strengthening element, iron, by the PERUVIAN SYRUP, which offers a protoxide of that metal ready for immediate absorption.

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS." The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "BITTERS," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious compounds. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power, the testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

SAMUEL S. PHELPS, } U. S. Senators from Vt.

JAMES F. SIMMONS, U. S. Senator from R. I.
J. T. MOREHEAD, U. S. Senator, and formerly Governor of Kentucky
L. H. ARNOLD, formerly Governor of R. I.
WM. WOODBRIDGE, late Governor of Michigan

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

Prepared by S. W. FOWLE & CO., BOSTON, and for sale by Wm. R. Freeman, David Hutchings, Nathan P. Thacher, J. H. Thacher, and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth; J. P. Packer, Greenland; and dealers everywhere. spuot 4wd&w

Local.

☞ The January term of the S. J. Court, commenced on Monday last at Exeter—Judge Nesmith presiding.

The first and the only jury trial last week was Thos. H. Grenville v. Jos. M. Edmonds, administrator of Jos. A. Locke. The suit was commenced to recover a part of the mansion house and land of the late William Ham, at the corner of State and Middle streets in this city. A large number of witnesses were examined, and the case was given to the jury Friday afternoon.—The jury were out all night, and did not agree, and came in and were discharged Saturday morning. Hatch for pltf.; Hackett and Goodall for deft.

This was Judge Nesmith's first appearance upon the bench, and we understand that he has made a very favorable impression at the commencement of his judicial career.

☞ Mr. Lamprey's Assembly, Thursday evening last, to dedicate Jones & Mendum's new Hall to the muses or graces, (why not christen it ——— Hall?) is reported a decided success. The highly respectable company was as large as could well be accommodated, and all passed off pleasantly. The hall is one of the neatest and most agreeable for forty or fifty couples of dancers;—and a capital place for the musicians. Mr. Lamprey's next Assembly, we believe was announced for Thursday evening next.

☞ Ned Kendall (for some reason or other) did not make his appearance in Portsmouth, Friday evening, according to agreement, expectation and announcement; so Mr. Cooley (though he had plenty of other good music present) concluded to postpone his Ball, we are informed, till next Wednesday evening. His dancing school has not yet closed, as was stated.

☞ Mrs. Bishop, who is announced to Read in Portsmouth next week, is a very celebrated and popular reader.

THE LAWRENCE TRAGEDY AND THE BOSTON SATURDAY GAZETTE.—Clapp's Saturday Gazette of last Saturday contains a very full account of the recent awful disaster at Lawrence, accompained by accurate illustrations of the Pemberton Mill, of the ruins, and of other interesting objects connected with the catastrophe, drawn upon the spot expressly for the Gazette. May be had at Morse's.

☞ Whole number of deaths in Hampton for the year 1859, 21; three over 80 years of age; eight over 70; and eleven over 50 years of age.

Joseph Dow, A. M., of Hampton, intends soon to issue proposals for publishing by subscription his history of that town, upon which, as is well known, he has been many years engaghd. It will include North Hampton, Hampton Falls, and the other towns embraced in ancient Hampton. Mr. Dow will, we feel assured, make a thorough and reliable history.—Statesman.

☞ A Grand Social Ball will be given at Chesley's Hall, Rye, Thursday evening, Feb. 9, 1860. Music by Elliot's Quadrile Band. Tickets 50 cents, supper extra. Dancing to commence at 8 o'clock.

FIVE DAYS LATER FROM EUROPE.

ARRIVAL OF THE STEAMER NEW YORK.

Halifax, Jan. 13.—The steamship New York, from Bremen, via Southampton, 29th ult., arrived at this port, this forenoon, for one hundred tons of coal with which to continue her voyage to New York. She has had heavy weather, but sustained no damage.

The New York brings the London Times of the 26th ult.

GREAT BRITAIN.—The occurrence of the Christmas holidays had caused quietness in the English markets. Consols were quoted at the close of business on the 28th ult., 95 1-2 a 95 5-8. The demand for discount was active in view of the payments of the end of the year, but there was no pressure. The ruling rate was 2 1-2 per cent.

FRANCE.—There had been a decline on the Paris Bourse. The Rentes were quoted 69 59 francs 70 centimes.

SPAIN.—There is nothing of interest as to the war between Spain and Morocco. The Queen of Spain had been safely delivered of a Princess.

THE CONGRESS.—The Pope refuses to be represented in the Paris Congress unless the rumored authorship of the pamphlet entitled "Le Pope et Le Congress," be denounced by Napoleon.

CHINA.—Advices from China state that the government of that Empire had applied for American mediation to avert the threatened hostilities with England and France.

The ship Flora Temple, with eight hundred coolies, bound to Havana, had been wrecked in the China Sea.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 13.—The contract for constructing public works, for which Congress failed to make appropriation at the last session, are now here in full force to urge upon Congress the necessity of immediate organization. The payments may be made for materials delivered under their various contracts. They are said to be suffering even more than the mail contractors.

An effort is making to-night to concentrate the Democratic vote upon Mr. Botsler of Virginia. It is said that assurances have been given that 91 Democratic votes can be thrown for him.

DEFEAT OF CORTINAS.—The Times' Washington correspondent says the official report of Heintzleman has been received by Secretary Floyd. He gives the details of the battle of the 27th ult., with Cortinas. The latter with 600 men was intrenched one mile above Rio Grand City. Capt. H. attacked him with 150 regulars and 180 rangers. Cortinas retreated, and a running fire was kept up for ten miles, when the outlaws dispersed, Cortinas, with 20 men, swimming the Rio Grande river. All Cortinas' artillery and supplies were captured. Cortinas soon afterwards appeared before Romier, a small town, and threatened to to burn it, and Capt. Stone's company of cavalry were sent to occupy it. Company C, First Artillery, is occupying Fort Ringgold. Captain H. begs that new troops may be sent him, and urges the positive necessity for them on that frontier.

☞ The Secretary of the Democratic Convent on in Concord was not the editor of the Patriot, but Mr. J. W. Butterfield, his brother.

☞ Charles H. Goodhue of Boston has plead guilty to the charge of manslaughter in killing Harriet J. W. Freeborn.

☞ Twenty-five thousand bushels of onions have been raised the past season in the town of Falmouth. Whew!

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they excecute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others.

ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Hoarseness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

THE

ONLY PREPARATION

WORTHY OF

Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN.

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeables increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling of arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,

BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Siamston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to you the effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," be made to return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,

T. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood.—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

PORTSMOUTH ATHENÆUM.

The Rev. Dr. Burroughs has been one of the most active friends of this institution from its incorporation in 1817 to the present time—about forty-three years. Since the death of Nathaniel Adams in 1829, he has been its President.

It has under his oversight been regularly growing up from a few scattered volumes, collected in the chamber over Mr. John H. Bailey's store, to a library of nearly ten thousand volumes of the most choice books, located in a building owned by the institution, and possessing a capital worth some thirty thousand dollars: the best institution of the kind in New Hampshire.

At the late annual meeting the following note addressed to the Secretary of the institution was read:

TREMONT HOUSE, Boston, Jan. 3, 1860.

To Wm. H. Rollins, Esq.

"My Dear Sir—As I am much absent from Portsmouth, and as the honor of the Presidency of your institution ought to belong to some one else, rather than to myself, I respectfully ask the favor of you, in case I should be honored with a reelection as President, to state, that I should most respectfully decline the honor; that I appreciate with lively gratitude the favor conferred on me; that I should ever have at heart the best interest of the institution; and that I will also ever be active for its welfare; especially, as I esteem it one of the highest privileges and blessings with which Portsmouth is honored. Deeply I regret that I cannot be present at your annual meeting to-morrow.

Very respectfully and truly your most ob't serv't,
CHARLES BURROUGHS."

The following officers for the year were then elected.

Rev. Charles Burroughs, D. D., President; Alfred W. Haven, Esq. Rev. A. P. Peabody, D. D. Richard Jenness, Esq. Jonathan M. Tredick, Esq. Albert R. Hatch, Esq. Directors; Wm. H. Rollins, Esq. Secretary and Treasurer.

It was then unanimously Resolved by the Proprietors of the institution, that "our thanks be tendered to Rev. Dr. Burroughs for his faithful services as President of this institution during the last thirty-one years, and that he be requested to withdraw his resignation."

It was also voted, that a Bust of Rev. Dr. Burroughs be procured, to be placed in a prominent position in the library room.

MISSIONARY CONVENTION IN PORTSMOUTH.

A SERIES OF MISSIONARY CONVENTIONS will be holden, by leave of Providence, in Eastern New-Hampshire, as follows:—At Portsmouth, on Wednesday, Jan. 18th; at Exeter, Jan. 19th; at Great Falls, Jan. 20th.

The Convention in Portsmouth will be held at the North Church, and the services will commence on Wednesday forenoon and continue through the afternoon and evening.

The following persons will be present and address the meeting:

Rev. Mr. Hazen, from India.
Rev. Mr. Clark, from Constantinople.
Rev. Mr. Warren, District Secretary.
Rev. Mr. Walker from Africa is also expected.

In the afternoon of Wednesday there will be a service adapted to children.

We trust that this Convention will be fully attended, as it is not often that our community is favored with the opportunity of listening to so many intelligent and earnest men from abroad; and many facts and incidents will doubtless be related of interest to those who are not especially interested in the Foreign Missionary work.

A PATRIARCH FALLEN.

Mr. JOSEPH STIMPSON died in Eliot, Me. Jan. 2, 1860, aged 89 years, 10 months. He was born in Charlestown, Mass. in 1770. His grandmother, whose name was "Banker," gave name to the celebrated Hill of that name, having owned a large tract of land, embracing that renowned spot. When Joseph was a boy, another small boy was shot down at his side, by the Regulars who were passing the house where they were.

THE LATE COLD TERM.—The first quarter of the month of January 1860, was the coldest that has been experienced for thirty-six years.

The "January thaw," and a pleasant one too came upon us on Friday, Jan. 6th. During two previous winters we had nothing of the kind, and hence a thaw this month has the advantage of novelty. On Friday, for the first time since Dec. 21st, the mercury got above the freezing point.—On Saturday, it began to thaw freely, and it will be seen by our weather record that at no time by day or night did the mercury descend to the freezing point until Thursday morning, Jan 12th, which opened with a snow storm.

REGISTER OF DEEDS.—There are some offices of more importance to the public to be filled by men who have gained experience in the discharge of their duties, than the compliment or emolument their gift may bestow upon the incumbent.—Among these offices are Street Commissioners, who if they are competent men are increasing in value to the public every year they are continued—and also recording officers, such as town clerks and recorders of deeds, who keep the records of towns and counties.

MAZARBON.—This new article, which is used as a substitute for Cream Tartar in making bread, is recommended. It is in powder and is mixed dry with the flour. It makes excellent bread and cake, very light. The testimony of distinguished chemists shows that it is a harmless and wholesome preparation, which can be used with safety. Mr. L. Leighton advertises it for sale, and we suppose the grocers generally have it. See the advertisement of Dana, Ferrar & Hyde, Boston agents. Moulton & Blaisdell have the article, also a choice article of bread called Ginger Snaps.

DYE YOUR HAIR AND WHISKERS

By using Hutchins' Liquid HAIR DYE, you can color Red or Gray Hair to a beautiful Brown or Black. This is the best article in use. A lady says it is cheaper to use it than to buy caps to cover her head with.

STOVE STORE REMOVED.

URIAH BLAISDELL

Has removed his Store and Furnishing Establishment one door north, to the spacious and convenient store

Nos. 43 & 45 Market Street,

where he is receiving and arranging a large and valuable Stock of

STOVES, TIN WARE, &c.,

Which he offers for sale at wholesale and retail, at very low prices. He has a great variety of the best and most popular Stoves, among which are:

1. The Stewart Cook Stove, with the latest improvements. This is an air-tight Cook Stove, for Wood or Coal; it has moveable coverings, which can confine the heat in the stove, or let it out into the room; has a reservoir of hot water 10 or 20 gallons, and a tin closet beneath;—a top cover, which is a great institution for baking, and will keep a coal fire all night; it has a Dutch Oven for roasting in front of the stove—and it is every way a most convenient and durable Stove. There are 4 sizes.

The following recommendation of Stewart's Stove, is from an eminent engineer, and must be satisfactory to all who wish to understand the value of this excellent Stove:

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 5, 1859.

Mr. Blaisdell:—Seven years ago I moved to this city, and sold, before I came, a "Stewart's Air Tight Cooking Stove," which I had used about five years. During that time no repairs or expense had been made upon it. Since I have been here I have tried the various Cooking Stoves in use, and I think for economy and durability the "Stewart" excels them all. I wish you would take away the Stove I now have from my house, and set up one of Stewart's as soon as you can. Your obt'servant,
B. F. CHANDLER.

2. Boston & Maine Cook Stove;
3. White Mountain;
4. Empire State;
5. Enterprise;
6. Exchange;
7. Dining Room Cook Stoves, and others.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1,00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaints, Costiveness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1,00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of my child, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

"I know the above testimony of Mrs. Ricker in regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MIXER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZA CHAMBERLAIN.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. EBE. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

STOVES AND FURNACES

FRANK JONES,

61 MARKET ST., PORTSMOUTH,

Having received a part of his Winter Stock of

SUPERIOR COOKING STOVES,

would invite the attention of those about purchasing, to the largest and best selected stock of COOKING STOVES, of the most approved patterns and valuable kinds to be found in this market; among which may be found

THE CLIPPER, BOSTON & MAINE,
EMPIRE STATE, WHITE MOUNTAIN,
REPUBLIC, BANNER, &c.,

with many others, for wood or coal, which will be sold at such prices as shall defy competition.

The Combination Stove and Range.

One of the greatest inventions of the age, for Cooking purposes,—made expressly for large families, boarding houses, hotels, &c.; or wherever a great amount of Cooking is required in the shortest possible time, it having 3 large ovens, 6 boiler holes and separate apartments for baking, broiling, frying or roasting, requiring no more fuel than any ordinary Cooking Stove. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction in every particular in point of economy, convenience, or ease of management; as we believe it to be far ahead of anything of the kind yet introduced into this market. We therefore ask an examination of the "Combination Stove & Range," feeling confident that it supersedes all others for which it is intended, and will be sold at a very low price.

THE MAGEE.

The Calebrated Magee Patent

Ventilating Parlor Stove,

All sizes—acknowledged by every one to be the

BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.

The fire can be kept through the entire season without once going out, giving the greatest amount of heat from the least fuel of any other Stove known.

The heat can be regulated to the mildest as well as the coldest weather, and at the same time perfectly ventilating the apartment in which they are used. We have sold hundreds of them the past year, and have testimonials of the highest order, acknowledging their superiority over every other Stove yet invented. To every one in search of the best Stove that can be found, we would say,

"Try the Magee."

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Assistant Examiner of 1857.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Also, Reissues, Designs, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made, whether American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

DEATH OF A CELEBRATED LADY.—We notice, amongst the obituaries of the week, the death of Mrs. Anne Wallingford. The lady was formerly the beautiful and celebrated Anne Rochforth, with whom George the Fourth, when Prince of Wales, was madly in love. It is due to her memory that she successfully resisted all attempts made by his Royal Highness to compromise her honor. Some singular anecdotes of Miss Rochforth are extant. She was asked in marriage by the Duke of B——, for his son, the Marquis of C——a; while the Prince of Wales solicited her to bestow her hand upon himself, backing his suit by an offer of a private marriage, princely settlement, etc.

The young lady, wavering and perplexed between these two noble offers which courted her acceptance, requested Lady Jersey to give her advice how she should act. The countess recommended her not to consult her heart upon the occasion, but St. Nicholas, who was the patron saint of virgins. The saint accordingly appeared to her, but whether when sleeping or waking history is silent, but he decided against both. Soon after Miss Rochforth met Mr. Henry Wallingford, then the handsomest man of the day. A mutual passion sprung up between them, and in due course they were united. Mr. W. died in 1810, so that his wife has survived him for the long term of forty-nine years.—London Court Circular.

THE LIMIT OF PROMOTION.—The Duke of Wellington, giving orders one day during his campaign, for a battalion to attempt a rather dangerous enterprise—the storming of one of the enemies batteries of St. Sebastian—complimented the officer, by saying that his was the first regiment in the world. "Yes," replied the officer, leading on his men, "and before your Lordship's orders are finally executed, it will probably be the first in the other world."—Zion's Herald.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.
The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:
1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make another water, and tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.
THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, were still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must remove the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the wreck of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SCURVY, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ELEPHANTIASIS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. They penetrate the stomach and bowels, purify and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and lasting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent here named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaints, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons who have known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what to dote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thru t upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they cannot forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this articlefor over ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what we have of any other medicine, NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance of dissatisfaction by any one who tries it, on the contrary, all are delighted with its operations, and speak in terms of highest commendation of its medical effects and medical virtues. We speak, in this matter, "what we know, after ten years' experience, and pledge our reputation for the truth of what we affirm. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion, relief will be found in fifteen or twenty minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED and SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used with never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects, acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost INSTANTLY relieve and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the best and surest REMEDY IN THE WORLD in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHEA IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any of the foregoing complaints—Do not let your own prejudices, or the prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that is in store for it! Be sure—you do not fail to follow the use of this medicine, if timely used. Full directions for using will accompany each bottle. None genuine unless the fac-simile of CURTIS & PERKINS, New York, is on the outside wrapper. Sold by Druggists throughout the world. Principal Office, No. 13 Cedar st. New York.

GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC.

Price only 25 cents per bottle.

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we wish to state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care, as a compassion gift to wife and other article for infantile complaints will show: the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful anti-spasmodic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—it costs so much more than other purporting compounds of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; for the same reason we do not make itself as the available to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

STOVE STORE REMOVED.

URIAH BLAISDELL

Has removed his Stove and Furnishing Establishment one door north, to the spacious and convenient store

Nos. 43 & 45 Market Street,

where he is receiving and arranging a large and valuable Stock of

STOVES, TIN WARE, &c.,

Which he offers for sale at wholesale and retail, at very low prices. He has a great variety of the best and most popular Stoves, among which are:

1. The Stewart Cook Stove, with the latest improvements. This is an air-tight Cook Stove, for Wood or Coal; it has movable coverings, which can confine the heat in the stove, or let it out into the room; has a reservoir of hot water 10 or 20 gallons, and a tin closet beneath on a top cover, which is a great institution for baking, and will keep a coal fire all night; it has a Dutch Oven for roasting in front of the Stove—and it is every way a most convenient and durable Stove. There are 4 sizes.

The following recommendation of Stewart's Stove, is from an eminent engineer, and must be satisfactory to all who wish to understand the value of this excellent Stove:

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 5, 1859.

Mr. Blaisdell,—Seven years I moved to this city, and sold, before I came, a "Stewart's Air-Tight Cooking Stove," which I had used about five years. During that time no repairs or expense had been made upon it. Since I have been here I have tried the various Cooking Stoves in use, and I think for economy and durability the "Stewart" excels them all. I wish you would take away the Stove I now have from my house, and set up one of Stewart's as soon as you can. Your ob't servant,

B. F. CHANDLER.

2. Boston & Maine Cook Stove;
3. White Mountain;
4. Empire State;
5. Enterprise;
6. Exchange;
7. Dining Room Cook Stove, and others.

PARLOR STOVES.

SEAVEY'S COAL AND GAS BURNER, surpassing everything else of the kind, as a parlor Coal Stove.

THE MAGEE COAL STOVE, highly recommended and esteemed by many.

CAST IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens.

SHEET IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens, of a variety of patterns.

OFFICE AND COUNTING ROOM STOVES.

BOX STOVES, for Schools, Halls and Churches

FARMER'S BOILERS, from 15 to 46 gallons each.

Also, FUNNEL, KITCHEN FURNITURE, TIN WARE AND FARMING TOOLS.

All these, and many other articles, too numerous to mention, will be sold at great bargains.

Funnel made, and Stoves and Funnel put up to order, in the best manner.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or Inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Boneset,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 38 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping-cough of my child, and I advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

I have the above testimony of Mrs. Ricker in regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, and more would cheerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZA ANN CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others afflicted, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

THEOPHILUS CURRIER,

STOVES AND FURNACES

FRANK JONES,

61 MARKET ST., PORTSMOUTH,

Having received a part of his Winter Stock of

SUPERIOR COOKING STOVES,

would invite the attention of those about purchasing, to the largest and best selected stock of COOKING STOVES, of the most approved patterns and valuable kinds to be found in this market; among which may be found

THE CLIPPER, BOSTON & MAINE,
EMPIRE STATE, WHITE MOUNTAIN,
REPUBLIC, BANNER, &c.,

with many others, for wood or coal, which will be sold at such prices as shall defy competition.

The Combination Stove and Range.

One of the greatest inventions of the age, for Cooking purposes,—made expressly for large families, boarding houses, hotels, &c.; or wherever a great amount of Cooking is required in the shortest possible time, it having 3 large ovens, 6 boiler holes and separate apartments for baking, broiling, frying or roasting, requiring no more fuel than any ordinary Cooking Stove. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction in every particular (in point of economy, convenience, or ease of management; as we believe it to be far ahead of anything of the kind yet introduced into this market. We therefore ask an examination of the "Combination Stove & Range," feeling confident that it supersedes all others for which it is intended, and will be sold at a very low price.

THE MAGEE.

The Calebrated Magee Patent

Ventilating Parlor Stove,

All sizes—acknowledged by every one to be the

BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.

The fire can be kept through the entire season without once going out, giving the greatest amount of heat from the least fuel of any other Stove known.

The heat can be regulated to the mildest as well as the coldest weather, and at the same time perfectly ventilating the apartment in which they are used. We have sold hundreds of them the past year, and have testimonials of the highest order, acknowledging their superiority over every other Stove yet invented. To every one in search of the best Stove that can be found, we would say,

"Try the Magee."

PARLOR STOVES

of the most approved kinds.

STORE, OFFICE & SHIP STOVES;

DOX AND CYLINDER do.

SHEET IRON STOVES, with and without ovens.

Parlor Cook Stoves.

New patterns this season—for wood or coal,—

warranted to be the best in the market, and will be sold at such prices as will convince every one that this is the place to buy cheap.

THE MAGEE FURNACES,

7 Sizes—Brick and Portable.

These Furnaces work on the same principle as the Magee Stoves. They are simple and easily operated, requiring only about half the coal of any other Furnace—will keep fire the whole season, and are not liable to get out of order.

We would invite the attention of those interested to an examination of the MAGEE FURNACE, and at the same time refer them to a number of places in this city where we have erected them the past year; and in every instance have given perfect satisfaction.

REPAIRING PEICES,

For most kinds of Cooking Stoves used in this market. Also,

Coal Fixtures and Fire Brick.

HARD WARE AND CASTINGS generally

TIN, SHEET IRON & COPPER WARE, manufactured to order.

☞ Prices as low as at any other establishment in this vicinity, and satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, DISTRICT OF COLUMBIA.

70 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to procure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers and Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or inventions—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents in less time, with the probability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE than the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of skill and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

A QUEER CASE OF SOMNAMBULISM.—In the winter of 18—, while the writer was attending school in a certain town in this State, a member of the same school,—a young man of about twenty-five years—had an unfortunate habit of "getting up in his sleep," and on two or three occasions it came near costing him his life.

There were about three hundred students in attendance, about forty of whom boarded at the boarding house, among which was the subject of the incident we are about to relate.

One afternoon, a party of young men—our unfortunate friend S. among the number, went off to an open field, about half a mile from the boarding-house, on a target shooting excursion. S. took an active part in the sport, and, after an afternoon's enjoyment, went home, and retired at an early hour to bed. About midnight, he arose, without stopping to don any of his wearing apparel, went down stairs, unlocked the hall door, and proceeded in a straight line to the scene of the preceding day's amusement. The target which they had used was a large green pine log about six feet in length, and a foot in diameter,—about as much as a man could lift. This he shouldered, ostensibly for the purpose of carrying it home, but after proceeding about a dozen rods, he stumbled and fell, his heavy load falling across his back. He awoke;—and one can imagine his surprise at finding himself in an open field, lying in snow a foot deep, with nothing on but a shirt, and the mercury below zero, at that!

It is needless to say that he left his log and ran home as fast as his benumbed and almost frozen limbs would carry him. It proved to be a severe adventure for him, as it was many weeks before he recovered from the effects of the somnambulistic visit to the target field. We believe he never arose in his sleep after that eventful night.

The writer is personally knowing to the above, and it can be relied upon as correct.

PROGRESS OF MAINE.—The Bangor Whig says that the new State Valuation will run up to about $175,000,000, which is an increase of 75 per cent in ten years.—The average is generally diffused, and all branches of industry share in it.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt, or, ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family, has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the extirpation of this foul disease from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as
ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.
Ayer's Cathartic Pills.
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or elude them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its disordered action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is assuaged to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
FOR THE CURE OF
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from a blighting and even desperate disease of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is apparent to every observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.
PREPARED BY
DR. J. C. AYER & CO.,

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

THURSDAY, JAN. 19, 1860.

☞ The late disgraceful proceedings at Harvard College, as a Cambridge correspondent writes to the Newburyport Herald, originated in the dislike of the theology of Prof. Huntington, which the students manifested in various ways. First they petitioned to be allowed Unitarian services.—Then they oiled the benches, defaced the chapel, and taking the Bible sent it to an Orthodox society in the West, with the respects of the Harvard faculty. The faculty were surprised at receiving an acknowledgement of the gift, not knowing what had become of the lost book. Only a portion of the students were concerned in these proceedings.

Wednesday night a few of the students went to the chapel to place the Yale Bible in the desk, and take away the Bible there. The work fell to the lot of one Forbes, of Milton, regarded as of good character and popular both with faculty and students.—He reached the place, and commenced his work, but was arrested, as we have before stated, by officer Hilton, after a battle, and was taken before the Police Court on Thursday, and held to bail for attempt to kill. His father was present in the court. The college authorities have expelled Forbes, and if Mr. Hilton, who is severely injured, recovers, it will probably be hushed up; if not, it will be a serious matter with him.

However much the students might dissent from Prof. H's. theology, or however dry his preaching may have become, there was no call for such acts as they committed, and there is no excuse for their arming with the weapon of a rowdy, robber, and murderer.

If the policeman had not fired his pistol, he would probably have been overpowered and injured more than now,—perhaps fatally.

Some students, in their manifesto, complain that the government of the college is not paternal: perhaps not, but in New England it used to be maternal for the matrons to spank the youngsters when they were uproarious; and to put them in the closet if they did not learn the catechism. Harvard, in the person of one professor, seems going back to her ancient orthodoxy; so the naughty boys had better look out for the rod.

☞ The Franklin Typographical Society of Boston celebrated the 154th anniversary of Ben. Franklin's birthday on Wednesday evening, at the great Music Hall.—Charles H. Woodwell, president of the society, presided, and made a speech, which we mean to copy in a day or two.

A poem, written by Benj. P. Shillaber, was sung by the Handel and Haydn Society.—Choruses by the same, with Mr. Lang at the piano. And the address of the evening was by Edward Everett, said to be one of his very best efforts. The hall was full, and the occasion was highly successful.

☞ The great modern English Historian, Lord Macaulay, died on the 28th ult., at London. He had been unwell about a fortnight from disease of the heart, but had rallied to such an extent that his medical men did not apprehend danger. The result was, therefore, sudden and unexpected. He was only 59 years old, and, as he was never married, his title becomes extinct.—He had filled several important offices, in Britain and India, but his great distinction was, that he wrote history in a readable style.

☞ The annual meeting of the American Colonization Society was held at Washington, on Tuesday evening, with a large attendance.

The receipts of the year amount to nearly $161,000; the expenditures to $80,000. The Society have sent 300 emigrants to Africa during the same period.

Is it possible, says Uncle Toby, that these figures are correct. If so, it costs 266 dollars a head, to send free negroes away from the county: and then, a charitable society that spends not quite half its income, is an uncommon institution.

The Underground Railroad does three times as much business, with less than a quarter of the money.

☞ The Presidents of Virginia Railroad Companies have issued a call inviting all the Southern Railroad Companies to meet them in consultation at Richmond on the 28th of February, to consider the means which they can best secure, either by direct importation or Southern manufacture, the equipments and supplies for the use of Southern Railroads.

☞ In England another elopement in high life is reported. The wife of Mr. Smith Bennermann, residing near Maidstone, ran off with Rev. A. W. Green, curate of the parish where the parties resided. The lady has property in her own right amounting to £180,000.

☞ Madame Biscaccianti has been giving concerts in California with marked success. She leaves soon for Australia.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Monday, Jan. 16, Mr. Douglas offered a resolution instructing the judiciary committee to report an anti-John-Brown bill, to prevent armed invasion of one State's property, government or institutions by the people of another. Mr. Bigler offered a repetition of the same thing.

Mr. Sumner presented a petition in favor of cheap letter postage.

Mr. Hale presented a petition in favor of the Homestead bill.

Mr. Yulee offered a resolution instructing the Committee on Post Offices to inquire into the practicability of such a system for the transmission of money and valuables as will furnish greater security; and, further, to inquire how far Post Office money orders can be safely grafted on our postal system. Adopted.

Mr. Clingman made a pro-slavery speech, and went on to show that the abolition feeling had so spread that it controlled nearly all the secular and religious press of the North. He claimed it as a settled thing that the negro is inferior to the white man, and is benefitted by slavery. Two things had made the South disunionists—one was the small vote Mr. Fillmore received, and the other was the manner the John Brown raid was received at the North. The South had no more fear of the rising of her negroes than she had of a rising of horses.—He declared that the election of a Black Republican President would furnish sufficient cause for a dissolution of the Union. He thought that would be a sufficient overt act.

In the House, there was a spicy debate between Democrats and South Americans.

One South American, Stokes, rather than vote for a republican, would vote for a sound, conservative Democrat—not for a nominee who is in favor of Judge Douglas, with his squatter sovereignty.

Mr. Hatton wanted to know if Mr. Underwood's north-western Democratic friends were willing to vote for the protection of slavery in the Territories, in the form of a statute.

Mr. Underwood did not doubt that they were, for the reason that the President said so, and the Northern Democracy had never failed to give the people of the South all the rights they were entitled to under the Constitution. (Applause.)

Mr. Hatton wanted to know whether they would support a man who believes that the people in a territorial capacity have the right to legislate on the subject of slavery, which he regarded as a fallacy?

Mr. Underwood replied that the country would see that the tendency of such questions was to divide and distract the Democratic party, which only could burl back the wave of fanaticism. He wanted the South to see that the Southern Oppositionists were throwing fire-brands into the Democratic party.—No vote was taken.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Tuesday, Jan. 16, Mr. Brown corrected a statement of his remarks on the 3d of January, representing him as saying that the four millions of Southern slaves occupied a position higher, socially, morally and physically, than any other laborers on the face of the globe.—What he said was that their position was superior to that of the same race in any quarter of the globe.

After debate, the Senate chose Mr. Bowman printer, giving him 27 votes out of 48.

In the House, there was a debate on organization, in which Sickles brought forward his plan for organization. Clark of N. Y. and Reagan pronounced it impracticable, as there was no power to enforce it.

Hickman said that the declaration had been made by more than one Southern gentleman, that they are determined to resist the will of the majority by all parliamentary, as well as other means.

Winslow explained that they would resist a vote on the plurality rule until a vote be taken on the resolution of Mr. Clark of Mo.

Hickman understood that this would be resisted by dilatory motions, and said the Northern Democrats had joined Southern Democrats in a determination not to allow the plurality rule to be voted on under any circumstances. The point is therefore reached when the minority are resolved to disregard the will of the majority, and prevent them from manifesting their wish.

Mr. McClernand said Mr. Hickman's insolence was unbearable. He was not one of the Democrats, but a recreant—a traitor to the Democratic party. (Applause on the Democratic side.) We disown and repudiate him.

A Voice—"Go to the Republican side, where you belong!"

Mr. McClernand stated his objections to Mr. Sherman, but said Mr. Sherman was infinitely preferable to Mr. Hickman. (Applause.)

Pryor began to reply to Hickman, remarking that what the latter stated was what he knew to be false. (Sensation.)

Millson called his colleague to order.

Pryor said he knew only the plain Anglo-Saxon, and repeated that Hickman's statement was false.

Keitt—I shall discuss that Pryor characterized Hickman's statement as false, for which he was called to order.

Hickman replied that such language was no reply to his arguments. Adj.

☞ The church Organ first became of importance about 1300 or 1400, though it was still a most clumsy instrument, the keys being half a foot broad and two or three inches apart, and having to be played with elbows and fists.

☞ The New Haven girls have assumed their leap year privileges, by inviting the young men to accompany them on sleigh rides.

☞ The testimony of Mr. Benjamin Harding, before the Inquest at Lawrence, is the most utter condemnation of the Pemberton Mill, as an unsafe structure. Harding is a carpenter, and he put the timber into the mill. He says:—

The building in all its parts, for its size, was rather slender; not only the columns were deficient, but there was too much space given to windows, making the walls weak; I would have had three rows of columns, making shorter sections; the machinery was very heavy for the surface—a monstrous weight to be held up by the columns below: never knew of any other mill with so long sections; the man who superintended the building said they should never be over 22 or 24 feet; they were 27; the timber used in the construction was good; the beams were small for the length of the sections; should think the carding-room described by Mr. Winn, overseer, was heavily loaded. After the first pillar had broken the others would break easier; have examined the ruins; have seen no evidence of this settling of the foundation.

I think there was a giving away of a column when that machinery was moved; this mill had but little vibration; less than most other mills; but this is not a proof of safety or test of strength; the mill had a flat roof and was very wide, so there was no chance to vibrate; a peaked roof would here, however, have been no improvement, as the walls were too wide apart to have such a roof put on.

The testimony given by Mr. Harding deserves additional weight from the competency and character of the witness. He is regarded as a most faithful and competent mechanic, and his character as a man stands very high in Lawrence.

☞ The treasurer of the Pemberton Co., at Lawrence, is paying off the surviving operatives, and paying the next of kin what was due to the deceased. The pay-roll of the company contains the names of 920 operatives, of whom 675 were in the main building, which fell. By the most careful investigation, the whole number now known to be dead and missing is eighty-eight, which is probably not far from the actual loss.—These can only be accounted for on the supposition that their bodies were entirely consumed amid the ruins.

☞ A visitor from this place on Tuesday, happened to be present when a body was found, which was soon identified as that of Mrs. Catherine Clark, a widow, and was recognized by some of the boarders with whom she had lived, whose lamentations were as great as if she had been a sister.—She formerly resided at Suncook, N. H., where she has five children living, besides other friends.

A lady informed the visitor, that some little girls, confined under the ruins, near each other, perhaps three or four in number, when there was no hope of escape from the fire, were heard to sing, "We're going home to die no more:"—and this was the last that was heard of them.

☞ To get out of the dead-lock at Washington, several members await an opportunity to offer propositions of a practical character for that purpose. Among them are Mr. Sickles, whose resolution provides that the House proceed to the election of Speaker, viva voce, and if, upon the first call of the roll, no one shall have a majority, a quorum being present; then from those candidates having the highest number, not exceeding three, the House will proceed to make a choice by a second vote, and if neither has a majority, then from the two highest on the list the House will make a choice of a Speaker; and also that if upon the third vote the said two persons shall receive an equal number, the House will continue to vote for one or the other of the said two persons until one of them shall receive a majority; and that pending the election, and until a choice is made, there shall be no debate. The most that is claimed for the proposition is, that it is according to the Constitutional mode of electing a President by the House, in the the event of a failure of the people to do so.

☞ "Occasional" of the Philadelphia Press believes that Douglas will be thrown overboard at Charleston, but will run independently. "The South Americans will then be called upon to choose between the disunionists and Douglas, and a similar choice will be presented to the Democrats of the North."

☞ In answer to a correspondent, the New Orleans Delta says that Mr. Douglas still holds a large force of negroes, as guardian of his children by a former marriage, which are worked on a cotton plantation of that State, in connection with a prominent citizen of Louisiana.

☞ It is said that the Empress Eugenie, acting under the inspirations of her Spanish confessor, has been of late teaching her imperial spouse to adopt the cause of the Pope more thoroughly, and that several violent scenes have been the result.

☞ We are pleased to see that the National Intelligencer reports the convalescence of Chief Justice Taney, and the expectation that he will resume his seat in the Court very shortly.

With very few men can women argue; the man grows imperious, the woman resentful; and the conversation is apt to end a little too volcanic in its temperature, for peace-loving dispositions.

Diseases of Old Age.
As man approaches his allotted three score and ten years the vital powers begin to fail; stimulants of various kinds are used to strengthen the naturally failing system, such as wines, bark, &c. Instead of these, let the aged keep up the supply of the true strengthening element, iron, by the PERUVIAN SYRUP, which offers a protoxide of that metal ready for immediate absorption.

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regeneration in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?
Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.
A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.
This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:
VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.
WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.
Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

J. T. MOREHEAD, U. S. Senator, and formerly Governor of Kentucky.
L. H. ARNOLD, formerly Governor of R. I.
WM. WOODBRIDGE, late Governor of Michigan
Its success in secure cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.
Prepared by S. W. FOWLE & CO., BOSTON, and for sale by Wm. R. Preston, David Kimball, Nathan P. Thacher, J. H. Thacher, and J. Hutchings, Portsmouth; J. P. Packer, Greenland; and dealers everywhere. spnot 4wd&w

Local.

☞ The Missionary Convention, to wake up a new interest in Foreign Missions, was held in the North Church, Wednesday, thro' the day. The morning services were opened with singing, and prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Holmes of Eliot, and others.—Rev. Mr. Walker, the returned missionary from Africa, was not present; but in his stead Rev. Mr. Warren, the District Secretary, gave a brief account of Missions by all Evangelical Boards.

The Rev. Messrs. Hazen from India, and Clark from Turkey, gave accounts of their respective fields.

The audience in the morning was as large as usual on such occasions; and in the afternoon was increased by the scholars of Sabbath Schools, and other attendants, to a numerous assemblage: and the exercises were very interesting to the friends of foreign missions.

☞ The Birthday of Franklin, on Tuesday, (like that of Washington and Lafayette,) was not generally observed as a holiday i: this city. The Chroniclers evinced due appreciation of the occasion by resting from their usual occupations; and we trust they, as well as all other members of the craft, will always hereafter help keep Franklin's memory warm, at least by a similar tribute of respect. In Boston they had a grand celebration—to which we refer in another column, and shall speak of again.—In Portsmouth, at a social meeting of the Board of Engineers, at the City Hotel, on Tuesday evening, Ben Franklin the Fireman was toasted, and reference made to his having established the first Fire Company in Philadelphia, in 1743 or '44.

FAIR AT THE OCEAN HOUSE.—The M. E. church at Rye, having been recently repaired, the ladies of the Society who have so nobly interested themselves in the good work, propose holding another Fair to meet the expenses incurred.

Their first one for this purpose, held a year ago, is well remembered by all who were able to gain admittance to the crowded halls of the Surf House. This year, the spacious halls of the Ocean house having been secured, no effort will be spared to make the occasion one of rare interest and profit.

The supply of useful and fancy articles will be large, and refreshments will be furnished in abundance. Commencing on Tuesday evening, Jan. 31st, and continue two evenings. If stormy, the first pleasant evenings after. Come one, come all, and aid a good cause. Per Order.

☞ In Paris, a rumor had prevailed that the Pope's Nuncio had threatened to demand his passports on account of the recent pamphlet, but the Paris correspondent of the London Post pronounces the rumors untrue. An official denial was also posted on the Paris Bourse.

It is reported in Paris, that Austria, Naples, and Spain will not send Plenipotentiaries to the Congress unless the Pope is represented.

The Russian ambassador at Paris has declared to Walewski that the pamphlet on the Pope and Congress contains principles opposed to the respect for authority, on which the Russian Government is founded, and consequently Russia will oppose the programme drawn up in the pamphlet.

The Austrian journals were engaged in denouncing the pamphlet, and the Vienna Gazette regards it as a direct menance for Austria. It is, nevertheless, averred that in governmental circles, the pamphlet has not produced a disagreeable impression, the government being convinced that the opinions therein expressed are not entertained by the Emperor Napoleon.

☞ Quite a number of interesting marine items, come by the latest news from Liverpool.

A large row boat just returning from ship Grand Trianconn, lying in the Mersey, capsized, and 22 lives were lost. The men were mostly riggers and ship's laborers. Captain Clarke of the Grand Trianconn, was in the boat, but he and several others were rescued.

The official Board of Trade investigation into the loss of the steamer Indian, was progressing at Liverpool.

The report of the Board of Trade on the loss of the Paramatta, says there is a desire to make rapid passages at the expense of safety of the ship, and such proceedings are censured.

Thirty of the crew of the ship Flora Temple, whose loss was reported by the Hungarian, had reached Manilla. It is supposed that all the others on board, including 350 coolies for Havana, were drowned; the vessel struck a rock and foundered.

A system of free immigration of Chinese to the West Indies has been organized by an agent of the British government. The native authorities of Canton approved and co-operated in the measure.

ITALY AND AUSTRIA.—The Minister of Finance at Rome had been compelled to sell consolidated funds to the amount of double that previously stated, 2,000,000 francs, in order to meet a financial pressure.

The French pamphlet had been translated into Italian, and largely circulated in Romagna.

A dispatch from Rome reports a lengthly interview between Cardinal Antonelli and the French Ambassador The latter had received from Paris some explanations destined to re-assure the papal government on the subject of the recent pamphlet.

Vienna letters say that Austrian statesmen were begining to see the impossibility of restoring the Italian Dukes, and were almost reconciled to the idea of a Central Italian organization.

It is reported that the elite of the aristocratic party engaged in offices, have resolved to serve without pay, in order to lighten the public burdens.

SENATOR DOULAS'S POSITION.—In the Senate, Mr. Douglas distinctly reiterated his position on the slavery question and the Charleston nomination. He did not regard the Dred Scott decision as having any effect upon the condition of slavery in the Territories. Whenever a Territory should pass laws prohibiting slavery, then the Supreme Court might properly decide this question; and he believed the decision would not be adverse to his views. As to the nomination at Charleston, he would not accept it, except upon a platform conforming to his views; he would never commit the meanness of being elected upon a platform, and kick it over afterwards. If the same tests were to be applied there, which resulted in his exclusion from the Chairmanship of the Territorial Committee, what chance, he wished to know, was there of electing a Democratic President? He thought two-thirds of the Democracy were with him. The dispute between Mr. Douglas and his Democratic assailants is passing through an interesting stage.

☞ The Concord Patriot publishes the slave code, resolutions of the Democratic convention in No. 5, without a word of comment,—and sums up the doings of congress in a single square.

☞ It is now announced that Stephens and Hazlett, two of the Harper's Ferry conspirators, will be tried at the special February term of the Jefferson, Va., County Court.

☞ The prospect of the grape crop in Connecticut next year is reported favorable. Last year 200,000 gallons of wine were made.

☞ Cassius M. Clay has delivered his Republican speech, out of doors, at Frankfort, Kentucky, to thousands of hearers.

MARRIED.

In Newburyport, Mr. C. W. Plummer to Miss Emily V. Pettingill.

Cutaneous Diseases.

Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purify their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system. The Rev. John Pierpont says: "I have been cured of a troublesome cutaneous disease by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to bear testimony to the fact, that it is making its way into the confidence of medical profession, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

GROVER & BAKER'S
Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE
GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. RELIEF IN TEN MINUTES!!

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis, Influenza, Tightness, Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organ is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.

☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE.

This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease, both from its innocent nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country; while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficiency in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our agents and citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate shall feel with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like nature.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officinally used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration.

A. A. HAYES, M. D., State Assayer.
16 Boylston St., Boston, Dec. 1857.

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858, the editor says:—

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says: 'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a minute dose is essential; or for adults of irritable stomachs, or having a tendency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

Testimonial from the Sisters of Charity, of the St. Vincent's Orphan Asylum, in Boston.

BOSTON, July 31, 1858.

To Mr. F. LAFORME, Agent:

"The Sisters are happy to state that, having used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, they have found it efficacious in many instances, for bad coughs and colds. Signed by the SISTERS OF CHARITY.

Testimonial from a well-known Apothecary's Clerk.

BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAFORME, Esq.:

Dear Sir—I had been suffering for a considerable length of time from a severe cough, and had in vain had recourse to nearly all the remedies in use. My cough kept me up at night, and made uneasiness from its serious effects on my system, when three days' use of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ restored me to complete health. The medicine is new in this market, I had recourse to it last; but I can now confidently recommend it as the best medicine I know of. Yours, truly,

CHAS. H. FOSTER.

At Fred Brown's, Washington, corner State St.

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is in the handwriting of the subject, Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 120 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in cases as desperate as his own, he concluded to try it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. It is such well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

It is sold at the low price of 50 cents, and $1 00 per bottle, thus placing it within the reach of all classes. F. J. LAFORME, sole Agent, Boston. M. S. BURR & CO., General Agents, No. 26 Tremont street, Museum Building, Boston, and for sale by all druggists. Circulars with testimonials of its efficacy can be had of the Agents nov7ly

Morning Chronicle.

FAITH AND LOVE.

BY JOHN G. WHITTIER.

John Brown of Ossawatomie,
Spake on his dying day:
"I will not have, to shrive my soul,
A priest in Slavery's pay.
But let some poor slave-mother,
Whom I have striven to free,
With her children, from the gallows stair
Put up a prayer for me."

John Brown of Ossawatomie,
They led him out to die;
And lo! a poor slave-mother
With her little child pressed nigh.
Then the bold, blue eye grew tender,
And the old harsh face grew mild,
As he stooped between the jeering ranks
And kissed the negro child!

The shadows of the stormy life
That moment fell apart;
Without the rash and bloody hand,
Within the loving heart.
That kiss from all its guilty means
Revealed the good intent,
And round the grizzly fighter's air,
The martyr's aureole bent!

Perish with him the folly
That seeks through evil good;
Long live the generous purpose
Unstained by human blood!
Not the raid of midnight terror,
But the thought which underlies;
Not the outlaw's pride of daring,
But the Christian's sacrifice.

Oh! never may you blue-ridged hills
The northern rifle hear,
Nor see the flash of blazing homes
Upon the negro's spear.
But let the free-winged angel Truth,
Their guarded passes scale,
To teach that right is more than might,
And justice more than mail.

So vainly shall Virginia set
Her battle in array;
In vain her trampling squadrons knead
The winter snow with clay.
She may strike the pouncing eagle,
But she dares not strike the dove;
And every gate she bars to Hate
Shall open wide to Love!

—Independent, Dec. 22.

SHERMAN AND HOUSTON.—In a debate on the Speakership in the House, Jan. 12, Mr. Sherman desired to call attention to the remarks of Mr. Houston, as reported in the Globe, to the effect:—"I do not mean to say those gentlemen, Adrain and Clark, will vote for the Democratic candidate, but I have no doubt; they will, I trust return to their first love, calm the agitation of the country, and save the House from the burning, withering shame of putting into the Speaker's chair the gentleman from Ohio."

Mr. Sherman enquired whether Mr. Houston designed to reflect upon him personally or politically.

Mr. Houston replied that he should have supposed that the gentleman would not have propounded that question to him, for there could be no doubt as to the proper construction of the language. He did not suppose any gentleman thought he meant or intended a personal application.

This did not relieve the gentleman from having endorsed the doctrines of the book, and he should relieve himself in a manly manner, which he has been called to do.—Until then he (Houston) would say Mr. Sherman, was subject, politically, to the remarks he (Houston) had made.

Mr. Sherman said every one ought to be satisfied with Mr. Houston's personal disclaimer. All would bear him witness that he had listened to the character of the debate here without objection. He had not been disposed to regard the remarks as personal. So far as his disclaimer of the doctrines of the Helper book was concerned, every man who had any sense of feeling, knew that his lips in a great measure, had been sealed, from the first day of the session, by what he must regard as an offensive resolution, thrust on the House at an improper time, and in an improper manner, and insisted on in a way without precedent in parliamentary history. He had said to his friends, and now said to others, that he would consent to have the Helper book read, page by page, and then he would avow or disavow every statement therein. He had never concealed his opinions, and, if the offensive resolution (that of Mr. Clark, of Missouri,) should be withdrawn, he would be prepared to speak further on the subject.

STOVE STORE REMOVED.

URIAH BLAISDELL

Has removed his Stove and Furnishing Establishment one door north, to the spacious and convenient store

Nos. 43 & 45 Market Street,

where he is receiving and arranging a large and valuable Stock of

STOVES, TIN WARE, &c.,

Which he offers for sale at wholesale and retail, at very low prices. He has a great variety of the best and most popular Stoves, among which are:

1. The Stewart Cook Stove, with the latest improvements. This is an excellent Cook Stove, on Wood or Coal; it has moveable coverings, which can conclude the heat in the stove, or let it out into the room; has a reservoir of hot water 10 or 20 gallons, and a flue closed beneath—a top cover, which is a great fashion for boiling, and will bake cookies all night; it has a Dripping Oven convenient in front of the Stove;—and in every respect a most convenient and durable Stove. There are 4 sizes.

The following recommendation of Stewart's Stove, is from an eminent engineer, and must be satisfactory all who wish to understand the value of this excellent Stove:

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 5, 1859.

Mr. Blaisdell:—Some years ago I moved to this city, and sold, before I came, a "Stewart's Air-Tight Cooking Stove," which I had used above five years. During that time no repairs or expense had been made upon it. Since I have been out of it have tried the various Cooking Stoves in use, and I think for economy and durability the "Stewart" excels them all. I wish you would take away the Stove I now have from my house, and set up one of Stewart's as soon as you can. Your obt servant,

B. F. CHANDLER.

2. Boston & Maine Cook Stove;
3. White Mountain;
4. Empire State;
5. Enterprise;
6. Exchange;
7. Dining Room Cook Stoves, and others.

PARLOR STOVES.

SEAVEY'S COAL AND GAS BURNER, surpassing everything else of the kind, as a parlor Coal Stove.

THE MAGEE COAL STOVE, highly recommended and esteemed by many.

CAST IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens.

SHEET IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens, of a variety of patterns.

OFFICE AND COUNTING ROOM STOVES.

BOX STOVES, for Schools, Halls and Churches

FARMER'S BOILERS, from 15 to 46 gallons each.

ALSO, FUNNEL, KITCHEN FURNITURE, TIN WARE AND FARMING TOOLS.

All these, and many other articles, too numerous to mention, will be sold at great bargains.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the most influential society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Rosemary, a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Kidneys, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c. &c. This compound has proved to be the same remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice as a medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in use as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Cancer cures, Ague Pills, Headache and Costiveness, are the same remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents.

Cough Drops for Phthisis, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

I have the above testimony my wife also regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I think I am accountable to recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Ed. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 20, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together

THEOPHILUS CURRIER,
SALLY CURRIER.

Hundreds of certificates of cures by these innocent, but effectual medicines are received, many of which are printed on his circular which accompanies the medicines. These, with others of DR SIMEON SWETT'S MEDICINES constantly for sale at his residence in

STOVES AND FURNACES

FRANK JONES,

61 MARKET ST., PORTSMOUTH,

Having received a part of his Winter Stock of

SUPERIOR COOKING STOVES,

would invite the attention of those about purchasing, to the largest and best selected stock of COOKING STOVES, of the most approved patterns and valuable kinds to be found in this market; among which may be found

THE CLIPPER, BOSTON & MAINE,
EMPIRE STATE, WHITE MOUNTAIN,
REPUBLIC, BANNER, &c.,

with many others, for wood or coal, which will be sold at such prices as shall defy competition.

The Combination Stove and Range.

One of the greatest inventions of the age, for Cooking purposes.—made expressly for large families, boarding houses, &c., or wherever a great amount of Cooking is required in the shortest possible time, is having large ovens, 6 boilers boiling, stewing or roasting, cooking no more fuel than any ordinary Cooking Stove. It is warranted to give entire satisfaction in every particular in point of economy, convenience, or ease of management; as we believe it to be far ahead of anything of the kind yet introduced into this market. We invite a close examination of the "Combination Stove & Range," feeling confident that it supersedes all others for which it is intended, and will be sold at a very low price.

THE MAGEE.

The Calebrated Magee Patent

Ventilating Parlor Stove.

All sizes—acknowledged by every one to be the

BEST STOVE IN THE WORLD.

The fire can be kept through the entire season without once going out, giving the greatest amount of heat from the least fuel of any other Stove known.

The heat can be regulated to the mildest as well as the coldest weather, and at the same time perfectly ventilating the apartment in which they are used. We have sold hundreds of them the past year, and have testimonials of the highest order, acknowledging their superiority over every other Stove yet invented. To every one in search of the best Stove that can be found, we would say,

"Try the Magee."

PARLOR STOVES

of the most approved kinds.

STORE, OFFICE & SHIP STOVES;

BOX AND CYLINDER do.

SHEET IRON STOVES, with and without ovens.

Parlor Cook Stoves.

New patterns this season—for wood or coal,—warranted to be the best in the market, and will be sold at such prices as will convince every one that this is the place to buy cheap.

THE MAGEE FURNACES,

7 Sizes—Brick and Portable.

These Furnaces work on the same principle as the Magee Stoves. They are simple and easily operated, requiring only about half the coal of any other Furnace—will keep fire the whole season, and are not liable to get out of order.

We would invite the attention of those interested to an examination of the MAGEE FURNACE, and at the same time refer them to a number of places in this city where we have erected them the past year; and in every instance have given perfect satisfaction.

REPAIRING PEICES,

For most kinds of Cooking Stoves used in this market. Also,

Coal Fixtures and Fire Brick.

HARD WARE AND CASTINGS generally

TIN, SHEET IRON & COPPER WARE, manufactured to order.

☞ Prices as low as at any other establishment in this vicinity, and satisfaction guaranteed in all cases.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Based Twenty Years.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers for Patents, for Inventions, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into American or Foreign works, to determine the novelty of any contemplated invention,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching patents. Copies of the claims of any Patent issued by sending One Dollar. A Specimen received at Washington.

This Agency is probably the largest in New England, through its intimate and extensive connections, it possesses the unquestionable advantages of obtaining patents more speedily than those who are not immediately specified, as our opinions given prove, in a number of MOST SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE, during the last year, and as EVIDENCE IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he is abundantly able to believe, and can prove, that no other office in the United States can compare for professional services to mechanics. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, in preparing claims, consulting a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents, have placed his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full specimens of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities for obtaining Patents.

All necessary of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
JOHN TAGGART,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, whenever they be sure of having the most careful and faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges."
EDMUND BURKE,
Commissioner of Patents.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on TWICE rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, EVERY ONE of which was decided in HIS FAVOR, by the Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, June 1, 1858. R. H. EDDY.

Morning Chronicle.

For the Chronicle.

Messrs. Editors:—What are your correspondents "P. Y. A." and "Y." trying to dew? Do they wish to convince the public that our "bread, butter and cheese" are things to be eschewed by men and women? What does "P. J. A." mean by "a perversion of the article milk, by making it into butter and cheese?" Has the world lived so long in the enjoyment of these luxuries of the table, to hear now that their manufacture is a perversion of the use of the milk and cream from which they are made? Do your correspondents mean that we should all confine ourselves to a bread and water diet with the stimulating addition only of rye flap-jacks? Who are they? Are they among the class of hard-working men, who every day are wearing out the tissues of their flesh? Ten to one they are persons who do not know what severe physical labor is. Men who labor hard, it is well known by experience, must partake of more nourishing and strengthening food, or they would never be able to continue their hard work day after day and year after year.

With the diet recommended by "P. J. A." we should soon become a race of puny, weak men; with neither physical nor moral courage—the prey to every bugbear the world contains. We cannot think of defending the brown bread, butter, cheese, meat, &c.—but we call for the reasons of your correspondent. It is easy to make assertions, but let us have reason to back them. We are by no means the advocate of the free use of intoxicating liquors, but we have serious doubts if the banishing of all of them from the face of the earth, would not banish a greater amount of good than it would evil. In other words, we believe that a far greater sum of good to the whole race is produced by the legitimate and proper use of those things, than of evil by the perversion of their uses.

And with regard to tobacco, there is an entirely false estimate in the minds of many men as to its comparative merits as a blessing and a curse. The most valuable and popular medicines in the world, become a curse to the individual who perverts their use to his destruction, and with regard to tobacco, we believe to say there is hardly a product of earth's soil which contributes so much to the comfort and moral well being of the race as this very much abused weed. There are few things in this world that afford that solace to the hard toiling hewer of wood, as at the close of labor to enjoy at his fireside or sitting at his door-step, a quiet and soothing smoke of his pipe; and what harm has it done that old man of eighty winters, who, with his pipe and his white locks sits at his door-step, the picture of comfort and repose, whilst the smoke curls upward above him like an incense to heaven for his enjoyment. There are millions of just such pictures, at every sunset the world knows. Who would deprive them of the only hour of repose their day affords them? Besides, the effect of the weed upon the constantly wearing tissues of such men is like that of food; it renews them; it repairs the broken thread, and it is well known that persons who smoke need less food to sustain them under the same degree of labor.

Your views, Messrs. Editors, are at variance, we know, to the use of tobacco, but have you ever tried it? Have you ever thought of the vast number who use it, and do not abuse it? A true estimate of these things would change the notions of many a man who can see nothing but evil in this excellent creation of the hand of a beneficent Father.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, proceeding "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or viscerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, yet, with Scrofula added to the taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rouse of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as
ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.
Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search out and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitality. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
FOR THE CURE OF
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country throughout the land has publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, this Pectoral will supersede every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thru t upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

FRIDAY, JAN. 20, 1860.

It has been suggested that a Speaker might be chosen by a ballot instead of viva voce. This was the uniform usage from the foundation of the government down to 1833. During the memorable contest between Mr. Bell and Mr. Polk for the Speakership, the friends of Gen. Jackson feared that some of his followers, might prefer Mr. Bell who ran in opposition to the Administration, and the viva voce vote was substituted as a mode of coercion, with the expectation that the doubtful members would not openly dare to resist the wishes of the President. The belief is entertained that if the ballot should be adopted, the House could be organized in a few days.—Boston Journal.

Uncle Toby remarked, when he read this, that to vote as the President said, or as Judge Taney says, was democracy, according to party usage,—but he should call it monarchy on the side of the dictator, and slavery on the side of the voter.

☞ Washington Items of Wednesday describe a talk between twenty mail contractors and the President, in which his suggestions for their relief alluded only to the election of a Speaker, and of course were worthless.

The treasurer or agent of the Kansas Aid Society, Mr. Array, was again before the Harper's Ferry Committee of the Senate. They refuse to allow him to go to Kansas for his books and papers. His testimony was taken, but although he accounted for large sums of money and a great quantity of arms collected in 1856 and 1857, to be employed in Kansas, nothing was elicited from him concerning Brown's raid into Virginia.

SORRY TO HEAR IT.—The New London Chronicle says Neal Dow, the father of the prohibitory Maine law, has himself become a victim of the terrible habits that his system was intended to reform in all mankind.

The above morceau of news is cut from the Springfield Republican, a paper that is ordinarily reliable. Mr. Dow is now a representative from Portland, at Augusta, and must be somewhat amused by this piece of news, which would be very important, if true: but as it happens to be utterly false, it is of no consequence to anybody but the father of the lie.

Beautiful sentiment from the N. Y. Herald—"the sooner literature emerges into the broad sunlight of truth, virtue and beauty, the better will it be for the human race."

Exactly so;—and that is the reason why liberty has all literature, all poetry, all eloquence on its side, while slavery has none, and can have none.

Some literary men, to be sure, sometimes make poor apologies and South-side views of slavery, but every one of them on some other occasions, has committed himself on the side of liberty.

☞ A correspondent of the Age makes the following significant inquiry:—

Can you inform your numerous readers whether or no the celebrated Mrs. L. Maria Child has offered her services to nurse those who were injured by the awful calamity at the Pemberton Mills, Lawrence, or were all her "feelings for the race" expended on "Old Brown?"

It is, indeed, an amazingly significant piece of clap-trap. The injured sufferers at Lawrence, have the sympathy of the whole community, and the aid of as many persons as can get round them. But Old Brown was a prisoner, doomed as a traitor, a murderer and an outlaw, by Virginia and the Federal Power at Washington;—his family and friends far away, and likely to be treated as foes and spies if they came near; and his prison guarded by jailers inside, and by troops and cannon outside.—What a striking similarity in the cases!—and what a significant piece of donkeyism to compare one with the other. Mrs. Child may possibly survive.

☞ News is received of a fresh outrage committed in Virginia, upon a young man, a citizen of Northern New York. He was employed in Boteler's district, and was arrested on suspicion, and thrown into jail, where he still remains. He says he is a Democrat, and the only reason why he was put in jail was that he refused to express any opinion about John Brown. Mr. Boteler of Virginia, and Mr. Harris of the same State, members of Congress, to their credit be it said, are endeavoring to procure his release. Isn't this a free country, especially in the "Old Dominion?"

☞ The Sullivan County Temperance Society met at Meriden, Jan. 4, and chose J. Weber, Esq. president; Rev. R. F. Lawrence and Saml. B. Duncan, vice presidents; Rev. H. Cummings, Secretary.—Rev. Mr. Lawrence gave the address, in which he argued ably that the "Liquor law" is just and necessary, and therefore should be enforced. Reports were listened to from the towns represented. These disclose a need of more efficient efforts in the cause of temperance.

You can't fill a man as you fill up a pitcher;
He always will hold
A little more gold,
And, never so rich, he wants to be richer.

SCENES IN THE SENATE.—In the U. S. Senate, executive session, Jan. 16, Clingman made a severe speech against the election of Seward.

Mr. Doolittle replied to Clingman, and charged upon the South with severity;—when Toombs gave the lie to Doolittle, and the latter flung it back. Consternation followed, and then a hurried adjournment.

Old Senators say there has not been so stormy an executive session since the rejection of Van Buren and the attempted rejection of Edward Everett.

When Mr. Faulkner's nomination as Minister to France was called up, Mr. Wilson denounced the extract from Mr. Faulkner's speech in which he recommended resistance to the inauguration of a Republican President. Mr. Wilson urged that the nomination should lie over until inquiry could be made into these sentiments, saying he could not vote for any man who entertained them.

Mr. Doolittle regarded Mr. Faulkner's sentiments as treasonable, and would have the Senate treat them with condemnation.

Mr. Mason said they reflected the opinion of Virginia, and also he believed of the whole South.

Mr. Wigfall made his debut in a fierce speech, promising that Texas would unite with the South in the extremest measures. He justified Mr. Faulkner's declarations in every sense. Messrs. Clay and Toombs followed in the same temper. Finally the division stood 30 for confirmation to 21 against. Three Republicans were absent, unpaired.

☞ An interesting law case has just been tried and determined in the Supreme Judicial Court of Maine, held at Saco, York Co. The case was Thomas Frisbee vs. Wm. W. Cutts, both of Kittery. The nature of the action was trespass quare clausum. The real question in issue was—whether the dft. had a right of way over the land of the plf., and if so, whether the plaintiff had the right to place bars across the way. The trial was commenced Thursday forenoon of last week, and lasted till Wednesday of this week, when the jury, after being out one hour, brought in a verdict for the defendant, clearly establishing Cutts's right of way, unobstructed, from his farm to the bridge—as every fair-minded person who knows the the place and the people will say it ought to be, in law and equity.

The testimony of Mr. John L. Lawrence, former owner of the Mill Farm, and his deeds, were conclusive for Cutts's right;—they were opposed by many witnesses, but never shaken in the least.

Counsel for plff., Howard, Goodwin and Oakes; for the defence, Hon. T. M. Hayes and S. B. Allen, Esq. Mr. Hayes, in his argument, says:

If fifty men from Kittery should swear that the new road was not opened to the public, would you believe them, or the road itself, the fence and ditch, and the labor of Cutts and the public upon it? No man of intelligence will doubt that the road was substituted for the old, fluctuating ways across the land.

When Lawrence closed the old way, he licensed a new one. When you have a right of way across your neighbor's land, you can cross at another place, doing as little damage as possible. Cutts had a right to remove the bars, and to remove them as he did, without taking them out inch by inch.

The jury, by their verdict, justified this view.

☞ The Manufacturer's Union Convention, at Meriden, Conn., was largely attended. A resolution was passed, condemning the attempts, for partizan purposes, to persuade the people of the South that the people of the North sympathize with assaults upon them. The Convention then adjourned to dinner.

After dinner, some Union resolutions (which cut both ways) were adopted by over 100 members. A minority of about 50 left the hall in a body, after several efforts to defeat the majority; this minority of 50 probably would have hung old John Brown over again, on paper.

One of the resolutions passed was the following, having reference to South Carolina:

Resolved, That we utterly condemn the spirit which impelled a sovereign State of this Union, in 1832, to threaten civil war, for no greater grievance than its opposition to a law of Congress establishing tariff duties upon imports.

Another, the last, closed with the language of the great Webster: "Liberty and Union, now and forever, one and inseparable."

☞ Gov. Black of Nebraska, in vetoing the bill passed by the Legislature for the abolition of slavery in that Territory, has made a significant comment upon that clause of the Nebraska bill which professes to leave the people "perfectly free to form and regulate their domestic institutions in their own way."

A SEWING SCHOOL.—There is a sewing school in Bangor, to teach poor children how to sew, which was originated in 1852, by a few ladies, and the number of pupils has averaged from 60 to 107 of the poorest and most destitute children of the city.

☞ Some of the most intimate friends of Mr. Seward say that he has no idea of making any speeches during the present feverish political excitement.

☞ Besides the ship on the stocks at Toby & Littlefield's yard, Noble's Island,—Messrs. Snow & Badger have commenced the building of a vessel of 130 tons, at the ship-yard of Messrs. Marcy & Pettigrew, South End, to be finished about the first of March.

Quite a large gang of hands are also employed at the Navy Yard, repairing the Cumberland, and it is rumored that the Constitution is to be fitted for sea.

TEMPERANCE MEETING.

The Annual Meeting of the Rockingham County Temperance Society will be held at North Hampton, on Wednesday, Feb. 22, 1860, at 11 o'clock, A. M.:—all friends of religion, morals and good order are invited to attend.

The State Temperance Committee will meet at the same time and place.

T. H. MILLER, Sec.

☞ The Post Master at East Concord has just sent us the following letter:

POST OFFICE, EAST CONCORD, Jan. 13.

According to Post Office regulations, it is necessary for the publisher to notify the P. M. at the office of delivery, in season for the P. M. to make his quarterly returns. In the case of Mr. Hurd, I had no notice of the pre-payment until the close of the year. I had made my quarterly returns as usual, and called the paper unpaid, and consequently held him responsible for the postage for 1859, and shall hold him responsible until the publisher notifies according to law.—Please inform me of anything that will be interesting. Yours, very respectfully,

JOHN M. DEABORN, P M.

There are these two troubles with this post-master: 1, he does not understand his duties; and 2, he is obstinate in his ignorance. Had he not demanded double price for the postage of a paper, the postage for last year and this would have been paid at his office. But he demanded it, and we paid single postage here, on this paper—as we have also paid on many others—but we have never been called upon before to send a certificate anywhere for such a paper.

We had, however, sent, the last week, a certificate from the post master of Portsmouth, that the postage has been paid here, for 1859 and '60.

If Mr. Dearborn chooses to persist in petty, illegal, contemptible exactions, we shall continue to show him up; and if such ignorance and obstinacy as his should happen to cost us a subscriber or two, we shall not be much frightened.

Many years ago, there was a flood of ignorant post-masters poured upon New Hampshire, all at once, and they did great damage for a time; but we do not now remember that we found one of them obstinate. As soon as they learned their duties, there was no more trouble.

Since writing the above, we have received another letter from Mr. Hurd, in which, after mentioning a remittance to pay for the Chronicle for 1860, he says:

"Mr. Dearborn says he has charged all alike, and no one made any complaint except myself."

That is, he exacted more than double postage. And Mr. Hurd adds:

"Mr. D. refuses to accept of your postage receipt," (by which he means the certificate from the P. M. in Portsmouth that the postage for these two years, 1859 and '60, has been paid,) "and threatened me with prosecution unless I made immediate payment. The 28 cts. are paid, and I have notified the department at Washington of the facts, and enclosed your paragraph in the Chronicle."

We only add, that in an experience of 45 years in newspaper printing, and daily intercourse and correspondence with post-masters, we have never met with anything like the ignorance, stupidity and obstinacy exhibited in this petty transaction. It is not certain that the subscriber will get any redress from the Department, as he is not versed in the technicalities of the office—but a roll of the wheel will probably roll the little great man out of office in '61.

CURIOUS COINCIDENCE.—In the House, Jan. 18th, Mr. Montgomery said there was not a single member on the floor who proposed or intended to propose a measure for the protection of slavery in the Territories.

In the Senate on the same day, Mr. Brown proposed a slave code for the Territories.

THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE.—An old subscriber at New Boston, N. H., writes us, Jan. 12:—

I send you one dollar to pay for the Chronicle for another year. I would not be without it for twice the money. I hope I shall be able to do more for you soon. I mean, I hope to get some new subscribers.

Yours truly, J. K. W.

Cutaneous Diseases.
Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purify their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system. The Rev. John Pierpont says: "I have been cured of a troublesome cutaneous disease by the use of the PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of medical profession, for my settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, which also is a gentle purgative. The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "Bitters," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.
A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which affect the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure this disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ.
☞ THE GREAT FRENCH REMEDY possesses extraordinary properties for the speedy and permanent cure of CONSUMPTION, BRONCHITIS, COUGHS, COLDS, and all PULMONARY DISEASE. This celebrated specific is now universally acknowledged to be infinitely superior to all other preparations for the cure of Pulmonary Disease, both from its incredible nature and most astonishing curative properties; it being the only remedy known that will arrest the development of Tubercles in the Lungs or restore the vital functions of the pulmonary organs to their normal condition. Its invaluable properties have obtained for it the highest recommendation and praise from some of the most eminent physicians and chemists in the country; while the best and surest proofs of its merits are afforded by the numerous testimonials of its great efficacy in conquering disease, which are constantly received from our most respectable citizens. Invalids in all stages of pulmonary disease should not fail to give it a trial, as it can be administered to the most delicate and feeble with perfect safety and certain relief; and we herewith insert a few testimonials for their encouragement, selected from hundreds of like import.

Certificate of Dr. A. A. HAYES, in reference to the unequalled virtues of this great discovery.

This preparation, by chemical analysis, was proved to be free from opium, or any of its compounds; nor were any of the alkaloids present. It does not contain any mercurial or mineral substance, but consists wholly of volatile, diffusible agents, which afford vapors freely at a moderate temperature. Most of the substances present are officially used in alleviating pulmonary disease; but the device by which they are combined is new and original, and adapts the compound to inhalation, or other modes of administration

In the Boston Transcript of December 11, 1858, the editor says:—

"We have seen a letter from an eminent physician of this city, in which he says:—'I have used Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ in several cases of Bronchial disease, and in some with great benefit. I know of no remedy equal to it for children, where a mild nutritive is needed; or for adults of delicate stomachs, or having a tendency to reject ordinary medicines given for coughs, etc. I shall continue to use it in my practice.'"

BOSTON, March 10, 1859.

J. F. LAPORME, Esq.:

Dear Sir:—I had been suffering for a considerable length of time from a severe cough, and had in vain had recourse to nearly all the remedies in use. My cough began to give me much uneasiness from its serious effects on my system, when three days' use of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ restored me to complete health. The medicine being new in this market, I had recourse to it last; but I can now confidently recommend it as the best medicine I know of. Yours, truly

In the Boston Post, Sept. 24, 1858, the editor says:

"An extraordinary cure of Consumption has recently come to our knowledge, effected through the instrumentality of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ; the evidence of which is such as to be heartrending of the subject. Mr. Wm. P. Brigham, No. 130 Albany st., in this city. It seems that for eighteen months he had been exhibiting all the usual symptoms of Consumption, and that after having had recourse to the skill of various physicians, without benefit, he had to abandon his business and be confined to his house. Hearing of Fousel's Pabulum Vitæ, and of several remarkable cures effected by it, in desperate cases, he was induced to try it, not very it as a forlorn hope. The result has been most happy—he has now entirely recovered, and is engaged in his usual pursuits. He is also well authenticated cases as this that we take pleasure in laying before our readers, since, by so doing, many valuable lives may be saved, and much good effected.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Thursday, Jan. 18, Mr. Brown introduced a resolution requiring a slave code for the Territories, and instructing the Committee on Territories, in reporting bills for the organization of Territories, to insert a clause requiring such protection, and in case the territorial legislature fails to comply, Congress is to apply the remedy.

This agrees exactly with the last Democratic Convention in Concord, N. H., and with the Democratic Standard: but it does not agree very well with any known principle of Democracy, Republicanism or Liberty.

In the House, McRae was entitled to the floor, but yielded it to Clayton, who was about to address the House, when Washburn of Me. interrupted him by calling for a vote on Mr. Hutchin's resolve for the adoption of the plurality rule. He insisted that they were obliged by law to proceed to vote for Speaker, without debate and delay.

Craige of N. C. raised a point of order on Washburn, when the latter repeated the motion for the adoption of the plurality rule.

This was discussed at considerable length with animation and considerable confusion. Mr. Clayton said the South was the victim to be led to the slaughter.

[The lamb-like character of the slave power, made this a beautiful figure.]

Mr. Carter of New York, who voted for Sherman, said he did so because, under existing circumstances, he thought the Republicans ought to have the presiding officer. He could not vote for a South American, because that party is in favor of a slave code in territories. If it is not so, let any one of them deny it.

Hardeman said he was in favor of such a code. Quarles and Boteler said the same. Etheridge did not. Briggs was for a kind of squatter sovereignty.

Carter understood the Southern Opposition to be in favor of a slave code. He asked if the Northwestern and other Democrats were in favor of such a code.

Morris of Ill. said he was not.

Such debate occupied the sitting. No question was taken.

☞ On Thursday, Jan. 18, a collision occurred on the Hudson River Railroad, between the afternoon express train from Albany and the Sing Sing train, both going one way. The rear car of the express train was smashed. Ten or twelve passengers were more or less injured, and one, Mrs. Thomas W. Field, was killed. Mrs. Field, late Miss Anna Tuttle, principal of one of the public schools in Brooklyn, was married only the day before, and had just started on her bridal tour to the South.

The accident happened in the same way as that on the Harlem Railroad the day before; the express train having been compelled to stop on the road for some purpose while the Sing Sing cars were too close behind to admit of their being stopped in season to prevent the collision.

Bishop McCloskey of Albany is among the seriously injured. Mrs. Thompson, wife of the publisher of the Bank Note List, had both of her legs broken.

DECISION IN THE LOTTERY CASE REVERSED.—Savannah, Jan. 16.—The lottery case of Swan & Co., has been decided by the Supreme Court, sustaining the points of Swan & Co.s' counsel, and reversing the decision of the lower Court against Swan.

PENNSYLVANIA.—Harrisburg, Pa., Jan. 17.—The Resolutions relative to the non-organization of Congress and attributing it to the National Administration; also endorsing the members of Congress from Pennsylvania, passed the House this evening, as they came from the Senate, by yeas 59, nays 31.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 18.—There were indication to-day on the part of the Republicans to have a night session, with the view if possible, of bringing the contest for the Speakership to a termination, but a sufficient number of them were not united for their purpose.

☞ Mr. Edward Trafton, a suburban resident of Newburyport, was fined $2 and costs $6.72, for driving his team without bells in that city.

TIME wears slippers of list, and his tread is noiseless. The days come softly dawning one after another; they creep in at the windows; their fresh morning air is grateful to the lips as they pant for it, their music is sweet to the ears that listen to it; until, before we know it, a whole life of days has possession of the citadel, and time has taken us for its own.

THE SPEAKERSHIP.—The South can bluster about the "impending crisis," but let it impend till the crash of doom, and let the balloting be forever, before the North yields even to a change of its candidate, if thereby it could even succeed.—Newburyport Herald.

☞ Godey for February, contains a frontispiece, called "In Time of War," a pretty and touching plate; read the story illustrative of it. The "Flowers for Marking" is a splendid illustration of the art of printing in colors. There are sixty-one engravings; among them sixteen full page plates.

☞ Peterson's Magazine for February is out,—attractive, agreeable, useful, as usual.

LOST—Jan. 17th, between No. 49 Congress st. and 7 Summer st., a lady's SONTAG, crimson centre, with Chinchilla border. The finder shall be rewarded on leaving it at the Chronicle office.

☞ Persons intending to subscribe to the Cosmopolitan Art Association for this season, should do so at once. The books close and the award of premiums is made Jan. 30th; and the Secretary will visit New York several days previous, to be present at the declaration. See advertisement of "Sixth Annual Announcement" in another column; and the beautiful engraving of "Shakespeare and his Friends," at Mr. Cobb's store.

There is no chance like it to procure a superb picture for a little money,—besides the other inducements to subscribe.

THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE,

Containing the news of the week, at home and abroad, as published in the six previous issues of the Daily Chronicle,—is printed on Friday morning, and immediately delivered by our carriers to subscribers in the city, or sent by mail to any part of the State or the world.

As the Weekly Chronicle contains most of the matter from our "local" Daily columns, it will be found an attractive paper for natives of Portsmouth living abroad, and all others interested in our city.

Terms of subscription to the Weekly Chronicle, only $1 per year in advance—sent by carrier without extra charge, to any part of the city and vicinity; or by mail, postage free, to any part of Rockingham County. Direct letters, "Chronicle, Portsmouth, N. H."

☞ Watson Brothers, at Biddeford, have turned their Weekly Gazette into a Daily Morning paper, during the late session of court—a neat little penny sheet. Saco and Biddeford ought to have at least one permanent Daily, between them; and will have, when an editor and printer can be found, able and willing to work hard enough.—Both must do triple duty, at least. If anybody don't believe it is hard work to print a country Daily, let him try it a spell, that's all. Instead of having the work divided into a score of "departments," as in the city offices, the publisher must be canvasser, editor, reporter, business manager, mail clerk, book-keeper, secretary and foreman, if not compositor, pressman, devil, and sometimes carrier. There's nothing like it. Try it—everybody thinks they can do it.

☞ Rev. Mr. Steele, of Watertown, Mass. will lecture this evening, in the Hanover Street Chapel. Subject, The Model Man.

This is the 4th lecture of the Course.—Price of tickets for this and the closing lecture, 25 cts. Evening tickets 15 cents.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER

SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The EASE with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "GROVER & BAKER" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and charged from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a GROVER & BAKER Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

PORTSMOUTH, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others.
ALLEN & PAINE.

PORTSMOUTH, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Morning Chronicle.

THE AMERICAN EXODUS.—Delegates from the Canadian districts where most of the fugitive slaves from the United States are settled, are now in England raising funds for their assistance. There number is stated at 45,000,and the number annually arriving from 1000 to 1200.

The Newburyport Herald remarks:—

As these are mostly adults and the smartest of their class, they would probably be valued at the South at full a thousand dollars a head, which would show forty-five million dollars to have been lost to the slaveholders and restored to its rightful owners in Canada, and that a million dollars in humanity is being so transferred annually.

So far as physical comfort is concerned these negroes would be better off in the South than in Canada; for in the colder climate they suffer severely. The same was true with the first generation of three million slaves that ran away from Egypt under Moses. They wandered around in the wilderness till all but a little party died. The immediate results of action are not to be taken alone. It is not probable that the generation that fought our revolutionary battles gained anything in physical comfort by independence. We must wait fifty years to see whether these people have gained or lost by emigration. One thing is certain, that if now they work harder and suffer more, they labor and suffer for themselves and their children, and their future may prove better than their present.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, Brooklyn, E. D., Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 16th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp so far grown to be very loose in my mobility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about three months since a fourth was added, viz: them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color; nevertheless, I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her was I strongly remonstrated by friends who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,

BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

Stamston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair good service, and since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all!

Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like. By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.

ENOCH JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds almost 50 per cent more than proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

STOVE STORE REMOVED.

URIAH BLAISDELL

Has removed his Store and Furnishing Establishment one door north, to the spacious and convenient store

Nos. 43 & 45 Market Street,

where he is receiving and arranging a large and valuable Stock of

STOVES, TIN WARE, &c.,

Which he offers for sale at wholesale and retail, at very low prices. He has a great variety of the best and most popular Stoves, among which are:

1. The Stewart Cook Stove, with the latest improvements. This is an Air-tight Cook Stove, for Wood or Coal; it has moveable covers, which can confine the heat in the stove, or let it out into the room; has a reservoir of hot water 10 or 20 gallons, and a false chest beneath;—a top cover, which is a great institution for baking, and will keep a coal fire all night; it has a Dutch Oven for roasting in front of the Stove;—and it is every way a most convenient and durable Stove. There are 4 sizes.

The following recommendation of Stewart's Stove, is from an eminent engineer, and must be satisfactory to all who wish to understand the value of this excellent Stove:

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 5, 1859.

Mr. Blaisdell:—Seven years ago I moved to this city, and sold, before I came, a "Stewart's Air-Tight Cooking Stove," which I had used about five years. During that time no repairs or expense had been made upon it. Since I have been here I have tried the various Cooking Stoves in use, and I think for economy and durability the "Stewart" excels them all. I wish you would take away the Stove I now have from my house, and set up one of Stewart's as soon as you can. Your ob't servant,

B. F. CHANDLER.

2. Boston & Maine Cook Stove;
3. White Mountain;
4. Empire State;
5. Enterprise;
6. Exchange;
7. Dining Room Cook Stoves, and others.

PARLOR STOVES.

SEAVEY'S COAL AND GAS BURNER, surpassing everything else of the kind, as a parlor Coal Stove.

THE MAGEE COAL STOVE, highly recommended and esteemed by many.

CAST IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens.

SHEET IRON PARLOR STOVES, with and without ovens, of a variety of patterns.

OFFICE AND COUNTING ROOM STOVES.

BOX STOVES, for Schools, Halls and Churches.

FARMER'S BOILERS, from 15 to 46 gallons each.

Also, FUNNEL, KITCHEN FURNITURE, TIN WARE AND FARMING TOOLS.

All these, and many other articles, too numerous to mention, will be sold at great bargains.

Funnel made, and Stoves and Funnel put up to order, in the best manner.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

A Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Burdock, a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and modes of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Purgative. Price 25 cents.

His Cusscre cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 38 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES T. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1851. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have taken many bottles.—FANNY CURRIER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would cordially recommend them to all who are afflicted with the lung complaints, and I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. ELIZABETH CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness, after preaching. I have found relief by with this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that give relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a trial and try it. Ed. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

THEOPHILUS CURRIER,
SALLY CURRIER.

Hundreds of certificates of cures by these innocent, but effectual medicines are received, many of which are printed on his circular which accompanies the medicines. These, with others of DR SIMEON SWETT'S MEDICINES constantly for sale at his residence in

MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we desire to state its superiority over any medicine that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First—It is the preparation of a regular physician, who is well qualified from much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiate of any kind, and consequently relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up in a small case, so as to be easily given, and no other article for infantile complaints will show: the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests where the children of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, and is a certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING, such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful but harmless emetic in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—It costs so much less than other preparations of the kind, that we cannot afford such long advertisements as can those whose whole expense is their advertising; the same reason, it commends itself as the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly followed. Price, 25 cents per bottle.

American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, Assistant Examiner for 5½ years.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Researches made into American or Foreign works, to determine the validity of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent published by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not unknown to any other office. Any inventor can't obtain them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT LEAST, THAN THE OFFICE of the subscriber; and as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him to accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer superior facilities to Inventors and Patentees.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a person more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of securing a valid application in a form to secure for them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office."
MARY N. BICKERDYKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN applications, on all but one of which patents have been granted, and more capable and skillful, or more unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to procure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their case, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twice rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS to the Hon. Commissioner of Patents, who decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

FAST HORSES.

We learn from the New Hampshire Journal of Agriculture, that the fast horse feature in our State Fairs came up for consideration at the recent meeting of the Society, in Manchester. The N. H. State Agricultural Journal editor introduced the following:—

Whereas, The New Hampshire State Agricultural Society was instituted for advancement of the Agricultural and Mechanical interests of the State, therefore,

Resolved, That for the future no fast horses, as such, shall be allowed to compete for premiums at our Fairs.

Those in its favor, took the ground that the fast horse feature was wrong—tending to draw the attention from real, substantial pursuits. Men who have unfortunately possessed themselves of a fast horse, have been ruined. Their property of thousands has been squandered—habits of industry have been abandoned, and the man of wealth and influence has become bankrupt in purse and in character. It keeps the farmers away from the fairs, for many of them see the evil tendency of the thing, and will not countenance it by their presence.

J. B. Clark, of Manchester, and W. F. Estes, of Dover, argued that a rule of this kind would exclude all good horses from the exhibition—that the money-paying portion of community would stay away, and that the fairs would be a failure. In order to succeed we must cater to the public taste, and that is for fast horses. Henry Ward Beecher drives a fast horse; it is for the farmer's interest to raise them—they bring more money. Clark contended that no horse was a good horse, unless he was a fast one. Black Hawk was a fast horse;—he had been the occasion of putting a large amount of money into the pockets of Vermont farmers.

It was contended, on the other hand, that he had not done so much as the Morgan.—Black Hawk stock is depreciating; the Morgan is increasing. The Morgan is a horse of all work—the Black Hawk is merely a roadster; the Morgan blood is of more value than the Black Hawk.

The resolve appears not to have been voted upon at all, and it never ought to be, unless it is voted down unanimously. Out upon such sleepy-headed old-fogy-ism!—We never heard that a man or a woman, or an ox, was ruled out, or thought the less of, on account of being a rapid worker.—Why, then, the horse, when he happens to possess speed as well as other good qualities?

DEATH OF A MISER.—Michael Baird of Little York, Pa., died recently, as he had always lived, a miserable miser. His father left him a valuable farm of five hundred acres, and with this for a foundation, he went into the distillery business, and also kept a hotel. He never was known to lay out one dollar in cash for any article he might need, for whatever he could not obtain by barter he would do without. He never gave credit to the amount of a single dollar to any man, and he never lent a cent. He had four children, but he never expended anything for their education. In this way, he accumulated an immense estate, valued at $400,000. After his death, his iron hooped boxes and barrels were found to contain $250,000 in gold and silver.—Baird hung himself a few weeks since, because a lot of clover seed which he had sent to Philadelphia did not bring so much by $550 as he had been offered previously.—"A fool and his money soon parted" there, at any rate—though perhaps not any too soon.

☞ People who attempt to evade the post office law sometimes make a dear matter to themselves and their correspondents. The Belfast Age says the postmaster of that city a few days since discovered in some newspapers a variety of miscellaneous dry goods, upon which the law compelled him to charge letter postage. A package was received at Sedgwick post-office recently, containing a book, a new year's present to a lady. The sender had paid fifteen cents, but the postmaster at the mailing office discovered a letter concealed therein, which subjected the package to an additional charge of 87 cents, and which the recipient was obliged to pay—all of which was lost in endeavoring to save three cents.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.
The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:
1. It can be put on leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.
THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR
BICKFORD'S SPRING BALANCE,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.
It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.
It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.
It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.
It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.
It does not balance by friction, but by means of a coiled spring with a cord attached, as the cords of weights.

Scrofula, or King's Evil,
is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which this fluid becomes vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor is there one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or ulcerous matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, eruptions or sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed, all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
One quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their purest blood is invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system we must renovate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla
the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active vegetable that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as
ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASES, DROPSY, ERIGIA OR THE DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.
Ayer's Cathartic Pills,
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so compact that they may be within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of every body, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of their cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dropsy, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.
Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cases of its cures, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate diseases of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is so apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known, the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs that are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies have sunk into oblivion, the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

Morning Chronicle.

Portsmouth, N. H.

SATURDAY, JAN. 21, 1860.

The assertion of a Boston correspondent of the Newburyport Herald, that the recent disgraceful scene at Harvard College originated in dislike to the theology of Prof. Huntington, which the students manifested in various ways, we can state in the most positive manner is without foundation.—The relations between the students and Prof. Huntington have ever been pleasant, and it is a libel upon the students to intimate that they would take such a mode of expressing their theological views.—Boston Journal.

This is well, as far as it goes, negatively. But positively, what was the matter? or was there no cause? If so, would it be "a libel on the students" who did the mischief and used the weapons, to say that they were very bad fellows?

Forbes' whole class say he is a noble young man: but such men don't make a fuss for nothing. Give us light.

☞ The English notions of American politics are vague, confused and indefinite. For example, the London Times has an editorial on the late Union meeting in New York. It regards the pro-slavery sentiments there announced as a fair sample of the average American opinion, and taunts the New England Abolitionists with having plunged the race they favor into deeper darkness, and made the subjection of man to man the belief of a Christian people.

The Christians that attended the New York meeting believe a great many things which are not in the catechism: a droll parcel of Christians they were, as ever got together in one church.

SALUTATIONS—Which is the Best Method?—The custom of salutation, as an act of respect or courtesy, has existed from the earliest ages. The mode varies in different countries, and in some it varies in different degrees of society, both civil and military; religiously, from a reverential nod to kissing the Pope's toe.

There is a variety of other forms, from a lock to a bow, rubbing noses, kissing, salaam, bending the knee, courtesy, and complete prostration of the body, and perhaps other forms. Salutation by kissing is most common among the ladies in what is called genteel society, but this to the writer seems sickening. A physician lately informed the writer that one lady called on an acquaintance who had the small pox, (none knowing it,) saluted her with a kiss, went home and had the disease; and other diseases might be taken in the same way.

Next, shaking hands. When Jackson went through the country, it was said that often got "mickered out," and used to get Major Jack Downing to "give him a spell;" Washington's mode of salutation was a respectful bow, often accompanied with a kind word, or, as the occasion might require, some appreciable remark. On reception day he was generally gloved, so that if any one would shake hands, he was, with his salutation, well prepared for emergencies.

A New Orleans paper reports an inquest held upon the body of a negro named John, belonging to Mr. John DeFerriet, at which a verdict was rendered that he died of disease of the liver, caused by eating dirt.

There seems to be a "right smart chance" of diseased livers among some politicians now-a-days, as they eat dirt by wholesale.

BLEW HIS ROOF OFF.—The Belfast Journal tells of an honest but not an overcautious old farmer who had a keg of powder for blasting purposes, which he kept in the attic of his house. Going up to fill a bottle from it one night, a few weeks since, he got his candle in contact with the powder, and an explosion took place that knocked the old fellow several times his length, and deposited the roof of his house in the yard. The moral from this incident is, that powder is an extremely dangerous material to set fire to in large quantities.

CHAPIN ON EDUCATION.—Rev. Dr. Chapin, in a discourse on "Childhood," Sabbath evening, enters an earnest protest against the schooling young children and prematurely cramming them with book-learning. He said it was atrocious, that the blood and vigor that was intended to strengthen the hands and body, should be forced into the head until it became a disproportionate intellectual wen on the child. The next discourse of the series will be particularly intended for young men.

☞ The Worcester Spy says Mr. John E. Frye, Senator in the present Legislature for the Northeast Worcester District, has resigned his seat in the Senate, in compliance with the urgent representations of his colleagues; reason, he is accused of the crime of forgery.

☞ A letter received at New Orleans, Jan. 17, states that Cortinas had re-crossed the Rio Grande, above Brownsville. There were no troops at Brownsville.

☞ In the U. S. Senate, Friday, Jan. 19, Mr. Douglas called up his resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee to bring in a bill for the better prevention of invasion, &c., and it was made the special order for Monday at 1 o'clock.

Mr. King offered a resolution appointing a select committee to investigate whether $45,000 or any other sum has been paid out of the public printing appropriation, or the printing of the Executive departments to the support of newspapers, especially the Washington Constitution, and the Pennsylvanian, and the Argus.

In the House, Mr. Hindman said the Democratic party had nothing to dread.—The Republicans were responsible for this state of things. If they had put in one of who had not recommended the circulation of a book counciling rapine, insurrection, and bloodshed, there would have been no prolonged opposition to his election.

[Pshaw, pshaw, Mr. Hindman, says Uncle Toby, you are behind the times, as to knowledge. Four years ago, Banks had recommended no book, and Helper was not in the way,—yet there was a prolonged opposition to his election;—and he was not chosen till February. There was just such a threatening then, as there is there now, but the Capitol did not tumble down.]

Mr. Hindman said John Brown was a tool of the Republican party, and did their work, and no Republican could skulk the responsibility. Public opinion would gibbet them as effectually as if the hemp that strangled John Brown was already around their necks—from the irrepressible conflict doctrine down to the member from Pennsylvania, (Mr. Hickman.) If the latter should march his Northern men against the South, the whole crop of hemp would go up, and the price of arms go down, for the South would take from them arms enough to equip the whole people. The Northerners would be welcomed with bloody hands to hospitable graves.

The black mantle of Republicanism covered both Sherman and Helper.—It was an outrage and an insult to the South to insist on Mr. Sherman for Speaker. If the Republicans are to be defeated, it must be by a Democrat. The Democrats should regather their scattered forces, meet in Congress and nominate from their own number, placing in his hands the Standard of the Constitution and the Union, rallying under that flag, and giving hereafter one united and unchanged vote for him, to the end of the contest, whether it ends to morrow, or on the 4th of March, 1861. We have filibustered long enough, without profit.

Mr. Bingham called for a vote upon the question of order raised on the plurality resolution of his colleague, Mr. Hutchins, yesterday.

Mr. Reagan moved a call of the House, which was refused 96 to 111.

Mr. Colfax brought out the fact, which was acknowledged by several Southern Democrats, that they have signed a paper pledging themselves to resist by all parliamentary stratagems a vote on the plurality rule.

SHAM BUILDINGS.—The Newburyport Herald says,—we are glad to see something of a panic in relation to unsafe buildings.—We hope this feeling will extend from the factories and workshops to public buildings, such as was the hall in Lowell that came nigh tumbling down a few years ago; and then to the bridges that support a tottering existence over our rivers, and the deep chasms passed by railroad trains; and as much further as the public good requires.—All over this country we have been erecting sham buildings, gingerbread bridges, and traps of railways, to say nothing of the coffin steamboats—that were a disgrace to us, as showing our reckless profligacy of human life.

In all these matters, our action is the reverse of that of the older nations of Europe. Our buildings, bridges, and rails bear no comparison for stability with those of Great Britain; and while we should not for one day endure the despotism of France or Austria, yet no French or Austrian emperor who would permit such endangerment of the people as we suffer, would be tolerated at all.

FOUND DEAD.—The Fall River News states that a party of foreigners, residing in Somerset, visited Fall River, on Wednesday, "on a time," and when they started for home at night were all intoxicated. After crossing the Ferry they only walked a short distance and then laid down on the ground, where they remained during the night, exposed to the fury of the storm that raged that night.

When found next morning one of them was dead and another scarcely able to walk. The latter was, however, restored by the usual remedies. Although the death of this man was clearly caused by excessive drinking, yet so little was the lesson regarded, that two of the deceased's companions got drunk at his funeral.

☞ The funeral of Armistead Walker, a colored preacher of Fredericksburg, Va., on Sunday week, was attended by over one thousand slaves and four hundred whites, including many ladies. The deceased was a slave, and by his respectful behavior won the esteem of all.

☞ The new city marshal of Manchester has been searching some of the groggeries there, and two keepers have just been held to bail.

Liberality consists less in giving profusely, than in giving judiciously.

FRANKLIN'S BIRTHDAY.

At the Boston "Franklin Typographical Society" celebration of the printer-patriot's Birthday, at the Music Hall, Mr. Chas. H. Woodwell, of the Transcript office, president of the Society, made the following interesting remarks, in introducing Mr. Everett as orator of the evening:

Ladies and Gentlemen:—We have assembled to-night for a double object. We meet to commemorate the birth-day of the great Printer, Philosopher and Patriot, whose name is immortalized by his long life of service to mankind, and to aid the charitable objects of an association whose members are proud to claim fellowship with him who, above all his other titles, most fondly cherished the name of Printer.

I shall not occupy the time in speaking of Benjamin Franklin, in the presence of the matchless orator whose name and fame have drawn your willing feet hither, and for whose eloquent voice you now wait with eager anticipation. Pardon me if for a few moments I delay the expected feast, by speaking of the history and objects of the Association which I have the honor to represent.

The Franklin Typographical Society was organized in 1824, by the printers of Boston, for the purpose, as expressed in the preamble to its Constitution, of "promoting the enlargement of the social affections, and mitigating the sufferings attendant upon sickness and misfortune among the members of the profession." Until 1830 the society limited its operations to the relief of sick members and the decent interment of those removed by death. In that year a library was established, which has since continued a pleasant and profitable feature of the institution. Soon afterwards a lecture system was instituted, which, however, was not long maintained.

The objects of the society, during the thirty-six years of its existence, have been pursued with remarkable steadiness of purpose. Unostentatiously it has extended its aid to its members stricken by disease, and paid the last rites of respect to those who have fallen beneath the stroke of the great destroyer. For several years past the demands upon its treasury for the relief of sick members, have been much more numerous than during the earlier periods of its history. This has been in a great measure caused by improvements in the printing press, for in no department of labor has modern invention been so detrimental to the laborer as in the department of printing. The rapid movements of the printing presses of the present day, enable the publishers of morning newspapers to delay putting them to press until near the breakfast hour of those classes of toilers to whom night brings rest; and thus the printer is called upon to toil through the weary hours when all the rest of the world is wrapt in sleep. With weary fingers and heavy eyelids he benits over his case, giving voice to the news from all lands, which the swift railway train, the rushing steamer, and the magical telegraph pours into the printing office; and the morning twilight often greets him as he wends his way home from his task.

Pursuing a vocation so violative of the natural laws, it is no marvel that the health of modern printers has degenerated, and that in length of years the scale of life among them has fallen far below that of any other class. In a report of the Massachusetts Secretary of State, a few years since, a table was published, showing the average duration of life among various professions, commencing with farmers at sixty-four years, descending throughout a list embracing twenty-five vocations, and ending with printers at an average of but thirty-six years, the lowest given in the table. Ample verification of this statement may be found in the records of the Franklin Typographical Society. The term of life among its members has been comparatively brief, scarcely reaching middle age; and I incur no risk of misstatement in asserting that no other charitable association in the State has a larger proportion of invalid members constantly upon its roll.

It will thus be seen that the burden of supporting a charitable organization among printers is greater than among any other class, and the Association which you honor with your presence this evening has peculiar claims upon public sympathy. For the liberal maner in which these claims have been recognized during the past two years, the members of the Typographical Society are truely grateful. The present occasion places them under new obligations, and in their name I would heartily thank the master of eloquence and the adepts of song, who have so kindly consented to unite their efforts in our behalf this evening.

The following Ode, written for the occasion by B. P. Shillaber, a member of the Society—who to an equally high esteem for and honor to the profession with the great philosopher, adds vastly more of poetry than ever the old hero could boast—was sung by the Handel & Haydn Society:

Honor to FRANKLIN's name!
Our tongues with admiration
Join in one grand acclaim
Of eloquent oblation;
A model for our guide,
Example for our aim,
We cherish him with pride,
With reverence sound his fame.
Where Science is enthroned,
His memory is treasured;
Where Truth's control is owned,
With its own worth 't is measured;
Where Thrift and Prudence dwell,
They 're with his spirit bright;
Where patriot-thoughts impel,
His teachings shed their light.
Where Industry's stout heart
Is constantly revealing,
Is felt in greatest part
His sympathy and feeling;
Where Faith's broad charity
O'er all its arms has thrown,
His principles we see
In liberal actions shown.
Upon the world's wide page
Is writ his mighty story,
And every clime and age
Shall magnify his glory!
'Tis not allied with strife,
In fields with gore imbrued;
But with the deeds of life
That compass human good.

Cutaneous Diseases.

Cutaneous diseases are more mortifying to the pride than any other human ills. Let those who value a fair skin, purify their blood by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, which removes such affections by stimulating the absorbents to take up and expel the morbid elements, by the natural outlets of the system. The Rev. John Pierpont says: "I have been cured of a troublesome cutaneous disease by the use of PERUVIAN SYRUP, and it affords me great satisfaction to find that it is making its way into the confidence of medical profession, for my own settled conviction is that it deserves the confidence, not of that profession alone, but of the public."

It is a common observation that there are more sufferers from debility, among Americans, than can be found among any other civilized nation. The reason is obvious. We take too little exercise, and forget the wants of the body in the absorbing pursuits of business. In all such cases, ordinary medicines can do but little good. What is required is just such a tonic and invigorator as Dr. J. Hostetter has given to the world, in his CELEBRATED "BITTERS."—The weak and nervous denizen of the counting house, the exhausted toiler upon the shop-board, and the prostrated student of the midnight lamp, have found a wonderful regenerator in the "BITTERS," and prefer it to more pretentious, but less efficacious medicines. But it should not be forgotten that the agent which is so magical in its influence upon a frame which is merely debilitated, is equally powerful in assisting nature to expel the most terrible forms of disease. Who will not give it a trial?

Sold by druggists and dealers generally, everywhere.

OXYGENATED BITTERS.

A Query. Why will you suffer? Dyspepsia is a brief but comprehensive term for the numerous diseases which afflict the stomach, liver, and in fact the whole human system. Until Dr. Green discovered the Oxygenated Bitters, medical science was at fault and had exhausted itself in fruitless efforts to cure the disease. The Dyspeptic need suffer no longer with a disease that is always painful, and frequently a fatal affliction.

This unique and peculiar compound will as certainly cure the disease as the disease exists. Had it not this power such testimony as follows would not be given in its favor:

VALUABLE TESTIMONY IN FAVOR OF THE OXYGENATED BITTERS.

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 10.

Having made use of the Oxygenated Bitters, prepared by Dr. George B. Green, of Windsor, Vt., and from knowledge obtained of their efficacy in other cases, we cheerfully recommendation of the proprietor. We hope that this valuable remedy may be accessible to all the afflicted.

SAMUEL S. PHELPS, WILLIAM UPHAM, } U. S. Senators from Vt.

J. F. FESSENDEN, U. S. Senator, and formerly Governor of Kentucky
L. H. ARNOLD, formerly Governor of R. I.
WM. WOODBRIDGE, late Governor of Michigan

Its success in severe cases of DYSPEPSIA, ASTHMA, AND GENERAL DEBILITY OF THE SYSTEM, places it among the most wonderful discoveries in medical science, and has given it a reputation far beyond any remedy known for these complaints, in all their various forms.

Prepared by S. W. FOWLE & CO., BOSTON, and for sale by Wm. H. Rand, Portsmouth; Samuel Wall, Nathan P. Thacher, J. H. Thacher, and B. Hutchings, Portsmouth; J. P. Packer, Greenland; and dealers everywhere. smot 4wd&w

Among the very large number of Newspapers that I furnish, I will call particular attention to but two—THE NEW YORK LEDGER—a paper that excels all others in enterprise and ability.—The Hon. Edward Everett will continue to write for the Ledger, together with all the best talent in the world. THE NEW YORK TRIBUNE, the best paper in the world, for the news.

In calling the attention of the public to my list of Magazines and Newspapers, I would caution all against subscribing for Magazines, Newspapers, or other works, through irresponsible and transient persons, or travelling agents; for in nine cases out of ten you will be swindled and cheated.

If you wish to take any Magazine or newspaper, subscribe of some responsible agent in town. Hundreds of dollars are lost every year by subscribing for works of strangers and travelling agents, and by being induced to subscribe by the thousands of contrivances to cheat the public—such as Art Unions, Premiums, Cosmopolitan Art Associations, and various humbugs to gull the unwary. Keep clear of these, and pay your money to those whom you know to be responsible. The subscriber has been in the business fifteen years, and will guarantee to furnish any publication as cheap as can be obtained.

☞ The ship Venice, Whitman, from Liverpool for New York, which put in at Fayal October 17th, leaky, had completed her repairs and reloaded about half her cargo (coals) when she caught fire on the 15th. She was towed clear of the shiping, and endeavors were made to beach her, but owing to the strong tide, she was carried clear of the Points, when the tow boats left her, and she has not since been seen, and is therefore supposed to be totally destroyed. The Venice was a fine white oak ship, of 617 tons, built here by the late George Raynes, and owned by Messrs. E. F. Sise, J. W. Pierce and John D. Simes.

Music and the Dance.—Messrs. Editors:—The party given by Mr. Cootey, on Wednesday night, at Jones & Mendum's Hall, was attended by about forty couples, and was highly satisfactory to all. The music, by Elliott's Quadrille Band, assisted by Mr. Carl Krebs, the celebrated clarionetto player, was excellent, as usual. A better variety of changes, or more distinct calling of figures, we never listened to. S

Skating.—Shall we have any skating this winter? The season is rapidly passing by, and as yet there has been no movement towards creating a skating park. A few strong arms and a fire engine would in a few hours flood a large surface on our ponds, now covered with snow. Who makes the first move? P.

We learn from Mr. Jacob Haddock that there is a skating course shoveled on the North Pond, four hundred yards long, and ready for the skaters.

Mr. Lamprey's Second Assembly was well attended, on Thursday evening, by a highly respectable company, who participated in the Terpsichorean exercise, heightened by the excellent music of the Quadrille Band. Next Thursday evening, the popular dance of the "Lancers" will be taught to the uninitiated, which will be an extra extraction for the occasion. Q.

Dancing in the Rural Districts.—The hard times do not prevent the young folks in the neighboring towns from enjoying themselves. Assemblies and dancing schools are held in Greenland, Rye, Kittery, Kittery Point, Newington, Newcastle, Eliot, &c. Many of our citizens have attended these meetings, and pronounced them quite interesting. I.

☞ A veteran citizen of Exeter, describing in the Ballot some of the injurious influences in that town, thinks the $20,000 debt to build a costly town hall is bad, (are not all debts injurious?) and says respecting the churches:

"The Lower Parish in 1789 settled Mr. Rowland, at a salary of $400, which they never increased. There are now in Exeter eleven religious societies; the number of inhabitants has not doubled. They are having their levees, &c., and picking one another's pockets to pay their ministers."

☞ The Rockingham Weekly Chronicle, containing a summary of the news of the week, this day published, and for sale at the Chronicle Counting Room: price 3 cents; $1 per year, in advance.

Bogus Negro Outrages.—A paragraph narrating some alleged gross outrages perpetrated by negroes in Canada West was originated by the Detroit Free Press for sensation purposes. The Detroit Advertiser affirms that the only foundation for it was a fight between some low whites and negroes at a house of ill fame kept by an Indian squaw. The Free Press has followed up this libel on the colored population of Canada by charging them with taking forcible possession of school-houses and expelling the white teachers. Such a prostitution of the press is contemptible and wicked.

☞ The New York Commercial understand that Lady Franklin will pay a visit to that city within a few week, and that she will be the guest of a leading citizen, distinguished for his philanthropic exertions in prosecuting the seach of Sir John Franklin.

☞ A Mississippi paper says that no human power "can break the bonds of the slaves" in that State. Whereupon the Louisville Journal observes that we have no idea that the Mississippi blacks can as easily get rid of their "bonds" as the Mississippi whites managed to do a few days ago."

☞ The New York Times is presenting the results of recent inquiries among the merchants of New York as to the present state of their Southern trade. It comes to the grand conclusion that "the trade of New York with the South was never in a sounder condition than at the present moment."

☞ The power of the press in England is illustrated by the fact that a leader in the London Times, a few weeks since, brought $8000 sterling to a charitable institution.

☞ All law officers in France have been ordered to dress in black with white cravats, and to stop smoking in the streets.

☞ Eight persons were drowned near Rhinebeck, N. J. on Tuesday last. A party of twenty or twenty-five persons from the opposite side of the river were crossing on the ice in a large covered sleigh drawn by four horses, when the ice gave way and the sleigh went down, carrying with it eight of the passengers, who were drowned. All but eight succeeded in getting out of the sleigh before it went down. The horses were saved.

☞ Elijah Davis of Hampton, complained of for drunkenness, noise and tumult, was tried before Justice J. W. Clark, of Exeter, on Tuesday, and sentenced to 20 days imprisonment and to pay costs of prosecution —$7.49.

Washington, Jan. 10.—There have been over $4,000,000 worth of scrip issued by the Post Office Department. One man, it is said, holds two millions of this scrip, purchased at eighty cents.

The President has tendered to ex-Gov. Thomas of Maryland, the U. S. Treasuryship. He declines.

☞ Gov. Stowart of Missouri refused to sign the bill expelling free negroes.

THE WEEKLY CHRONICLE,

Containing the news of the week, at home and abroad, as published in the six previous issues of the Daily Chronicle,—is printed on Friday morning, and immediately delivered by our carriers to subscribers in the city, or sent by mail to any part of the State or the world.

As the Weekly Chronicle contains most of the matter from our "local" Daily columns, it will be found an attractive paper for natives of Portsmouth living abroad, and all others interested in our city.

Terms of subscription to the Weekly Chronicle, only $1 per year in advance—sent by carrier without extra charge, to any part of the city and vicinity; or by mail, postage free, to any part of Rockingham County. Direct letters, "Chronicle, Portsmouth, N. H."

☞ Persons intending to subscribe to the Cosmopolitan Art Association for this season, should do so at once. The books close and the award of premiums is made Jan. 30th; and the Secretary will visit New York several days previous, to be present at the declaration. See advertisement of "Sixth Annual Announcement" in another column; and the beautiful engraving of "Shakespeare and his Friends," at Mr. Cobb's store.

There is no chance like it to procure a superb picture for a little money,—besides the other inducements to subscribe.

GROVER & BAKER'S

Celebrated Family Sewing Machines.

NEW STYLES. — PRICES FROM $50 TO $125.

HEMMERS, $5 EXTRA.

OVER THIRTY THOUSAND IN USE

These Machines sew from two spools, as purchased from the store, requiring no rewinding of thread, and finishing each seam by their own operation, without recourse to the hand needle, as is required by other machines. On account of their simplicity, durability, ease of management, and adaptation to all varieties of family sewing, they execute either heavy or fine work with equal facility, and without special adjustment.

THE NEW MACHINES INTRODUCED BY THE

GROVER & BAKER
SEWING MACHINE COMPANY

Are of elegant finish, and their operation is rapid and very quiet. The ease with which they can be managed is a distinguishable feature, and the stitch is the strongest, handsomest, and most elastic of any made.

What is specially claimed for the "Grover & Baker" machine is—

That it makes a stronger and handsomer seam than is made by hand or by any other machine.

That it makes a more elastic seam, which will withstand the tests of wear, and washing and ironing, better than that made by any other machine.

That the speed at which it can be used is higher than any other, and the power required to operate it is less than that required by any other machine.

That it is nearly noiseless in its operation.

That its construction is more simple, and its liability to disarrangement less than any other.

That it can be quicker learned, more easily kept in order, got ready for use, and changed from one quality or grade of work, than any other.

Its applicability to the entire range of Family Sewing—from the finest and most delicate texture to the heavier and coarser fabrics.

That it uses thread or silk from the original spools—no re-winding—no shuttles or bobbins to fill.

That it finishes its work and fastens the end of every seam; each stitch is independent of its neighbor.

Is there a husband, father or brother, who will permit the drudgery of hand-sewing in his family, when a Grover & Baker Machine will do it better, more expeditiously, and cheaper than can possibly be done by hand?

TESTIMONIALS.

Portsmouth, April 12, 1859.

Having tested the merits of the various popular Sewing Machines, in the manufacture of our Capes and Raglans, we unhesitatingly recommend the Grover & Baker, as far superior to all others. ALLEN & PAINE.

Portsmouth, July 16, 1859.

If you wish to purchase a machine that will do work handsomely and strongly, and will not be liable to get out of repair, call on Mr. Whittemore in Daniel street, see the operation of Grover & Baker's machine, and then place one in your family. They will never consent to part with it, after they understand its operation. Charles W Brewster.

Bryan's Pulmonic Wafers!

The most certain and speedy remedy ever discovered for all Diseases of the CHEST AND LUNGS, COUGHS, COLDS, Asthma, Consumption, Bronchitis,
Influenza, Hoarseness,
Difficult Breathing, Sore Throat, &c., &c.

These Wafers give the most instantaneous and perfect relief, and when persevered with according to directions, never fail to effect a rapid and lasting cure. Thousands have been restored to perfect health who have tried other means in vain. To all classes and all constitutions they are a blessing and a cure—none need despair, no matter how long the disease may have existed, or however severe it may be, provided the organic structure of the vital organs is not hopelessly decayed. Every one afflicted should give them an impartial trial.

TO VOCALISTS AND PUBLIC SPEAKERS, these Wafers are peculiarly valuable; they will in ONE DAY remove the most severe occasional hoarseness; and their regular use for a few days will, at all times, increase the power and flexibility of the voice, greatly improving its tone, compass and clearness, for which purpose they are regularly used by many professional vocalists.

THE
ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.

FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN.

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

Gentlemen—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dye. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,
BENJ. A. LAVENDER.
To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Siemaston, Ala., July 20th, 1589.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of their hair and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more business south, see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

CITY COUNCIL.

Thursday evening, Jan. 19.

In Common Council, voted that the Board pass no bill to increase the pay of the City Marshal, until the Aldermen have elected said Marshal.

A joint resolution was introduced, to appoint a committee of five, to inquire into the expediency of selling a portion of the City Farm, the proceeds to be applied to aid in the erection of a City Hall; provided a suitable appropriation be made to complete the said Hall.

A joint resolution was passed, that the committee on city lands and buildings, consider the expediency of placing a Hydrant on Market Square, and in other parts of the city,—to furnish water for man and beast.

The City Marshal was ordered to see that all stores are closed on the Sabbath—it being stated that various drinking-shops are kept open on that day.

A resolution of inquiry, by what authority the late Board of Aldermen disposed of any city property (meaning Cabot street School-house) without any permission or concurrence of the Common Council—was passed.

Both Boards voted that the Mayor be a committee to examine and inquire into the subject of furnishing a Steam Fire Engine for the city, and report the cost, the annual expense, &c.

Also, that the Engine Houses be kept closed on Sundays, except in case of fire; and that the City Marshal be directed to enforce this order.

Also, that the amendment ordering ashes, sand or salt on any ice or snow which cannot be removed from sidewalks, be added to the snow ordinance.

Also, that a communication from Dr. Baker, concerning Snow Plows, be referred to joint committ. the on streets.

From the Journal.

OPENING OF THE NEW STORE.

That ornament of Market street, the new store of Messrs. Jones & Mendum, is now completed, and on Monday next its doors will be thrown open for business. This spacious building occupies the site of the store formerly occupied by D. Knight & Co., and the court on the south side—entirely closing that court. The front of the store above the first story (which is of iron and glass), has a smooth mastic finish. The store on the first story has two large doors, and three 4-pane windows, each pane containing about twenty square feet of glass. This room is 31 feet wide, 80 feet deep, and 15 feet high. Over the rear of the room a pleasant light is given from a large dome. A wide and easy stairway opens from the centre of this room leading to the basement story, equal in length and breadth to the room over it, and between 8 and 9 feet high. This basement, which is dry, well lighted, and handsomely finished, is the salesroom for carpets, blankets, and domestic household goods: while the room in the first story will be devoted to dry goods generally.

There is no internal connection between the first and second stories. The latter is entered by another door from the street. It is 50 by 31 feet, and 11 feet high. In this story are two anterooms. Here is the manufactory of cloaks, mantillas, &c. for the store.

The third story is "Irving Hall,"—50 by 31 feet and 15 feet high in the centre. A gas chandelier from the centre lights it by night, and it is warmed by the furnace in the basement. This Hall is handsomely finished, an orchestra is provided, and settees are to surround the hall, which is admirably well calculated for lectures, balls and exhibitions.

The whole building, internally and externally, is in good architectural taste, pleasant to the eye, and an ornament to the city. It was built under the superintendance of Mr. James Moses, and the work all executed by Portsmouth mechanics, except such parts as Portsmouth had no artisan to perform.

As before stated, Messrs. Jones & Mendum will open their new store, and new stock, on Monday next. We understand that it will in future be strictly a one-price store; their goods to be marked at the lowest price, from which no deduction will be made.

Success to enterprise!—We should like to see fifty such stores in Market street, and enough corresponding business to make them successful.

Bust of Dr. Lothrop.—A bust of Rev. Dr. Lothrop, by Mr. French of Portsmouth, a young artist of high promise, has recently been placed on exhibition at the rooms of Williams & Everett, No 234 Washington street. All who have seen the bust pronounce it accurate and artistically executed. We understand that Mr. French has executed a marble bust of Rev. Dr. Peabody of Portsmouth, which is also much admired.—Boston Traveller.

Democratic Nominations.—Col. Simon Frink of Greenland, for Senator. B. P. Roberts of South Newmarket for County Treasurer, William H. Smith of Exeter for Register of Deeds, and Plumer W. Sanborn of Candia, County Commissioner.

Fast.—The Governor and Council have fixed upon April the 12th as Fast Day.

WILL BE CLOSED FOR BUSINESS THIS SATURDAY, in consequence of removal to their New Store. THEY WILL OPEN

On Monday, Jan. 23,

At Nos. 29 and 30 Market Street, Opposite the Old Stand.

CITY ORDINANCE. No. 65.

An ORDINANCE in amendment of Ordinance number forty-one—Requiring Side Walks to be cleared of Snow.

Be it Ordained by the City Council of the City of Portsmouth:

That Ordinance, number forty-one, requiring side-walks to be cleared of snow, be amended by adding to section one the following clause, viz: That when any of said side-walks are covered with ice, so as to make the passing dangerous, said owner or occupants shall spread over said side-walks, ashes, sand or salt in such manner as to prevent the same from being dangerous.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

His Panacea is unrivalled for the cure of Cancers, Scrofula, Salt Rheum, Erysipelas, Canker in the mouth or throat, Sore or inflamed eyes, and all impurities or humors of the blood. Price $1.00.

Cordial of Dandelion, Spikenard and Butternut,—a remedy unsurpassed for the Liver and Heart Complaint, Costiveness, Dizziness and Pain in the Head, Stomach and Side, and the whole family of Consumptive complaints. Price 75 cents.

Rheumatic Compound, for the cure of Rheumatism in all its stages, phases and names, of Acute and Chronic, Gout, Neuralgia, Lumbago, &c., &c. This compound he has proved to be the surest remedy for these complaints that he has tried or known during the whole 40 years of his study and practice of medicine. Price $1.00.

His Family Pills are universally paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

His Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

Lawrence, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have need of them that effectual relief, to use it freely. Mary N. Ricker.

I know the above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. Charles C. Ricker.

Canaan, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops than from all other medicines I have taken, though I have tried many. Fanny Minkr.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine in my knowledge. Elizabeth Currier.

Exeter, March 4, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of oppressed lungs and hoarseness, after a long or fatiguing hours. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so quick. Let every suffering preacher take a phial and try it. Eld. Benjamin Burnham.

Exeter, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the Lungs, of any medicines with which I am acquainted. Ira Berry.

Canaan, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in very bad cases of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

Theodores Currier, Sally Currier.

Hundreds of certificates of cures by these innocent, but effectual medicines are received, many of which are printed on his circular which accompanies the medicines. These, with others of

MRS. WINSLOW,

An experienced Nurse and Female Physician, presents to the attention of Mothers, her

SOOTHING SYRUP,

For Children Teething.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay all pain and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for over ten years, and can say, of it, what we have of any other medicine, never been able to say —NEVER HAS IT FAILED, IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an application by any one who tried it, to express anything but the utmost confidence and praise in its virtues. We speak, in this matter, "what we know" from years of experience, and pledge our reputation for the fulfilment of what we here declare. In almost every instance where the infant is suffering from pain and exhaustion from diarrhœa or dysentery, a few minutes after the syrup is administered, it will be found to give the child rest, and cause it to sleep quietly, by relieving the pain and exhaustion which generally induces sleep. In all cases where the child is teething, this article will be found to be the prescription of an experienced and skillful nurse, and has been used with the MOST DECIDED SUCCESS, in thousands of cases. It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost INSTANTLY RELIEVE griping in the bowels, wind colic. This medicine is the prescription of one of the MOST SKILLFUL NURSES in England and has been used with MANY THOUSANDS OF CASES. It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost INSTANTLY RELIEVE griping in the bowels, wind colic, which, if not relieved, soon kills the child. We believe it the best and surest REMEDY IN THE WORLD, in all cases of DYSENTERY AND DIARRHŒA, IN CHILDREN, whether it arises from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every mother who has a child suffering from any other disease, that we feel no prejudice of interest, we have no interest in recommending a foreign compound to our citizens, when we will say that we believe our own to be as good as any, and better than most others. We do not ask you to take our word for this, but we ask you to put yourselves in the place of those who have used it, and then ask yourselves what you would say in regard to it. Between us and you there can be no deception in this matter. The truth will be the production of this article, and we feel no hesitation in saying that those who have used it will be our best recommendation. Our object is to benefit those who are afflicted with the diseases of infancy, and we know that we can do no more than to state the facts in regard to the article, and let those who have used it speak for themselves. Our reputation is at stake in this matter

AN APPROPRIATE PRAYER.—At a prayer-meeting, held not a hundred miles from Groton, in this State, one of the Republicans prayed with great unction, for the peace of John Brown's soul. After he had finished, a brother from the "other side of the house" offered up his petition to the throne of Grace—in the course of which he prayed that all men might live together in the love of the Lord, that wars might cease, and that "swords might be beaten into ploughshares, and spears into pruning hooks; more especially, O Lord, those 1200 pikes manufactured by that traitor to his country—Old John Brown."—New Haven News.

COWHIDING AND FLOURING A DOCTOR. A Dr. Smith, in Brooklyn, calling upon a patient who had a trouble in his head and was asleep under opiates, took the liberty of kissing and otherwise insulting the patient's wife, who was indignant at his familiarity. The doctor said he liked to have a spree with married women once in a while. The woman repelled him several times, but did not dare to wake her husband for fear of aggravating his disease. The next time the doctor called the lady got the assistance of another, and after charging him with his conduct, proceeded to lay on with a cowhide, while her friend showered him with flour. The cowhiding was continued out in the yard, and was witnessed by several lady spectators.

The new company who have begun rebuilding the Iron Works at Franconia, are doing their work substantially. The village, which for twenty years has been growing dilapidated, bids fair to become a busy community once more. The Franconia iron, though difficult to take from the bed, is of superior quality. FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN, Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and testimony of the Press are unanimous in its praise. A few testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 20, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about four months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dyes. I was, however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all husbands who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,
BENJ. A. LAVENDER.

To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Stamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I am a dealer of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1853, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.
The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:
1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.

THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR

Scrofula, or King's Evil, is a constitutional disease, a corruption of the blood, by which the blood should become vitiated, weak and poor. Being in the circulation it pervades the whole body, and may burst out in disease on any part of it. No organ is free from its attacks, nor infirm one which it may not destroy. The scrofulous taint is variously caused by mercurial disease, low living, disordered or unhealthy food, impure air, filth and filthy habits, the depressing vices, and, above all, by the venereal infection. Whatever be its origin, it is hereditary in the constitution, descending "from parents to children unto the third and fourth generation;" indeed, it seems to be the rod of him who says, "I will visit the iniquities of the fathers upon their children."
Its effects commence by deposition from the blood of corrupt or useless matter, which, in the lungs, liver, and internal organs, is termed tubercles; in the glands, swellings; and on the surface, pimples, blotches, sores. This foul corruption, which genders in the blood, depresses the energies of life, so that scrofulous constitutions not only suffer from scrofulous complaints, but they have far less power to withstand the attacks of other diseases; consequently vast numbers perish by disorders which, although not scrofulous in their nature, are still rendered fatal by this taint in the system. Most of the consumption which decimates the human family has its origin directly in this scrofulous contamination; and many destructive diseases of the liver, kidneys, brain, and, indeed all of the organs, arise from or are aggravated by the same cause.
Some quarter of all our people are scrofulous;—their persons are invaded by this lurking infection, and their health is undermined by it. To cleanse it from the system, we eradicate the blood by an alterative medicine, and invigorate it by healthy food and exercise. Such a medicine we supply in
Compound Extract of Sarsaparilla,
the most effectual remedy which the medical skill of our times can devise for this everywhere prevailing and fatal malady. It is combined from the most active remedials that have been discovered for the expurgation of this foul disorder from the blood, and the rescue of the system from its destructive consequences. Hence it should be employed for the cure of not only scrofula, but also those other affections which arise from it, such as
ERUPTIONS AND ERUPTIVE DISEASES, ULCERS, PIMPLES, BLOTCHES, TUMORS, SALT RHEUM, SCALD HEAD, SYPHILIS AND SYPHILITIC AFFECTIONS, MERCURIAL DISEASE, DROPSY, NEURALGIA, OR TIC DOULOUREUX, DEBILITY, DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION, ERYSIPELAS, ROSE OR ST. ANTHONY'S FIRE, and indeed the whole class of complaints arising from IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD. The popular belief in "impurity of the blood" is founded on truth, for scrofula is a degeneration of the blood. The particular purpose and virtue of this Sarsaparilla is to purify and regenerate this vital fluid, without which sound health is impossible in contaminated constitutions.

Ayer's Cathartic Pills.
FOR ALL THE PURPOSES OF A FAMILY PHYSIC, are so composed that disease within the range of their action can rarely withstand or evade them. Their penetrating properties search and cleanse, and invigorate every portion of the human organism, correcting its diseased action, and restoring its healthy vitalities. As a consequence of these properties, the invalid who is bowed down with pain or physical debility is astonished to find his health or energy restored by a remedy at once so simple and inviting.
Not only do they cure the every-day complaints of everybody, but also many formidable and dangerous diseases. The agent below named is pleased to furnish gratis my American Almanac, containing certificates of the cures and directions for their use in the following complaints: Costiveness, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Indigestion, Dysentery, Foul Stomach, Erysipelas, Headache, Piles, Rheumatism, Eruptions and Skin Diseases, Liver Complaint, Dropsy, Tetter, Tumors and Salt Rheum, Worms, Gout, Neuralgia, as a dinner Pill, and for Purifying the blood.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral
FOR THE CURE OF
COUGHS, COLDS, INFLUENZA, HOARSENESS, CROUP, BRONCHITIS, INCIPIENT CONSUMPTION, and for the relief of Consumptive Patients in advanced stages of the disease.
So wide is the field of its usefulness and so numerous are the cures of its use, that almost every section of country abounds in persons publicly known, who have been restored from alarming and even desperate disease of the lungs by its use. When once tried, its superiority over every other medicine of its kind is too apparent to escape observation, and where its virtues are known the public no longer hesitate what antidote to employ for the distressing and dangerous affections of the pulmonary organs which are incident to our climate. While many inferior remedies thrust upon the community have failed and been discarded, this has gained friends by every trial, conferred benefits on the afflicted they can never forget, and produced cures too numerous and too remarkable to be forgotten.

FIRE DEPARTMENT. — Gen. JOSIAH G. HADLEY, who last year held the position of Chief Engineer of the Fire Department, retires from the office this season. On Tuesday evening he gave an entertainment at the City Hotel to the new board of Engineers who have just been elected.—Mr. Flagg presented a well spread table, and the attendance of the Engineers was general, as well as of the foreman of the engine companies. Several invited guests were present. Mayor Reding was unable to attend. The season was one of pleasant greeting. Speeches were made by General Hadley, the presiding officer, Gov. Goodwin, Ex-Mayor Morrison, and by the company generally. The fires were fought over again with vigor, reminiscences of the past were given, and useful suggestions for the future made.

The Fire Department, of which Portsmouth has past times felt the need, was never in better order than at the present time. The Engine Houses, as Ex-Mayor Morrison stated, are all provided with the means for keeping the apparatus free from ice, and ready at any moment. Gen. Hadley has been constantly connected with the Department for about thirty years, and his experience has been very beneficial to our city.

"A GREAT NEWSPAPER."—Under this title the Rockland Gazette notices the publication of B. F. Chandler in Augusta in 1833, called "The Star," a sheet measuring 3⅞ by 8½ inches. The paper referred to was the enterprise of a boy who was "sole editor, proprietor, and printer," and worked off his paper "semi-monthly, on Thursday," at the reasonable price of 4 cents a month. Frank was a smart and ingenious lad, and foreshadowed a likely man as he is. He had a boy rival in the newspaper line at that time, whose journal was about the same size, and lived about as long. They both took subscriptions of four cents for a month, in advance, and did better than some men do with newspaper enterprises, for they continued their publications till the money was fairly exhausted, leaving no occasion for antiquaries of the present time to despise the day of small things.—Maine Farmer.

We recollect having seen this semi-7-by-9 paper, which the school-boy set up in readable form, and printed on a press of his own construction. We refer to it now, after nearly thirty years have elapsed, for the purpose of commending those boys who use to advantage their leisure hours, instead of spending them in idleness. That boy-printer of 1832, soon after entered college, received a scientific education, and is now, and has long been in the service of the United States as Civil Engineer at the Portsmouth Navy Yard.—The early devotion to habits of industry have doubtless had a beneficial influence on him through life, making him what he now is, every way qualified for the honorable position he fills.

GREAT LITERARY ENTERPRISE.—Brown, Taggard & Chase of this city are engaged in a literary enterprise that will be hailed with satisfaction in all parts of the country. They have in press the complete works of Lord Bacon, to be issued in superb style in twelve crown octavo volumes.—They intend to make this new edition of Bacon, for which a great necessity exists in the market, the beginning of a series of standard works of the first class. Every effort will be made to issue the volumes in a style of excellence and magnificence that shall surpass anything yet produced by book makers at home or abroad. Messrs Houghton & Co. of the noted Riverside press at Cambridge, have these works in hand. The books will be printed upon the finest tinted paper, and bound in a style which for beauty and durability will commend itself to all tastes. Lord Bacon's works will be followed by a complete edition of the writings of Sir Walter Scott, including his novels, and poems, and his life by Lockhart. We commend this enterprise to the literary public, in the full assurance that it will be in every respect worthy the most liberal support.—Boston Transcript.

From the N. H. Gazette.

Rockingham County Convention.

In the proceedings of this Convention, as prepared by the Secretary and published in the Gazette last week, there appears to have been an omission of two of the most important resolutions. A motion was made in the Convention to strike out these resolutions, which was discussed and decisively rejected. The Secretary, however, as he says, understood the motion to prevail, and hence his omission of the resolutions. We presume this explanation is correct, but his impression was contrary to the fact, and to the understanding of the rest of the delegates from Portsmouth. The Secretary has accordingly corrected his error, and handed us the two resolutions in question for publication, to complete the record of the Convention. They are as follows:

Resolved, That as the Territories of the United States have been obtained by war or purchase, and all the States having shared alike in their acquisition, therefore they are the common property of the nation, and the citizens of all the States north and south have the right of equal privileges in them while they remain territories.

Resolved, That we look to the final settlement by the supreme judicial tribunal of the nation of the question of slavery in the Territories, establishing the right of every citizen to take his property of any kind into the Territories, and have it protection there under the federal constitution.

A FIRE DOG.—Our late efficient Chief Engineer Hadley, owns a large but not very beautiful dog, which has become so accustomed to the hurried departure of his master from home at a cry of fire, that he now makes it his business to repeat the alarm in canine language whenever he hears "fire," whether by day or by night. So quick is his hearing, and so prompt his answering howl, that in several cases his owner has been able, when awakened from sleep in the night by the warning howl, to reach the fire almost as soon as the engines, though his residence is nearly a mile from the centre of the city. The utmost reliance has been placed on the fidelity of the dog, and in no case, since the trait was first noticed, about nine months ago, has he raised a "false alarm." The dog pays no attention to bells, but the human cry of fire puts him in a frenzy, which is only quieted by the departure of his master.

AN ORDINANCE in amendment of Ordinance number forty one, "Requiring side-walks to be cleared of snow."

Be it ordained by the City Council of the city of Portsmouth, That Ordinance number forty-one, "Requiring side-walks to be cleared of snow," be amended by adding to section one the following clause, namely: "That when any of said side-walks are covered with ice, so as to make the passing dangerous, said owners or occupants shall spread over said side-walks ashes or sand in such manner as to prevent the same from being dangerous."

JOHN BENNETT, City Clerk.

Dr. S. Swett's Vegetable Medicines.

The saving efficacy of these truly valuable medicines is daily witnessed by thousands of the first classes of society, many of whom are physicians of great success. The following are among his most popular preparations, viz:

Rh Family Pills are warranted paramount to any in the market as a safe, easy and effectual Physic. Price 25 cents.

Rh Conserve cures the Piles, Headache and Costiveness, and is the surest remedy for worms in young or old. Price 25 cents

Cough Drops for Phthisic, Colds, Asthma, Croup, Whooping and Chin Coughs, and all diseases of the Lungs. Price of small bottles, 33 cts; large, 50 cents.

LAWRENCE, July 27, 1854. "I hereby testify that the Cough Drops prepared by Dr. Simeon Swett, have given me very great relief from the whooping cough of late, and I would advise all who have a visit from that distressing complaint, to use it freely. MARY N. RICKER.

The above testimony of my wife with regard to the salutary effect of Dr. Swett's Cough Drops to be correct. CHARLES C. RICKER.

CANAAN, Dec 11, 1841. "I have been troubled with the phthisic for a number of years, and have found more relief by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops, than from all other medicines put together, though I have tried many. FANNY MINER.

"I have been cured of a severe cough, by using Dr. Swett's Cough Drops. I therefore would sincerely recommend them to all who are afflicted with lung complaints, as I believe them the best medicine I have knowledge of. BENJAMIN CURRIER.

EXETER, March 3, 1841. "Many of my brethren in the ministry, frequently complain of sore throat, lungs and hoarseness of voice, after frequent labors. I wish by this card to say to them, and to all others affected, that the cough drops, prepared by Dr. Swett, of Portsmouth, is a valuable remedy. I have found nothing that gives relief so speedily, and yet every suffering person should take a trial and try it. Eld. EDWIN BURNHAM.

EXETER, July 30, 1841. "I have found Dr Swett's cough drops to be the most effectual remedy for Coughs, and for any other complaints of the lungs, of any medicines with which I have met. NANCY F. JONES.

CANAAN, Aug 29, 1850. "This certifies that we have found greater relief from Dr. Swett's cough drops, in the treatment of phthisic in our family, than from all other medicines put together.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what we have of any other medicine, NEVER HAS IT BEEN IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, IN THE SLIGHTEST DEGREE TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance but it gave immediate relief. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operation, and recommendation of its manifold virtues. We speak in this matter, what we know, after ten years experience, and pledge the reputation of a well established character for the fulfilment of every thing here stated. We do know, after ten years our reputation is at stake, that in every instance where a child has been given to this preparation, relief will be found within a few minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED AND SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and has been used with never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES.

It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve

GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC,

and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the BEST and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of DYSENTERY, DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every sufferer, from any other Do not let your own prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that ABSOLUTELY SURE of this medicine, if timely used. MOTHERS,

In presenting you with DR. EATON'S INFANTILE CORDIAL, we compute state its superiority over every nostrum that nurse or quack has heretofore offered you.

First, it will be pronounced by a regular physician, who is well versed in much experience in infantile complaints to prescribe for them.—Secondly—It is entirely free from paregoric or opiates, any thing of the kind, effectually relieves by removing the suffering of your child, instead of deadening its sensibilities. Thirdly—It is put up with great care and a comparison of it with any other article for infantile complaints will show: the very roots from which it is distilled being dug from the forests under the direction of Dr. Eaton, many of them by his own hands. Fourthly—It is perfectly harmless and cannot injure the most delicate infant, but will certain cure and relief in all the following cases, which is its chief merit over every other preparation.

FOR ALL COMPLAINTS ATTENDING TEETHING; such as DYSENTERY, COLIC, &c.; also, for softening the gums and relieving pain. For regulating the bowels it is unequalled. For Cold in the Head it is a sure relief. For CROUP, the most fatal and trying of diseases, it can be relied on with perfect confidence; and being a powerful antidote in all cases of convulsions or fits, we earnestly recommend you to loose no time in procuring it—Lastly—it costs so little that every one can afford to buy it, and hence, it commands itself to the most reliable to all mothers. In all cases, the directions wrapped around each bottle, must be strictly adhered to, or the proprietor will not be responsible.

Which greatly facilitates the process of teething by softening the gums, reducing all inflammation—will allay ALL PAIN and spasmodic action, and is

SURE TO REGULATE THE BOWELS.

Depend upon it, mothers, it will give rest to yourselves, and

RELIEF AND HEALTH TO YOUR INFANTS.

We have put up and sold this article for ten years, and can say, in confidence and truth, of it, what we have of any other medicine, NEVER HAS IT BEEN IN A SINGLE INSTANCE, IN THE SLIGHTEST DEGREE TO EFFECT A CURE, when timely used. Never did we know an instance but it gave immediate relief. On the contrary, all are delighted with its operation, and recommendation of its manifold virtues. We speak in this matter, what we know, after ten years experience, and pledge the reputation of a well established character for the fulfilment of every thing here stated. We do know, after ten years our reputation is at stake, that in every instance where a child has been given to this preparation, relief will be found within a few minutes after the syrup is administered.

This valuable preparation is the prescription of one of the MOST EXPERIENCED AND SKILLFUL NURSES in New England and never-failing success, in THOUSANDS OF CASES. It not only relieves the child from pain, but invigorates the stomach and bowels, corrects acidity, and gives tone and energy to the whole system. It will almost instantly relieve

GRIPING IN THE BOWELS, AND WIND COLIC,

and overcome convulsions, which, if not speedily remedied, end in death. We believe it the BEST and surest remedy in the world, in all cases of DYSENTERY, DIARRHŒA IN CHILDREN, from teething, or from any other cause. We would say to every sufferer, from any other Do not let your own prejudices of others, stand between your suffering child and the relief that ABSOLUTELY SURE of this medicine, if timely used. American and Foreign Patents.

R. H. EDDY, Solicitor of Patents,

Late Agent of U. S. Patent Office, Washington, resident since of 1-37.

76 STATE, OPPOSITE KILBY ST., BOSTON.

After an extensive practice of upwards of twenty years, continues to secure Patents in the United States; also in Great Britain, France, and other Foreign countries. Caveats, Specifications, Assignments, and all Papers or Drawings for Patents, executed on liberal terms, and with despatch. Research made into previous American or Foreign works, to determine the validity or utility of Patents or Inventions,—and legal or other advice rendered in all matters touching the same. Copies of the claims of any Patent furnished by remitting One Dollar. Assignments recorded at Washington.

This Agency is not only the largest in New England, but through it inventors have advantages for securing patents, or ascertaining the patentability of inventions, unsurpassed by, if not immeasurably superior to, any which can be offered them elsewhere. The testimonials below given prove that none is MORE SUCCESSFUL AT THE PATENT OFFICE, any which can be offered as SUCCESS IS THE BEST PROOF OF ADVANTAGES AND ABILITY, he would add that he has abundant reason to believe, and can prove, that at no other office of the kind are the charges for professional services so moderate. The immense practice of the subscriber during twenty years past, has enabled him t. accumulate a vast collection of specifications and official decisions relative to patents. These, besides his extensive library of legal and mechanical works, and full accounts of patents granted in the United States and Europe, render him able, beyond question, to offer advantages to Patentees and Patents.

All necessity of a journey to Washington to procure a patent, and the usual great delay there, are here saved inventors.

TESTIMONIALS.

"I regard Mr. Eddy as one of the most capable and successful practitioners with whom I have had official intercourse." CHAS. MASON,
Commissioner of Patents.

"I have no hesitation in assuring inventors they cannot employ a more competent and trustworthy, and more capable of putting their application in a form to secure to them an early and favorable consideration at the Patent Office." EDMUND BURKE,
Late Commissioner of Patents.

BOSTON, February 8, 1858.

"Mr. R. H. Eddy has made for me THIRTEEN APPLICATIONS for patents, which have been granted, and that one is now pending. Such unmistakable proof of great talent and ability on his part leads me to recommend all inventors to apply to him to secure their patents, as they may be sure of having the most faithful attention bestowed on their cases, and at very reasonable charges." JOHN TAGGART.

From Sept. 17, 1857, to June 17, 1858, the subscriber, in the course of his large practice, made on twenty rejected applications, SIXTEEN APPEALS, SEVEN of which were decided in his favor, by the Commissioner of Patents.

Boston, Jan. 1, 1860. R. H. EDDY.

LOOK ON THIS PICTURE, THEN ON THAT.—The following extracts exhibit the different effects of religious beliefs on persons honestly holding them. The first is from a sermon preached by Rev. Henry F. Lane, of Lawrence, in relation to the awful calamity which has recently befallen that city:

Though it is painful to speak it, it is true, that they who have suffered by this dread providence, have received no more than they deserved. We speak not as before a human tribunal, but as in sight of that tribunal where the Judge of all the earth shall sit. All of that number who have gone, as in an instant swept away by the besom of destruction, all had sinned,—penitent and impenitent—and by the righteous law of a holy God, they deservedly suffered the penalty of temporal death.—The penitent, and the penitent alone, were saved from endless perdition. They have gone, as some of them anticipated in song, ere the devouring element reached them, sending up their praises as their dying testimony, singing in sweet refrain, "We're going home to glory." The impenitent are justly lost forever. Melancholy thought, yet who would dare withhold the warning truth?

Melancholy thought, indeed. In striking contrast to the above, we give your readers the sentiments expressed on the same subject, by Rev. W. R. Alger, of Boston.

In these fearful casualties it is not the victims themselves who endure the most.—Though the details are so piteous that no one with a human heart in his bosom can read them without tears and a sensation of faintness, yet we take not so much thought for them. It is soon over, and they suffer mostly in the fleshly nerve, not in the wasting quick of the soul. One who in such a disaster was dreadfully bruised and thrown into insensibility, but afterwards recovered, said that three thoughts gleamed like lightning through his brain—God—mother—death—then blindness and oblivion shrouded all. When the worst is said in regard to their fate, it is, in essence, only, that they die. And death is kind, viewed aright; a benignant messenger who emancipates the soul, and leads it to happier scenes and nobler employments, crowned with the beatific vision. It is well with them. They are washed from the stains, they are at rest from the toils of earth. The battle is over, the crown is won. Peace to them, wholly taken from the turmoil now. Joy to them, truly blessed and safe in eternity now. L.

THE
ONLY PREPARATION
WORTHY OF
Universal Confidence and Patronage.
FOR STATESMEN, JUDGES, CLERGYMEN.

Ladies and Gentlemen, in all parts of the world testify to the efficacy of Prof. O. J. Wood's Hair Restorative, and gentlemen of the Press are unanimous in its praise. The testimonials only can be here given; see circular for more, and it will be impossible for you to doubt.

47 Wall Street, New York, Dec. 29, 1858.

GENTLEMEN:—Your note of the 15th inst., has been received, saying that you had heard that I had been benefitted by the use of Wood's Hair Restorative, and requesting my certificate of the fact if I had no objection to give it.

I award it to you cheerfully, because I think it due. My age is about 50 years; the color of my hair auburn, and inclined to curl. Some five or six years since it began to turn gray, and the scalp on the crown of my head to lose its sensibility and dandruff to form upon it. Each of these disagreeabilities increased with time, and about tour months since a fourth was added to them, by hair falling off the top of my head and threatening to make me bald.

In this unpleasant predicament, I was induced to try Wood's Hair Restorative, mainly to arrest the falling off of my hair, for I had really no expectation that gray hair could ever be restored to its original color except from dye. I was however, greatly surprised to find after the use of two bottles only, that not only was the falling off arrested, but the color was restored to the gray hairs and sensibility to the scalp, and dandruff ceased to form on my head, very much to the gratification of my wife, at whose solicitation I was induced to try it.

For this, among the many obligations I owe to her sex, I strongly recommend all bachelors, who value the admiration of their wives to profit by my example, and use it if growing gray or getting bald. Very Respectfully,
BENJ. A. LAVENDER.
To O. J. Wood & Co., 444 Broadway, N. Y.

Slamaston, Ala., July 20th, 1859.

To Prof. O. J. Wood: Dear Sir: Your "Hair Restorative" has done my hair so much good since I commenced the use of it, that I wish to make known to the PUBLIC its effects on the hair, which are great. A man or woman may be nearly deprived of hair, and by a resort to your "Hair Restorative," the hair will return more beautiful than ever; at least this is my experience. Believe it all! Yours truly,
WM. H. KENEDY.

P. S.—You can publish the above if you like.—By publishing in our Southern papers you will get more patronage south. I see several of your certificates in the Mobile Mercury, a strong Southern paper. W. H. K.

WOOD'S HAIR RESTORATIVE.

Professor O. J. Wood:—Dear Sir:—Having had the misfortune to lose the best portion of my hair, from the effects of the yellow fever, in New Orleans in 1851, I was induced to make a trial of your preparation, and found it to be the very thing needed. My hair is now thick and glossy, and no words can express my obligations to you in giving to the afflicted such a treasure.
FINLEY JOHNSON.

The Restorative is put up in bottles of three sizes, viz: large, medium, and small; the small holds half a pint, and retails for one dollar per bottle; the medium holds at least twenty per cent. more in proportion than the small, retails for two dollars per bottle; the large holds a quart, 40 per cent. more in proportion, and retails for $3 a bottle.

Dr. B. S. Goodwin, Indian Physician,
Would respectfully inform the friends of the Indian Practice of Medicine and the public generally, that he has permanently located in Portsmouth, where he may be consulted on all the Diseases that man is subject to, at his residence and office, No. 9 Market street. Dr. G. would respectfully invite all in need of Medical advice to call on him.
ADVICE FREE.

Dr. Goodwin would assure all that his Medicines are purely Vegetable, and prepared by himself, and are calculated to purify the blood, and eradicate all diseases from the system.

THE FOLLOWING ARE SOME OF THE DISEASES SUCCESSFULLY TREATED BY DR. GOODWIN. Consumption in the first stages, Coughs, Asthma, Bronchitis, Erysipelas, Diseases of the Liver, Jaundice, Dyspepsia, Fevers, Palsey, Fits, Gravel, Diarrhœa, Cholera Morbus, Cancers, Dropsey, Worms, all Diseases peculiar to Females, Humors of all descriptions, Inflammations of all kinds, Rheumatism and all kindred Diseases.

No Mercury! No Bleeding! No Blisters!

Our philosophy of practice is founded on the laws of Nature; our theory of Disease the theory of experience and evidence; our Materia Medica, the boundless Forest. Portsmouth, Oct. 14, 1858.

Patent Asphaltic Roofing.
The Subscribers would respectfully inform the citizens of Rockingham county that they have the exclusive right for the manufacture, sale and application of this roofing, and would invite the attention of the public to some of its advantages:
1. It can be put on a leaky roof with or without cloth, without removing the old shingles, and make perfectly water, snow and air tight. Or it can be put on rough boarding, with or without cloth.
2. It will not take fire from sparks or cinders.
3. It will expand and contract with heat and cold.
4. It can be put on cheaper than any other kind of roofing.
5. We can warrant it.

THE SUBSCRIBERS ARE ALSO AGENTS FOR
BICKFORD'S SPRING BALANCE,
for Window Sashes, to take the place of weights.
It is one of the most complete and useful inventions ever introduced into the market.
It balances the Sash perfectly at any point.
It requires no expense for boxing, consequently it is much cheaper than weights.
It can be applied to old as well as new buildings, without any alteration of the frames.
